"Instant News."

That's the name of a new Paddock Publications service starting Friday in Arlington Heights.

Residents can get an up-to-the-minute report of Arlington Heights news by calling 392-2100.

The service was announced Wednesday by Robert Y. Paddock, vice president of the Arlington Heights-based firm which publishes the Herald.

Paddock said the service was instituted on a trial basis as the result of an "overpowering" response to last weekend's recorded message service on sports results and the District 214 referendum.

The recorded message service literally fell apart under the pressure of calls. Sports reports normally are placed on the company's answering service on weekends. Paddock said the sports bulletin service has attracted several thousand each weekend.

The addition of referendum results last week created an additionally heavy load.

"To complicate matters, electric power was turned off for a substantial period in connection with our building program, and the recorded service was inoperative for 15 hours.

"The response to the weekend service indicated Arlington Heights residents are interested in fresh, up-to-date, brief news items, stripped of fluff," Paddock said.

"The news resources of Paddock Publications will allow us to present concise reports Monday through Friday, to complement our in-depth coverage in the Thursday Herald."

Paddock said additional recording devices will be installed by Friday to permit the expanded service and reduce the number of busy signals. "We hope our readers will be able to reach the number on their first call."

Rigid Bus Driver License Ordinance Provokes Schools

Moans of anguish are issuing from the school districts serving Arlington Heights over an ordinance regulating school bus companies and drivers, approved by the village board last December.

High School District 214 may stop bussing students in Arlington Heights if the new ordinance makes it too tough to find drivers. Supt. H. L. Slichenmyer told his board he may recommend that step.

—Arlington Heights Elementary District 25 Supt. R. E. Clabaugh told his board Monday he expects a letter from the legal counsel of the state superintendent of instruction. The legal counsel had advised him verbally, he said, that parts of the ordinance may not be legal.

—In Elk Grove District 59, which covers the southern part of the village, officials appear equally upset.

—Bus companies in the area have complained of the provision to the various school boards.

SLICHENMYER said he has told Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson that the ordinance, if enforced, will make it "practically impossible to enable us to employ sufficient drivers."

If too many drivers quit, rather than submit to the ordinance requirements, the superintendent said, District 214 may drop completely its runs to Arlington High School, where 500 students are bussed.

Virtually all of Forest View High School's 2,800 student body is bussed. The school is just inside village limits, and Slichenmyer said the solution there might be to stop buses at village limits.

DISTRICT 214 and 25 spokesmen listed as the most objectional features of the ordinance:

—The requirement that bus drivers give as references four Arlington Heights residents who have known them two years or more.

—The requirement that drivers submit to fingerprinting, photographing and an interview with police officials.

Clabaugh told his board he did not feel villages could "build walls" around themselves but added the ordinance was a problem for the state, county and bus companies to work out with the village. He said his district was not contacted before the ordinance was approved.

VILLAGE PRES. John G. Woods said Tuesday he had not been contacted by school officials and added, "We passed it for safety reasons."

The new requirements were added to previous village bus licensing provisions in the aftermath of a two-school bus accident at Park and Prindle Streets last fall.

Bad Brakes Blamed for Collision

Faulty brakes on a truck driven by Robert J. Begley, 6522 N. Newgard, Chicago, were the cause of a collision between two trucks and a car at Kirchoff Road and Chestnut Avenue Monday.

Begley told police he was driving south on Chestnut and the brakes on the 1½-ton truck he was driving failed as he approached the stop sign at Kirchoff. The truck went through the stop sign and struck an automobile going east on Kirchoff driven by Dorothy K. Chapman, 110 S. Harvard, Arlington Heights.

BEGLEY'S truck stopped blocking Kirchoff and was in turn struck by a half-ton truck driven by Steve Lesak, 405 Debra Lane, Mount Prospect, going west on Kirchoff.

Lesak complained of being hurt on the bridge of his nose.

The principal at Our Lady of Wayside, Sister Priscilla, displays a hefty ruler prominently on her desk.

The ruler—well enough noticed, she'll tell you with a twinkle, to be needed just a couple times a year—is a reminder to the Wayside pupils of the discipline Catholic schools expect.

Talk to Sister Priscilla and you'll immediately catch two other reasons why many Arlington Heights parents choose to forego free public education for their children. Her loving affection for her youngsters is obvious; so is her Domincan garb, symbolic of religious convictions that led to establishment of this country's parochial schools.

More than 3,400 Arlington Heights boys and girls are enrolled in Catholic or Lutheran private schools where religious teaching is an integral part of daily learning.

Because these parents send their children to parochial schools instead, taxpayers are saved close to $2 million — conservatively estimated. That would be the yearly cost of educating the youngsters were they instead attending Arlington Heights Elementary District 25, which spends $510 per pupil for education costs alone or High School District 214, where the yearly per-pupil cost is over $700.

Houser Supports Schlickman As Next GOP Committeeman

by CHARLES E. HAYES
Executive Editor

(SEE ADDITIONAL STORIES ON INSIDE PAGE.)

Wheeling Township will have a new Republican committeeman in 1966.

First candidate to officially announce for the position is State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman, R-Arlington Heights.

Schlickman formally declared his candidacy Tuesday at a press luncheon called by incumbent committeeman Thomas J. Houser to announce he will not seek re-election in the June 14 primary.

Houser's decision was revealed Monday night at a closed meeting of precinct captains and made public Tuesday at the luncheon in Old Orchard Country Club.

REP. SCHLICKMAN

ALSO ANNOUNCED Tuesday was Houser's appointment of Richard Cowen, 124 N. Gibbons, Arlington Heights, as deputy committeeman to replace Raymond Stevenson, who has resigned to devote full time to a new business position.

Houser said Cowen will be "de facto" committeeman until June 14 since he will be totally absent from the township directing the campaign of U. S. Senate candidate Charles H. Percy.

Schlickman made his formal announcement after receiving the official endorsement of Houser and five top GOP leaders in Wheeling Township, including deputy committeeman Cowen.

IN DECLARING Schlickman as his personal choice as successor, Houser said, "He will have my wholehearted personal support and all the support I can bring to bear in the township in his behalf."

Citing Schlickman's suitability for the office, Houser said he's "fundamentally a decent person, dedicated to the Republican Party, experienced in government and politics, and has the ability to work with people and to attract people to him and his cause."

In addition to Houser and Cowen, Schlickman received the official support of Mrs. Ethel Kolerus, Wheeling Township Republican Committeewoman; Stevenson; Mrs. Virginia MacDonald, chairman of the woman's division of the GOP Central Committee of Cook County; and Mrs. June Hunter, president of the 13th Congressional District's Republican Women's Club.

SCHLICKMAN'S formal announcement and his endorsement by top GOP leaders in the township ended speculation that other "coalition" candidates would be slated, although Houser said Tuesday it was "likely" Schlickman would face opposition in the election.

Schlickman said his decision to seek the committeeman's post will not alter his plan to seek re-election to the Illinois House of Representatives.

Noting that many of his fellow state legislators were also elected party leaders, he said, "I am satisfied that being a township committeeman will not be detrimental to my responsibilities as state representative. In fact, I believe it will make me a better one."

HE LISTED five qualifications which he said he would bring to the committeeman's post:

—a perspective of state-wide politics;

—a knowledge of what other townships are doing;

—the acquaintanceship and communication with other committeemen "to draw us closer in a strong, united party";

—the interdependence of two positions and "the need to excel in each"; and —"interest, desire, willingness and availability."

Stressing that he works as well as lives in the township, Schlickman said he will be available "day and night" except for trips to Springfield during off-election periods.

As committeeman, Schlickman would provide "few novel approaches and little wasted motion."

IN A PLEA for party unity, he said, "We would tolerate to the limit philosophical differences among us. Whether we consider ourselves liberal, moderate or conservative, we are all Republicans, and we need each other on the team."

Schlickman, 36, of 311 N. Derbyshire, Arlington Heights, is an attorney with offices at 6 N. Dunton Ave.

Clabaugh Sees End of Shifts

by Dan Baumann
News Editor

A rosy academic picture during the next school year was painted for Arlington Heights school board members by the administration Monday.

The picture included:

—A substantial reduction in average class sizes throughout the district.

—No classes on double shifts.

—No kindergarten classes on triple shifts.

Supt. R. E. Clabaugh suggested the board attempt to reach that goal, with the completion of Phase One of the current building program, involving 46 classrooms. The board gave tentative approval of those targets — for purposes of developing a budget.

POSSIBLE BRAMBLES cited by Clabaugh:

—The cost. Meeting the goal would require filling all available classes, hiring of 66 new employes, including 51 certificated personnel, at a salary cost of $337,000.

—Some boundary lines of school attendance areas would have to be changed, to shift students from crowded schools to less crowded ones. Boundary shifting is usually sticky and controversial among parents.

Clabaugh's report to the board was in the form of a "proposed personnel organization" for the 1966-1967 school year. It was one of the first in a string of policy decisions affecting next year's budget.

IT WAS ALSO one of the most significant, since it affects education directly and since salaries comprise a major part of the district's expenditures.

Jr. High Guidance Approved

An innovation in "academic guidance" for junior high school students was given tentative approval by the Arlington Heights District 25 school board Monday.

Among the administration recommendations for new personnel in the next school year are three guidance specialists—one for each junior high school.

Supt. R. E. Clabaugh said the new counselors would be for a program whose "emphasis is on educational guidance, rather than social or personal guidance."

The superintendent did not recommend an increase in the present level of three school social workers. He said many students in the district have academic problems which apparently do not stem from social or home problems and he felt the new approach would better help them.

THE GUIDANCE specialists would work closely with language arts and social studies teachers, who have educational guidance responsibilities now, to improve their ability to handle academic problems. They also would work directly with some students.

Like social workers, they would need a master's degree and ability to handle some testing.

The superintendent also asked for, and received, tentative approval to add one psychologist, for a total of two. Other additions include a nurse, a librarian, two more teachers of deaf, perceptually handicapped and partially sighted youngsters, and a new speech correctionist.

The board did not actually create the new positions but accepted them as a basis for budgeting.

Bank Tells Its Plans To Village

Expansion plans of the Arlington Heights National Bank were presented to village officials by bank executives at a special session Saturday.

The session was "preliminary" according to the bank's executive vice president, Douglas Dodds. He said it was "a little premature" to discuss village reaction to the plan.

It was the first session between top bank executives and village officials since the Illinois Supreme Court ruled in favor of the bank in its litigation with the village over expansion of the building at Campbell and Davis Streets in downtown Arlington Heights. An earlier session, aimed at working out a legal agreement to implement the court decision, was held by attorneys for the bank and village.

SHORTLY after the court's decision was announced, Dodds said the bank intended to erect a high-rise building on the site. He said Tuesday the bank did not want to publicize plans presented to the village at this time, and village officials referred inquiries to the bank.

Reportedly, however the bank proposes to erect an eight floor building on the site, in the heart of downtown Arlington.

Man in the Street Looks to Future

By DAN BAUMANN
News Editor

What's in the future of Arlington Heights?

Having heard the subject debated by experts, I decided to ask the man on the street.

BAUMANN

Down at Dunton and Campbell, I found my old friends Sigafoo R. Quimsby, a long time resident of the village and an acknowledged man on the street.

He was lounging against the side of a building, staring at women passers-by.

"Sigafoo," asked I, "Where is Arlington Heights going?"

"Ya couldn't print that," he muttered.

"Are we going to renew the downtown?"

"Now, I don't see why they wanna change anything. They keep talking about tearing down everything. It wouldn't be the same place."

"But Siggy, what about the tax situation?"

"Aw, they can change all that. Lower the taxes. Annex the track and take a bite outa that."

"Should we change from the village form of government to a city, with wards and aldermen?"

"Ya, I always wanted to be a ward healer."

"What do you think about the business community."

"It's stifled by the village cops. I had a good business going as a bookie . . ."

"Oh, Foo," groaned I, "You're not taking these questions seriously."

"You wanna talk to an expert, talk to an expert. You wanna talk to a man on the street, you come see Sigafoo."

Slate Zone Hearing for Small Lots

A zoning variation—to permit construction of homes on 29 substandard lots on N. Walnut Avenue—will be considered at a hearing before the Arlington Heights Zoning Board of Appeals at 8 p.m. Feb. 28.

The lots, measuring 60 and 57.5 feet in frontage, are on both sides of Walnut, between Olive and Thomas streets. Residential (R3) lots, under current village standards, must have 70-foot minimum frontages to be built on. The area was subdivided under previous standards.

NORMALLY, the zoning board grants such variation requests when only a few lots are involved and a forced combination of parcels would cause undue hardship on the owners. Such requests also have been granted when the creation of larger lots would change the character of an existing development.

Free X-Rays Set Feb. 22

Free chest X-rays will be offered residents of Arlington Heights Tuesday, Feb. 22, when a mobile X-ray unit is parked at the Ben Franklin Store, 9 W. Campbell St. Hours are from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

The mobile X-ray unit, intended to serve as an adjunct to the routine community, industry, and food handler surveys conducted yearly in various parts of suburban Cook County, will again be available for survey X-rays for persons who need such X-rays for pre-employment, pre-marital, prenatal or licensing purposes, as well as those who have not checked their chests for tuberculosis within the past year. This X-ray is also available to persons needing diagnostic X-rays as follow-up to suspicious signs found in small film surveys. (A

Bus Service For Over 50

Bus service to Over 50 Club meetings is now being provided for Arlington Heights' senior citizens.

Mrs. Elizabeth Meyer, club director, said that arrangements have been made for a Ritzenthaler bus to transport club members to and from Over 50 Club meetings every Thursday.

Arlington Heights residents wishing to arrange for the transportation service may get more information by calling Mrs. Meyer at CL 5-3169. The monthly charge for the bus service will be $2, she said.

Historical Society Fund Hopes Dashed

The Arlington Heights Historical Society cannot look to Wheeling Township officials for funds to support its hopes of eventually establishing a permanent home.

The possibility of transferring Wheeling Township funds to the society was ruled out by Township Supervisor Albert Peters who told Mrs. Daisy Daniels, curator of the society, that state statutes governing the use of surplus township funds do not now permit them to be transferred to historical societies.

ACQUISITION OF ONE of the two houses which will be displaced by the new library buildings, for possible historical society use, was suggested by an appraiser hired by the library in its search for a site. The appraiser noted the building, at Euclid and Dunton, had historic significance and was in a good state of preservation.

Mrs. Daniels contacted Supervisor Peters Friday to ask of the possibility making funds available for the Historical Society. The society had applied for township funds last year.

Primary project for the Arlington Heights Historical Society is obtaining a permanent home for its collection, now maintained in the homes of its members and in the Wheeling Township Hall. The bulk of the collection is in Mrs. Daniels' home.

The funds applied for are from the township tax collector's excess commissions. According to state law, the tax collector takes a two per cent commission on all taxes he collects to cover his commission.

IN RECENT years collections have become so great that commissions far exceed what would be a collector's reasonable salary.

For example, the Wheeling Township tax collector last year took in around $12 million. Two per cent of this would be in the neighborhood of $240,000.

Supervisor Peters explained that these surplus funds can be transferred to non-township activities as long as there are specific statutes permitting it.

"Until now," Peters said Monday, "the transfer of funds to the school district has been permitted. Recent new legislation provided for the transfer of funds to township community health programs and senior citizens' activities. But there is nothing in the statutes permitting the transfer of funds to historical societies."

Peters said that the Illinois Legislature would have to pass a new law authorizing the transfer of funds to the Historical Society if they are to get township money. (A

Man in the Street Looks to Future

By DAN BAUMANN
News Editor

What's in the future of Arlington Heights?

Having heard the subject debated by experts, I decided to ask the man on the street.

BAUMANN

Down at Dunton and Campbell, I found my old friends Sigafoo R. Quimsby, a long time resident of the village and an acknowledged man on the street.

He was lounging against the side of a building, staring at women passers-by.

"Sigafoo," asked I, "Where is Arlington Heights going?"

"Ya couldn't print that," he muttered.

"Are we going to renew the downtown?"

"Now, I don't see why they wanna change anything. They keep talking about tearing down everything. It wouldn't be the same place."

"But Siggy, what about the tax situation?"

"Aw, they can change all that. Lower the taxes. Annex the track and take a bite outa that."

"Should we change from the village form of government to a city, with wards and aldermen?"

"Ya, I always wanted to be a ward healer."

"What do you think about the business community."

"It's stifled by the village cops. I had a good business going as a bookie . . ."

"Oh, Foo," groaned I, "You're not taking these questions seriously."

"You wanna talk to an expert, talk to an expert. You wanna talk to a man on the street, you come see Sigafoo."

Slate Zone Hearing for Small Lots

A zoning variation—to permit construction of homes on 29 substandard lots on N. Walnut Avenue—will be considered at a hearing before the Arlington Heights Zoning Board of Appeals at 8 p.m. Feb. 28.

The lots, measuring 60 and 57.5 feet in frontage, are on both sides of Walnut, between Olive and Thomas streets. Residential (R3) lots, under current village standards, must have 70-foot minimum frontages to be built on. The area was subdivided under previous standards.

NORMALLY, the zoning board grants such variation requests when only a few lots are involved and a forced combination of parcels would cause undue hardship on the owners. Such requests also have been granted when the creation of larger lots would change the character of an existing development.

Free X-Rays Set Feb. 22

Free chest X-rays will be offered residents of Arlington Heights Tuesday, Feb. 22, when a mobile X-ray unit is parked at the Ben Franklin Store, 9 W. Campbell St. Hours are from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

The mobile X-ray unit, intended to serve as an adjunct to the routine community, industry, and food handler surveys conducted yearly in various parts of suburban Cook County, will again be available for survey X-rays for persons who need such X-rays for pre-employment, pre-marital, prenatal or licensing purposes, as well as those who have not checked their chests for tuberculosis within the past year. This X-ray is also available to persons needing diagnostic X-rays as follow-up to suspicious signs found in small film surveys. (A

Bus service to Over 50 Club meetings is now being provided for Arlington Heights' senior citizens.

Mrs. Elizabeth Meyer, club director, said that arrangements have been made for a Ritzenthaler bus to transport club members to and from Over 50 Club meetings every Thursday.

Arlington Heights residents wishing to arrange for the transportation service may get more information by calling Mrs. Meyer at CL 5-3169. The monthly charge for the bus service will be $2, she said.

Mrs. Firnbach Wins Barbecue

Mrs. Dot Firnbach, 212 Douglas Ave., Arlington Heights, was the winner of the Weber barbecue given by Bowen Hardware during Arlington's Dollar Days.

The V&S hardware store, 121 E. Davis St., had a coupon in the Chamber of Commerce Dollar Days advertisement offering the barbecue in a free drawing for which no purchase was necessary. (A

Also planned are exhibits by the Arlington Heights Historical Society and the Memorial Library and a display of 90 uncirculated Lincoln pennies. (A

Shakespearean Actor To Lecture Students

Shakespearean Actor 3-42 ital

Shakespearean performer Eric Christmas next Thursday will give Arlington High School students an in-depth look at the art of acting.

Miss Virginia Harrod, drama teacher at Arlington High, has been able to arrange for the character actor, whom she became acquainted with during two summer seminars at Stratford, Ontario, to spend most of a day with the local students.

Miss Harrod says she has seen Christmas do some of the same performances that will be done here and has a "tremendously high opinion" of his ability.

"This is a marvelous theater opportunity, I'm convinced," she said.

CHRISTMAS, NOTED for his characterization of Shakespearean theater support roles, will arrive at the school in time to sit down for an hour's session with Miss Harrod's senior honors class in English.

At 10 a.m. he will appear in the high school Little Theater for a performance called "The Second Banana."

This is a performance in which he will don makeup onstage for a role in Shakespeare's "Henry IV," discuss how he and the Stratford director determine the way the role should be handled and then run through parts of several scenes.

At 12:30 p.m. he will give another performance in the Little Theatre, taking a different part this time.

BECAUSE THE high school Little Theatre, the best place for such performances, seats only 350 persons, seniors and students with an interest in drama will have first choice of seats.

The Shakespearean actor was artist-in-residence at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale last winter and this winter is with the Virginia Museum Theater at Richmond, Va.

He is also expected to appear at Glenbard high school during his Chicago visit, Miss Harrod said. (A

No Parking Signs Set For Olive

"No Parking" signs will go up on the south side of Olive Street between Arlington Heights Road and Vail Avenue.

Village trustees Monday night passed an ordinance regulating parking on Olive Street at the advice of village Atty. Jack Siegel.

Siegel told the trustees that state law requires restricted parking on arterial streets like Olive which are less than 36 feet wide.

He explained that the state would not release motor fuel tax funds to be used for the public benefit share of special assessments unless an ordinance to that effect were passed.

It was up to the village engineers to decide which side of Olive would have no parking.

Art Fair at North School

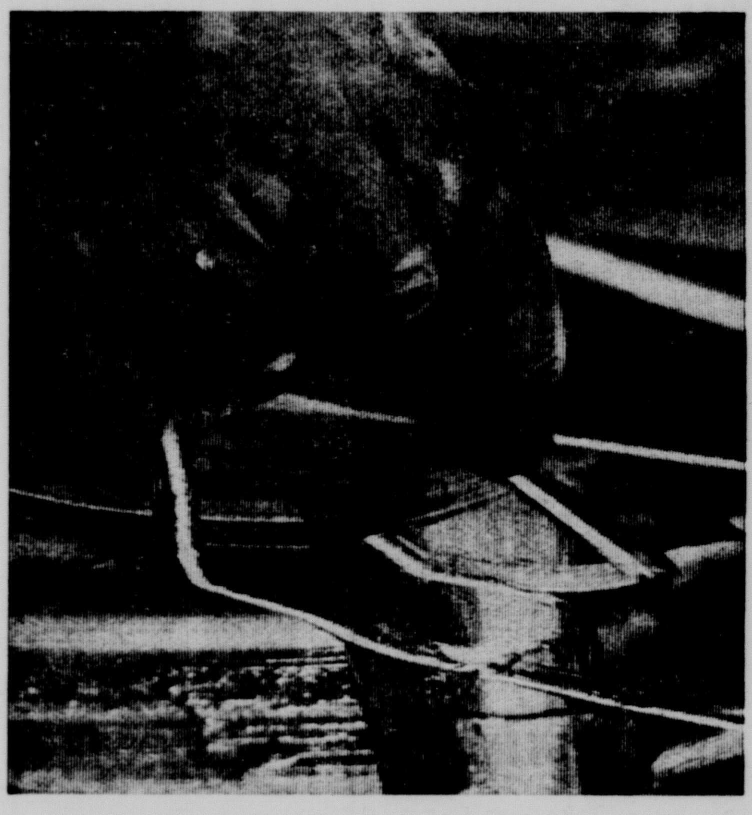
Staff Photos by Bob Finch

Classrooms, halls and auditorium of Arlington Heights' North School will be decorated next week with the artistic efforts of the school's 507 children, ranging from kindergarten through fifth grade. Included will be the work of the school's special students in classes for partially sighted, mentally handicapped and gifted children.

The school's art fair may be seen daily from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., according to principal John R. Peters. On Tuesday, a parents' night will be sponsored by the PTA from 7 to 9 p.m. Students have made a "gigantic" effort in producing the fair, according to co-chairmen Norma Piacenza and Roberta Marshall, North School teachers.

Included in the work are paintings, clay models, mobiles, papier mache, chalk and charcoal, crayon etchings, string designs, silk screening, dioramas, tissue paper and printing.

Parents have been invited to display their artistic talents alongside their children's, but so far the school reports no takers.



Q. At a birthday party in my honor recently I received a number of nice gifts, and I thanked each donor personally at the party. Is it also necessary that I write each of these friends a thank-you note?

A. No.

Parks Offer Schools Acre To Settle Debt

Land, rather than cash, is being offered District 59 as payment of a $10,000 debt owed by the Arlington Heights park board.

The property, acquired as a park contribution, is about an acre in size and lies north of Juliette Low School.

THE PARK board hopes the school district will accept the land instead of requiring cash to cover costs of expansion of the school's multi-purpose room.

Park Supt. Thomas Thornton urged the multi-purpose room to be made larger and obligated the park to provide compensation. He estimated the cost of the expansion at about $5,000. The swap was suggested when the board learned the cost would be twice as great.

Boosters, 'A' Club Plan Batman Dance

The boys gym at Arlington High School will be the scene of the Batman A Go Go dance, co-sponsored by the Cardinal Booster Club and the "A" Club. The dance will take place Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Tickets are $1 a person and may be purchased from members of the "A" Club or at the door.

Music for the affair will be provided by "The Males," one of the most popular combos appearing in this area, and by a well-known student group, "The Questions," (formerly the "Gratzmen"). They will play continuously during the evening.

The "A" Club is a service organization to which letter winners on varsity teams are eligible to belong. Members will man the check room and refreshment booth the night of the dance.

THE BOOSTER Club is made up of parents of students at Arlington High School and helps provide extras not included in the regular athletic budget. The Booster Club subsidizes a pep bus so students may attend away-from-home games at a nominal cost and also pays for a special telephone on which athletes may call home.

Richard Bergstrom is chairman of the dance for the Boosters and Bob Yeazel for the "A" Club.

Assisting at the dance are Pres. and Mrs. Lucky Somers, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Donchess, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Malcomson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Swanezy, John Kehe, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ekstrand, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Inman, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Burke, and Mr. and Mrs. Bergstrom.

Mrs. Novotny Elected by Clerks Group

Mrs. Jeanne Novotny, village clerk of Arlington Heights, has been elected secretary of the Municipal Clerks Association.

Membership in the association is open to all village and city clerks in Cook County's north and west suburbs.

The group's next meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. on Wednesday, March 2, at Wellers Restaurant, 900 Waukegan Road, Glenview. The speaker at this meeting will be Herbert Stoffels, presiding judge of District 3, Circuit Court, Cook County.

Q. I've been told that the "elbows-on-table" rule of eating has been relaxed. Is this true?

A. Yes, and it has been for some years. It is now generally acceptable to lean the elbows on the table—so long as you do this BETWEEN courses and not while you're actually eating.

Plans for 3 Subdivisions Are Accepted by Trustees

At the recommendation of the plan commission, Arlington Heights trustees Monday accepted plans for the development of three subdivisions in the village.

Approval was given to the final plat and planned layout of Arlington Highlands, which includes four apartment buildings with 12 units each. The 17 acre subdivision is located north of Arlington Knolls, south of Palatine Road and east of Wilson School.

The final plat was the result of considerable consultation between the plan commission and Harold Eberhardy, developer of the subdivision, on how to project an east-west street from Arlington Heights Road into both that and the Arlington Knolls Subdivision. It was resolved when Eberhardy agreed to relocate the apartment units so that a straight east-west street conforming to village specifications could be provided from Arlington Heights Road west to Highland Avenue.

—THE PRELIMINARY plat of the eight lot Vaccaro subdivision between Belmont and Arlington Heights Road, north of Oakton was re-approved.

Trustees had approved the plat in 1961, but Vaccaro did not proceed with the development and the time limitation on the plat elapsed. He paid another filing fee and the plat was approved just as it was five years ago.

—The final plat of Unit No. 10 in the Greenbrier subdivision was accepted following plan commission approval of changes from the preliminary plat due to condemnations by the state for Route 53.

TWO ITEMS ON the board's agenda were deferred.

—Action on a one lot plat of property owned by St. Peter's Lutheran Church on the west side of Dunton Avenue, south of Olive was tabled at the request of Attorney Eugene Schlickman who could not appear.

—The plan commission's recommendations for the preservation of McDonald Creek and the development of a parkway along it was referred to the legal committee who will study it and report to the board.

TWO ITEMS which the board meeting as a committee of the whole agreed Feb. 1 to place on Monday's agenda did not come up.

Consideration of the first item, condemnation proceedings against the two buildings at 105 and 109 N. Evergreen, was not begun because Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson has been unable to contact the owner.

ALSO TO BE placed on the agenda was a village administration suggestion that the village attorney be authorized to file for hearings before the Illinois Commerce Commission on the depression of the Chicago and North Western Railway tracks in the village.

Village Pres. John G. Woods said that village officials wish to meet with Ben W. Heineman, chairman of the board of the Chicago and North Western, before they authorize the village attorney to file. So far they have been unable to arrange for a meeting with Heineman.

Over 50 Club To Meet Today

The Over 50 Club of Arlington Heights will meet at Pioneer Park today from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Participants should bring a lunch; coffee and tea are furnished. Cards, Pool, T.V., craft and movies are on the program.

2-1 Margin Passes Sixth High School

Two questions are still unanswered—but the big one—whether to build District 214 a sixth high school—was answered by voters Saturday.

They approved, by a 2-1 margin — 3,278-1,761 — in balloting that officials called "disappointingly light," the district's plans to build a $6.5 million high school on Willow Road in Prospect Heights and buy a ninth school site in the River Trails area.

The architectural firm of Berger, Kelley, Unteed and Associates has already started preparing detailed drawings for the sixth high school.

Bids will be taken in August or early September, Supt. H. L. Slichenmyer said.

Still to be determined are the answers to two questions:

—What will the school be named?

—What kind of food service will it offer students?

Dr. Frank Smith, a school board member, has been appointed a committee of one on school naming by fellow members of the District 214 board. The Citizens Committee which for the referendum also has a name committee, including Ed Leadley, Mrs. Edith Jolly and Victor Beisler, all of Arlington Heights. Leadley is chairman.

Vending machines were approved by the school board on Jan. 24 but their decision is expected to be questioned at a school board meeting meeting on Feb. 21, and could be reconsidered.

The new school, to be located on Willow Road a quarter mile east of Rand Road in an area that will likely become part of Arlington Heights, will open in 1968. It will have facilities for 2,750 students, 250 of them in a special expanded vocational program.

Only one in eight voters in the two-township area served by District 214 cast ballots in the election, authorizing expenditure of $6.8 million for the new school board meeting on Feb. 21, and could be reconsidered.

One Arlington Heights precinct—Precinct 15 at Dunton School—turned thumbs down on the proposal, 29-35. Three other precincts also had a majority of "No" votes. These were at Forest View Elementary, 32-41; Devonshire School, 9-26, and High Ridge Knolls School, 55-83. The possibility of a negative vote had been anticipated in the Des Plaines area, where residents have expressed resentment at their students being assigned next year to Elk Grove High School.

Just a handful of absentee ballots were cast in the referendum—one of them by school board member Frank Smith, who left last Friday for two weeks in Philadelphia on business.

The vote by precincts was:

Precinct 1 — Walt Whitman School, 79-50.

Precinct 2 — Jack London School, 149-68.

Precinct 3 — Louisa May Alcott School, 84-29.

Precinct 4 — North School (MP), 394-138.

Precinct 5 — Central School, 194-180.

Plans for 3 Subdivisions Are Accepted by Trustees

At the recommendation of the plan commission, Arlington Heights trustees Monday accepted plans for the development of three subdivisions in the village.

Approval was given to the final plat and planned layout of Arlington Highlands, which includes four apartment buildings with 12 units each. The 17 acre subdivision is located north of Arlington Knolls, south of Palatine Road and east of Wilson School.

The final plat was the result of considerable consultation between the plan commission and Harold Eberhardy, developer of the subdivision, on how to project an east-west street from Arlington Heights Road into both that and the Arlington Knolls Subdivision. It was resolved when Eberhardy agreed to relocate the apartment units so that a straight east-west street conforming to village specifications could be provided from Arlington Heights Road west to Highland Avenue.

—THE PRELIMINARY plat of the eight lot Vaccaro subdivision between Belmont and Arlington Heights Road, north of Oakton was re-approved.

Trustees had approved the plat in 1961, but Vaccaro did not proceed with the development and the time limitation on the plat elapsed. He paid another filing fee and the plat was approved just as it was five years ago.

—The final plat of Unit No. 10 in the Greenbrier subdivision was accepted following plan commission approval of changes from the preliminary plat due to condemnations by the state for Route 53.

TWO ITEMS ON the board's agenda were deferred.

—Action on a one lot plat of property owned by St. Peter's Lutheran Church on the west side of Dunton Avenue, south of Olive was tabled at the request of Attorney Eugene Schlickman who could not appear.

—The plan commission's recommendations for the preservation of McDonald Creek and the development of a parkway along it was referred to the legal committee who will study it and report to the board.

TWO ITEMS which the board meeting as a committee of the whole agreed Feb. 1 to place on Monday's agenda did not come up.

Consideration of the first item, condemnation proceedings against the two buildings at 105 and 109 N. Evergreen, was not begun because Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson has been unable to contact the owner.

ALSO TO BE placed on the agenda was a village administration suggestion that the village attorney be authorized to file for hearings before the Illinois Commerce Commission on the depression of the Chicago and North Western Railway tracks in the village.

Village Pres. John G. Woods said that village officials wish to meet with Ben W. Heineman, chairman of the board of the Chicago and North Western, before they authorize the village attorney to file. So far they have been unable to arrange for a meeting with Heineman.

2-1 Margin Passes Sixth High School

Two questions are still unanswered—but the big one—whether to build District 214 a sixth high school—was answered by voters Saturday.

They approved, by a 2-1 margin — 3,278-1,761 — in balloting that officials called "disappointingly light," the district's plans to build a $6.5 million high school on Willow Road in Prospect Heights and buy a ninth school site in the River Trails area.

The architectural firm of Berger, Kelley, Unteed and Associates has already started preparing detailed drawings for the sixth high school.

Bids will be taken in August or early September, Supt. H. L. Slichenmyer said.

Still to be determined are the answers to two questions:

—What will the school be named?

—What kind of food service will it offer students?

Dr. Frank Smith, a school board member, has been appointed a committee of one on school naming by fellow members of the District 214 board. The Citizens Committee which for the referendum also has a name committee, including Ed Leadley, Mrs. Edith Jolly and Victor Beisler, all of Arlington Heights. Leadley is chairman.

Vending machines were approved by the school board on Jan. 24 but their decision is expected to be questioned at a school board meeting meeting on Feb. 21, and could be reconsidered.

The new school, to be located on Willow Road a quarter mile east of Rand Road in an area that will likely become part of Arlington Heights, will open in 1968. It will have facilities for 2,750 students, 250 of them in a special expanded vocational program.

Only one in eight voters in the two-township area served by District 214 cast ballots in the election, authorizing expenditure of $6.8 million for the new school board meeting on Feb. 21, and could be reconsidered.

One Arlington Heights precinct—Precinct 15 at Dunton School—turned thumbs down on the proposal, 29-35. Three other precincts also had a majority of "No" votes. These were at Forest View Elementary, 32-41; Devonshire School, 9-26, and High Ridge Knolls School, 55-83. The possibility of a negative vote had been anticipated in the Des Plaines area, where residents have expressed resentment at their students being assigned next year to Elk Grove High School.

Just a handful of absentee ballots were cast in the referendum—one of them by school board member Frank Smith, who left last Friday for two weeks in Philadelphia on business.

The vote by precincts was:

Precinct 1 — Walt Whitman School, 79-50.

Precinct 2 — Jack London School, 149-68.

Precinct 3 — Louisa May Alcott School, 84-29.

Precinct 4 — North School (MP), 394-138.

Precinct 5 — Central School, 194-180.

Precinct 6 — Lincoln School, 327-262.

Precinct 7 — Ridge School (AH), 130-66.

Precinct 10 — Windsor School, 217-86.

Precinct 11 — Kensington School, 122-102.

Precinct 12 — Dryden School, 166-46.

Precinct 13 — Park School, 190-135.

Precinct 14 — Westgate School, 141-76.

Precinct 15 — Dunton School, 29-35.

Precinct 16 — Greenbrier, 135-25.

Precinct 17 — Kimball Hill School, 65-30.

Precinct 18 — Jonas Salk School, 49-31.

Precinct 19 — Clearmont School, 50-32.

Precinct 20 — Rupley School, 60-23.

Precinct 21 — Forest View Elementary, 32-41.

Precinct 22 — Ridge School, 42-14.

Precinct 23 — Devonshire School, 9-26.

Precinct 24 — High Ridge Knolls, 55-83.

Precinct 25 — Forest View High School, 33-18.

BENSENVILLE—Fenton High School officials were jubilant this week over the record turnout in Saturday's vote on an education tax rate increase, passed by a 3-1 margin. The vote was 2,938 in favor, 1,079 opposed to boosting the rate from $1 to $1.21 per $100 assessed valuation.

MOUNT PROSPECT—John C. Mongan, 40, former Manchester, N. H., mayor, Tuesday was named Mount Prospect village manager. Mongan takes over Feb. 21 from Ben Hemmeter, village engineer, who has served since resignation of Harold Appleby last July.

HOFFMAN ESTATES—Policemen Ray Schneider apparently was illegally demoted as a result of a recent Hoffman Estates Fire and Police Commission hearing. Schneider was found guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer, suspended for 30 days without pay and demoted to patrolman from sergeant. Noted civil service attorneys said this week that such a demotion is not possible under law.

PALATINE—Palatine Youth Commission has asked for a full-time director to ease the case load. The volunteer commission is no longer considered adequate to handle delinquents. The township may be of assistance and a town-wide program may be developed. Final decision on hiring a director has been delayed for the time being.

ROLLING MEADOWS—A stronger municipal youth program has been suggested as police note increase in juvenile cases. The proposal would strengthen the police juvenile advisory commission to coincide with provisions of the new Juvenile Act. The Rolling Meadows commission was the first such group set up to work with juveniles in the northwest area.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—Immediate hiring of six more firemen has been authorized by the village board. The additions will double the size of the full-time force, organized just a month ago to replace the volunteer department.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Administrators of Elementary District 25 Monday painted a rosy academic picture for the next school year: substantial reduction in average class sizes, elimination of double session classes and of triple session kindergartens. But they tagged on a price tag of $337,000 in salaries for the 66 new employes needed to meet that target, 55 of whom would be new teachers and other certificated personnel. They also said realignment of some attendance boundaries would be necessary.

Boy Struck Crossing Highway

A 12-year-old Arlington Heights boy was taken to Northwest Community Hospital Monday after being struck by a car while crossing Northwest Hwy. at Arlington Heights Road.

John Murphy, 1640 N. Highland Ave., was released from the hospital after examination showed he had no serious injuries.

THE DRIVER of the car, Walter B. McCall, 1640 N. Pine, Arlington Heights, told police he was driving east on Northwest Highway when Murphy walked from between cars that were waiting to make a left turn on to Arlington Heights Road. His car struck Murphy with its left front fender.

McCall was charged with failure to yield.

President Proclaims Scout Week

Village Pres. Jack Pahl proclaimed this week Boy Scout Week and praised the scouts and their leaders in Elk Grove Village.

The scouts are celebrating their 56th anniversary.

Pahl said scouting is engaged in a challenging program, Breakthrough for Youth, designed to make scouting and its values available to many boys.

The Boy Scout movement has proved itself a great force for the youth of the United States by encouraging the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, by training them in scoutcraft, and by teaching them patriotism, courage, self reliance, and kindred virtues, the proclamation said.

He asked citizens to recognize "the dedicated and devoted service" being performed by volunteer scout leaders.

Asks Class Size Cut, No Shifts

fall), 25 new elementary teachers, 16 new junior high teachers and nine new special education personnel, for a total of 51 academic personnel. Cost of that, Clabaugh estimated, would be $295,900.

He also recommended addition of 15 new clerical, custodial and maintenance and cafeteria personnel.

Asst. Supt. Robert Campbell estimated primary classes would average 28 to 30 pupils and junior high classes about 30. He stressed the figure was a guess and could be jarred by September enrollments.

CLABAUGH SAID the assessed valuation of the district probably increased only $7 million last year, compared with earlier estimates of $10 million, and that would mean about $25,000 less in receipts for the education fund.

The district still expects a growth in education fund receipts of $525,000 this year. New personnel and normal salary raises for existing teachers could swallow that. A board committee currently is meeting on next year's salary structure.

Board Member Joseph Faner said the new personnel would mean a 14 per cent increase in salary costs for the district and predicted total salary costs will jump 20 per cent.

IF THE NEW personnel are hired as recommended, it would mean a lull during 1966-1967 in the recurring problem of large classes in the rapidly growing district. Class sizes move in cycles, with averages dropping as building programs are completed and swelling by the time the district is able to get another building program going.

Present class sizes in some schools are far in excess of what is considered desirable in the district. Hard hit are Greenbrier, where six classes are on double shift, and Thomas Junior High.

Opening September will be the new Ivy Hill School and additions at Greenbrier, Thomas, Dunton, Olive and Patton.

Plans Examined For Two New Parks

Future parks at either end of the village, in Greenbrier and Surrey Ridge, were given a first going over by Arlington Heights park commissioners Tuesday evening.

The park board members inspected, commented on and ctiticized preliminary site development plans brought in by the landscape firm of Dean and Novak, Rolling Meadows.

The board also assured two Ivy Hill men, Thomas C. Moore and W. L. Giles, that they don't expect any hitch in the plans to lease Commonwealth Edison highline right-of-way for park use.

PARK SUPT. Thomas Thornton told them the area, when leased, will be graded and seeded. A ball diamond is planned for the west end of the highline strip, at the Pinehurst end, and walks will be put in so that children can walk through the park on their way to school, the men were told.

Included in the Greenbrier park plans shown the board by Dean and Novak were three tennis courts, one ball diamond and a playfield, wading and swimming pools, much open landscaped area, large bathhouse and parking for 123 cars.

At Surrey Ridge park, preliminary sketches included four ball diamonds, three tennis courts, play areas for school-age and pre-school children, parking for 86 vehicles, and separate swimming pools for wading, diving and swimming.

SIZE OF POOLS is still a question, and the money the board decides to spend will be the limiting factor in that, it was indicated at the meeting.

No dollar figures were given for eigher proposed park project shown the board on Tuesday. That will come later, after selection next month of an architect and determination of how large pools at the two parks will be.

The board has employed a swimming pool consultant, L.S. Hubbard of Park Ridge. He attended Tuesday's meeting and urged selection of an architect, Jack Barclay of Oak Park, with whom he has worked before. He also noted the 50-meter size of the pools shown in the preliminary site plans for Greenbrier and Surrey Ridge, saying he thought smaller pools would do quite well.

Enclosed Swim Pool Is Studied

Two school board members will work with a Mount Prospect Park District committee studying the feasibility of an enclosed swimming pool at Dempster Junior High School.

Elk Grove District 59 school board Pres. A. M. Bernstein appointed Joseph Schefter and Douglas Burns to work with the park district.

The school board already has indicated preliminary interest in a covered pool at its school at 420 W. Dempster St. west of Elmhurst Road.

Juliette Low School Gets Design Citation

The Juliette Low School, Elk Grove District 59's newest school under construction, has been given an outstanding citation for design.

The school in the Surrey Ridge Subdivision of Arlington Heights, west of Arlington Heights Road, was designed by Orput & Orput and Associates of Rockford.

The school now is one of the 10 to 12 schools eligible for a "school of the year" award.

The Juliette Low school was one of about 300 schools entered in the annual school architecture contest held by the American Association of School Administrators. It will be on display at the association's convention in Atlantic City beginning this weekend.

THIS IS the second District 59 school given an outstanding citation for design. Salt Creek School in Elk Grove Village also designed by Orput & Orput, received the same award. The school district considers the firm "excellent" on supervision of construction and design. It will be one of the firms considered for work on the district's next junior high school.

The Juliette School to open in September has a mushroom shape on paper. The center core of the school is a large instructional area and self contained classrooms are eliminated except for four rooms. It is designed to fit the team teaching and learning center approach to educational organization.

The AASA architectural exhibit screening jury said the school had good lines of circulation and communication with careful attention to details and interests of individual pupils. It had a pleasing and functional instructional materials center. An atmosphere of informality in a compact plant had been created.

Deadline Is Today for Paying Fine

About 75 Wheeling residents will pay a penalty if they do not turn in fine money today (Thursday) on parking and village ordinance citations issued during January.

Under joint village and court rulings which went into effect Jan. 1, the standard $2 fine will be boosted to $5 if it is not paid by the 10th of the month following. Police Chief M. O. Horcher said this week that "only about 50 per cent" of the 150 persons who received citations during January have paid their fines so far.

UNDER THE new schedule, the fine will go up to $15 if it is not paid the second month (by March 10), and up to $25 plus a mandatory court date if it is not in during the third month (by April 10).

The procedure adopted is similar to that in other villages, although the first two fines are sometimes higher.

Carry Signs At Phone Co.

Sign-carrying demonstrators suddenly appeared during the lunch hour Wednesday in front of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. accounting building, Vail Avenue and Sigwalt Street, apparently in protest to an agreement reached Monday on wage increases.

Officials of Local 811, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and the telephone company agreed to basic wage increases ranging from $2 to $4 a week for some 1,528 telephone employes. Many of the 165 workers in Arlington Heights will receive an additional $1 a week through reclassification into a higher wage category.

Union membership is voting on the agreement.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is the bride supposed to do all the cutting of the wedding cake?

A. Not usually. It is customary and traditional for her to cut the first piece, along with her bridegroom, and share it with him. Then a friend or one of the caterers takes care of the cutting of the rest of the cake.

Policeman's Lot Is Not Happy One!

"A policeman's lot is not a happy one," even for a village the size of Buffalo Grove.

Police Chief Arlie L. Page reported to trustees last week that his department worked 1689 hours during the month. The time sheet looked like this: Page and a volunteer lieutenant worked 575 hours; volunteer patrolmen put in 768 hours; a radio operator worked 160 hours, a matron, 15 hours and a clerk 167 hours. This averages out to 54.1 hours worked each day protecting the village.

During the more than 1,600 hours Page and his legions managed to check out 73 complaints that required written reports and about twice as many that didn't. They handled one death inquiry, attended one court session, one county mental health hearing, one psychological session and competed in two shooting matches.

booming pupil growth, and maintaining educational standards in the face of that demand, is a common problem of parochial schools as well as public.

St. Peter's Lutheran School, in continuous operation here for 103 years, limits its enrollment in an attempt to keep class size to under 35 for junior high, and it aims at 25 for primary classes. Principal Lester Rush says if he didn't he could double his enrollment. They have 610 students and must turn others down.

The village's Catholic elementary schools have larger classes, but their teachers point with pride to their schools' high standing on archdiocesan-wide achievement tests as a measure of a job well done.

A unique feature of the program at St. Peter's Lutheran is its non-graded primary, starting with kindergarten. By in-room groupings and promotion based on achievement, youngsters are able to advance at their own pace.

This means, says Mrs. Robert O. Bartz, that the child who can move quickly can reach fourth grade status sooner—and the child who needs longer to achieve reading skills will have that time.

St. Peter went to the non-graded primary four years ago, with its school board's approval. Teachers there are well satisfied with it—and in fact draw recruits from denominational teacher colleges because of the primary program.

Sister Mary Charles, in her first year as principal, says enrollment at St. James varies from 43 to 50. "We would like to keep it to 40, and while we hate to say no," she emphasizes, "we will not exceed 50 in a class." The school has waiting lists for both second and fifth grades now.

An interesting feature of the St. James program is its activity period in which seventh and eighth graders spend six weeks in rotation studying art and art appreciation, music appreciation, speech and dramatics. At the end of each six-week session the school sponsors a "come see us" evening to entertain the parents.

Television is used for enrichment at St. James, as it also is in the village's southside Catholic parish of Our Lady of Wayside. Sister Charles says the school is also starting to develop an audio-visual library and hopes to utilize the recently approved instructional materials center that will be set up at Elk Grove High School with federal support. Both St. James and Wayside are looking into the possibility of improving their libraries using federal money.

St. James has 14 lay teachers and 18 religious, members of the School Sisters of St. Francis. Prospective lay teachers, if they weren't educational majors—and many weren't—are given a special training course by the archdiocese.

Our Lady of Wayside has 17 lay teachers and 11 Dominican sisters on its faculty. The lay teachers are paid more throughout the parochial system than are the nuns, but still get less than public school teachers would for comparable experience. Their choice of the lower salary is a measure of their religious dedication, Sister Charles says. Another valuable contribution to both schools is the volunteer office help.

In general curriculum and order of scheduling are set for the Catholic schools at the diocesan level. The "new math" is quite new at the two local parish schools. Wayside's parochial school, under the guidance of the Rev. Harold T. O'Hara, has 1,333 students in 26 classrooms.

Father O'Hara hopes soon to receive permission to start construction of a much-needed junior high. To be put at the corner of Ridge and Park Streets, it is planned with eight classrooms, science laboratory, gymnasium and reference library.

St. Viator High School, operated by the Clerics of St. Viator, offers an academic program for 1,040 boys, about 40 per cent of them from Arlington Heights. Others come from as far away as Carpentersville and Highwood. The Rev. Francis E. Williams, principal, says that about 90 per cent of his boys go on to college.

St. Viator's is planned for a capacity of 1,600, based on anticipated northwest suburban growth. At capacity it will be self-supporting, Father Williams says; right now the Viatorians underwrite any costs tuition does not cover.

A girls' high school outside the village limits also enrolls Arlington Heights teenagers. This is Sacred Heart of Mary High School in Rolling Meadows.

None of the village's parochial schools could operate without financial assitance from their parishes, though the amount varies from school to school. Tuition depends on the number of children attending.

At St. Peter's, children from parish families may attend free, while tuition is charged children from sister Missouri Synod Lutheran churches. The different churches' handling of tuition poses a tax question—for church donations are tax deductible and tuition isn't.

Convent Reports $1,149 Burglary

A burglary was reported at the St. James parish convent, 820 N. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights, by Sister Superior Charles of the convent.

She told police that between noon and 3 p.m. Feb. 2, someone had entered a number of dormitory quarters and taken $100 in merchandise certificates and $1,149 in cash.

BENSENVILLE—Fenton High School officials were jubilant this week over the record turnout in Saturday's vote on an education tax rate increase, passed by a 3-1 margin. The vote was 2,938 in favor, 1,079 opposed to boosting the rate from $1 to $1.21 per $100 assessed valuation.

MOUNT PROSPECT—John C. Mongan, 40, former Manchester, N. H., mayor, Tuesday was named Mount Prospect village manager. Mongan takes over Feb. 21 from Ben Hemmeter, village engineer, who has served since resignation of Harold Appleby last July.

HOFFMAN ESTATES—Policemen Ray Schneider apparently was illegally demoted as a result of a recent Hoffman Estates Fire and Police Commission hearing. Schneider was found guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer, suspended for 30 days without pay and demoted to patrolman from sergeant. Noted civil service attorneys said this week that such a demotion is not possible under law.

PALATINE—Palatine Youth Commission has asked for a full-time director to ease the case load. The volunteer commission is no longer considered adequate to handle delinquents. The township may be of assistance and a town-wide program may be developed. Final decision on hiring a director has been delayed for the time being.

ROLLING MEADOWS—A stronger municipal youth program has been suggested as police note increase in juvenile cases. The proposal would strengthen the police juvenile advisory commission to coincide with provisions of the new Juvenile Act. The Rolling Meadows commission was the first such group set up to work with juveniles in the northwest area.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—Immediate hiring of six more firemen has been authorized by the village board. The additions will double the size of the full-time force, organized just a month ago to replace the volunteer department.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Administrators of Elementary District 25 Monday painted a rosy academic picture for the next school year: substantial reduction in average class sizes, elimination of double session classes and of triple session kindergartens. But they tagged on a price tag of $337,000 in salaries for the 66 new employes needed to meet that target, 55 of whom would be new teachers and other certificated personnel. They also said realignment of some attendance boundaries would be necessary.

Boy Struck Crossing Highway

A 12-year-old Arlington Heights boy was taken to Northwest Community Hospital Monday after being struck by a car while crossing Northwest Hwy. at Arlington Heights Road.

John Murphy, 1640 N. Highland Ave., was released from the hospital after examination showed he had no serious injuries.

THE DRIVER of the car, Walter B. McCall, 1640 N. Pine, Arlington Heights, told police he was driving east on Northwest Highway when Murphy walked from between cars that were waiting to make a left turn on to Arlington Heights Road. His car struck Murphy with its left front fender.

McCall was charged with failure to yield.

President Proclaims Scout Week

Village Pres. Jack Pahl proclaimed this week Boy Scout Week and praised the scouts and their leaders in Elk Grove Village.

The scouts are celebrating their 56th anniversary.

Pahl said scouting is engaged in a challenging program, Breakthrough for Youth, designed to make scouting and its values available to many boys.

The Boy Scout movement has proved itself a great force for the youth of the United States by encouraging the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, by training them in scoutcraft, and by teaching them patriotism, courage, self reliance, and kindred virtues, the proclamation said.

He asked citizens to recognize "the dedicated and devoted service" being performed by volunteer scout leaders.

fall), 25 new elementary teachers, 16 new junior high teachers and nine new special education personnel, for a total of 51 academic personnel. Cost of that, Clabaugh estimated, would be $295,900.

He also recommended addition of 15 new clerical, custodial and maintenance and cafeteria personnel.

Asst. Supt. Robert Campbell estimated primary classes would average 28 to 30 pupils and junior high classes about 30. He stressed the figure was a guess and could be jarred by September enrollments.

CLABAUGH SAID the assessed valuation of the district probably increased only $7 million last year, compared with earlier estimates of $10 million, and that would mean about $25,000 less in receipts for the education fund.

The district still expects a growth in education fund receipts of $525,000 this year. New personnel and normal salary raises for existing teachers could swallow that. A board committee currently is meeting on next year's salary structure.

Board Member Joseph Faner said the new personnel would mean a 14 per cent increase in salary costs for the district and predicted total salary costs will jump 20 per cent.

IF THE NEW personnel are hired as recommended, it would mean a lull during 1966-1967 in the recurring problem of large classes in the rapidly growing district. Class sizes move in cycles, with averages dropping as building programs are completed and swelling by the time the district is able to get another building program going.

Present class sizes in some schools are far in excess of what is considered desirable in the district. Hard hit are Greenbrier, where six classes are on double shift, and Thomas Junior High.

Opening September will be the new Ivy Hill School and additions at Greenbrier, Thomas, Dunton, Olive and Patton.

Enclosed Swim Pool Is Studied

Two school board members will work with a Mount Prospect Park District committee studying the feasibility of an enclosed swimming pool at Dempster Junior High School.

Elk Grove District 59 school board Pres. A. M. Bernstein appointed Joseph Schefter and Douglas Burns to work with the park district.

The school board already has indicated preliminary interest in a covered pool at its school at 420 W. Dempster St. west of Elmhurst Road.

Policeman's Lot Is Not Happy One!

"A policeman's lot is not a happy one," even for a village the size of Buffalo Grove.

Police Chief Arlie L. Page reported to trustees last week that his department worked 1689 hours during the month. The time sheet looked like this: Page and a volunteer lieutenant worked 575 hours; volunteer patrolmen put in 768 hours; a radio operator worked 160 hours, a matron, 15 hours and a clerk 167 hours. This averages out to 54.1 hours worked each day protecting the village.

During the more than 1,600 hours Page and his legions managed to check out 73 complaints that required written reports and about twice as many that didn't. They handled one death inquiry, attended one court session, one county mental health hearing, one psychological session and competed in two shooting matches.

booming pupil growth, and maintaining educational standards in the face of that demand, is a common problem of parochial schools as well as public.

St. Peter's Lutheran School, in continuous operation here for 103 years, limits its enrollment in an attempt to keep class size to under 35 for junior high, and it aims at 25 for primary classes. Principal Lester Rush says if he didn't he could double his enrollment. They have 610 students and must turn others down.

The village's Catholic elementary schools have larger classes, but their teachers point with pride to their schools' high standing on archdiocesan-wide achievement tests as a measure of a job well done.

A unique feature of the program at St. Peter's Lutheran is its non-graded primary, starting with kindergarten. By in-room groupings and promotion based on achievement, youngsters are able to advance at their own pace.

This means, says Mrs. Robert O. Bartz, that the child who can move quickly can reach fourth grade status sooner—and the child who needs longer to achieve reading skills will have that time.

St. Peter went to the non-graded primary four years ago, with its school board's approval. Teachers there are well satisfied with it—and in fact draw recruits from de nominational teacher colleges because of the primary program.

Sister Mary Charles, in her first year as principal, says enrollment at St. James varies from 43 to 50. "We would like to keep it to 40, and while we hate to say no," she emphasizes, "we will not exceed 50 in a class." The school has waiting lists for both second and fifth grades now.

An interesting feature of the St. James program is its activity period in which seventh and eighth graders spend six weeks in rotation studying art and art appreciation, music appreciation, speech and dramatics. At the end of each six-week session the school sponsors a "come see us" evening to entertain the parents.

Television is used for enrichment at St. James, as it also is in the village's southside Catholic parish of Our Lady of Wayside. Sister Charles says the school is also starting to develop an audio-visual library and hopes to utilize the recently approved instructional materials center that will be set up at Elk Grove High School with federal support. Both St. James and Wayside are looking into the possibility of improving their libraries using federal money.

St. James has 14 lay teachers and 18 religious, members of the School Sisters of St. Francis. Prospective lay teachers, if they weren't educational majors—and many weren't—are given a special training course by the archdiocese.

Our Lady of Wayside has 17 lay teachers and 11 Dominican sisters on its faculty. The lay teachers are paid more throughout the parochial system than are the nuns, but still get less than public school teachers would for comparable experience. Their choice of the lower salary is a measure of their religious dedication, Sister Charles says. Another valuable contribution to both schools is the volunteer office help.

In general curriculum and order of scheduling are set for the Catholic schools at the diocesan level. The "new math" is quite new at the two local parish schools. Wayside's parochial school, under the guidance of the Rev. Harold T. O'Hara, has 1,333 students in 26 classrooms.

Father O'Hara hopes soon to receive permission to start construction of a much-needed junior high. To be put at the corner of Ridge and Park Streets, it is planned with eight classrooms, science laboratory, gymnasium and reference library.

St. Viator High School, operated by the Clerics of St. Viator, offers an academic program for 1,040 boys, about 40 per cent of them from Arlington Heights. Others come from as far away as Carpentersville and Highwood. The Rev. Francis E. Williams, principal, says that about 90 per cent of his boys go on to college.

St. Viator's is planned for a capacity of 1,600, based on anticipated northwest suburban growth. At capacity it will be self-supporting, Father Williams says; right now the Viatorians underwrite any costs tuition does not cover.

A girls' high school outside the village limits also enrolls Arlington Heights teenagers. This is Sacred Heart of Mary High School in Rolling Meadows.

None of the village's parochial schools could operate without financial assitance from their parishes, though the amount varies from school to school. Tuition depends on the number of children attending.

At St. Peter's, children from parish families may attend free, while tuition is charged children from sister Missouri Synod Lutheran churches. The different churches' handling of tuition poses a tax question—for church donations are tax deductible and tuition isn't.

Convent Reports $1,149 Burglary

A burglary was reported at the St. James parish convent, 820 N. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights, by Sister Superior Charles of the convent.

She told police that between noon and 3 p.m. Feb. 2, someone had entered a number of dormitory quarters and taken $100 in merchandise certificates and $1,149 in cash.

Plans Examined For Two New Parks

Future parks at either end of the village, in Greenbrier and Surrey Ridge, were given a first going over by Arlington Heights park commissioners Tuesday evening.

The park board members inspected, commented on and ctiticized preliminary site development plans brought in by the landscape firm of Dean and Novak, Rolling Meadows.

The board also assured two Ivy Hill men, Thomas C. Moore and W. L. Giles, that they don't expect any hitch in the plans to lease Commonwealth Edison highline right-of-way for park use.

PARK SUPT. Thomas Thornton told them the area, when leased, will be graded and seeded. A ball diamond is planned for the west end of the highline strip, at the Pinehurst end, and walks will be put in so that children can walk through the park on their way to school, the men were told.

Included in the Greenbrier park plans shown the board by Dean and Novak were three tennis courts, one ball diamond and a playfield, wading and swimming pools, much open landscaped area, large bathhouse and parking for 123 cars.

At Surrey Ridge park, preliminary sketches included four ball diamonds, three tennis courts, play areas for school-age and pre-school children, parking for 86 vehicles, and separate swimming pools for wading, diving and swimming.

SIZE OF POOLS is still a question, and the money the board decides to spend will be the limiting factor in that, it was indicated at the meeting.

No dollar figures were given for eigher proposed park project shown the board on Tuesday. That will come later, after selection next month of an architect and determination of how large pools at the two parks will be.

The board has employed a swimming pool consultant, L.S. Hubbard of Park Ridge. He attended Tuesday's meeting and urged selection of an architect, Jack Barclay of Oak Park, with whom he has worked before. He also noted the 50-meter size of the pools shown in the preliminary site plans for Greenbrier and Surrey Ridge, saying he thought smaller pools would do quite well.

Juliette Low School Gets Design Citation

The Juliette Low School, Elk Grove District 59's newest school under construction, has been given an outstanding citation for design.

The school in the Surrey Ridge Subdivision of Arlington Heights, west of Arlington Heights Road, was designed by Orput & Orput and Associates of Rockford.

The school now is one of the 10 to 12 schools eligible for a "school of the year" award.

The Juliette Low school was one of about 300 schools entered in the annual school architecture contest held by the American Association of School Administrators. It will be on display at the association's convention in Atlantic City beginning this weekend.

THIS IS the second District 59 school given an outstanding citation for design. Salt Creek School in Elk Grove Village also designed by Orput & Orput, received the same award. The school district considers the firm "excellent" on supervision of construction and design. It will be one of the firms considered for work on the district's next junior high school.

The Juliette School to open in September has a mushroom shape on paper. The center core of the school is a large instructional area and self contained classrooms are eliminated except for four rooms. It is designed to fit the team teaching and learning center approach to educational organization.

The AASA architectural exhibit screening jury said the school had good lines of circulation and communication with careful attention to details and interests of individual pupils. It had a pleasing and functional instructional materials center. An atmosphere of informality in a compact plant had been created.

Deadline Is Today for Paying Fine

About 75 Wheeling residents will pay a penalty if they do not turn in fine money today (Thursday) on parking and village ordinance citations issued during January.

Under joint village and court rulings which went into effect Jan. 1, the standard $2 fine will be boosted to $5 if it is not paid by the 10th of the month following. Police Chief M. O. Horcher said this week that "only about 50 per cent" of the 150 persons who received citations during January have paid their fines so far.

UNDER THE new schedule, the fine will go up to $15 if it is not paid the second month (by March 10), and up to $25 plus a mandatory court date if it is not in during the third month (by April 10).

The procedure adopted is similar to that in other villages, although the first two fines are sometimes higher.

Carry Signs At Phone Co.

Sign-carrying demonstrators suddenly appeared during the lunch hour Wednesday in front of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. accounting building, Vail Avenue and Sigwalt Street, apparently in protest to an agreement reached Monday on wage increases.

Officials of Local 811, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and the telephone company agreed to basic wage increases ranging from $2 to $4 a week for some 1,528 telephone employes. Many of the 165 workers in Arlington Heights will receive an additional $1 a week through reclassification into a higher wage category.

Union membership is voting on the agreement.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is the bride supposed to do all the cutting of the wedding cake?

A. Not usually. It is customary and traditional for her to cut the first piece, along with her bridegroom, and share it with him. Then a friend or one of the caterers takes care of the cutting of the rest of the cake.

Cellar Moves To Palatine

Establishment of The Cellar, formerly located in Arlington Heights, at 1140 E. Northwest Hwy. in Palatine was approved Monday by the Palatine Village Board.

The approval was given over the objections of neighboring Arlington Crest subdivision residents. John J. Wallace, attorney for them, reiterated an objection from last week that the teen dance hall will endanger police and fire protection because of increased traffic.

Wallace said the dance hall needs more planning and asked for more consideration of the residents. He also asked who the actual owner of the property is.

VILLAGE Mgr. Robert Hollander said The Cellar's proprietor, Paul Samson, gave a sworn statement to the zoning board that the owner is the American National Bank & Trust Co. and he the lessee.

Passage of an ordinance setting up fees was delayed a week until the village attorney could draw up a proper ordinance.

Okay Bid to Repair Old Water Valves

Arlington Heights Village Board Monday accepted the D. DiOrio & Sons bid of $4,935 for the repair or replacement of water main valves in the central business district.

To be repaired are 20 valves which are 30 to 50 years old and are no longer operative.

The work will be done between midnight and 6 a.m.

Because of these terms, the only other bid submitted was for $13,525 from Rossett Contracting Co.

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson acknowledged an element of uncertainty in the possible cost of the project because exactly what repairs will be necessary cannot be determined until the valves are opened and inspected.

THE TOTAL cost if an entire valve has to be replaced will be $450 apiece, labor included, the manager said. But he assured the board that the $5,000 ceiling on the project should be enough and stated, "I can't see where all 20 valves will have to be replaced. A village engineer will be on the scene when the valves are opened."

Hanson noted that the village is setting a precedent in the Chicago area by having the work done through bids on a unit basis. Other communities hire such work on a time and material basis, he said.

Hanson said the work will begin as soon as weather permits and should be finished in about 30 days.

Federal Park Aid Seen 6 Months Away

It probably will be six months before the federal government acts on the Arlington Heights Park District request for funds to underwrite a $245,000 park expansion program.

That estimate was given board members Tuesday by the board attorney.

REQUEST FOR the federal money was formally refiled with the Housing and Home Finance Agency in January, the board was told, after the park district had revised its request to:

—Allow for the 50 per cent federal grants authorized by Congress last session instead of the 30 per cent available before.

—Provide the extra, and varied, paperwork required under the 1965 law.

The attorney said the HHFA personnel estimated the processing of the request would take three or four months.

"But it's been my experience," he said, "in new programs such as this that they always underestimate."

Trip Tips

Wayne Griffin

It took four big tug boats to ease the ship away from the pier and into the channel. Then the big motors started and we were under way. I was aboard the S/S Hanseatic leaving Port Everglades for a seven day Caribbean cruise.

I picked up a few new German words too, for the entire crew is German, but most of them speak English very well. And the food—well it's just too much. Every menu was filled with goodies and in abundant selection. Then of course there are all the extra meals too. Actually you can eat your way thruout the cruise.

The Hanseatic is a big ship—29,000 tons — and she rides very well. The staterooms, in fact the whole ship, is air conditioned. A cruise is lots of fun and what a way to relax.

At Wayne Griffin Travel we have all details about cruises. Drop in at 104 N. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, or call CL 5-7010.

Budget Scrutiny Begins

Working without the aid of income estimates, the village board's financial committee gave a first going-over to next year's budget last Thursday.

Funds for an addition to the public works garage, for beautification of the railroad parks and for a second water storage tank at the southern limit of the village were among items noted during the board's first look at the budget proposed submitted by Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson.

Village Pres. John G. Woods and the board's finance committee — Carl Mees, Roy Bressler and Jack Walsh — were promised a second look at the proposed budget in about two weeks.

BY THAT TIME, Hanson told them, he should have up-to-date figures from the county assessor's office on village assessed valuation growth. Till then, income can't be compared to proposed expenses with any accuracy, he pointed out.

No expenditures for personnel were discussed in the finance committee session. That will be saved for an executive meeting.

A doubling of the $3,000 suggested by Hanson for downtown beautification was suggested by Mees and agreed to by others at the meeting. Landscaping around the village hall alone cost $4,000 last year, Hanson told the board.

Also increased $2,000 — in this first round—was the budgeted amount for litigation.

Hanson suggested the increase. "If we're going to go to the Illinois Commerce Commission (for permission to depress the railroad tracks), we should plug another couple thousand in," he commented.

WOODS AND THE others agreed, Woods noting that the Illinois Commerce Commission matter could take six to eight years, depending on how long it takes to reach agreement between the village, state, railroad and county on how costs of the project should be shared.

A compromise is usually worked out among the interested parties, he noted, before the commission rules. "That's what takes time," he said.

BY THAT TIME, Hanson told them, he should have up-to-date figures from the county assessor's office on village assessed valuation growth. Till then, income can't be compared to proposed expenses with any accuracy, he pointed out.

No expenditures for personnel were discussed in the finance committee session. That will be saved for an executive meeting.

A doubling of the $3,000 suggested by Hanson for downtown beautification was suggested by Mees and agreed to by others at the meeting. Landscaping around the village hall alone cost $4,000 last year, Hanson told the board.

Also increased $2,000 — in this first round—was the budgeted amount for litigation.

Hanson suggested the increase. "If we're going to go to the Illinois Commerce Commission (for permission to depress the railroad tracks), we should plug another couple thousand in," he commented.

WOODS AND THE others agreed, Woods noting that the Illinois Commerce Commission matter could take six to eight years, depending on how long it takes to reach agreement between the village, state, railroad and county on how costs of the project should be shared.

A compromise is usually worked out among the interested parties, he noted, before the commission rules. "That's what takes time," he said. (A

Trip Tips

It took four big tug boats to ease the ship away from the pier and into the channel. Then the big motors started and we were under way. I was aboard the S/S Hanseatic leaving Port Everglades for a seven day Caribbean cruise.

Wayne Griffin

I picked up a few new German words too, for the entire crew is German, but most of them speak English very well. And the food—well it's just too much. Every menu was filled with goodies and in abundant selection. Then of course there are all the extra meals too. Actually you can eat your way thruout the cruise.

The Hanseatic is a big ship—29,000 tons — and she rides very well. The staterooms, in fact the whole ship, is air conditioned. A cruise is lots of fun and what a way to relax.

At Wayne Griffin Travel we have all details about cruises. Drop in at 104 N. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, or call CL 5-7010.

Schools Ask New Bids On 2 Houses

Arlington Heights School Board members Monday balanced temptation against honor and voted in favor of honor.

The board last month voted to award a contract for removal of two houses on the South Junior High School property. Within a short time after the bid was awarded, but before the contract was executed, the district received two additional bids — one $600 below the bid accepted.

Checking back, Business Mgr. Peter Bakas noticed an error in advertising for bids. There was no requirement that the bid be returned by any special date.

"I'D LOVE TO save the $600," commented board member Robert Bukowski, "but the ethics of it bother me a little."

Asked board member Charles O. Bennett, "Isn't our oral agreement tantamount to a contract? It was our fault for not putting in a closing date."

Suggested Joseph Faner, "I don't think there is a matter of a commitment . . . if it is a matter of ethics, we should rebid it."

The board went along with Faner, throwing out all bids and agreeing to advertise again.

BAKE SALE preparations are made by members of Arlington Heights' South Junior High PTA. From left are Mrs. E. E. Ormsbee, chairman of the ways and means committee, and Mrs. John Pretto and Mrs. Robert Walters, co-chairmen of the sale. The event, from 7:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. tomorrow, (Friday) will be in the school gymnasium. (Staff photo

Five Days Notice, Then . . .

Quick Action Finds New Home for Cuban Family

by EUGENE NOJIK
Staff Writer

With a sigh of relief, former Cuban congressman and labor leader Jose L. Martinez and his wife and three children will move into their new home at 1324 E. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights, Sunday.

After living here for three years, they received notice two months ago to leave the home they were renting at 2103 E. Gregory within five days.

The Chicago Savings and Loan Association, which held the mortgage on the home, had foreclosed on the owner and wanted the Martinez family out so it could sell.

BUT FIVE DAYS' notice to move isn't much time, unless you're on the issuing end.

"We didn't know what to do," said Mrs. Martinez.

AT THE recommendation of a friend, they contacted Eugene Schlickman, Arlington Heights attorney and an Illinois state legislator. Schlickman persuaded the Chicago firm to give the Martinez family a time extension to arrange for a new home.

They did not want to leave Arlington Heights. "We are very happy here," said Mrs. Martinez. "We wanted to buy the house we were renting, but it was too expensive."

Through Schlickman's intercession, their predicament was referred to Wil Schwantz of Annen & Busse Realtors, who helped cut red tape in finding a new home here.

"They found us a house that was just right," Mrs. Martinez said, "and Mr. Schlickman helped with the whole case. He took care of the paperwork and legal matters. Everybody was very nice and helpful to us. We are very happy to be able to stay in Arlington Heights."

THIS IS NOT the first time the Martinez family has been faced with a sudden move, for they count themselves among the more fortunate Cubans who were able to leave that country right after Castro came to power.

In Cuba, Martinez was president of a sugar workers union and a member of the national congress. Because he had held office under the old regime, he was imprisoned in 1959 by the revolutionaries.

After being held without trial for seven months, he was released without explanation. He sought political asylum in the Peruvian Embassy and left Cuba under Peruvian protection. He went first to Peru and later came to the U. S.

In the meantime, his wife and children were able to leave Cuba because the Castro government had nothing against them. The family was reunited in the U. S.

Martinez is now working as a cost analyst for a Cicero firm.

MR. AND MRS. Martinez have three daughters, Beatriz, 11, Adriana, 8, and Diana Mari, 2. Beatriz and Adriana were born in Cuba and Diana Mari was born here in Arlington Heights. The older girls attend St. James School.

Also living with Mr. and Mrs. Martinez is 12-year-old Helen Munoz, sister-in-law to Mrs. Martinez. Helen's parents and grandmother arrived from Cuba Monday in the State Department-sponsored airlift. They will live in New Jersey and Helen will join them as soon as the school year here is over.

File Suit For Tax Exemption

Arlington Heights Village Atty. Jack Siegel Monday was authorized by the village board to file suit to have some 11 parcels of village property declared exempt from real estate taxes.

Taxes on the properties over the past 10 years or so now amount to $1,800 to $2,000, said Atty. Siegel. Filing suit to have the taxes abated and the parcels declared tax exempt would be a formality and would cost around $150, considerably less than paying the back taxes.

VILLAGE MGR. L. A. Hanson explained that the tax bills on the parcels have been piling up because the village does not have deeds for the properties and has not even been getting the bills.

"If we had had the deeds, we would have filed exemption certificates earlier," Hanson said. "But these properties were either acquired by dedication or the deeds were lost." He noted that the parcels concerned were obtained by the village over a dozen years ago.

6 Scouts Advance at Honor Court

Six Arlington Heights Boy Scouts received promotions Monday night in Court of Honor ceremonies held by Troop 57 at South Junior High School. The program was a part of Family Night activities of the troop's annual Boy Scout Week observance.

Scoutmaster Robert B. McAllister, 725 S. Walnut, presented Life badges to John Faus and his son, Steve McAllister.

THE TROOP inducted six Tenderfoot Scouts during the evening. They are Bob Koehnke, Scott Koeneke, Maury Newlin, Mark Preissing, Randy Roeing and Mike Schreiber. A total of 15 merit badges was also presented to six Scouts working on advanced ranks.

AAUW Granted Fieldhouse Use

The Arlington Heights branch of the American Association of University Women was given permission Tuesday by the park district commissioners to have free use of the Pioneer Park fieldhouse.

Organizations may use the fieldhouse without charge if they are non-profit, made up primarily of local residents, perform some worthwhile purpose and have an open membership.

The AAUW branch meets these requirements, Supt. Thomas Thornton told park commissioners in recommending approval of the group's request.

Special Education PTA Topic

"Education for Children With Exceptionalities" will be the topic of Helen Appeldoorn, director of special education for the Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization, at the Feb. 15 meeting of the Greenbrier School PTA.

The organization is a joint agreement in Cook County for 16 school districts.

For 10 years, Miss Appeldoorn was director of special education in Springfield. She has been an assistant professor for the bureau of special education at Ohio State University and has worked as research associate for the Institute for Research for Exceptional Children at the University of Illinois. She also has been both a school psychologist and a teacher.

Past president of the Illinois Administrators of Special Education, and an active committee chairman for the Council for Exceptional Children at the state and national levels, she is listed in "Who's Who in the Midwest" and "Who's Who of American Women."

THE SLATE OF officers proposed by Greenbrier's nominating committee for the 1966-67 school year will be read. Nominations may also be made from the floor at this meeting for voting in March. (A

Four Exchanges On PTA Panel At Kensington

The Kensington PTA will be "Welcoming Good Neighbors" at next Tuesday's meeting in the multi-purpose room at Kensington School in Arlington Heights.

Four foreign exchange students, sponsored by the American Field Service, will make up the panel, with Burton Showers, director of student activities at Forest View High School, as panel moderator.

The students are Karrina Hacklin of Mantta, Finland and Elizabeth Leal of Rio de Jeneiro, Brazil, both living with families in Arlington Heights; Nooki Saito of Nagaya, Japan, staying with a Mount Prospect family; and Randy Oppelt of Arlington Heights, who spent last summer in Santander, Spain, under the AFS program.

THE NEW nominees for Kensington PTA officers will be posted at this meeting. (A

Only Electricity—

Dries your clothes with the same kind of gentle radiant heat you get from the sun.

Flameless electric drying is gentle, because it works with radiant heat like the sun. The only difference is it's controlled. You dial exactly the heat you need, for the clothes you want to dry. Whites stay white, colors stay bright, sizes won't change because of harsh overdrying or scorching. Another thing. Radiant electric dryers are flameless, so there are no fumes or by-products of combustion. Clothes come out clean and fresh as all outdoors.

Makes it easier to be a good cook with precise, temperature-calibrated controls.

Larger heating surfaces allow cooking at lower temperatures; require much less water, so food retains more vitamins, flavor, color and texture. Oven cooking is faster because less preheating is required. More moisture is retained because only electric ovens are insulated on all six sides. Meats are juicier, cakes richer. And because electric cooking is flameless, kitchens stay cooler, pots and pans and kitchen walls stay cleaner.

Gives you greater heating comfort, greater flexibility than any other type heat.

Electric heat offers 5 basic systems that can be used separately or teamed together, depending on heating requirements. Advantages include: room-by-room temperature control; uniform temperature; elimination of hot and cold spots; simple, low-cost installation of air conditioning where desired. What's more, there's no flame, so it's safer—and, with no burning fuel residue, there's nothing to create dirt or run up decorating costs.

NORTHEAST ARLINGTON

Troop 328 visited Mrs. M. F. Daniels, head of the Arlington Heights Historical Society. They learned how the Duntons first came to settle here where the railroad tracks are and how the town could have been called Dunton or just Arlington. The scouts saw the flag that was flying when President Lincoln was killed, a 300-year-old spinning wheel, a china doll, a bed warmer and a butter churn and other historical things.

Mrs. Daniels has miniature models of Arlington Heights as it looked when it first began.

Accompanying the girls were Mrs. Jack Crump, Mrs. Albert Walters, Mrs. Robert Chodera and Mrs. Ann Phelan.

NORTH PALATINE

Three troops from Immanuel Lutheran Church, Junior Troop 395 and Brownie Troops 410 and 603, have adopted grandmothers from the Lutheran Old People's Home in Arlington Heights.

Sixth grade scouts of Junior Troop 501, led by Mrs. Donald Sargol, have been busy working on their Dramatics badge. They gave a performance of the play Phineas Rides Again for the retarded children at the YMCA and another for the children at Little City. The audiences enjoyed the unique adventure story about an underwater cowboy.

The Juniors also made cookies for the children at Little City and played games with them.

Juniors from Troop 753 and their leaders, Mrs. Robert Lorden and Mrs. Raymond Burke, attended the Christmas party at Angel Guardian Orphanage Dec. 19 where they sang carols. The scouts made candy favors for the children. The troop has adopted a girl from the orphanage and presented her with a sweater, socks and underwear. They also remember her on her birthday and other holidays.

WHEELING-BUFFALO GROVE

Junior Troop 4 and a Brownie Troop under the leadership of Mrs. C. Harken and Mrs. Robert Timmers, on Jan. 23, took a bus to the Polar Dome at Santas Village where the girls (a few of them beginners) and their leaders skated for several hours.

Troop 974 held their Court of Awards Jan. 26. The girls invited their fathers to attend the Candlelight Ceremony they planned. The meeting was presided over by the Troop Chairman, fourth grader Pamela Hendrickson. Sign of the Arrow was awarded to Susan Griggs and Karla Kopper, who also received the Water Fun badge. Some of the other scouts were awarded Pets, Books, My Community, Hospitality, My Home, Dabbler and Toymaker badges. One patrol earned the Storyteller badge.

For their program the Busy Beaver patrol sang harmony to Kum Ba Yah, the Pine Cone patrol gave a choral reading called Strong for America, and the Pink Carnation and Orange Blossom patrols did a hula to the Hukelau. Each patrol made a cake and served them and punch to their fathers.

ROLLING MEADOWS

Mothers with their Brownie and Girl Scout daughters filled the Dr. Young Fellowship Hall at the Community Church Jan. 27. The occasion was the Mother Daughter Banquet which featured a turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

After dinner, while scouts were getting a film and slides of Roundup in readiness, Seniors led girls and mothers in singing their favorite Girl Scout songs.

Jr. College Board Member On Revenue Amendment

Faculty members should be given a maximum opportunity to help decide and enunciate community college policy.

This is the belief of Dr. Frank Smith, High School District 214 board member. He was asked to give his views to a conference on the faculty role in junior colleges. The three day Washington, D.C. session was sponsored by the American Association of Junior Colleges.

Smith would like to see the faculty made an equal partner with the board and administrative officers in determining policy and governmental matter of the community college. He would consider this part of a teacher's obligation.

He considers the faculty's policy - making role will encourage it to higher achievement. In a community college, the faculty's primary purpose is teaching rather than research or scholarship, he points out.

In the community college setting, the teacher's close association with students gives him a better understanding of student needs, Smith states.

A MORE autocratic structure with authority from a central position is not proper for a community college, Smith believes. An authoritarian climate by definition is inimical to American educational goals, he said.

"Now is the time to be thinking of the most positive organizational structures built on a relationship of trust," Smith said. This would capitalize on the harmony initially generated by the unifying desire of everyone involved to produce an effective educational facility," he added.

Smith would favor a preliminary vote among faculty and administration, before a board considered some important matters. The tradition of referring questions to faculty representatives for policy recommendations will keep a harmonious working relationship whatever the composition of the board, the director of employee attitudes and surveys at Sears Roebuck & Co. noted.

A cabinet of faculty members might be a workable structure for junior colleges, Smith said.

He also suggested faculty members' year-end reports might evaluate the effectiveness of policies and needs for changes.

INDUSTRY'S USE of periodic surveys of opinion might be used in the junior college. Such a program would require a way to report survey results back to the teachers. The feedback would show a consensus on each issue and would form the basis for either accepting the consensus or for formulating a rationale for its rejection if the administrators and board members don't agree.

Survey results should be used as points of departure in a constructive decision making program not as a substitute for such a program, Smith warned.

New teachers should be oriented to their role in policy formulation. It should be considered part of their obligation, as Smith sees it, to voice their opinions and criticisms. Otherwise teachers tend to distrust those who do not seek or respond to their opinions, he observed.

SUSIE SCOUT Says

Arlene R. Novy 392-4679

NORTHEAST ARLINGTON

Troop 328 visited Mrs. M. F. Daniels, head of the Arlington Heights Historical Society. They learned how the Duntons first came to settle here where the railroad tracks are and how the town could have been called Dunton or just Arlington. The scouts saw the flag that was flying when President Lincoln was killed, a 300-year-old spinning wheel, a china doll, a bed warmer and a butter churn and other historical things.

Mrs. Daniels has miniature models of Arlington Heights as it looked when it first began.

Accompanying the girls were Mrs. Jack Crump, Mrs. Albert Walters, Mrs. Robert Chodera and Mrs. Ann Phelan.

NORTH PALATINE

Three troops from Immanuel Lutheran Church, Junior Troop 395 and Brownie Troops 410 and 603, have adopted grandmothers from the Lutheran Old People's Home in Arlington Heights.

Sixth grade scouts of Junior Troop 501, led by Mrs. Donald Sargol, have been busy working on their Dramatics badge. They gave a performance of the play Phineas Rides Again for the retarded children at the YMCA and another for the children at Little City. The audiences enjoyed the unique adventure story about an underwater cowboy.

The Juniors also made cookies for the children at Little City and played games with them.

Juniors from Troop 753 and their leaders, Mrs. Robert Lorden and Mrs. Raymond Burke, attended the Christmas party at Angel Guardian Orphanage Dec. 19 where they sang carols. Dinner to Fete Northwest Area Eagle Scouts

Air Force General Is Main Speaker

Forty-four Eagle Scouts from eight northwest suburbs will be among 87 boys to be honored at the ninth annual Eagle Recognition Dinner Feb. 15 at Old Orchard Country Club, Mount Prospect.

Role of Junior College Faculty Is Discussed

The role of faculty in community college government was discussed at a session this week attended by a junior college president and high school board member.

Robert Lahti, president of Junior College District 301 serving four townships, and Dr. Frank Smith, High School District 214 board member, gave their viewpoints on the issue.

The subcommittee of the Commission on Administration of the American Association of Junior Colleges plans to issue a publication giving guidelines on the faculty role in government.

DR. LAHTI as chairman of the subcommittee had five men write position papers on the subject. Nine other individuals were asked to react to the position papers. The material from these sources was subject of discussion of the Feb. 6-8 meeting in Washington, D.C.

Conference participants included: Jesse Barnet, assistant to the executive director of the American Association of Junior Colleges, Washington, D.C.; Pres. Clifford G. Erickson, Rock Valley College, Rockford; Mrs. S. R. Gaddy, Wingate College, Wingate, N.C.; Pres. Fred Giles, University of Washington, Seattle; Dr. George Hall, director, Midwest Community College Leadership program, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor; Dean Louis R. Newsham, Fort Dodge Community College, Fort Dodge, Iowa; Dr. James Watenbarger, Florida State Dept. of Education, Tallahassee, Fla.

THOSE WITH position papers were Dr. Norma E. Bentley, chairman of the Liberal Arts Division of Cazenovia College, Cazenovia, N.Y.; Dr. Miles Eaton, chairman of the Social Science Division of Orange Coast College, Costa Mesa, Calif.; Dr. Richard C. Richardson, Jr., dean of instruction, Junior College District of St. Louis, St. Louis County, Mo.; Dr. Sigurd Rislov, professor of higher education, Wayne State University, Detroit, Mich.; and Smith, director of employe attitudes and surveys, Sears Roebuck & Co., Chicago.

IN THE DISCUSSION the group covered the rationale for faculty participation in community college policy making; extent of faculty participation in college government policy making; description of the topics and activities in which a faculty should participate; the kind of structure within the college framework that would allow the extent of faculty participation favored.

Lahti is a commission member of the association until 1968.

Toastmasters Greet Four New Members

The area Toastmasters Club continued to expand last month as four new members joined at the Jan. 26 meeting.

Three were from Arlington Heights: Donald E. McNamara, methods analyst, 662 E. Clarendon; Robert E. Perschbacher, project engineer, 310 N. Derbyshire Lane; and Gordon Vevang, engineer, 447 S. Dwyer.

The fourth new member is from Palatine: Michael J. McGee, a procedures administrator, 430 N. Clark Drive.

The "mix" of occupations prompted Bob Foster, club president, to comment: "We are delighted with the diversification of activities represented by Toastmaster members. We now have members engaged in accounting, law, purchasing, engineering, sales, advertising and various other fields. While this variety is not essential to toastmastering, it adds a great deal of interest to the speeches which our members regularly give to the club as part of their training in communications."

Foster announced that two openings as participating members are still available and invited all men interested in improving their ability to "speak on their feet" to visit the club as guests. Meetings are held in the Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association, on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month, at 8 p.m. The next meeting is Feb. 23, when seven new members will all give their "ice-breaker" (first) speeches to the club.

ELECTRONICS FOR THE BLIND

by ED LANDWEHR

Quite a bit of experimenting is being done on an electronic instrument that will help the blind to get around.

An instrument that works like radar will be carried by the sightless person. Sending out invisible light rays for ten feet or so, it will trip a vibrator, warning of any obstacle that comes into the path of the blind person.

This certainly will be a worthwhile invention, and we can hardly wait until more information is released about it.

Keeping up-to-date in the electronic field is one way that LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights is being of service to this community. When you phone CLearbrook 5-0700 for TV or radio services, you are assured of satisfactory results.

"it pays to know."

OVERINFLATED TIRES ADD LITTLE TO GAS ECONOMY. It's true that overinflated tires do reduce road friction somewhat, since less tire surface actually touches the road. But the small gas savings are no compensation for worn-out, over-stressed tires and the expense of replacing them. It also pays to know how you can get more mileage from your car insurance through State Farm Mutual. Call me and find out today!

Role of Junior College Faculty Is Discussed

The role of faculty in community college government was discussed at a session this week attended by a junior college president and high school board member.

Robert Lahti, president of Junior College District 301 serving four townships, and Dr. Frank Smith, High School District 214 board member, gave their viewpoints on the issue.

The subcommittee of the Commission on Administration of the American Association of Junior Colleges plans to issue a publication giving guidelines on the faculty role in government.

DR. LAHTI as chairman of the subcommittee had five men write position papers on the subject. Nine other individuals were asked to react to the position papers. The material from these sources was subject of discussion of the Feb. 6-8 meeting in Washington, D.C.

Conference participants included: Jesse Barnet, assistant to the executive director of the American Association of Junior Colleges, Washington, D.C.; Pres. Clifford G. Erickson, Rock Valley College, Rockford; Mrs. S. R. Gaddy, Wingate College, Wingate, N.C.; Pres. Fred Giles, University of Washington, Seattle; Dr. George Hall, director, Midwest Community College Leadership program, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor; Dean Louis R. Newsham, Fort Dodge Community College, Fort Dodge, Iowa; Dr. James Watenbarger, Florida State Dept. of Education, Tallahassee, Fla.

THOSE WITH position papers were Dr. Norma E. Bentley, chairman of the Liberal Arts Division of Cazenovia College, Cazenovia, N.Y.; Dr. Miles Eaton, chairman of the Social Science Division of Orange Coast College, Costa Mesa, Calif.; Dr. Richard C. Richardson, Jr., dean of instruction, Junior College District of St. Louis, St. Louis County, Mo.; Dr. Sigurd Rislov, professor of higher education, Wayne State University, Detroit, Mich.; and Smith, director of employe attitudes and surveys, Sears Roebuck & Co., Chicago.

IN THE DISCUSSION the group covered the rationale for faculty participation in community college policy making; extent of faculty participation in college government policy making; description of the topics and activities in which a faculty should participate; the kind of structure within the college framework that would allow the extent of faculty participation favored.

Lahti is a commission member of the association until 1968.

Toastmasters Greet Four New Members

The area Toastmasters Club continued to expand last month as four new members joined at the Jan. 26 meeting.

Three were from Arlington Heights: Donald E. McNamara, methods analyst, 662 E. Clarendon; Robert E. Perschbacher, project engineer, 310 N. Derbyshire Lane; and Gordon Vevang, engineer, 447 S. Dwyer.

The fourth new member is from Palatine: Michael J. McGee, a procedures administrator, 430 N. Clark Drive.

The "mix" of occupations prompted Bob Foster, club president, to comment: "We are delighted with the diversification of activities represented by Toastmaster members. We now have members engaged in accounting, law, purchasing, engineering, sales, advertising and various other fields. While this variety is not essential to toastmastering, it adds a great deal of interest to the speeches which our members regularly give to the club as part of their training in communications."

Foster announced that two openings as participating members are still available and invited all men interested in improving their ability to "speak on their feet" to visit the club as guests. Meetings are held in the Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association, on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month, at 8 p.m. The next meeting is Feb. 23, when seven new members will all give their "ice-breaker" (first) speeches to the club.

ELECTRONICS FOR THE BLIND

by ED LANDWEHR

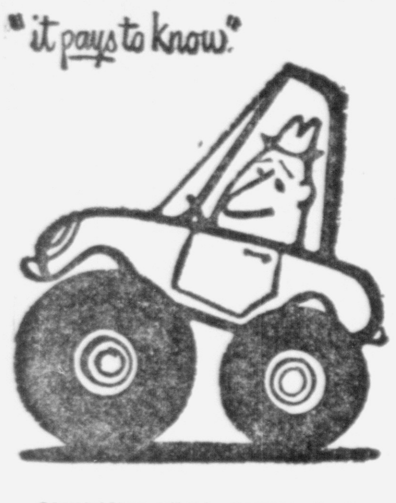
Quite a bit of experimenting is being done on an electronic instrument that will help the blind to get around.

An instrument that works like radar will be carried by the sightless person. Sending out invisible light rays for ten feet or so, it will trip a vibrator, warning of any obstacle that comes into the path of the blind person.

This certainly will be a worthwhile invention, and we can hardly wait until more information is released about it.

Keeping up-to-date in the electronic field is one way that LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights is being of service to this community. When you phone CLearbrook 5-0700 for TV or radio services, you are assured of satisfactory results.

"it pays to know"



OVERINFLATED TIRES ADD LITTLE TO GAS ECONOMY. It's true that overinflated tires do reduce road friction somewhat, since less tire surface actually touches the road. But the small gas savings are no compensation for worn-out, over-stressed tires and the expense of replacing them. Health Museum Active in Sex Education

Sex education or human reproduction should be explained so that it is understood biologically, emotionally, and spiritually.

That is the opinion of two teachers at Hinsdale's Health Museum where sex education has been taught for seven years.

The instructors, John D. Foster and Marvin A. Fredrickson, maintain that sex education should begin in the home. But if it is not explained there the Health Museum is a good place to learn about human reproduction, they added.

"We like to set a pattern, then let the kids develop a healthy attitude toward sex," said Foster.

FOSTER SAYS the reproductive system is the most challenging and rewarding subject offered at the museum. "Never underestimate their (the children's) ability," said Foster.

Primary through secondary level students are instructed daily. Both Foster and Fredrickson emphasized that it is important to give brief, simple and direct answers to questions posed by the youngsters.

Questions range from, "How am I made" from a primary level pupil, to "What does sexual intercourse feel like" from a junior high school girl.

Some of the questions "break my stride" said Foster, but added that he never evades the questions. To Foster and Fredrickson there are no "wrong questions — only wrong answers." He said wrong or foolish answers and lies lead to fear and confusion for children.

FREDRICKSON believes "the reproductive system should be treated with the same dignity and respect with which we approach all systems, such as circulatory and nervous."

Often parents are hesitant to talk about the normal function of the reproductive systems, Foster, "but we can be quite frank with our classes through proper terminology, exhibits and take-apart models."

The two exhibits used the most are the "Life Begins" panel and a transparent woman that talks explaining each part of her body, including sexual organs. Both have been there since the health museum was started in 1958.

Proper nomenclature is imperative for teaching respect of the normal human body. Children should know the adult names for their organs before they are exposed in such a manner that normal terms shock or embarrass them, Foster said.

A PRIMER IN human embryology and the structure of genes frames the reproductive process in the proper context at the museum, the instructors say.

"Children have no reticence about their bodies — and seldom refrain from asking questions," Foster said. The proper answers at the right time enable them to know what it means to be a man or woman, he continued.

The "Life Begins" panel or display is probably the most valuable in teaching sex education. It is a series of plaster models depicting the growth of the human baby through pregnancy and six stages of delivery and birth. Similar displays illustrate the ovulation process and growth of the embryo in the mother's body.

Also used in the sex education program at Hinsdale's Museum is a 23-minute film. The film, entitled "The Day Life Begins," shows actual birth sequences of animals and illustrates that "life comes from life."

Concluding the film a medical doctor underlines the fact that while animals reproduce instinctively and seasonally, human beings are born from an act of reason and love into a family.

THE FILM will be shown at 3 p.m. each Saturday and Sunday during February at the museum. Foster and Fredrickson say this is an excellent time for parents and children to come as a group and add that the film will make it easier for parents to explain sex.

More than 7,000 school children, including fifth graders, junior high and high school, visit the museum for sex education classes annually, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Lundy, museum director. Another 3,000 from other groups and individual children also visit, she added. There is no charge.

One of the most recent visits from northwest suburbs was by a group of junior high students from Bloomingdale. Supt. Ralph Loeper said, "It's an excellent program and I feel it answers questions in youngsters' minds which need to be answered."

The instructors can answer any question which a child would ask, he added. Loeper indicated that he had sought permission for the students who attended Jan. 31. It is interesting to note, he added, "that I have had no unpleasant feed-back from parents."

Many suburban schools send their classes to the museum, the director said. Chicago's schools are also visitors to the exhibits.

THIS YEAR Mrs. Lundy says she expects "far more than the 10,000 that visited last year."

Instructors Fredrickson and Foster say visiting sessions are booked up months in advance. "Not only that" said Foster, "but we are getting requests to assist in setting up sex education in schools."

"Most teachers aren't prepared to teach sex education and need help," he added.

Foster thinks the fifth grade level is the level in school systems that sex education should be taught. It should, of course start before that at home, he added. Fredrickson said it should start in the home when the first question on the subject is asked.

FOSTER SAID children at the fifth grade level " have a more wholesome outlook," than they do later. They simply want to learn about everything at that age, he said, whether it be sex or mathematics.

Usually fifth grade boys and girls are not separated. If the school requests it they are, he added. At a later age they seem to be embarrassed, he said.

How did the Hinsdale Health Museum start teaching sex education?

Director Lundy says, "It started with a simple class on menstruation for girls, then something was added for boys, then it grew from there."

The museum is a showcase for the normal human body. It has models, films and literature on nearly every major organ. Museum officials emphasize that sex education isn't the only thing that is offered.

But in recent years, along with a trend nationwide the sex education program at the museum has gorwn rapidly. (A15

Sharp Drop Noted in Suburban Road Deaths

Cook County President Seymour Simon announced this week that there was a reduction of 50 highway traffic deaths last year in suburban Cook County as compared to the previous year (1965 — 248 deaths, 1964 — 298 deaths.)

While the Cook County Traffic Safety Commission which records and studies the causes of accidents did not cite any single factor in the improvement, Simon said he thought the various safety programs of the commission were having effect.

"Fifty people living today — whoever they may be — would be dead if the 1964 rate had continued," he said. "That may be just their good luck, but it also may be taken as proof that more drivers are driving with more care.

"I believe that the safety courses given by the commission in grade schools, high schools and in special classes for adults are beginning to have results. Thousands of today's younger motorists are better drivers for having learned safety principles, traffic laws and traffic courtesy in our bicycle training program.

"TRAFFIC LAW enforcement in the suburbs is steadily improving. All of the police authorities cooperate with the commission, particularly by participating in our educational efforts, and certainly they share in the credit. In addition, there are local safety councils in some seventy suburbs, all of which we count as our allies.

"The good showing made last year should have a definite impact on the public. The saving of 50 lives is a solid demonstration of what can be accomplished. With good team work, we can do even better this year."

"Winter Camping is Fun!" This happy shout resounded again and again last week, up at a camping grounds near Genoa City, Wis.

This was the required "overnight" being carried out by the Mah Nu Ka Tah Wan Ka O Ki Hi Wood Gatherer Group of Camp Fire Girls, under the guidance of Mrs. Robert Mathews, Mrs. Paul Spiewak and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Childers.

A two-mile hike and identification of trees and woods and birds became much more magical and interesting in the setting of a recent snowfall. Accompanying the group were two Horizon Club girls, Kris Granzin, and Barbara Scherpelz of the To Wan Ka group. They taught the girls three methods of fire building, cooking of food on an open fire and the importance of fire and hiking safety, thus making "on-the-spot training much more fun."

Many more new skills learned for this trip, by Kathy Spiewak, Judy Felke, Kathleen Meersman, Mary Mathews, Debby Rogers, Patsy Laden, Cathy Loos, Margaret Childers, Doreen Dom and Jackie Froelich, were planning and buying food or the entire group, figuring the total cost, then evenly dividing that among each girl. And last but not least, that very important part of any good camping trip — "learning to leave a place cleaner when you leave it than when you found it."

Helping this younger group with their camping trip was just one of the many ways Horizon Club girls help Leaders. Other fields are day camp, homemaking, community projects and handcraft. Kris Granzin recently aided this group with the planning and carrying out their Christmas Ceremonial.

Attending the annual banquet of the Chicago Area Council of Camp Fire Girls Jan. 31, were several members from the Far Northwest District. Those attending from Arlington Heights were Mrs. Robert Rodig, district chairman and member of the council board of directors; Mrs. Harold Purvine, also a member of the board; Mrs. Andrew Beverett, Mrs. Donald Underwood, Mrs. George Kendall and Mrs. Charles Beck. Also with the group was Mrs. William Russow of Rolling Meadows.

The Far Northwest District includes Arlington Heights, Buffalo Grove, Rolling Meadows and the Schaumburg-Hoffman area.

The banquet was held in the Grand Ballroom of Chicago's Hotel Knickerbocker. "Focus on the Future" was the subject of the address by James G. Gilkey Jr., director of the suburban program, Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago.

Awards to leaders for outstanding number of years of service in Camp Fire were presented by Mrs. Merritt Giles, chairman of the program committee. Mrs. Eleanor Wright Kempf, executive director, presented certificates of awards and expressed appreciation to friends and workers for Camp Fire.

National awards for outstanding service to Camp Fire were presented by Mrs. John Knabe, board member.

FAR NORTHWEST district of Camp Fire Girls held its monthly committee meeting in the home of Mrs. Donald Underwood, 511 S. Ridge, Arlington Heights, on Feb. 1.

Plans were discussed for buying camping tents to be available for groups in the district. Group camping was done by more groups in 1965 than previously. Because of this increased interest the Chicago Area Council Camping Committee is working to promote camping by individual groups for the 1966 season. It was voted to buy three additional tents for the district.

Mrs. Lewis Ross of Arlington Heights, district group camping chairman, reported that the girls are collecting green stamps in hopes of obtaining other camping equipment.

Mrs. Robert Rodig, chairman announced that a group organization meeting will be held at Pioneer Park field house Tuesday, Feb. 22, when plans will be made for starting new Camp Fire groups in the area.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

A Camp Fire father - daughter banquet for the north side of Arlington Heights was held Jan. 31 at Faith Lutheran Church. Mrs. Harry Johnston served as mistress of ceremonies at the banquet, which was attended by 207 Camp Fire girls, their fathers and leaders.

Winners of the best table decorations were Mrs. Johnston's fourth graders from Kensington School.

Slides were shown of Camp Tiyalaka and Lawrence Kunkel, district representative to the council camping committee, called for additional volunteers for family work weekends at the camp during May and June.

CAMP TIYALAKA is the resident camp located at Westfield, Wis. A new dining hall was completed and ready for use during the '65 season. The dining room is fan-shaped, with a ribbon of windows overlooking trees and one lake. The room lends itself well to indoor council fires, square dancing and other rainy day activities. The huge fireplace, which can hold an 11-foot log, has a slightly elevoted 14-foot hearth which serves as a stage for song leaders and performers.

Much work remains to be done and funds are still needed, however, as the interior is not yet painted nor the concrete floor tiled. The kitchen also needs additional equipment. The council camping committee is presently working on a five-year development plan for Tiyalaka.

In addition to the resident camp, 11 day camps were held in the area in 1965. These day camps, which were operated by adult volunteers, offer outdoor program opportunities for the girls near their homes.

District day camp chairman for the 1966 season is Mrs. W. M. Swanson of Arlington Heights who, with her committee, is busy planning this year's activities.

Northwest Y Sets Record For Members

At a recent monthly meeting of the Board of Managers of the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago, Northwest Suburban YMCA was singled out of the 39 Metropolitan branches for recognition of outstanding achievement in 1965 for the breaking of all previous records for YMCA membership.

John Root, general secretary, speaking for Emmett Dedmon, editor-in-chief of the Chicago Sun Times and president of the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago, praised the local YMCA for achieving over 17,000 members and becoming the largest program-type YMCA in the world. Only one large resident YMCA in New York City has recorded more members, but it has a 550-room building for permanent residents and a school enrollment to swell its membership figures.

CHARLES McClellan, executive director of the local YMCA, acknowledged the achievement but gave the credit for accomplishment to a fine lay leader organization, under direction of James D. Norman of Itasca, chairman of the local board of directors, and vice Chairmen Ralph H. Martin of Des Plaines, John E. Gobeille of Mount Prospect, Stephen Jurco of Arlington Heights and Edwin C. Bruning of Palatine.

McClellan emphasized that the dedication and support of hundreds of volunteers was the key factor in the continued growth and development of Northwest Suburban YMCA. (B10

Arlington built up a 22-13 lead after ten bouts and then held on for a 22-21 victory over York's frosh-soph wrestlers last Saturday.

The Cardinals ran off a string of five straight victories to climb into a lead they never relinquished.

Scoring decisions for Arlington were Ken Hawkes at 120 pounds, Lance Navik at 138, Kelly Reid at 145, Doug Sanderson at 154, and Dan Selleck at 165.

Dave Morong posted two team points with a tie at 95 pounds, and Paul Douglas flattened his 133-pound opponent in 1:54. (Sp

Northwest Y Sets Record For Members

At a recent monthly meeting of the Board of Managers of the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago, Northwest Suburban YMCA was singled out of the 39 Metropolitan branches for recognition of outstanding achievement in 1965 for the breaking of all previous records for YMCA membership.

John Root, general secretary, speaking for Emmett Dedmon, editor-in-chief of the Chicago Sun Times and president of the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago, praised the local YMCA for achieving over 17,000 members and becoming the largest program-type YMCA in the world. Only one large resident YMCA in New York City has recorded more members, but it has a 550-room building for permanent residents and a school enrollment to swell its membership figures.

CHARLES McClellan, executive director of the local YMCA, acknowledged the achievement but gave the credit for accomplishment to a fine lay leader organization, under direction of James D. Norman of Itasca, chairman of the local board of directors, and vice Chairmen Ralph H. Martin of Des Plaines, John E. Gobeille of Mount Prospect, Stephen Jurco of Arlington Heights and Edwin C. Bruning of Palatine.

McClellan emphasized that the dedication and support of hundreds of volunteers was the key factor in the continued growth and development of Northwest Suburban YMCA.(B10

"Winter Camping is Fun!" This happy shout resounded again and again last week, up at a camping grounds near Genoa City, Wis.

This was the required "overnight" being carried out by the Mah Nu Ka Tah Wan Ka O Ki Hi Wood Gatherer Group of Camp Fire Girls, under the guidance of Mrs. Robert Mathews, Mrs. Paul Spiewak and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Childers.

A two-mile hike and identification of trees and woods and birds became much more magical and interesting in the setting of a recent snowfall. Accompanying the group were two Horizon Club girls, Kris Granzin, and Barbara Scherpelz of the To Wan Ka group. They taught the girls three methods of fire building, cooking of food on an open fire and the importance of fire and hiking safety, thus making "on-the-spot training much more fun."

Many more new skills learned for this trip, by Kathy Spiewak, Judy Felke, Kathleen Meersman, Mary Mathews, Debby Rogers, Patsy Laden, Cathy Loos, Margaret Childers, Doreen Dom and Jackie Froelich, were planning and buying food or the entire group, figuring the total cost, then evenly dividing that among each girl. And last but not least, that very important part of any good camping trip — "learning to leave a place cleaner when you leave it than when you found it."

Helping this younger group with their camping trip was just one of the many ways Horizon Club girls help Leaders. Other fields are day camp, homemaking, community projects and handcraft. Kris Granzin recently aided this group with the planning and carrying out their Christmas Ceremonial.

Attending the annual banquet of the Chicago Area Council of Camp Fire Girls Jan. 31, were several members from the Far Northwest District. Those attending from Arlington Heights were Mrs. Robert Rodig, district chairman and member of the council board of directors; Mrs. Harold Purvine, also a member of the board; Mrs. Andrew Beverett, Mrs. Donald Underwood, Mrs. George Kendall and Mrs. Charles Beck. Also with the group was Mrs. William Russow of Rolling Meadows.

The Far Northwest District includes Arlington Heights, Buffalo Grove, Rolling Meadows and the Schaumburg-Hoffman area.

The banquet was held in the Grand Ballroom of Chicago's Hotel Knickerbocker. "Focus on the Future" was the subject of the address by James G. Gilkey Jr., director of the suburban program, Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago.

Awards to leaders for outstanding number of years of service in Camp Fire were presented by Mrs. Merritt Giles, chairman of the program committee. Mrs. Eleanor Wright Kempf, executive director, presented certificates of awards and expressed appreciation to friends and workers for Camp Fire.

National awards for outstanding service to Camp Fire were presented by Mrs. John Knabe, board member.

FAR NORTHWEST district of Camp Fire Girls held its monthly committee meeting in the home of Mrs. Donald Underwood, 511 S. Ridge, Arlington Heights, on Feb. 1.

Plans were discussed for buying camping tents to be available for groups in the district. Group camping was done by more groups in 1965 than previously. Because of this increased interest the Chicago Area Council Camping Committee is working to promote camping by individual groups for the 1966 season. It was voted to buy three additional tents for the district.

Mrs. Lewis Ross of Arlington Heights, district group camping chairman, reported that the girls are collecting green stamps in hopes of obtaining other camping equipment.

Mrs. Robert Rodig, chairman announced that a group organization meeting will be held at Pioneer Park field house Tuesday, Feb. 22, when plans will be made for starting new Camp Fire groups in the area.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

A Camp Fire father - daughter banquet for the north side of Arlington Heights was held Jan. 31 at Faith Lutheran Church. Mrs. Harry Johnston served as mistress of ceremonies at the banquet, which was attended by 207 Camp Fire girls, their fathers and leaders.

Winners of the best table decorations were Mrs. Johnston's fourth graders from Kensington School.

Slides were shown of Camp Tiyalaka and Lawrence Kunkel, district representative to the council camping committee, called for additional volunteers for family work weekends at the camp during May and June.

CAMP TIYALAKA is the resident camp located at Westfield, Wis. A new dining hall was completed and ready for use during the '65 season. The dining room is fan-shaped, with a ribbon of windows overlooking trees and one lake. The room lends itself well to indoor council fires, square dancing and other rainy day activities. The huge fireplace, which can hold an 11-foot log, has a slightly elevated 14-foot hearth which serves as a stage for song leaders and performers.

Much work remains to be done and funds are still needed, however, as the interior is not yet painted nor the concrete floor tiled. The kitchen also needs additional equipment. The council camping committee is presently working on a five-year development plan for Tiyalaka.

In addition to the resident camp, 11 day camps were held in the area in 1965. These day camps, which were operated by adult volunteers, offer outdoor program opportunities for the girls near their homes.

District day camp chairman for the 1966 season is Mrs. W. M. Swanson of Arlington Heights who, with her committee, is busy planning this year's activities.

Staff photographers for Paddock Publications suburban newspapers earned 13 awards in the final period of judging for state-wide photo-of-the-month competition.

Results for the final four months of 1965 as well as ranking for the entire year were announced last week by Illinois Press Photographers Association.

In the total scoring for 1965, Paddock Publications photographers were among 26 top finalists.

Bob Finch, staff photographer of the 16 suburban newspapers, ranked in third place for the year among all Illinois press photographers competing. His placement prompted judges to comment, "It was interesting to note that Bob Finch of Paddock Publications did not start submitting entries until August, yet he placed third for the year with a total of 74 points."

Finch joined the newspaper staff full-time in August after completing work on his A.B. degree in photojournalism from University of Iowa.

Other standings in the IPPA's year competition were Tom Grieger, staff photographer, fifth place; Larry H. Cameron, chief photographer, ninth place; and Mike Seeling, staff photographer, 13th place out of a total of 26 finalists.

Competition results for the monthly photo competitions are:

SEPTEMBER — Tom Grieger, second place, "Dew Drops on a Rose," and third place, "Construction Workers." Bob Finch, both honorable mentions, "Students Smoking" and "Autumn Leaf." First place went to L. Roger Turner of Decatur Herald and Review.

OCTOBER — Tom Grieger, first place, "Autumn: Climax of the Seasons." Robert Finch, second place, "Sparks Fly," and two honorable mentions, "Vandalism at School Site," and "Fire Prevention."

NOVEMBER — Bob Finch, second place, "Pirates Clip Falcons," and honorable mention, "Harvest's End." Tom Grieger, honorable mention, "Face of Tomorrow." First place went to George Day of Peoria Journal-Star.

DECEMBER — Bob Finch, second place, "Sun Setting Over Cornfield." Mike Seeling, third place, "Adolescent Forum." First place went to George Bertonz of Chicago.

New IPA officers for 1966 include two Paddock photographers: Larry H. Cameron, chief photographer, treasurer, and Bob Finch, staff photographer, secretary.

Other officers of the state association are C. R. Freestone, Rochelle News-Leader, president; George Sway, Bloomington Pantagraph, vice president; and Jack Bradley, Peoria Journal-Star, program chairman. (A15

Newspaper Bingo Prize Jumps to $200

"No winners, but plenty of near misses."

Thus spoke Marty Cameron, Bingo girl at Paddock Publications office as the first Newspaper Bingo game drew to a close.

"Many persons called in, stating they had winning cards, but all had been interchanging the numbers of the two games," continued Marty. "It's true, we have two games each week, but you must play each game separately."

OVER 65,000 Newspaper Bingo cards were given out the first week with that number increasing the second week as the week's prize fund of $100 was increased to $200 when no winners were found.

It's easy to play the game, with readers simply picking up a card at any of the Bingo Stores listed in the paper. They then look through the paper, ad by ad, looking for the Bingo numbers in the ads. Readers must find all of the numbers on their card to become a winner.

ANYONE LOCATING all 24 numbers in the paper are urged to call the Bingo girl at extension 240 in the Paddock office to verify the numbers. Winning card can then be mailed or brought in to the office by 9 a.m. Monday for the two games the week previous.

There are two games each week, one in the Sunday Suburbanite, then another game in the Paddock Thursday editions. Readers can play the game each of the two times, but cannot interchange the numbers. Anyone blacking out all of the numbers on the card is a winner. (A15

Arlington Licensing Tough; Schools May Halt Bus Service

High School District 214 will stop bussing students in Arlington Heights if the village's school bus licensing ordinance makes it too tough to find drivers.

Supt. H. L Slichenmyer says he will recommend that step to the school board if he has to. He predicts that if the village's bus licensing ordinance is enforced that may be necessary.

Slichenmyer has told Vlilage Mgr. L. A. Hanson that the ordinance, if enforced, will make it "practically impossible to enable us to employ sufficient drivers."

IF TOO MANY drivers quit rather than submit to village ordinance requirement, Slichenmyer said, the school district might have to drop completely the nine runs it makes to Arlington High School daily. That would affect about 500 students.

Forest View High School, just inside village limits, is served almost entirely by bus. Only about 125 of the school's 2,800 students live within walking distance. The school district's solution in this case might be to stop the buses at village limits, giving students a half mile trek down Goebbert Road to reach the school.

The school district's bus con-Co., has just now been able to hire enough drivers to man the high school district's routes on a single-run basis, with 60 runs in the morning and 63 routes after school.

The high school district thinks it will be next to impossible to get drivers to meet requirements of the Arlington Heights bus licensing ordinance, which Police Chief L. A. Calderwood has told bus company manager Cameron Wren is in effect right now.

SLICHENMYER and Frank Coleman, business manager, believe the parts of the ordinance that will cause the most difficulty are:

—The requirement that bus drivers give as references four Arlington Heights residents who have known them two years or more.

—The requirement that drivers submit to fingerprinting, photographing and an interview with police officials.

Many of the Cook County School Bus Company drivers don't even live in Arlington Heights — but in Bensenville, Elk Grove Village or as far afield as Dundee — the two men point out.

They also think that the drivers will object to the fingerprinting and other police routine, because of the trouble involved rather than because of fear.

BUS COMPANY manager Wren says he doubts that the village ordinance is even legal. He says several lawyers have raised this question.

He objects to the Arlington Heights ordinance anyway on discriminatory group grounds.

The cost of licensing, he points out, will ultimately come from the taxpayer, since Cook County Bus Co. is a contractor for the high school district. "Let's face it," he asserted, "any unusual increase in bussing costs is going to end up being passed on to the taxpayer through the school district."

Wren said he might be able to see some sense in village licensing of small bus companies serving only private schools. But his company and all those serving public schools, he points out, must meet standards set by the state superintendent of public instruction.

THE DRIVERS must have special licenses, pass yearly physicals and annual TB x-rays, and provide information on their background, including references. Wren pointed out that the drivers are checked for bad driving records (though not for criminal records) and any with records of speeding or reckless driving are not approved.

Chicago passed an ordinance several years ago to license school bus contractors and so far has not been able to enforce it, Wren stated. He said that after several years of injunction attempts and the like, representatives of the city, the carriers and the state superintendent of public instruction worked out a compromise.

Their agreement was that the city would not attempt to enforce the school bus ordinance and the carriers, in return, would not attack the ordinance in court.

Apparently a question of whether a court ruling on the school bus ordinance would endanger city licensing of other haulers, such as cabs, was involved in the city's decision to compromise, Wren said.

8th Grade Orientation Next Week

Wheeling High School will hold its annual orientation for eighth grade students which provide its enrollment at 7:30 p.m. from Monday, Feb. 14, through Thursday, Feb. 17, in the boys gymnasium.

Included in the orientation will be an explanation of the Counseling Department services (including the testing programs), registration materials, fees, freshman course descriptions, health (medical and dental) requirements, athletics, student handbook, extra-curricular and music programs.

The students will actually complete registration for their freshman year, according to Roland R. Goins, assistant principal in charge of instructional services.

PARENTS ARE urged to attend the orientation sessions with their children, Goins stressed.

Students currently attending Jack London Junior High School are scheduled for orientation on Monday, Feb. 14; MacArthur Junior High School, Tuesday, Feb. 15; River Trails School, Tuesday, Feb. 15; St. Alphonsus Catholic School, St. James Catholic School, and St. John's Lutheran School, all on Thursday, Feb. 17.

St. Joseph the Worker School and St. Mary's Catholic School students will both be oriented on Monday, Feb. 14.

Those who attend St. Paul's Lutheran, St. Peter Lutheran, St. Raymond's Catholic, St. Emily's Catholic, and Thomas Junior High Schools are scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 17. (ACM

'No Cafeteria' Decision

Frozen School Meals Possible Alternative

Frozen lunches, heated on the spot, may provide an alternative as High School District 214 officials take a second look at the question of food service for the planned sixth high school on Willow Road.

Supt. H. L. Slichenmyer, Asst. Supt. Edward Gilbert and Board Pres. Arthur Aronson hope to sample the steamer-prepared frozen foods during their trip this weekend to the American Association of School Administrators meeting in Atlantic City, N. J.

If they are as impressed with the reheated frozen food as Board Member Hal Armstrong appeared to be at Monday's meeting, the board would have a third alternative available in any reconsideration of a Jan. 24 decision to put vending machines in the new high school on Willow Road.

Citizens — among them members of the lay committee that worked for passage of the bond referendum — are expected to appear at the Feb. 21 District 214 board meeting to question the "no cafeteria" decision.

AT MONDAY'S meeting Armstrong gave fellow board members a vivid — and enthusiastic — description of the possibilities available for student lunches in reheated frozen meals.

He learned about the frozen food service — a new line which he said was gaining wide acceptance in the restaurant business —during a chance meeting on an out-of-town trip. A representative of Jean's Food Service, Inc., vendors of the frozen food, gave him samples of three different meals, each taking just seven minutes to heat.

"Each one was better than the one before," he told the board members.

Armstrong said he was told the company, now expanding its operations into the hospital, airline and school food service area, can offer 33 or 34 completely different types of meals.

THE LUNCHES, frozen in plastic bags, are reheated by boiling or, for large quantity service, in pressure kettles. Armstrong said he was told that food service personnel could arrive at 11:30 a.m. and have lunch for 1,000 persons all cooked by noon.

With the use of such lunches — comparable to the "Type A" balanced hot lunch now served in District 214's four operating high school cafeterias — the district would probably be permitted to sell milk at the federally-subsidized price of two or three cents for a third of a quart.

With vending machines, federal subsidizes may not be available to underwrite milk costs. The regular price for vending machine milk is 10 cents a half-pint.

Cost of the re-heated frozen lunches has not yet been determined, Slichenmyer said. He told the board that further information is being sought.

COST OF the vending machine food has been cited by some citizens as their main objection to the board's decision to put automated lunch service, rather than a cafeteria, in the new Willow Road high school to serve the Prospect Heights-north Arlington area.

At Monday's meeting board members agreed that any commission paid the district by a firm contracting for food service — be it by vending machines or the pre-frozen meals—would be plowed back to lower food costs for the students.

They said that payment of such commissions to area industrial firms providing automated lunchrooms was a factor in the pricing of the vended food. Thus, they pointed out, using industrial firms' prices in comparing vended food costs to the cost of high school cafeteria foods can be misleading.

Retiring Committeeman

GOP Needs Constant Leadership: Houser

"Wheeling Township needs and deserves constant leadership."

With this declaration, Thomas J. Houser announced Tuesday he will not seek re-election in 1966 as Wheeling Township Republican Committeeman.

Houser will serve as campaign manager for senatorial aspirant Charles H. Percy, whose unsuccessful 1964 campaign against Gov. Otto Kerner he also managed.

"In making my decision to serve once again as campaign manager for Charles H. Percy, as he seeks a U. S. Senate seat, it seemed to me necessary to undertake the task where the greatest potential contribution can be made to the party and to the state," said Houser.

HE PAID TRIBUTE to GOP leaders and workers in the township who provided him with "marvelous sutaining support" during the last gubernatorial campaign, when he was absent from the township most of the time.

But he added, "It would not be fair to the township, and it would not be fair to the loyal Republican workers to impose this burden upon them again. The township needs and deserves constant leadership."

Houser announced his decision Monday night at a closed meeting of precinct captains held in Republican headquarters at 1030 Prospect Plaza, Mount Prospect, and made his public statement at a press luncheon Tuesday noon in Old Orchard Country Club.

"In considering whether I should seek re-election as committeeman, I looked back at the hopes and plans which motivated my becoming a candidate in the first instance," explained Houser, "and I concluded that all of these objectives have been substantially secured."

THESE "FUNDAMENTAL objectives" included:

THOMAS HOUSER

—maintenance of a permanent headquarters for the use of all Republican clubs in Wheeling Township;

—promotion and encouragement of Republican clubs as a consistent matter of policy;

—entry of a Republican National Party slate in the last township election and the successful election of the GOP candidate in each office; and —carrying the message that it is important for people to get involved in political activity on a door-to-door basis by GOP captains and overwhelming pluralities won in Wheeling Township by Republican candidates in both 1962 and 1964.

"I CONSIDER myself fortunate that events have presented me with additional challenges and opportunities to serve my party," said Houser. "The post of committeeman has given me the opportunity to learn, to observe, and to work with a wonderful cross-section of people in their community whose future very much lies before it."

Houser, 35, is counsel for the Burlington Railroad and lives at 219 N. Hickory, Arlington Heights. He has taken a leave of absence from his job at the Burlington for the duration of the 1966 campaign.

Since his work in behalf of Percy's gubernatorial campaign in 1964, he has served as chairman of the Cook County Republican Central Committee's executive board. (ACM

Prospect to Have Foyer by September

The long-sought foyer for Prospect High School Fieldhouse will be ready for use by September.

That's the promise of representatives of Berger, Kelley, Unteed and Associates, architects for High School District 214.

The architectural firm has been able to trim costs of the foyer to the amount asked by the District 214 board by keying the foyer's design to the shape of a wrestling mat — an important point to Prospect Boosters who have long wished to see better facilities provided for that sport.

"THIS INCLUDES almost everything we'd like — it's really more than I'd hoped for," said Prospect Principal Alvin L. Kulieke when asked to comment on the field house plans.

The fieldhouse addition will have two rooms, a 74 by 40 foot room designed to hold two wrestling mats, and a larger room — also designed to accommodate two wrestling mats — which will also be used as a lobby for the fieldhouse.

Cost of the addition itself will be $145,000, representatives of the architectural firm said. But, they added, the new construction will crowd the present fieldhouse driveway. The repaving required will cost $12,000, bringing the total for the project to $157,000.

SCHOOL BOARD members have approved that proposal as well as another, for construction of a maintenance and grounds equipment building on the Prospect High School grounds. Cost of the structure — which must be finished by June 1, so that central maintenance areas at Arlington and Prospect High Schools can be converted to power mechanics classrooms — is estimated between $65,000 and $70,000.

The architects' representative has promised finished drawings on the maintenance garage by March 14, with bids to be opened on April 7 and the contract let at the April 11 school board meeting. (ACM

Girl Scouts Eye Tribute For Founder

The Girl Scouts are considering some sort of tribute to their founder at the Juliette Low School in Arlington Heights.

Supt. Roger Bardwell of Elk Grove District 59 has suggested the scouts consider a permanent exhibit that would portray the Girl Scout story. This would be more appropriate than a picture of Juliette Low, founder of the Girl Scouts, he believes.

A girl scout leader, Mrs. Jack Stewart, 949 Cedar Lane, Elk Grove Village, wrote Bardwell asking for permission to plan an honor for Juliette Low.

The Juliette Low School recently given an outstanding design award for architecture, is located in the Surrey Ridge Subdivision of Arlington Heights.

The school will open in September. It is under construction now. (A(E(M

Homemade refreshments will be served, at which time a bake sale will take place, making possible for all to purchase some homemade goodies.

Mrs. Ellen Markwell, ways and means chairman, is looking forward to a sellout. The hostesses for the evening will be the third grade and intermediate class mothers.

Township Collector Surety Bond Voted

THE AUDITORS had originally voted to obtain the surety bond from Kehe, Foy and Snelton at their Dec. 7 meeting. At that time, the agency's quoted premium of $2,298 was also the lowest of four.

But that move was rescinded Jan. 4 because Township Supervisor Albert Peters announced that not enough time has been allowed before the Dec. 7 action for all agencies to submit premium quotes, and because Mrs. Carter told the auditors that she preferred to be bonded by the Ken Gallagher Agency, despite its higher premium.

Township officials resolved the issue by asking insurance agencies to resubmit sealed premium quotes and by selecting the lowest one. (ACM

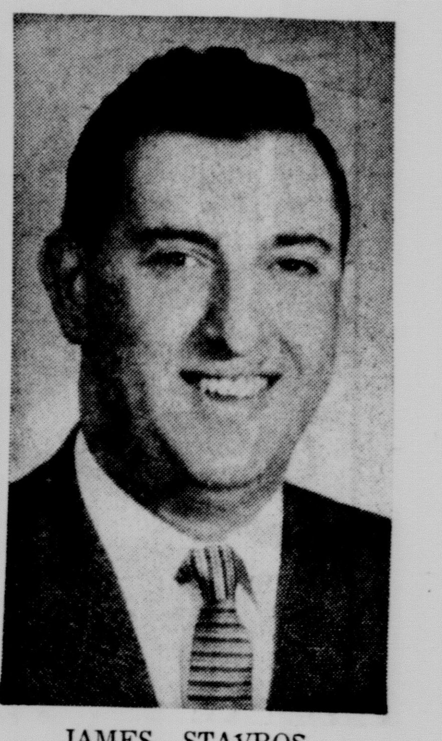
Democrats Expect 1,100 for Dinner

Nearly 1,100 persons will attend the annual Wheeling Township Democratic dinner-dance Saturday night in Villa Venice Restaurant, 2855 N. Milwaukee Ave., near Wheeling.

Among top Illinois Democratic leaders expected to attend the affair are U. S. Sen. Paul H. Douglas; Seymour Simon, president of Cook County Board of Commissioners; William G. Clark, state attorney general; P. J. Cullerton, county assessor; Francis Lorenz, superintendent of state highways; and Daniel Ward, state's attorney.

THE MAIN spotlight will be on two local politicians, however. Both will announce their plans for re-election at the annual dinner. They are State Rep. Eugenia S. Chapman of Arlington Heights and James Stavros, township Democratic committeeman.

Mrs. Chapman was elected to her first term in the state legislature as a Democrat on the at-large representative ballot in 1964. She is expected to announce as a candidate for re-election in the November general election.



JAMES STAVROS

Stavros was first elected committeeman in 1958 and is expected to seek a third term in the Democratic primary election June 14.

Entertainment and dancing will complete the evening program for the event hailed as the highlight of each year for the Wheeling Township Regular Democratic Organization.

New GOP Leader Tells 4-Month GOP Program

A personable young Arlington Heights Republican will, in effect, be Wheeling Township GOP committeeman for the next four months.

Richard Cowen, 30, of 124 N. Gibbons, was appointed deputy committeeman Monday night by Thomas J. Houser, Wheeling Township Republican committeeman who is also managing the U. S. Senate campaign of Charles H. Percy.

"Since my work with the Percy campaign will require total absence from the township," said Houser, "Dick Cowen will be the 'de facto' committeeman."

COWEN REPLACES Ray Stevenson, former deputy committeeman, who resigned to devote full time to a new business position. Cowen will serve until the June 14 primary, when a new township committeeman will be elected.

Houser is not a candidate for re-election and is supporting the candidacy of State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman, R-Arlington Heights, for the committeeman post.

At a press luncheon in Old Orchard Country Club Tuesday, Cowen said that as "de facto" committeeman he will concentrate on a massive township-wide voter registration effort as well as a new "Hi Neighbor" program to be initiated by precinct captains. The latter project will be aimed at newcomers, informing them of local government and services as well as introducing them to the Republican Party of Wheeling Township.

THE 30-YEAR-OLD attorney refuted earlier speculation that he might be a candidate for committeeman by declaring his "full and enthusiastic" support of Schlickman's candidacy.

Cowen has been active in GOP circles for several years, and in 1962 was elected chairman of the Cook County Young Republicans. (ACM

Arlington Licensing Tough; Schools May Halt Bus Service

High School District 214 will stop bussing students in Arlington Heights if the village's school bus licensing ordinance makes it too tough to find drivers.

Supt. H. L Slichenmyer says he will recommend that step to the school board if he has to. He predicts that if the village's bus licensing ordinance is enforced that may be necessary.

Slichenmyer has told Vlilage Mgr. L. A. Hanson that the ordinance, if enforced, will make it "practically impossible to enable us to employ sufficient drivers."

IF TOO MANY drivers quit rather than submit to village ordinance requirement, Slichenmyer said, the school district might have to drop completely the nine runs it makes to Arlington High School daily. That would affect about 500 students.

Forest View High School, just inside village limits, is served almost entirely by bus. Only about 125 of the school's 2,800 students live within walking distance. The school district's solution in this case might be to stop the buses at village limits, giving students a half mile trek down Goebbert Road to reach the school.

The school district's bus con-Co., has just now been able to hire enough drivers to man the high school district's routes on a single-run basis, with 60 runs in the morning and 63 routes after school.

The high school district thinks it will be next to impossible to get drivers to meet requirements of the Arlington Heights bus licensing ordinance, which Police Chief L. A. Calderwood has told bus company manager Cameron Wren is in effect right now.

SLICHENMYER and Frank Coleman, business manager, believe the parts of the ordinance that will cause the most difficulty are:

—The requirement that bus drivers give as references four Arlington Heights residents who have known them two years or more.

—The requirement that drivers submit to fingerprinting, photographing and an interview with police officials.

Many of the Cook County School Bus Company drivers don't even live in Arlington Heights — but in Bensenville, Elk Grove Village or as far afield as Dundee — the two men point out.

They also think that the drivers will object to the fingerprinting and other police routine, because of the trouble involved rather than because of fear.

BUS COMPANY manager Wren says he doubts that the village ordinance is even legal. He says several lawyers have raised this question.

He objects to the Arlington Heights ordinance anyway on discriminatory group grounds.

The cost of licensing, he points out, will ultimately come from the taxpayer, since Cook County Bus Co. is a contractor for the high school district. "Let's face it," he asserted, "any unusual increase in bussing costs is going to end up being passed on to the taxpayer through the school district."

Wren said he might be able to see some sense in village licensing of small bus companies serving only private schools. But his company and all those serving public schools, he points out, must meet standards set by the state superintendent of public instruction.

THE DRIVERS must have special licenses, pass yearly physicals and annual TB x-rays, and provide information on their background, including references. Wren pointed out that the drivers are checked for bad driving records (though not for criminal records) and any with records of speeding or reckless driving are not approved.

Chicago passed an ordinance several years ago to license school bus contractors and so far has not been able to enforce it, Wren stated. He said that after several years of injunction attempts and the like, representatives of the city, the carriers and the state superintendent of public instruction worked out a compromise.

Their agreement was that the city would not attempt to enforce the school bus ordinance and the carriers, in return, would not attack the ordinance in court.

Apparently a question of whether a court ruling on the school bus ordinance would endanger city licensing of other haulers, such as cabs, was involved in the city's decision to compromise, Wren said.

8th Grade Orientation Next Week

Wheeling High School will hold its annual orientation for eighth grade students which provide its enrollment at 7:30 p.m. from Monday, Feb. 14, through Thursday, Feb. 17, in the boys gymnasium.

Included in the orientation will be an explanation of the Counseling Department services (including the testing programs), registration materials, fees, freshman course descriptions, health (medical and dental) requirements, athletics, student handbook, extra-curricular and music programs.

The students will actually complete registration for their freshman year, according to Roland R. Goins, assistant principal in charge of instructional services.

PARENTS ARE urged to attend the orientation sessions with their children, Goins stressed.

Students currently attending Jack London Junior High School are scheduled for orientation on Monday, Feb. 14; MacArthur Junior High School, Tuesday, Feb. 15; River Trails School, Tuesday, Feb. 15; St. Alphonsus Catholic School, St. James Catholic School, and St. John's Lutheran School, all on Thursday, Feb. 17.

St. Joseph the Worker School and St. Mary's Catholic School students will both be oriented on Monday, Feb. 14.

Those who attend St. Paul's Lutheran, St. Peter Lutheran, St. Raymond's Catholic, St. Emily's Catholic, and Thomas Junior High Schools are scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 17. (ACM

'No Cafeteria' Decision

New GOP Leader Tells 4-Month GOP Program

A personable young Arlington Heights Republican will, in effect, be Wheeling Township GOP committeeman for the next four months.

Richard Cowen, 30, of 124 N. Gibbons, was appointed deputy committeeman Monday night by Thomas J. Houser, Wheeling Township Republican committeeman who is also managing the U. S. Senate campaign of Charles H. Percy.

"Since my work with the Percy campaign will require total absence from the township," said Houser, "Dick Cowen will be the 'de facto' committeeman."

COWEN REPLACES Ray Stevenson, former deputy committeeman, who resigned to devote full time to a new business position. Cowen will serve until the June 14 primary, when a new township committeeman will be elected.

Houser is not a candidate for re-election and is supporting the candidacy of State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman, R-Arlington Heights, for the committeeman post.

At a press luncheon in Old Orchard Country Club Tuesday, Cowen said that as "de facto" committeeman he will concentrate on a massive township-wide voter registration effort as well as a new "Hi Neighbor" program to be initiated by precinct captains. The latter project will be aimed at newcomers, informing them of local government and services as well as introducing them to the Republican Party of Wheeling Township.

THE 30-YEAR-OLD attorney refuted earlier speculation that he might be a candidate for committeeman by declaring his "full and enthusiastic" support of Schlickman's candidacy.

Cowen has been active in GOP circles for several years, and in 1962 was elected chairman of the Cook County Young Republicans. (ACM

Prospect to Have Foyer by September

The long-sought foyer for Prospect High School Fieldhouse will be ready for use by September.

That's the promise of representatives of Berger, Kelley, Unteed and Associates, architects for High School District 214.

The architectural firm has been able to trim costs of the foyer to the amount asked by the District 214 board by keying the foyer's design to the shape of a wrestling mat — an important point to Prospect Boosters who have long wished to see better facilities provided for that sport.

"THIS INCLUDES almost everything we'd like — it's really more than I'd hoped for," said Prospect Principal Alvin L. Kulieke when asked to comment on the field house plans.

The fieldhouse addition will have two rooms, a 74 by 40 foot room designed to hold two wrestling mats, and a larger room — also designed to accommodate two wrestling mats — which will also be used as a lobby for the fieldhouse.

Cost of the addition itself will be $145,000, representatives of the architectural firm said. But, they added, the new construction will crowd the present fieldhouse driveway. The repaving required will cost $12,000, bringing the total for the project to $157,000.

SCHOOL BOARD members have approved that proposal as well as another, for construction of a maintenance and grounds equipment building on the Prospect High School grounds. Cost of the structure — which must be finished by June 1, so that central maintenance areas at Arlington and Prospect High Schools can be converted to power mechanics classrooms — is estimated between $65,000 and $70,000.

The architects' representative has promised finished drawings on the maintenance garage by March 14, with bids to be opened on April 7 and the contract let at the April 11 school board meeting. (ACM

Girl Scouts Eye Tribute For Founder

The Girl Scouts are considering some sort of tribute to their founder at the Juliette Low School in Arlington Heights.

Supt. Roger Bardwell of Elk Grove District 59 has suggested the scouts consider a permanent exhibit that would portray the Girl Scout story. This would be more appropriate than a picture of Juliette Low, founder of the Girl Scouts, he believes.

A girl scout leader, Mrs. Jack Stewart, 949 Cedar Lane, Elk Grove Village, wrote Bardwell asking for permission to plan an honor for Juliette Low.

The Juliette Low School recently given an outstanding design award for architecture, is located in the Surrey Ridge Subdivision of Arlington Heights.

The school will open in September. It is under construction now. (A(E(M

Sentimental Valentines Relegated to Attic

Pert and Saucy Themes Take Over

by Joan Lorenson

A sexy bathing beauty pleads from the cover "Be my valentine."

"I give green stamps," says the inside of the card.

This contrasts to the sentimental verses prevalent in the golden age of valentines from 1840 to 1860. Cards of this period designed for tongue-tied swains who wanted to profess their love to certain young ladies.

The old valentines with their titles "Art of Courtship," "School of Love," "Gentleman's and Lady's Polite Valentines," or "Old Bachelors and Impertinent Coxcombs" have become curios in attics or occasional collections in a museum.

The flippancy of the pert cat on a valentine in a shop today that opens and says "Pet let's" would suggest today's valentine sender has a different purpose. A girl can send the popular impertinent angel that warns, "You better love me while you may" or "You gotta take a little, give a little."

AN ADVERTISEMENT of 1843 in New York proclaimed "Valentines, Valentines, hear ye! Hear ye! All you forlorn damsels and bashful bachelors, you are hereby notified in due season to come to Elton's and then and there procure one of his delicate love letters with beautiful colored embellishments and having added delicate sentiments of your own to seal and direct to the dear object of your affections, thereby laying foundation of most true of all earthly happiness via matrimony."

The advertisement adds a footnote that the store even has valentines for "fusty old bachelores and sour old maids who are beyond cure."

The origin of St. Valentine's Day is not completely agreed upon by historians. Some say there was a "lovers' saint" called St. Valentine who was beheaded by the Emperor Claudius in 271 A.D. Others say more than 500 years ago there was a tradition that wild birds chose their mates on Feb. 14.

In England the custom grew that the first person of the opposite sex you met on the morning of St. Valentine's Day was your valentine for the following year.

Another story says the observance of the day goes back to the third century when hordes of hungry wolves bayed outside Rome. The god, Lupercus, was called to watch over the shepherds and flock. The feast in honor of this saint, protector from wolves, was celebrated after the danger disappeared. After Christianity, however, priests converted the pagan celebration to a Christian one. They suggested the honoring of St. Valentine.

SEVEN MEN with the name of Valentine had feast days Feb. 14 in different parts of the world. The three most important ones are considered the priest beheaded in Rome in 269, the bishop of Umbria, and a third century Valentine put to death in Africa.

Pope Gelasius is said to have set aside Feb. 14 to honor the Valentine killed by Emperor Claudius.

One of the earliest creators of valentines was a young Frenchman, Carles Duke of Orleans. His poetical sentiments were sent to his wife in France after he was imprisoned in the Tower of London, a prisoner of war after the Battle of Agincourt in 1415.

Samuel Pepys mentions valentines in the middle 1600's. During this period both married and unmarried men could be chosen as female's valentines.

Oliver Cromwell later was to frown upon valentines and their sentiments.

H. DOBBS OF London is considered one of the earliest makers of commercial valentines in 1803. Materials for these valentines included satin, silk, lace, net, chiffon, rice paper, artificial flowers, beads, feathers, fake stones, shells, velvet, dried flowers, grasses, ferns, spun glass, human hair, and cork.

George Kershaw and Westward made valentines that were beehive or flower cage type. Flowers cut in honeycomb shapes and usually roses were painted on thin paper and pasted on a heavy card. The center of the flower was attached to a slender ribbon which, when pulled, would reveal words of love or messages in the form of an emblem. Cupids, doves or flowers were popular for this valentine.

Color engraving and lithography were not used until the early 19th Century. During this time you could buy lacy paper and decorations to make personal valentines.

AT THE END of the 18th Century some greetings were in the form of sheet music with decorations on the bottom.

During the gay Nineties valentines became garish. Gingerbready designs were popular at the turn of the century.

The first comic valentine on cheap paper was made by the New York printer John McLaughlin.

The modern valentine tends to have a light hearted sentimentality. The "poison arrow" valentine is infrequently seen.

A major segment of the greeting card industry at Valentines Day is geared to children. Most elementary schools still take several hours in the day on Feb. 14 to allow children to exchange valentines. Usually the sentiments are simple and direct "Be my valentine." (A-15

Hospital's Dietary Department Honored

The dietary department of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, is featured in the current issue of Hospitals Magazine, internationally circulated journal published by the American Hospital Association.

An article discusses the meals served to patients at the hospital. It calls attention to the fact that a unique feaure is that patients have a choice of a cold salad plate each day.

"Patients at the hospital come from homes in the suburban area. They are used to good food, interesting in variety and high in quality," the article points out.

"Miss Edith Graham, manager of food service and the dietary department, believes in catering to the food tastes of patients. Foods such as lobster tails and steaks are included on the selective menus. Specialities of the food service are the cold plates, offered daily, and hospital-baked pies and cakes," the article states.

MISS GRAHAM believes that a cold plate is better than a sandwich for patients who prefer a cold meal since cold plates offer the opportunity of serving a highly nutritious combination of foods, higher in protein, minerals and vitamins than sandwich-type meals, the article says.

Typical of the cold plates are cold turkey and swiss cheese, roast beef and swiss cheese, egg salad plate, salmon salad plate and others.

Also included in the article is a three-week selective menu cycle which will be used by other hospitals throughout the nation. The menus were prepared by Miss Graham and her associates. (B10

Hospital Foundation Elects F. R. Johnson

Fred R. Johnson, an Arlington Heights resident and vice president of the United Insurance Co. of America, has been named to the board of directors of the Foundation for Human Ecology in Park Ridge.

The foundation is the fund-raising and development arm of the Lutheran Institute of Human Ecology which operates Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, and Lutheran Deaconess Hospital, Chicago.

Johnson is a native of Oak Park and was graduated from Oak Park High School. He entered the U. S. Army Engineering Corps following graduation and served in the South Pacific. After service, he received his degree from James Millikin University, Decatur.

He joined the United Insurance Co. of America in 1950. He was named vice president in 1962 and was appointed director in 1964. He also serves as a director of the United Fire Insurance Co.

FRED JOHNSON

JOHNSON AND HIS wife have a son and a daughter and reside at 901 S. Burton Place, Arlington Heights.

He is a member of Southminster United Presbyterian Church, Oak Park Lodge 540, A.F. and A.M., the Scottish Rites, Medinah Temple and the Medinah Country Club.

The foundation for Human Ecology is working to develop a large medical center in Park Ridge. Included in the medical center presently are Lutheran General Hospital and school of nursing. Plans call for building an alcoholic treatment center, a facility for treatment of emotionally disturbed children, and acute geriatrics center, a research institute and a school of medicine. (B-10

The dietary department of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, is featured in the current issue of Hospitals Magazine, internationally circulated journal published by the American Hospital Association.

An article discusses the meals served to patients at the hospital. It calls attention to the fact that a unique feaure is that patients have a choice of a cold salad plate each day.

"Patients at the hospital come from homes in the suburban area. They are used to good food, interesting in variety and high in quality," the article points out.

"Miss Edith Graham, manager of food service and the dietary department, believes in catering to the food tastes of patients. Foods such as lobster tails and steaks are included on the selective menus. Specialities of the food service are the cold plates, offered daily, and hospital-baked pies and cakes," the article states.

MISS GRAHAM believes that a cold plate is better than a sandwich for patients who prefer a cold meal since cold plates offer the opportunity of serving a highly nutritious combination of foods, higher in protein, minerals and vitamins than sandwich-type meals, the article says.

Typical of the cold plates are cold turkey and swiss cheese, roast beef and swiss cheese, egg salad plate, salmon salad plate and others.

Also included in the article is a three-week selective menu cycle which will be used by other hospitals throughout the nation. The menus were prepared by Miss Graham and her associates. (B10

Notes from Arlington Acres

Friends and neighbors of the Stanley Merchants, 513 S. Forrest, will be sorry to learn that Stan was taken to DuPage Memorial Hospital in Elmhurst last week, after suffering a heart attack at work. Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Stan, who is in room 246.

Congratulations are being extended to Mrs. Rick Soukup, 525 S. Prindle, a member of the Thursday Morning Eye Openers team, which won first place in the Paddock Bowling Tournament. Esther's trophy has received a place of honor in the display case which houses several other of her bowling trophies.

The Soukups observed their 11th wedding anniversary Saturday at a quiet family celebration at home, but Sunday, they and their daughters, Kris, Karen and Karla, were dinner guests of a sister and brother-in-law, the Loren Welborns in Morton Grove.

SANDY BURKE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burke, will best remember her seventh birthday, Feb. 1, for all the happy events associated with the date. To begin with, her dad took her and her friends, Angie Cannell, Diane Pipher, Nancy Johnson, Leann Wolkey, Cathy Cain, Laurie Schneider and Sharon Conway, to a performance of Bozo's Circus at Arlington High School on the Sunday before, and when they returned to the Burke home, 509 S. Prindle, her mother had birthday cake, ice cream and all the fixings that go to make a birthday party a success, waiting for them.

When the day itself arrived, it was marked by a festive dinner at home for Sandy and her parents, topped off with two long distance phone calls from the birthday girl's grandmothers, Mrs. Estella Burke of Lima, Ohio, and Mrs. Esther Slade of Phoenix.

The wind-up of the extended celebration came Wednesday evening when close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dritlein of Arlington Heights, affectionately known to Sandy as "aunt and uncle," dropped in to bring their best wishes, and stayed for cake and coffee.

IT IS A TRADITION with the Longenecker family, 505 S. Gibbons, to celebrate family birthdays with dinner at the Maitre d' in Elk Grove, so when her mother and brothers, Mike and Thom, took Gina Lee there Saturday, in honor of her 13th birthday, it was an event looked forward to for all the little attentions that go with such a dinner.

What Gina was not prepared for was a small informal get-together planned in her honor by her friend, Carlene Schmidt, Sunday afternoon at the Schmidt home, 515 S. Gibbons. Barbara Jenko, Barbara Schmidt and Marilyn Merkle enjoyed party refreshments and an afternoon of playing records.

Jeff Rold, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Rold, 433 S. Gibbons, invited his friend, Stevie Needleman to accompany him and his parents to dinner Sunday in honor of his Feb. 4 birthday. The dining spot chosen was Shanghai Lil's on Milwaukee Avenue in Chicago, which is inaugurating a program to foster family dining on Sunday. A feature of the program is entertainment by young groups, and a reason for the Rolds' choice was that their daughter, Roni Jo, was dancing there that day, a solo Hawaiian number.

Since she has given up modeling, Roni Jo has more time for dancing engagements, and last month appeared on a TV program.

KEVIN DONOVAN, son of the Jack Donovans, 524 S. Prindle, enjoyed a party with a different twist, in honor of his seventh birthday Saturday. It was the first February "fishing" party in Arlington Acres history. The guests, Terry Kulisch, "KJ" Scharf, Nancy Johnson, Sandy Burke, Gary McCammon, Dave Tambeaux and sister, Kelly, first enjoyed refreshments of cupcakes which spelled out "Happy Birthday," an ice cream cake and other party ingredients, and then turned to fishing. Each guest was supplied with a small bowl and a net, and each scooped his own pet goldfish from an aquarium, to be carried home as the souvenir of a happy afternoon.

Ed and George Schneider, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schneider, 424 S. Prindle, were too deep in school work to get home from Western Illinois University to spend their Jan. 31 birthday with their parents, so the long distance telephone lines carried the Schneiders' best wishes to Macomb.

Close on the heels of the boys' birthday is that of their sister, Shelley, 15, Feb. 2. Plans to visit her brothers had to be cancelled and a quiet family celebration took place at home.

BILL HENRY, who had made his home with the Schneiders for some time before joining the Marines, was "home" on leave for almost three weeks, and left last week for Camp Pendleton, Calif., before assignment overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whetstine, 509 S. Phelps, celebrated their 18th wedding anniversary, Feb. 5, having dinner at the Embers in Arlington Heights.

Frank Jenko, 440 S. Prindle, received congratulations on his Feb. 6 birthday from his wife, Betty, and close friends, Vicki and Carl Schmidt, when the two couples dined at Riccardo's on Rush Street in Chicago Saturday. In a sense it was a celebration for Betty, too, as it was her first venture out since she underwent surgery last month.

A more informal celebration took place Sunday at the Jenko home, when the two couples enjoyed birthday cake and coffee together.

They said it couldn't be done.
It couldn't.

We tried. Lord knows we tried. But no amount of pivoting or faking could squeeze the Philadelphia 76ers' Wilt Chamberlain into the front seat of a Volkswagen.

So if you're 7'1" tall like Wilt, our car is not for you.

But maybe you're a mere 6'7". In which case, you're small enough to appreciate what a big thing we've made of the VW.

There's more headroom than you'd expect. (Over 37½" from seat to roof.) And more legroom in front than you'd get in a limousine. Because the engine's tucked over the rear wheels where it's out of the way (and where it can give the most traction).

You can put 2 medium-sized suitcases up front (where the engine isn't), and 3 fair-sized kids in the back seat. And you can sleep an enormous infant in back of the back seat.

Actually, there's only one part of a VW that you can't put much into:

The gas tank.

But you can get about 29 miles per gallon out of it.

They said it couldn't be done. It couldn't.

We tried. Lord knows we tried. But no amount of pivoting or faking could squeeze the Philadelphia 76ers' Wilt Chamberlain into the front seat of a Volkswagen.

So if you're 7'1" tall like Wilt, our car is not for you.

But maybe you're a mere 6'7". In which case, you're small enough to appreciate what a big thing we've made of the VW.

There's more headroom than you'd expect. (Over 37½" from seat to roof.) And more legroom in front than you'd get in a limousine. Because the engine's tucked over the rear wheels where it's out of the way (and where it can give the most traction).

You can put 2 medium-sized suitcases up front (where the engine isn't), and 3 fair-sized kids in the back seat. And you can sleep an enormous infant in back of the back seat.

Actually, there's only one part of a VW that you can't put much into:

The gas tank.

But you can get about 29 miles per gallon out of it.

PLAIDS AND CALICOS

King Kanehaneka apparently called down the wrath of the gods on this reporter a week ago Saturday night when she had to forego his long-standing invitation to Plaids and Calicos' luau in order to bowl with her team in the Paddock Tournament — such miserable bowling could only have been the work of demons. Not only did your editor bowl like a two-toed sloth, but according to P & C's report, she missed one of the finest special events in square dance annals.

Luckily for them, 416 people with good sense did attend the luau. They had a royal feast in surroundings that belied the 21-below-zero climate, they were royally entertained after dinner and they enjoyed the always-fine square dancing that is the Bob Kim trademark. Kim was spelled at the mike by Bob Belson and that wasn't hard to take, either.

Highlights of the entertainment were provided by club member Joe Battaglia, and by Chicago's Filipino Folk Dancers under the direction of Dr. and Mrs. Severo Guerrero. Joe repeated last year's laugh-loaded performance as the Hapa Haole Hula girl, graceful, hairy-legged and batting long eyelashes.

Earning equally enthusiastic applause in a totally different way were the folk dancers, performing the tricky and fascinating bamboo rhythm dance. "Ooohs" and "aaahs" of the audience blended with the clack of bamboos slapping together just a whisper away from the flying feet of the performers.

This year's rulers were John Gardner as King Kanehaneka and Jeanne Mae Hahn as his Queen Liluokalani. John is a reaa fine fellow who wouldn't think of evoking curses as punishment for irreverent bowlers. If the same thing happens next year, though, there's one kegler who's going to toss a sacrificial goat into the volcano on Mauna Loa. No sense in taking any chances.

Plaids and Calicos return to their regularly scheduled dances Saturday night and invite all area enthusiasts to join 'em for the evening. Bob Kim will square 'em up at 8:30 in Schaumburg Elementary School.

PALATINE SQUARES

At this writing a group of Palatine club members plan a raid in Rockford Tuesday evening to retrieve the long-gone banner, filched late last year by the Jabos. One way to find out if they were successful will be to attend the Palatiners' dance Saturday night in Pleasant Hill School. A fringe benefit will be a fine evening of dancing to the calls of Art Mathews and round dance leaders, Jerry and Dot Daniels. Art will get things swinging at 8:30. Be there?

Palatine Squares also invite you to their weekly Monday night refresher classes in Fremd High School. Refreshing begins at 8 o'clock and the word is "Show up and we'll dance you in." Complete information about the course may be had by calling Lil Langerock at CL 3-7229.

ARLINGTON SQUARES

It'll be hearts-and-flowers night tomorrow night at Arlington Squares' Valentine Dance in Miner Junior High School, Arlington Heights, and we're informed that the entertainment committee is cooking up something special. Dancing begins at 8:30 with Jim Smith at the mike; the Jerry-Dot Daniels round dance workshop will meet as always at 7:30. Everyone's welcome at either hour.

A welcome addition to club decor tomorrow night will be the vagrant pennant, gone more than it's home, but back from Palatine Squares' custody.

Membership in Arlington Squares is still available, and information about it is available via Leo Larson, CL 5-1074.

Educating the Handicapped: A Joint Project

by Jack Neukom
Staff Writer

Training physically handicapped children to meet the rigors of everyday life is the full-time job of a growing group of educators throughout Illinois and the United States.

In Illinois, state regulated programs of special education can be provided by several school districts banding together to operate under a "joint agreement."

Ten school districts in the Northwest suburban area have been working under such a "joint agreement" for the past several years.

The districts — two high school and eight elementary districts — are members of the Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization (NSSEO).

NSSEO has been charged with the development of a program in special education — with emphasis on training the blind, deaf, educable mentally handicapped, hard of hearing, partially seeing, perceptually handicapped and trainable mentally handicapped students.

As of Feb. 1 there were 446 students in over 40 classes throughout the 10 districts. Director of the joint venture in educating the handicapped is Miss Helen Appledoorn. NSSEO offices are at 750 W. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

MEMBER SCHOOL districts of NSSEO are: High School District 214, Wheeling and Elk Grove townships; High School District 211, Palatine and Schaumburg townships; Community Consolidated District 21, Wheeling and Buffalo Grove; Prospect Heights public School District 23; Arlington Heights District 25; River Trails District 26, Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights; Mount Prospect District 57; Community Consolidated District 59, Elk Grove Township; Community Consolidated District 15, Rolling Meadows and Palatine, and Community Consolidated District 54, Schaumburg Township.

Ray McHatton, former teacher of educable mentally handicapped (EMH) students at both intermediate and senior high school levels, is the NSSEO staff member responsible for curriculum development.

Erhard Kugel is a high school instructor of educable mentally handicapped students in District 214, and as such works closely with the NSSEO staff.

Working with the special education organization this year is a rehabilitation counselor from the State of Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR). She is Miss Bonnie Lou Gladden, who is the first counselor to be assigned by DVR to a district such as NSSEO on a full time basis.

"THIS IS AN entirely new project with the state, and we're hoping it will become a model and spread throughout Illinois," Miss Gladden said.

The main theme of the entire special education or training program is to "bridge the gap between school and work."

The goal of NSSEO — to make physically handicapped children productive citizens of our society — involves a special program of academic instruction in terms of learning functional living procedures.

"It's our job to teach these youngsters the art of living," is the way one staff member put it.

MOST OF THE handicapped students enrolled in the NSSEO program are taught in regular classrooms right along with the students with no handicapps. The "special" part of their education comes from time spent in "resource rooms" separate from the regular classroom work. Here students are taught by teachers trained in educating the handicapped.

Resource rooms are used for accelerating the learning of students who are hard of hearing, partially seeing, or who are perceptually handicapped or blind.

Students handicapped by deafness or the educable mentally handicapped and trainable mentally handicapped are taught in special classrooms of their own.

A perceptually handicapped student has normal intelligence or better, but has a hard time grasping or retaining academic teachings because of severe learning disorders. These disorders include language disorders, disorders in auditory perception to the extent of having difficulties attaching meaning to sound, inability to receive and associate visual symbols, disorders in written communications or failure to organize thoughts and express them in writing, or difficulty in grasping abstractions and concepts and synchronizing thoughts.

EDUCABLE mentally handicapped children can do academic work, but much later chronologically than other children in the classroom. EMH students are probably not ready by the age of six, but can be by the age of nine to do first grade work.

Trainable mentally handicapped children are not given academic work, but are prepared for social adjustment and economic usefulness in a sheltered workshop in the outside world.

When it's deemed advisable for a child to enter the realm of special education, no matter what handicap the student has, a staff meeting is held to study the child's disability and determine the best possible program.

There's a thorough medical examination, either by a school designated physician or the family doctor. A program of tests to determine the student's mental level is followed by a conference of all concerned with the handicapped person — principal, teacher, school nurse, school social worker, rehabilitation consultant, and above all, the parents.

TEAMWORK between parents and staff personel must be extremely close. Naturally, parental permission is needed before a child can enter any special education program. "The younger we get a handicapped student, the less school failures he has experienced and the easier it is for us to help him," Miss Appledoorn said.

NSSEO works on a regular budget, with funds provided by member school districts and the state. Each district hires its own teachers for the program, with Miss Appledoorn and her staff only providing lists of qualified individuals.

Miss Gladden, although assigned to NSSEO on a full time basis, receives her salary from DVR. "If we wait until the handicapped student leaves school we may not be able to find them," Miss Gladden said when telling of the state's roll in training handicapped.

"Being assigned to a program such as NSSEO's, we can work with them while they're still in school, and see that they get proper training. Then on graduation, the handicapped student is much better equipped to go out into the world and get a job and become a productive citizen," she said.

ALTHOUGH interested in the entire special education program, from pre-primary through intermediate and junior high classes, Miss Gladden is primarily concerned with the student after he enters senior high school. For it's here that the handicapped begins to get final training prior to entering the state's work force.

DVR and the vocational counselor must see that handicapped students know how to punch a time clock, how to dress properly and neatly, can be on time, can be sociable and get along with fellow workers, and know that they can lead well organized, productive lives in the so called "outside world."

To help "bridge the gap" from school to job, sophomores and juniors are enrolled in "work" programs during regular school hours and right along with regular classwork.

Sophs may spend an hour a day on their "job" while juniors up this to an hour and a half of on-the-job training.

THE IN-SCHOOL job may be in the guidance office, health office, library, cafeteria, or assisting in the school garage, doing light custodial work or working with audio visual aids. It's all done as a regular part of the overall school program with school personnel acting as supervisors.

In the handicapped student's senior year, the work-study aspect of the training program takes on a much broader theme. This is the year the student actually enters the outside "work world." A half day is spent in the classroom and a half day on job.

Industry is becoming more and more interested in the work-study program for the handicapped student, according to NSSEO staff members, and several local business firms have taken an interest and are now cooperating.

ACTUALLY, DVR purchases the company's service for training the student, Miss Gladden said, because it involves more supervision. Company personnel have to spend more time explaining the work and checking to see if it's done properly, she said.

Students entered in the work-study program are paid regular wages during their time on-the-job.

Naturally, not all handicapped succeed, but the number who don't is small.

One student spent his half-day of work employed in a drive-in restaurant. He rebelled when told that short hair was a prerequisite for working around food.

THE EMPLOYER thought he was a poor risk and not trainable in that particular job. But it was learned later that this same student was spending a full eight hours at night working in a local factory — and the company thought he was doing an excellent job.

All the handicapped students, except perhaps the educable and trainable mentally handicapped, are considered as potential college students. In this respect, the assistant of the division of Vocational Rehabilitation goes right into college with the student.

But the main concern of NSSEO, of DVR, and of all educators in the special education field — is to "bridge that gap" and make "workability the total goal" when training the physically and mentally handicapped student. (A15

Judo at Night School

Fly Through the Air...

by Dan Pribilski

Fifteen men attending a Palatine-Schaumburg high school district night course on Wednesdays are finding out how easy it is to fly through the air.

They get an assist from Tsuyoshi Miyazaki.

Miyazaki (Mee-yah-zah-kee) is teaching a 10-week course in judo at Fremd High School in Palatine. The course began last week.

A native Japanese, Miyazaki, 34, is the youngest sixth degree black belt holder in the U.S. Since the age of seven, he has practiced judo. He was trained in the sport at the Kodokan, the world famous Japanese judo school.

Lawrence Welch, director of the adult education program, contacted Miyazaki through the central YMCA in Chicago. The judo expert has been teaching classes in the city, and when he first came to this country in 1957, he taught judo to the Portland, Ore., police.

Coming to Chicago five years ago, he went to work for a Chicago merchantile firm. His job allows him little time for practice. He is limited to practice during his classes out here and in the city.

While judo can be a deadly art, it is taught to young and old as a sport, says Miyazaki. He has taught men and women, youngsters to men in their fifties.

The present course at Fremd is open to men only. Welch says interested persons may still register for this year's course, which will end April 6. Next fall a course for women will be given. The course is open to all northwest suburban men.

Right, Tsuyoshi Miyazaki instructs two students in the fine art of judo. Below, the judo expert is in the process of throwing a man to the mat.

Educating the Handicapped: A Joint Project

by Jack Neukom
Staff Writer

Training physically handicapped children to meet the rigors of everyday life is the full-time job of a growing group of educators throughout Illinois and the United States.

In Illinois, state regulated programs of special education can be provided by several school districts banding together to operate under a "joint agreement."

Ten school districts in the Northwest suburban area have been working under such a "joint agreement" for the past several years.

The districts — two high school and eight elementary districts — are members of the Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization (NSSEO).

NSSEO has been charged with the development of a program in special education — with emphasis on training the blind, deaf, educable mentally handicapped, hard of hearing, partially seeing, perceptually handicapped and trainable mentally handicapped students.

As of Feb. 1 there were 446 students in over 40 classes throughout the 10 districts. Director of the joint venture in educating the handicapped is Miss Helen Appledoorn. NSSEO offices are at 750 W. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

MEMBER SCHOOL districts of NSSEO are: High School District 214, Wheeling and Elk Grove townships; High School District 211, Palatine and Schaumburg townships; Community Consolidated District 21, Wheeling and Buffalo Grove; Prospect Heights public School District 23; Arlington Heights District 25; River Trails District 26, Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights; Mount Prospect District 57; Community Consolidated District 59, Elk Grove Township; Community Consolidated District 15, Rolling Meadows and Palatine, and Community Consolidated District 54, Schaumburg Township.

Ray McHatton, former teacher of educable mentally handicapped (EMH) students at both intermediate and senior high school levels, is the NSSEO staff member responsible for curriculum development.

Erhard Kugel is a high school instructor of educable mentally handicapped students in District 214, and as such works closely with the NSSEO staff.

Working with the special education organization this year is a rehabilitation counselor from the State of Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR). She is Miss Bonnie Lou Gladden, who is the first counselor to be assigned by DVR to a district such as NSSEO on a full time basis.

"THIS IS AN entirely new project with the state, and we're hoping it will become a model and spread throughout Illinois," Miss Gladden said.

The main theme of the entire special education or training program is to "bridge the gap between school and work."

The goal of NSSEO — to make physically handicapped children productive citizens of our society — involves a special program of academic instruction in terms of learning functional living procedures.

"It's our job to teach these youngsters the art of living," is the way one staff member put it.

MOST OF THE handicapped students enrolled in the NSSEO program are taught in regular classrooms right along with the students with no handicapps. The "special" part of their education comes from time spent in "resource rooms" separate from the regular classroom work. Here students are taught by teachers trained in educating the handicapped.

Resource rooms are used for accelerating the learning of students who are hard of hearing, partially seeing, or who are perceptually handicapped or blind.

Students handicapped by deafness or the educable mentally handicapped and trainable mentally handicapped are taught in special classrooms of their own.

A perceptually handicapped student has normal intelligence or better, but has a hard time grasping or retaining academic teachings because of severe learning disorders. These disorders include language disorders, disorders in auditory perception to the extent of having difficulties attaching meaning to sound, inability to receive and associate visual symbols, disorders in written communications or failure to organize thoughts and express them in writing, or difficulty in grasping abstractions and concepts and synchronizing thoughts.

EDUCABLE mentally handicapped children can do academic work, but much later chronologically than other children in the classroom. EMH students are probably not ready by the age of six, but can be by the age of nine to do first grade work.

Trainable mentally handicapped children are not given academic work, but are prepared for social adjustment and economic usefulness in a sheltered workshop in the outside world.

When it's deemed advisable for a child to enter the realm of special education, no matter what handicap the student has, a staff meeting is held to study the child's disability and determine the best possible program.

There's a thorough medical examination, either by a school designated physician or the family doctor. A program of tests to determine the student's mental level is followed by a conference of all concerned with the handicapped person — principal, teacher, school nurse, school social worker, rehabilitation consultant, and above all, the parents.

TEAMWORK between parents and staff personel must be extremely close. Naturally, parental permission is needed before a child can enter any special education program. "The younger we get a handicapped student, the less school failures he has experienced and the easier it is for us to help him," Miss Appledoorn said.

NSSEO works on a regular budget, with funds provided by member school districts and the state. Each district hires its own teachers for the program, with Miss Appledoorn and her staff only providing lists of qualified individuals.

Miss Gladden, although assigned to NSSEO on a full time basis, receives her salary from DVR. "If we wait until the handicapped student leaves school we may not be able to find them," Miss Gladden said when telling of the state's roll in training handicapped.

"Being assigned to a program such as NSSEO's, we can work with them while they're still in school, and see that they get proper training. Then on graduation, the handicapped student is much better equipped to go out into the world and get a job and become a productive citizen," she said.

ALTHOUGH interested in the entire special education program, from pre-primary through intermediate and junior high classes, Miss Gladden is primarily concerned with the student after he enters senior high school. For it's here that the handicapped begins to get final training prior to entering the state's work force.

DVR and the vocational counselor must see that handicapped students know how to punch a time clock, how to dress properly and neatly, can be on time, can be sociable and get along with fellow workers, and know that they can lead well organized, productive lives in the so called "outside world."

To help "bridge the gap" from school to job, sophomores and juniors are enrolled in "work" programs during regular school hours and right along with regular classwork.

Sophs may spend an hour a day on their "job" while juniors up this to an hour and a half of on-the-job training.

THE IN-SCHOOL job may be in the guidance office, health office, library, cafeteria, or assisting in the school garage, doing light custodial work or working with audio visual aids. It's all done as a regular part of the overall school program with school personnel acting as supervisors.

In the handicapped student's senior year, the work-study aspect of the training program takes on a much broader theme. This is the year the student actually enters the outside "work world." A half day is spent in the classroom and a half day on job.

Industry is becoming more and more interested in the work-study program for the handicapped student, according to NSSEO staff members, and several local business firms have taken an interest and are now cooperating.

ACTUALLY, DVR purchases the company's service for training the student, Miss Gladden said, because it involves more supervision. Company personnel have to spend more time explaining the work and checking to see if it's done properly, she said.

Students entered in the work-study program are paid regular wages during their time on-the-job.

Naturally, not all handicapped succeed, but the number who don't is small.

One student spent his half-day of work employed in a drive-in restaurant. He rebelled when told that short hair was a prerequisite for working around food.

THE EMPLOYER thought he was a poor risk and not trainable in that particular job. But it was learned later that this same student was spending a full eight hours at night working in a local factory — and the company thought he was doing an excellent job.

All the handicapped students, except perhaps the educable and trainable mentally handicapped, are considered as potential college students. In this respect, the assistant of the division of Vocational Rehabilitation goes right into college with the student.

But the main concern of NSSEO, of DVR, and of all educators in the special education field — is to "bridge that gap" and make "workability the total goal" when training the physically and mentally handicapped student. (A15

EACH HANDICAPPED CHILD entering the instructional program of the Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization (NSSEO) receives special consideration from NSSEO staff members and teachers. Conferring above are Ray McHatton, left, consultant for mentally handicapped program for NSSEO; Bonnie Gladden, rehabilitation counselor of Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, who is assigned to NSSEO on a full-time basis; and Erhard Kugel, High School District 214 instructor of educable mentally handicapped students. Library Questions Range From Aristotle to Zebras

Working for the reference unit of the Illinois State Library has many of the advantages of a liberal education plus the extra dividend of picking up extraneous bits of information which would supply conversational gambits for livening up any social gathering.

Secretary of State Paul Powell, who also is State Librarian, receives monthly narrative reports from the reference unit informing him of the state of purposeful inquiry in Illinois. He has found that the citizenry is interested in subjects from Aristotelian philosophy to the life cycle of the zebra.

THE NUMBER of inquiries varies with the calendar months with September through November and January through May averaging out at the top because of the pressures of term papers on the students of Illinois schools. Summer brings a lull in questioning, but recent years show the inquiring mind is steadily conquering the torpor used by climbing temperatures.

Not all the questions come from the harried and solemn scholar. There is a refreshing range which speaks well of the imaginative quality of Illinois residents.

In January 1965 the reference librarians broadened their own minds by supplying information on hiccups and sneezing, effects of glutamic acid on the intelligence of hamsters, the "wee people" of Ireland, training to be a spy, and the mechanics of rioting with specific reference to historic riots of the past.

February brought fanciful questions as to predictions of what man might look like in the future, a request for a negative report on Abraham Lincoln, and to complete a rather lugubrious circle a query on foreign funeral practices.

MARCH YIELDED up gusty questions on how to make a catapult, how to paddle a kayak, information on puff balls (phylum thallophyta) and the stately ghosts of England, and April balanced burlesque against the 99th element, Einsteinium. In May, one citizen wanted a list of manufacturers of cattle whips and in June a whimsical soul asked how to train a duck.

July and August brought questions on the why of 21 gun salutes, (the 21 is for heads of state and the cut-off at 21 lies unexplained in antiquity; all salutes are odd-numbered because of an old naval superstition about even numbers) blueprints on how to make a guitar, breeding of quarter horses, recipes for stuffed eggplants, and, understandably, the effects of temperature on vertebrate metabolism.

September, October, and November ushered in obvious changes in temperament with questions on ocelots, Jack the Ripper, R.N.A. (riboneuclecic acid) and its effects on mental ability, L.S.D. (lysergic and dietthyiamide) the drug of dangerously bizarre reactions, the raising and marketing of frogs, the life and times of bullfighter Manolete, and Calamity Jane's real name (Martha Jane Canary).

December characteristically was concerned with appropriate poetic quotations for holiday cards, research on oyster planting in Japan, possibly with an eye to gift pearls, and statistics on home accidents.

And Secretary Powell availed himself of the services of the library to ask for details about Victorian soup tureens. He had received a handsome silver specimen dated 1865 for Christmas. (A15

Bristol Scholarship Fund Tops $900 Mark

More than $900 has been contributed thus far to the Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarship Fund, it was announced this week by Larry S. Jenness, principal of Forest View High School, Arlington Heights.

Jenness is co-chairman of a committee administering the scholarship fund established in memory of Mrs. Helene Bristol, education editor of Paddock Publications who died Dec. 31.

BRISTOL

Of the total contributed thus far, Jenness said $600 was renewable on an annual basis. This includes:

—$400 from the northwest suburban division of Illinois Education Association;

—$100 from the Teachers Association of High School District 214; and

—$100 from Paddock Publications, Inc.

THE BALANCE OF contributions has come from individuals, including a $25 donation from Howard A. Turner, superintendent of public works for the village of Roselle.

Jenness said contributions are still coming in. Others may be sent to Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarship Fund, c/o Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association, 25 E. Campbell St., Arlington Heights.

A major donation to the fund is anticipated from proceeds of a unique benefit performance announced last week by Bruno W. Waara, principal of Arlington High School, and Lyovonne M. Trad, director of speech activities.

The opening night performance Thursday, Feb. 24 of Arlington High school's winter play production, "The Fantasticks," will benefit the Helene Bristol fund.

This is the first time in High School District 214 history that a regular school play performance will be presented as a benefit.

"Arlington's drama staff feels that this would be a most appropriate tribute to Mrs. Bristol, whose enthusiasm for the educational well-being of our youth touched every phase of school life," said Miss Trad.

TICKETS AT $1 each may be purchased for the benefit by calling CL 3-0200, Ext. 32. Tickets will also be available at the box office the night of the performance.

Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

"The Fantasticks" is a musical "parable about love" with book and lyrics by Tom Jones and music by Harvey Schmidt. Among hit songs from the show are "Try to Remember" and "Soon It's Gonna Rain."

Associated with Paddock news staff since 1954, Mrs. Bristol was made education editor of the suburban newspaper chain in 1960. Her duties included news coverage of area high school boards of education, the new northwest suburban junior college, and general education assignments. (A15

Library Questions Range From Aristotle to Zebras

Working for the reference unit of the Illinois State Library has many of the advantages of a liberal education plus the extra dividend of picking up extraneous bits of information which would supply conversational gambits for livening up any social gathering.

Secretary of State Paul Powell, who also is State Librarian, receives monthly narrative reports from the reference unit informing him of the state of purposeful inquiry in Illinois. He has found that the citizenry is interested in subjects from Aristotelian philosophy to the life cycle of the zebra.

THE NUMBER of inquiries varies with the calendar months with September through November and January through May averaging out at the top because of the pressures of term papers on the students of Illinois schools. Summer brings a lull in questioning, but recent years show the inquiring mind is steadily conquering the torpor used by climbing temperatures.

Not all the questions come from the harried and solemn scholar. There is a refreshing range which speaks well of the imaginative quality of Illinois residents.

In January 1965 the reference librarians broadened their own minds by supplying information on hiccups and sneezing, effects of glutamic acid on the intelligence of hamsters, the "wee people" of Ireland, training to be a spy, and the mechanics of rioting with specific reference to historic riots of the past.

February brought fanciful questions as to predictions of what man might look like in the future, a request for a negative report on Abraham Lincoln, and to complete a rather lugubrious circle a query on foreign funeral practices.

MARCH YIELDED up gusty questions on how to make a catapult, how to paddle a kayak, information on puff balls (phylum thallophyta) and the stately ghosts of England, and April balanced burlesque against the 99th element, Einsteinium. In May, one citizen wanted a list of manufacturers of cattle whips and in June a whimsical soul asked how to train a duck.

July and August brought questions on the why of 21 gun salutes, (the 21 is for heads of state and the cut-off at 21 lies unexplained in antiquity; all salutes are odd-numbered because of an old naval superstition about even numbers) blueprints on how to make a guitar, breeding of quarter horses, recipes for stuffed eggplants, and, understandably, the effects of temperature on vertebrate metabolism.

September, October, and November ushered in obvious changes in temperament with questions on ocelots, Jack the Ripper, R.N.A. (riboneuclecic acid) and its effects on mental ability, L.S.D. (lysergic and dietthyiamide) the drug of dangerously bizarre reactions, the raising and marketing of frogs, the life and times of bullfighter Manolete, and Calamity Jane's real name (Martha Jane Canary).

December characteristically was concerned with appropriate poetic quotations for holiday cards, research on oyster planting in Japan, possibly with an eye to gift pearls, and statistics on home accidents.

And Secretary Powell availed himself of the services of the library to ask for details about Victorian soup tureens. He had received a handsome silver specimen dated 1865 for Christmas. (A15

Plan Feb. 24 Benefit

Bristol Scholarship Fund Tops $900 Mark

More than $900 has been contributed thus far to the Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarship Fund, it was announced this week by Larry S. Jenness, principal of Forest View High School, Arlington Heights.

Jenness is co-chairman of a committee administering the scholarship fund established in memory of Mrs. Helene Bristol, education editor of Paddock Publications who died Dec. 31.

BRISTOL

Of the total contributed thus far, Jenness said $600 was renewable on an annual basis. This includes:

—$400 from the northwest suburban division of Illinois Education Association;

—$100 from the Teachers Association of High School District 214; and

—$100 from Paddock Publications, Inc.

THE BALANCE OF contributions has come from individuals, including a $25 donation from Howard A. Turner, superintendent of public works for the village of Roselle.

Jenness said contributions are still coming in. Others may be sent to Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarship Fund, c/o Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association, 25 E. Campbell St., Arlington Heights.

A major donation to the fund is anticipated from proceeds of a unique benefit performance announced last week by Bruno W. Waara, principal of Arlington High School, and Lyovonne M. Trad, director of speech activities.

The opening night performance Thursday, Feb. 24 of Arlington High school's winter play production, "The Fantasticks," will benefit the Helene Bristol fund.

This is the first time in High School District 214 history that a regular school play performance will be presented as a benefit.

"Arlington's drama staff feels that this would be a most appropriate tribute to Mrs. Bristol, whose enthusiasm for the educational well-being of our youth touched every phase of school life," said Miss Trad.

TICKETS AT $1 each may be purchased for the benefit by calling CL 3-0200, Ext. 32. Tickets will also be available at the box office the night of the performance.

Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

"The Fantasticks" is a musical "parable about love" with book and lyrics by Tom Jones and music by Harvey Schmidt. Among hit songs from the show are "Try to Remember" and "Soon It's Gonna Rain."

Associated with Paddock news staff since 1954, Mrs. Bristol was made education editor of the suburban newspaper chain in 1960. Her duties included news coverage of area high school boards of education, the new northwest suburban junior college, and general education assignments. (A15

Costumes Big Secret As Masquerade Ball Date Nears

Although the real Charles De Gaulle is not likely to be seen at the Countryside Art Center's masquerade ball scheduled for Saturday evening, Feb. 19, his facsimile may whirl Mona Lisa acrosss the dance floor once or twice to the delight of name-droppers and others in attendance.

According to Art Center chairmen, secrecy generally surrounds the costumes being planned for the festive night when area citizens will emerge as famous persons, animals, objects, and "whatchamacallits" of various shapes and forms, and numerous surprises are being planned.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bowen, chairmen of the masked ball, report that tickets are still available for the event and may be purchased at the Countryside Art Gallery, 10 W. Miner St., Arlington Heights, during regular gallery hours, 1 to 4 p.m., daily except Monday. Persons need not be members of the art center to attend, according to the Bowens, and costumes will be optional.

THE DECOR of the Moulin Rouge ball is being planned by Countryside artists and will include wall posters and other creations. Music for the evening will be furnished by Gil Bowen and his orchestra during the ball hours from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., and buffet refreshments will be served to all guests at midnight. In addition, several prizes are scheduled to be awarded during the festivities.

Information about the "Bal Masque au Moulin Rouge" which will be held at the Elk's Club in Arlington Heights may be obtained by calling 253-3005. Table reservations for persons wishing to attend the ball in large groups should be made immediately, according to art center officers.

Answer Service Is Disrupted

Paddock Publications regret that a power switchover, necessitated by expanded electrical facilities in the new office and plant structure, de-activated the electronic secretary that was all ready to tell results of two high school bond issues this weekend.

Power was out 24 hours as electricians made the switchover. The publishers regret they had not hooked up 500-ft. extension cords to insure operation of the answering device for the full weekend.

KAREN AND HER MOTHER

Karen Lynne Cunningham, daughter of Peter and Helen Cunningham, 82 Forest Lane, Elk Grove Village, who arrived at 12:01 p.m. Friday, became the 10,000th baby to be born at Northwest Community Hospital since the hospital opened on Dec. 2, 1959.

Karen, who weighed in at 7 pounds 9½ ounces, is the third child of the Cunninghams. Other children include Peter Joseph, born July 30, 1963, and Michael Patrick, who was also born at Northwest Community Hospital on Oct. 20, 1964.

Cunningham is a special agent for the Internal Revenue Service of the U. S. Treasury Department with offices in Chicago. The parents have been residents of Elk Grove Village for about 2½ years and are active members of the Queen of the Rosary Parish.

Mrs. Cunningham was delivered by E. J. Jacobs, M.D., staff obstetrician-gynecologist, who incidentally also delivered the first baby born in the hospital on opening day.

In honor of the occasion, the hospital presented the child with a $100 government bond as well as an engraved sterling tray and silverware, a beautifully framed baby picture and other prizes contributed by the Women's Auxiliary.

Marimead Records 5 Years of Progress

(High School Highlights this issue salutes the adviser and school newspaper staff of the Marimead of Sacred Heart of Mary High School in Rolling Meadows.)

By JOANNE SAJDAK

Like the school itself, Sacred Heart of Mary High School's student publication, The Marimead, has seen a great deal of progress during the five years of its existence. In the course of this growth, The Marimead has extended itself beyond the realm of a strictly "news" paper to provide a forum for opinion and comment on all facets of student life.

Each of The Marimead's four major issues includes not only articles dealing with school itself, but also editorials and features on current world events as they affect the Sacred Heart of Mary student: Viet Nam, civil rights, the Vatican Council, and other pertinent topics.

In order to keep the student body well informed on the academic, social, and cultural extracurricular activities within the school, the smaller, mimeographed Chez-Mead supplements the Marimead issues.

Heading the Marimead staff are Janet Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sanders, 1306 W. Mulberry Lane, Arlington Heights, editor-in-chief; Lynn Rosenhauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Rosenhauer, 2290 N. Circle Drive, Palatine, president of the journalism club; Peggy Moran, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph Moran, 405 S. I-Oka, Mount Prospect, vice president; Rose Kelly, Mary Winters, Mary Kay Killeen, and Ellen Starck, associate editors; and Mary O'Leary, Debby Peifer, Sheila Yourg, and Donna Colametteo, assistants.

Faculty moderators are Sister Maura and Sister Saint Mel. Participants from all classes bring the total staff membership to about 40.

To keep abreast with the current trends in journalism, editors and reporters have attended several discussion groups and workshops concerning new and effective ideas in newswriting, editorals, feature stories, photography, art, and layout.

The editor for next year will attend a week workshop at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, in June. (Y

Being Twins Is Fun, Reports Wheeling Duo

This is the third in our series of articles on twins in our area high schools. Featured this issue are the twins of Wheeling High School.)

BY MELANI VAN PETTEN

"Being twins is fun," according to seniors Marilyn and Pauletta Viverito. "There are many advantages to having a sister who looks exactly like you."

"You meet more people," says Pauletta. "You meet all your sister's friends as well as your own."

Having a sister who takes many of the same courses is extremely helpful when it comes to homework. Marilyn and Pauletta keep one set of books at home and one at school; they help each other.

They each share their clothes, but try not to dress alike as they did when they were younger. Both agree that the worst thing about being twins is being compared. "We hate it," says Pauletta.

Once the twins tried trading places in a biology class but were discovered. "The teacher was pretty mad," Marilyn recalled.

BOTH MARILYN and Pauletta are on the yearbook staff, the Color Guard, and are members of the National Honor Society. They plan to go to the same college so that their parents will not have to go to two different graduations. They want to live in different dormitories so they can see each other if they get lonesome but yet won't be thrown constantly together.

Wheeling senior twins are Brian and Bruce Irwin and Marilyn and Pauletta Viverito.

Four pairs of "double trouble" claim to be juniors. They are Don and Diane Boscamp, Donna and Diana Bravieri, Greg and Fred Burns, and Joan and Phyllis Royer.

ELLEN AND Dan Doutlick, Mark and Norm Hogman, and Raymond and Richard Sanfilip are sophomore twins.

Freshman twosomes are Jim and Janet Johnson, Joe and Linda Mangi, Chuck and Dan Roig, Leonard and Laura Wade, Cathy and Sandy Walker, Gary and Larry Salata, and Diane and Jan Smith. (15Y

Teachers to Attend Classical Meeting

Three hundred teachers of Latin and Greek, representing high schools and colleges throughout Illinois will convene at the 26th annual meeting of the Illinois Classical Conference Feb. 24-26, in the Illini Union, Urbana, Illinois.

Purpose of the meeting is to defend and promote the inclusion of the classical languages on the curricula of public and private schools.

"Latin in the Junior High School" will be discussed by Mrs. Edith Wells, Howard Junior High School, Wilmette, where a successful course in Latin is already being conducted for seventh and eighth graders.

"It is sheer delight to teach them," said Mrs. Wells.

SISTER MARY Donald, B.V.-M., Mundelein College, president of the conference quoted the late Dr. Paul Shorey, University of Chicago, who declared Latin is the ideal subject for the high school student "because it is definite, teachable, and hard."

"The student can't have opinions about it, but must take it as it is—a very good educational procedure," added Sister Mary Donald. "Like mathematics and science, Latin does not lend itself to shallow opinion or argument. You must accept it as it is."

Sister M. Aloysius, R.S.M., of St. Patrick's Academy, Des Plaines, will speak on "Programmed Latin" at the second session on Friday, Marion Fisher of Maine Township High School South will give a report on the Resolutions Committee at the meeting on Saturday morning, and Rev. Charles L. Maranto, C.S.V., of St. Viator High School in Arlington Heights, will give the invocation at the luncheon on Saturday.

Fred Gorman, Arlington High School and Editor of The News Letter is a member of the conference's Executive Council.

ANOTHER HIGHLIGHT of the conference will be a paper by Sister Mary Aloysius on programmed Latin which allows the student to proceed at his own rate and study without a teacher should this be necessary—an approach also applicable to machine teaching.

Sister Mary Donald, whose paper at the convention will be "The Illuminated Mind" believes that "high school should be an intellectual experience in itself; not merely a preparation for college.

"Latin is what will best stand by the student in later years and enable him to understand the culture in which he lives; it also disciplines him to use the language with clarity and accuracy thus enabling him to communicate his meanings clearly in later social and business life." (15Y

Here's Inside Story on Work-Study Programs

(In this installment of our series of articles dealing with students who work part-time for academic school credit, we feature Forest View High School and Lake Park High School. Forest View has three work-credit programs: Diversified Occupations (DO); Distributive Education (DE); and Office Occupations (OO).

By BARBARA McKEWEN

Forest View High School has 25 juniors and seniors presently active in the D.O. program, which is under the supervision of Avon Reeves. D.O., which stands for diversified occupations, had 13 different fields from which a student can train. They are machinist, auto mechanic, photo equipment repair, drafting, diesel mechanics, painting and decorating, long distance telephone operator, information telephone operator, beautician, dental assistant, welding and metal forming, heating and steam-fitting and printing.

Senior Rita McCormack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McCormack, 2900 Oriole Lane, Rolling Meadows, a student in D.O., was interviewed about her training as a dental assistant in Arlington Heights.

The first question concerned how she became interested in the D.O. program. She said that she became interested in this type of work through the influence of a friend who is also a dental assistant.

WHAT ACTUAL steps were taken before she got in the D.O. program? The first thing she did was to fill out a diversified occupations application. Secondly, she contacted Reeves, D.O. adviser, and her counselor, telling them of her reason for taking this job.

Reeves then contacted a prospective trainer, who would give Rita the experience she needed, and set up an interview with them.

After the interview, Rita was assigned to work under a responsible trainer and she was given a schedule of processes to be learned at the training station.

Rita said that parents and teachers are required to give their permission before a student becomes a D.O. student.

When asked how her schedule was arranged and what subjects she took, Rita replied that she now takes four regular high school subjects, one of which is the D. O. related class.

The subjects vary with different students, but Rita takes D.O. related class, world history, choir, English IV, and physical education.

DOES SHE have to maintain a certain average in her grades? Rita answered that a passing grade must be maintained at all times. If she fails at any of these grades, her working hours at the dental office would be limited, or if serious enough, dismissal from the program.

Rita said she planned to stay on with her training and make a career of her work after graduation.

Is she getting all that she hoped she would?

"Yes," Rita said. "The program is giving me more than I had hoped for. I am learning not only the skill to perform well, but also I am gaining the necessary contacts with different kinds of people."

She concluded, "I have a new attitude toward dentistry."

OFFICE OCCUPATIONS
By PAULETTE FELICE

Business teachers have realized for some time that it is very difficult to prepare a student for a specific occupation in an artificial classroom situation. As a result, High School District 214 this year began an office occupations program in which the school and various businesses in the community work together to provide vocational instruction in the office field.

The district provides training in certain skills and gives occupational information, and the business community provides the laboratory in which the pupil can practice these skills.

The O.O. class at Forest View High School is also a club with a constitution and by-laws. Members of the club together with club members from the Chicago suburban area took part in a youth leadership conference at the Pick-Congress Hotel in Chicago.

President of Forest View's club is Linda Dorn; vice president, Judy Loeding; and secretary-treasurer, Bob Sanden.

The major activity planned by the club is the Employer-employe appreciation banquet which will be held in the spring.

JUDY LOEDING of Forest View, who works for Universal Oil Products, answered the following questions in a recent interview:

How did you become interested in O.O.?

I am interested in an office position and felt that this would be good training.

What actual steps are taken before you can get on?

You must show an interest by filling out an application blank, which is given to the O. O. coordinator. She in turn reviews your records and calls you for an interview. If accepted, you then are given employers' names to help you find a job.

Do you have to have parents' and teachers' permission?

Yes, both your parents and your teachers must approve.

How is your schedule arranged?

We go to school in the morning and to work in the afternoon.

WHAT SUBJECTS do you take?

Office Occupations, Business English, Study Hall-Gym, Sociology, and then to work.

Do you have to have a special grade average?

You must maintain at least a "C" average.

Do you go to school in the morning or afternoon and for how many hours?

We go to school in the morning for the first four periods or for four and one half hours.

HOW ARE jobs found? Do students find their own jobs?

Most jobs are found by the O.O. coordinator. She usually has a list of the places that will take students. She gives the students the telephone numbers and they must call for their own interviews. They are on their own from there.

After you graduate, do you plan to stay with the same job?

As far as I know now, I probably will.

Do you feel this job is giving you the training and experience you hoped to gain when you first started?

Yes, this job has given me a real picture of actual office life. I found that a secretary doesn't only type and answer the phone. She has many other responsibilities.

LAKE PARK HIGH SCHOOL

Lake Park High School's food service class is under way again for the second semester. By this time the group is quite adept at preparing meals for large groups.

The class, one of few in this area, comes under the Vocational Home Economics Act, and has the purpose of training students for restaurant work.

All 12 members of the class, including three boys, are working in restaurants in the area. They receive training from their employers, as well as from the class at school.

THE CLASS members have their other school courses in the morning, so they are allowed to leave school at 1:30 p.m. to continue their schooling right in the field. They work from 15 to 20 hours a week.

For this combination work-study program, they receive high school credit, a grade for the course from their teacher, and pay from their employer.

Their work includes everything from that of a waitress; to making salads, sandwiches, and desserts; to serving at the fountain. One boy works as a chef, another as a baker for the restaurant in which he is employed.

IN DECEMBER the class prepared and served a dinner for the high school faculty and board. Many of the guests said the roast beef was some of the best they had ever had.

Most students in the class plan to go into the restaurant field.

Next year Lake Park plans to have other work-study programs in the fields of distributive education, office occupations, and other diversified employment. (Y

Teen Writes Article for Magazine

A Prospect High School student contributed an article to the January issue of "Illinois History" magazine, a publication for teenagers sponsored by the Illinois State Historical Society.

Diane Siewert, the student, wrote an article entitled "Sullivan's Masterpiece" on the architecture of the Carson Pirie Scott store at Madison and State Streets in Chicago.

DIANE POINTED out that Louis Sullivan, the architect for the original design of the store, was awarded the Gold Medal of the American Institute of Architects in 1943 and that the store was named one of the Seven Wonders of American Architecture in 1958.

When an addition was planned in 1906, Architect Daniel H. Burnham "chose to follow Sullivan's plans in almost every detail" and this "wise planning created a uniform appearance," Diane wrote.

The store, she said, "is an excellent example of Louis Sullivan's sense of scale, organization, regularity, and proportion" and "is one of the best designed early skyscrapers." (10Y

Two Speakers on Agenda For Thursday AAUW Meet

Members of Arlington Heights branch of the AAUW will be surprised by a bonus speaker tonight, (Thursday) at their meeting at 8 in Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan. Mrs. Gordon Munson, the scheduled speaker, will be joined by William Ruddle, superintendent of correctional services for the Illinois Youth Commission.

Both speakers will be listed under the AAUW study topic, Education, "An Antidote to Poverty," and will speak on "What is an Ounce of Prevention and What is a Pound of Cure." They will explain to the branch how a community can prevent the problems that the Youth Commission handles, and how the commission solves the problems after they arise.

Mr. Ruddle has been superintendent of correctional services for the Illinois Youth Commission for two years. Before this he was superintendent at St. Charles School for Boys. He was a member of the committee which studied the correctional services for youth in Illinois and made recommendations for changes. He has two masters degrees; one in social work, one in business.

SOCIAL ECOLOGY is the term Mrs. Munson uses when describing her academic and community interests. Chairman of the Cook County Council for the League, she is alone on the league's board of the National Council of Christians and Jews, is a member of the Illinois Youth Commission and chairman of the subcommittee working with several boys' schools.

She has a degree from Louisiana State University and has done work in social ecology toward a master's degree.

AAUW members will also have a full business schedule. The nominating committee will announce the slate of officers for 1966-68 and the plans for the Pages needed for the AAUW Regional Convention in May will be decided. The branch will also be asked to begin submitting topic ideas for the AAUW 1967-69 biennium.

Women in the area who have graduated with a BS or BA degree from an accredited college or university are invited to attend the meeting. (S

Senior Spotlight

Terri and Donna Shine As Sacred Heart Students

(The High School Highlights Senior Spotlight this issue falls upon two senior girls from Sacred Heart of Mary High School.)

By MARY LEE BARTON and ELIZABETH MYERS

Terri Kratzer and Donna Burns have been selected as the two outstanding senior students at Sacred Heart of Mary High School. Both Terri and Donna have actively contributed to the school in scholastic achievement as well as in extra-curricular activities.

"I'd like to learn how to accept people for what they are, because I honestly believe that each individual person is worth so much," Terri said. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Kratzer of Palatine.

Terri has been a great asset to the school in all her past years at S.H.M. She has had a varied extra-curricular career, including Drama Club, French Club, the extemporaneous speaking division of forensics, and Student Council.

For the school year of 1965-66, Terri has been elected Student Council president.

This year, Terri enjoys a busy schedule; her favorite class is English Seminar, because, as she states, "I appreciate being able to look at literature and drama as works of art."

Terri readily agrees that she loves sports; however, she ruefully admits she is "more of a viewer than a participant."

In addition to all of this year's activities, Terri also has a part-time job at Zayre's in Palatine: "I like my job because it gives me a chance to meet so many different kinds of people."

In answer to the question of special likes or dislikes, Terri replied, "I love little children—I think they're the most wonderful things on the earth," and "My worst problem is doing homework . . . it's not one Extra-curricular activities are of my particular likes, to put it mildly."

After completing her high school education, Terri plans to go on to college. After weeks of waiting with eager anticipation, Terri has been accepted at Webster College in St. Louis, Missouri. "At the moment, my plans are to major in the field of modern languages."

Knowing Terri as her classmates and friends do, we're sure she will succeed in her post-high school plans. Even in such a busy, planned schedule, she will be sure to find time to cultivate the friendships which mean so much to her.

Donna Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Burns, 2043 Welwyn Drive, Des Plaines, is another outstanding student at S.H.M.

This year Donna is taking English Seminar, physics, advanced math, history, and typing. Her favorite subjects are English, physics and math. "Through English Seminar, I have learned to appreciate the various forms of literature and I can see beauty and clarity in the imagery authors use to express their intentions."

Donna also enjoys physics and math. "They challenge me to apply my knowledge to problems." She says that good teachers make every course interesting and rewarding.

Donna has merited many honors in her years at S.H.M. She is a semi-finalist in both the National Honor Society Scholarship Fund, and in the Illinois State Scholarship Program. Donna is in the National Honor Society, and the school's Mother Butler Honor Society.

Her favorite hobbies are dancing and reading. "I love to read because I can gain a better insight into people I would normally never meet." Donna likes to swim and ice skate, but she laughingly admits that she is not an Olympic champ.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHTLIGHT'S Senior Spotlight this issue shines on Sacred Heart of Mary students Terry Kratzer and Donna Burns. (10-Y

Dancing is also a part of this busy girl's life. She is a member of the Elan Society and the Future Teachers Club.

Donna's future plans are to major in math or science at Loyola University or St. Norbert's College. (15Y

Teen Writes Article for Magazine

A Prospect High School student contributed an article to the January issue of "Illinois History" magazine, a publication for teenagers sponsored by the Illinois State Historical Society.

Diane Siewert, the student, wrote an article entitled "Sullivan's Masterpiece" on the architecture of the Carson Pirie Scott store at Madison and State Streets in Chicago.

DIANE POINTED out that Louis Sullivan, the architect for the original design of the store, was awarded the Gold Medal of the American Institute of Architects in 1943 and that the store was named one of the Seven Wonders of American Architecture in 1958.

When an addition was planned in 1906, Architect Daniel H. Burnham "chose to follow Sullivan's plans in almost every detail" and this "wise planning created a uniform appearance," Diane wrote.

The store, she said, "is an excellent example of Louis Sullivan's sense of scale, organization, regularity, and proportion" and "is one of the best designed early skyscrapers." (10Y

Two Speakers on Agenda For Thursday AAUW Meet

Members of Arlington Heights branch of the AAUW will be surprised by a bonus speaker tonight, (Thursday) at their meeting at 8 in Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan. Mrs. Gordon Munson, the scheduled speaker, will be joined by William Ruddle, superintendent of correctional services for the Illinois Youth Commission.

Both speakers will be listed under the AAUW study topic, Education, "An Antidote to Poverty," and will speak on "What is an Ounce of Prevention and What is a Pound of Cure." They will explain to the branch how a community can prevent the problems that the Youth Commission handles, and how the commission solves the problems after they arise.

Mr. Ruddle has been superintendent of correctional services for the Illinois Youth Commission for two years. Before this he was superintendent at St. Charles School for Boys. He was a member of the committee which studied the correctional services for youth in Illinois and made recommendations for changes. He has two masters degrees; one in social work, one in business.

SOCIAL ECOLOGY is the term Mrs. Munson uses when describing her academic and community interests. Chairman of the Cook County Council for the League, she is alone on the league's board of the National Council of Christians and Jews, is a member of the Illinois Youth Commission and chairman of the subcommittee working with several boys' schools.

She has a degree from Louisiana State University and has done work in social ecology toward a master's degree.

AAUW members will also have a full business schedule. The nominating committee will announce the slate of officers for 1966-68 and the plans for the Pages needed for the AAUW Regional Convention in May will be decided. The branch will also be asked to begin submitting topic ideas for the AAUW 1967-69 biennium.

Women in the area who have graduated with a BS or BA degree from an accredited college or university are invited to attend the meeting. (S

Senior Spotlight

Terri and Donna Shine As Sacred Heart Students

(The High School Highlights Senior Spotlight this issue falls upon two senior girls from Sacred Heart of Mary High School.)

By MARY LEE BARTON and ELIZABETH MYERS

Terri Kratzer and Donna Burns have been selected as the two outstanding senior students at Sacred Heart of Mary High School. Both Terri and Donna have actively contributed to the school in scholastic achievement as well as in extra-curricular activities.

"I'd like to learn how to accept people for what they are, because I honestly believe that each individual person is worth so much," Terri said. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Kratzer of Palatine.

Terri has been a great asset to the school in all her past years at S.H.M. She has had a varied extra-curricular career, including Drama Club, French Club, the extemporaneous speaking division of forensics, and Student Council.

For the school year of 1965-66, Terri has been elected Student Council president.

This year, Terri enjoys a busy schedule; her favorite class is English Seminar, because, as she states, "I appreciate being able to look at literature and drama as works of art."

Terri readily agrees that she loves sports; however, she ruefully admits she is "more of a viewer than a participant."

In addition to all of this year's activities, Terri also has a part-time job at Zayre's in Palatine: "I like my job because it gives me a chance to meet so many different kinds of people."

In answer to the question of special likes or dislikes, Terri replied, "I love little children—I think they're the most wonderful things on the earth," and "My worst problem is doing homework . . . it's not one Extra-curricular activities are of my particular likes, to put it mildly."

After completing her high school education, Terri plans to go on to college. After weeks of waiting with eager anticipation, Terri has been accepted at Webster College in St. Louis, Missouri. "At the moment, my plans are to major in the field of modern languages."

Knowing Terri as her classmates and friends do, we're sure she will succeed in her post-high school plans. Even in such a busy, planned schedule, she will be sure to find time to cultivate the friendships which mean so much to her.

Donna Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Burns, 2043 Welwyn Drive, Des Plaines, is another outstanding student at S.H.M.

This year Donna is taking English Seminar, physics, advanced math, history, and typing. Her favorite subjects are English, physics and math. "Through English Seminar, I have learned to appreciate the various forms of literature and I can see beauty and clarity in the imagery authors use to express their intentions."

Donna also enjoys physics and math. "They challenge me to apply my knowledge to problems." She says that good teachers make every course interesting and rewarding.

Donna has merited many honors in her years at S.H.M. She is a semi-finalist in both the National Honor Society Scholarship Fund, and in the Illinois State Scholarship Program. Donna is in the National Honor Society, and the school's Mother Butler Honor Society.

Her favorite hobbies are dancing and reading. "I love to read because I can gain a better insight into people I would normally never meet." Donna likes to swim and ice skate, but she laughingly admits that she is not an Olympic champ.

also a part of this busy girl's life. She is a member of the Elan Society and the Future Teachers Club.

Donna's future plans are to major in math or science at Loyola University or St. Norbert's College. (15Y

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Sue Smith, 439-4851 Betty Ainslie, CL 3-9021
Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298

Writing a cheery Sidelights prologue on a dreary February afternoon is like looking through this reporter's kitchen windows—prospects are dim. At this moment your reporter faces both deadline and dingy windows, and a nap seems the only escape. Readers with clean windows who like cheery prologues might not approve, though, so here goes: "Tulips are up, robins are back, social news is booming and my windows sparkle." T'ain't true, but it sure is cheery, isn't it?

With the happy cooperation of Paddock Publications via this column, Mrs. George Sharp, 418 S. Evergreen, extends an open invitation to a party celebrating the 80th birthday of her mother, Mrs. Alma Ihle. The birthday girl has been an Arlington Heights resident for nearly half a century and her daughter explained that some old friend might be overlooked if she sent individual invitations. Her assumption that everyone will be reached via the Sidelights is most flattering.

Open house at 418 S. Evergreen will be held Sunday, Feb. 13, from 2 to 8 p.m., and Mrs. Sharp expresses the hope that many will stop in to say, "Happy birthday."

ARLINGTON Heights has been home to Mrs. Ihle since 1918. She is a charter member of local chapter 992, Order of the Eastern Star, and has been a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights since 1940. Among her many longtime friends are fellow members of the church's Ladies Aid Society.

Another local February birthday celebrant is Vicky Weidner, 1135 N. Dunton, who was 11 Saturday. She shared congratulations with Uncle Norbert Weidner, 921 N. Dunton, at a family dinner party in her home Saturday night. Uncle's birthday is tomorrow. Adding their "happys" 'round the party table were Vicky's grandmother, Mrs. Klages of Palatine, and Grandpa Weidner, also of 921 N. Dunton. A Valentine's Day motif in decorations and dessert made the celebration special for Vicky's two small sisters, too.

Luncheon guests in the Weidner home Monday were Mrs. Jacob Heinz and her children, here from South Dakota on a visit with suburban friends and relatives.

THE EARL RILEYS, 738 S. Mitchell, and the Arthur Nyquists, 714 S. Mitchell, are home again after vacationing together in Miami, Puerto Rico and New Orleans. They left just in time to avoid the recent subzero weather and flew home Sunday evening on the southerly wind that brought this week's "heat wave." The rest of their vacation was wonderful, too. They relaxed and rested in Miami, went sightseeing in Puerto Rico, and "did the town" with Mrs. Nyquist's relatives in New Orleans.

Mrs. Amanda Juhnke left xfriday for a visit in Rockford with her aunt, Mrs. Elvina Ritmueller, according to her daughter, Mrs. George Kendall, with whom she makes her home at 733 S. Dunton. "The girls," closer in age than most aunts and nieces, intend to use all the time necessary to catch up on their girl-talk and Mrs. Juhnke expects to be gone at least two weeks.

THE JACK GUILFOILS, 801 S. Chestnut, celebrated their 16th wedding anniversary Saturday evening with a dinner-out party for four. Joining them were the "groom's" brother and sister-in-law, the Dwight Guilfoils, 633 S. Burton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rocca, 117 S. Fernandez, enjoyed a Sunday visit with their son, Peter, who is studying for the priesthood in Sacred Heart Novitiate in Jordan, Minn. Accompanying them to Jordan was their daughter, Angie, sharing the joy of the family's first get-together since October.

Mrs. Milton Daniels, 805 N. Dunton, returned from a recent two-week vacation bringing multiple greetings to old friends here from five former Arlington Heights residents. She enjoyed a reunion with them during a Florida stay that was pleasantly interrupted with a five-day cruise to the Bahamas. Home base for the two weeks was the Miami home of her daughter and son-in-law, the Alan Roths, whose marriage was announced here early this year.

MRS. DANIELS' "Arlington Heights Day" was in the Boca Raton home of Mrs. George Schneberger, a longtime local resident before her move to the Sunshine State. Joining her were Mrs. George Hieber, Mrs. Marion Grigsby, Mrs. Nathaniel Carson and Mrs. John Hedberg, all veteran Arlington Heighters now in the Boca Raton area. Each asked Mrs. Daniels to convey her greetings to friends "back home."

Her cruise schedule allowed Mrs. Daniels a two-day stay in Nassau and a sightseeing tour of Grand Bahama Island. Rounding out a super-busy two weeks was a visit in West Palm Beach with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Daniels.

Neighbors and friends of the Kenneth Peterson family, 702 S. Highland, were sorry to hear of the recent death of Mrs. Peterson's father, John E. Anderson, in Westbrook, Minn. The Petersons returned from Westbrook early last week.

SOME BRIDGE groups save extra money in a "kitty" for special treats for the group. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Coobs, 401 Carlyle, belong to such a group. Last weekend gave the bridge players a special treat when they all went to Chicago to see "Hello Dolly." "It was a wonderful play and lived up to all my expectations," said Mrs. Coobs.

The other couples all from Arlington Heights who enjoyed the play are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grabow, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Korts and Mr. and Mrs. Hockstetler.

"If my grades aren't good, I'll be right home," declared Ted Koenig Jr., 343 Bristol, as he headed back to Indiana University after semester break. He is doing graduate work in business administration.

OLD FRIENDS were the recent houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Johnson, 309 Stratford. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bassett from Minocqua, Wis., stopped over at this Stonegate residence to renew old acquaintances before they took off to spend a month at Lake Worth, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Schreiber, 123 Brighton, have returned from a hurried trip to Philadelphia. It was a busy weekend of seeing many friends in this antique gathering section of the country.

"I had to be in Belleville for the Illinois State Bowling Tournament, and that is quite a trip from Detroit," explained Mrs. Burnier of 516 Fairview. "I didn't bowl as well as I should have. Maybe it was the long trip," she laughed. Mr. and Mrs. August Burnier went to Detroit for three days for the Teamsters Convention.

EIGHT SCHOOL friends played games and ate hot dogs to celebrate the ninth birthday of Jeffrey Scheck, 512 Banbury.

His brother, Greg, celebrated his 15th birthday Feb. 7 with a family dinner party.

Fred Kleisner, 602 Park, came back to Chicago on a field trip from Michigan State University, where he is a senior in the school of hotel and restaurant management. The 25 boys stayed at the Sheraton in Chicago and all were up at five in the morning to attend the produce market in the city.

They studied the art of buying table linens and sheets and tested coffee at the coffee houses. Fred's mother said, "We had the chance to see him a short time on Sunday but he was busy every minute and really enjoyed it." The boys are required to turn in a term paper on this trip.

The Steve Murphys, former residents of Arlington Heights, were dinner guests recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Martindell, 515 Arlington Heights Road. The Murphys now make their home in Benton Harbor.

"WE FINALLY HAD some good skiing," declared Mrs. Robert Maybe of 400 Park. During Christmas they went to Canada, but there wasn't any snow. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maybe spent a week at Indian Head in Upper Michigan recently and the skiing, according to Mrs. Maybe, was perfect. "We've been skiing now for three years and our children, 9 and 7, really enjoy this sport too, which makes our ski trips wonderful family vacations."

Ridgely Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jackson at 645 Belmont, was home recently from Wheaton Academy, where she is a sophomore. While home, she journeyed to Delafield, Wis. to attend the Military Ball at St. John Military Academy. Ridgely was a former Arlington High School student.

Sympathy is extended to Richard Lonergan, 832 S. Chestnut, on the death of his mother, Mrs. Mary Lewis Sills, in Springfield, Ohio, on Feb. 2.

Terry Shannon CLearbrook 3-3913

Arlington Greens

Abundant snow and ideal skiing weather in late January insured the success of a winter holiday for Ken and Jan Ullenius of E. Clarendon. Four-year-old Dobbie enjoyed her first attempt at the sport on Chestnut Mountain in the Galena area, along with swimming and other indoor attractions at the lodge, during their three-day stay. Two-year-old Danny visited grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Folke Ullenius in Chicago.

Grandfather Matthew Whalen of Derry, Pa., ended a six-week visit with his daughter and family, the Pete Johnsons of E. Olive, recently. He is now visiting a son and daughter and their families in California.

A belated birthday celebration on Jan. 29 observed the occasion for 17-year-old Clark Sims of E. Clarendon. Twenty-six friends and classmates were guests at the Saturday evening affair.

ANOTHER BIRTHDAY celebrant was 5-year-old Natalie Averil who observed the occasion Saturday with an afternoon party in her home on N. Hickory. Guests for partyfare with a Flintstone motif were Janet Radcliffe, Barbie Andrews, Kevin Bonner, Brad Larson, Eric Lundell and Mary Ellen Steffens.

Weekend guests in the Tony Bengal home on N. Haddow Court were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shearer of Geneseo.

On Saturday, the Bengal family attended the wedding of his sister, Mary Alice, and James Baier at St. Matthias Church in Chicago. Then they joined the hundred some guests at the afternoon reception at Hyatt House.

Mrs. Amanda Juhnke left xfriday for a visit in Rockford with her aunt, Mrs. Elvina Ritmueller, according to her daughter, Mrs. George Kendall, with whom she makes her home at 733 S. Dunton. "The girls," closer in age than most aunts and nieces, intend to use all the time necessary to catch up on their girl-talk and Mrs. Juhnke expects to be gone at least two weeks.

THE JACK GUILFOILS, 801 S. Chestnut, celebrated their 16th wedding anniversary Saturday evening with a dinner-out party for four. Joining them were the "groom's" brother and sister-in-law, the Dwight Guilfoils, 633 S. Burton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rocca, 117 S. Fernandez, enjoyed a Sunday visit with their son, Peter, who is studying for the priesthood in Sacred Heart Novitiate in Jordan, Minn. Accompanying them to Jordan was their daughter, Angie, sharing the joy of the family's first get-together since October.

Mrs. Milton Daniels, 805 N. Dunton, returned from a recent two-week vacation bringing multiple greetings to old friends here from five former Arlington Heights residents. She enjoyed a reunion with them during a Florida stay that was pleasantly interrupted with a five-day cruise to the Bahamas. Home base for the two weeks was the Miami home of her daughter and son-in-law, the Alan Roths, whose marriage was announced here early this year.

MRS. DANIELS' "Arlington Heights Day" was in the Boca Raton home of Mrs. George Schneberger, a longtime local resident before her move to the Sunshine State. Joining her were Mrs. George Hieber, Mrs. Marion Grigsby, Mrs. Nathaniel Carson and Mrs. John Hedberg, all veteran Arlington Heighters now in the Boca Raton area. Each asked Mrs. Daniels to convey her greetings to friends "back home."

Her cruise schedule allowed Mrs. Daniels a two-day stay in Nassau and a sightseeing tour of Grand Bahama Island. Rounding out a super-busy two weeks was a visit in West Palm Beach with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Daniels.

Neighbors and friends of the Kenneth Peterson family, 702 S. Highland, were sorry to hear of the recent death of Mrs. Peterson's father, John E. Anderson, in Westbrook, Minn. The Petersons returned from Westbrook early last week.

SOME BRIDGE groups save extra money in a "kitty" for special treats for the group. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Coobs, 401 Carlyle, belong to such a group. Last weekend gave the bridge players a special treat when they all went to Chicago to see "Hello Dolly." "It was a wonderful play and lived up to all my expectations," said Mrs. Coobs.

The other couples all from Arlington Heights who enjoyed the play are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grabow, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Korts and Mr. and Mrs. Hockstetler.

"If my grades aren't good, I'll be right home," declared Ted Koenig Jr., 343 Bristol, as he headed back to Indiana University after semester break. He is doing graduate work in business administration.

OLD FRIENDS were the recent houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Johnson, 309 Stratford. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bassett from Minocqua, Wis., stopped over at this Stonegate residence to renew old acquaintances before they took off to spend a month at Lake Worth, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Schreiber, 123 Brighton, have returned from a hurried trip to Philadelphia. It was a busy weekend of seeing many friends in this antique gathering section of the country.

"I had to be in Belleville for the Illinois State Bowling Tournament, and that is quite a trip from Detroit," explained Mrs. Burnier of 516 Fairview. "I didn't bowl as well as I should have. Maybe it was the long trip," she laughed. Mr. and Mrs. August Burnier went to Detroit for three days for the Teamsters Convention.

EIGHT SCHOOL friends played games and ate hot dogs to celebrate the ninth birthday of Jeffrey Scheck, 512 Banbury. His brother, Greg, celebrated his 15th birthday Feb. 7 with a family dinner party.

Fred Kleisner, 602 Park, came back to Chicago on a field trip from Michigan State University, where he is a senior in the school of hotel and restaurant management. The 25 boys stayed at the Sheraton in Chicago and all were up at five in the morning to attend the produce market in the city.

They studied the art of buying table linens and sheets and tested coffee at the coffee houses. Fred's mother said, "We had the chance to see him a short time on Sunday but he was busy every minute and really enjoyed it." The boys are required to turn in a term paper on this trip.

The Steve Murphys, former residents of Arlington Heights, were dinner guests recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Martindell, 515 Arlington Heights Road. The Murphys now make their home in Benton Harbor.

"WE FINALLY HAD some good skiing," declared Mrs. Robert Maybe of 400 Park. During Christmas they went to Canada, but there wasn't any snow. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maybe spent a week at Indian Head in Upper Michigan recently and the skiing, according to Mrs. Maybe, was perfect. "We've been skiing now for three years and our children, 9 and 7, really enjoy this sport too, which makes our ski trips wonderful family vacations."

Ridgely Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jackson at 645 Belmont, was home recently from Wheaton Academy, where she is a sophomore. While home, she journeyed to Delafield, Wis. to attend the Military Ball at St. John Military Academy. Ridgely was a former Arlington High School student.

Sympathy is extended to Richard Lonergan, 832 S. Chestnut, on the death of his mother, Mrs. Mary Lewis Sills, in Springfield, Ohio, on Feb. 2.

Abundant snow and ideal skiing weather in late January insured the success of a winter holiday for Ken and Jan Ullenius of E. Clarendon. Four-year-old Dobbie enjoyed her first attempt at the sport on Chestnut Mountain in the Galena area, along with swimming and other indoor attractions at the lodge, during their three-day stay. Two-year-old Danny visited grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Folke Ullenius in Chicago.

Grandfather Matthew Whalen of Derry, Pa., ended a six-week visit with his daughter and family, the Pete Johnsons of E. Olive, recently. He is now visiting a son and daughter and their families in California.

A belated birthday celebration on Jan. 29 observed the occasion for 17-year-old Clark Sims of E. Clarendon. Twenty-six friends and classmates were guests at the Saturday evening affair.

ANOTHER BIRTHDAY celebrant was 5-year-old Natalie Averil who observed the occasion Saturday with an afternoon party in her home on N. Hickory. Guests for partyfare with a Flintstone motif were Janet Radcliffe, Barbie Andrews, Kevin Bonner, Brad Larson, Eric Lundell and Mary Ellen Steffens.

Weekend guests in the Tony Bengal home on N. Haddow Court were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shearer of Geneseo.

On Saturday, the Bengal family attended the wedding of his sister, Mary Alice, and James Baier at St. Matthias Church in Chicago. Then they joined the hundred some guests at the afternoon reception at Hyatt House. (A

Mount Prospect Club Sets Point Standard

A new Mount Prospect Speed Skating Club team record of 39 points was scored last Saturday, when it traveled to neighboring Des Plaines Skating Club's first sponsored speed skating meet.

This Des Plaines curtain raiser enjoyed beginner's luck and was blessed with ideal weather but all other good conditions were due to the excellent planning of the host club.

The Prospect club did a good job of illustrating to the Des Plaines sponsors of speed skating what can be accomplished in a few short years. Two of its Prospect skaters skated off with individual championship trophies in the course of the program.

GARY JONLAND, skating in his first competition since winning the National crown in St. Paul, responded to the pressure of being a champion by winning the Juvenile boys award. Gary stroked his way to a thrilling finish in the 220 yard sprint, nosing out teammates John Audo and Tom Tangney who finished second and third. The half mile event found Gary being pushed all the way to the finish by teammates Bobby Knight, Tangney and Audo, who finished in that order. This gave Prospect a sweep of all four places.

Jim Zuckermandel earned his trophy by taking a first place in the two mile final. Jim scored in all three events in a closely matched field. No one skater was able to win more than a single event on their program.

Bob Haenisch narrowly missed matching the accomplishments of Jonland and Zuckermandel, finishing with two seconds for his days work. Tim Jilek made his contribution to the team effort by taking a fourth in the Junior boys half mile. To this Mary Cunningham, steady Junior girl skater, added an impressive third place finish in her final race.

IN CLASS B competition the Prospect Bantam Rooster team of boys continued in their domination of all Illinois competition. They were led by Tom Gunnah, Jim Tangney and Rich Vehe. However, Lee Hubbard, Neale Roberts and Andy Lindstrom, all wearing the red white and black of the Prospect team, joined in the final argument.

Pony boy John Guzzardo skated both final events in his class. Julie Cunningham, Bantam, took ribbon awards for her third and fourth place finishes. Graduating into the big time of competition was Suzzane Coffey, who by taking two firsts in her Pony class, has now advanced into the select circle of Class A competitors.

With no Illinois races scheduled this weekend it is expected that a number of the Prospect skaters may visit Minneapolis to compete in the Ten Thousand Lakes Meet, which always includes a sizable Canadian skating entry.

73 TB Cases Hospitalized From Northwest Area in '65

A total of 73 cases of TB were hospitalized from 22 northwest suburban towns at the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium District hospital last year.

Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, field director of the district, said provisional figures indicated a total of 52 new active cases of tuberculosis were found in those towns during the same period.

The largest number of new active cases, according to the provisional figures, came from Des Plaines, with nine, and Arlington Heights, with seven.

REFERRING TO THE recent outbreak of 14 cases of TB among children in a Detroit nursery school, Dr. Piszczek warned:

"TB is a contagious disease. If you have it, you can infect others. Many people besides teachers come in close contact with the public every day. They should be X-rayed every year." Illinois teachers and other school employes are required by law to be X-rayed annually.

Free chest X-rays are offered by the district at clinics in Forest Park, Park Ridge and Harvey.

"The facilities are available free and I urge all residents to take advantage of them," Dr. Piszczek said.

FOLLOWING IS the breakdown of new active cases according to provisional figures and patients hospitalized at the District sanitarium in 1965:

Arlington Heights — 7 new cases, 12 hospitalized; Des Plaines — 9 new cases, 12 hospitalized; Elk Grove — 1 new case, none hospitalized; Glenview — 3 new cases, 3 hospitalized; Harwood Heights — 3 new cases, 2 hospitalized; Hoffman Estates — 1 new case, none hospitalized; Lincolnwood — 3 new cases, 3 hospitalized; Morton Grove — 4 new cases, 6 hospitalized; Mount Prospect — 4 new cases, 5 hospitalized; Niles — 3 new cases, 4 hospitalized; Norridge — 3 new cases, 4 hospitalized; Northbrook — 1 new case, 2 hospitalized; Northfield — 1 hospitalized; Norwood Park—1 new case, none hospitalized; Palatine — 1 new case, 3 hospitalized; Park Ridge — 2 new cases, 2 hospitalized; Prospect Heights — 1 hospitalized; Rolling Meadows — 2 new cases, 3 hospitalized; Rosemont — 1 hospitalized; Skokie — 4 new cases, 5 hospitalized; Streamwood — 2 hospitalized; Wheeling — 2 hospitalized.

Land Valuation Challenged By School Board President

Disagreement with the valuation of a 186-acre tract of land proposed as a junior college site was voiced last week by Fred Downey, Schaumburg Township School Board president.

Downey took issue with figures applied to the land by Robert O. Atcher, Schaumburg Village president, who said the land will eventually be worth about $30 to $50 million in assessed valuation.

Downey questioned the reliability of Atcher's comment, as reported in the Herald Feb. 3, that the removal of the tract, which lies in the heart of a 3,200 acre area slated for future industrial development, would deprive the surrounding school districts of $30 - $50 million in assessed valuation.

ATCHER HAS expressed disappointment over the site on several counts and suggested use of an alternate piece of property which he feels is better suited to the total industrial development of the area.

Downey called the assessed valuation figures used by Atcher ridiculous and untrue and offered as a comparison the city of Chicago, which he said "has a total assessed valuation of only $10 billion."

Citing still another example, Downey referred to school district 59, which includes Centex Industrial Park, as having a total valuation of $138 million all inclusive.

Downey called the $30 - $50 million assessed valuation claim a "projection quite a few years off" adding that speculation on future valuation doesn't help the school district.

"It seems we have a lot of money and we don't," he said.

DOWNEY SAID that this appeared to be a case of one governmental body attempting to exercise veto power over the selection of a college site adding the question "Will we be next?"

"Press support of this concerns the school board," Downey said, referring to editorialization of another newspaper on statements made by Atcher.

Board member Robert Seelbach, said that while he shared Downey's comments with regard to the exaggerated assessed valuation figures, he felt that there was danger in the board president's statement.

"The fact remains," Seelbach said, "that the acreage is industrially zoned land now and this board has gone on record as being opposed to the change from taxable to tax-free land."

JOHN OVERTON, another school board member, expressed disagreement with Seelbach on the removal of this acreage from the tax-rolls.

Overton said he felt there was no site that would remove less land from the tax-rolls than the Golf and Meacham acreage.

"The cost of land right now gives a better indication of its ultimate worth than zoning," Overton commented.

Board member, Mrs. Virginia Hayter, expressed fear that the junior college might be completely lost to Schaumburg because of the animosity which has arisen. (B10

Teachers to Hear Kirby

John Kirby, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, will speak next Wednesday at a meeting sponsored by the Northwest Suburban Division of the Illinois Education Association.

Kirby will address the IEA division meeting at 8 p.m. in the Arlington High School's 350-seat Little Theater.

He has been asked to explain the provisions of the proposed revenue amendment, which voters will be asked to approve next November.

STANLEY JOHN, a member of the IEA legislative committee, said that Kirby is expected to stress three things in his talk:

—How the present proposed revenue amendment came about, and what amendments and proposed amendments — preceded it.

—What the amendment's provisions are.

—How the new revenue amendment, if approved, will affect the state's income picture.

In addition to teachers who are members of the northwest suburban IEA, the audience will include area superintendents, members of local boards of education, members of Parent-Teacher Association councils, and local PTA executive board members.

IN HEARING the revenue article discussed, the PTA people will be informing themselves on an issue they will be asked to take a stand on this spring at a state convention. At that state meeting they will be asked to go on record as supporting—or opposing—the proposed state constitutional amendment.

The Illinois Education Association, John said, already is on record as supporting the proposed revenue amendment, adopted by the General Assembly as HJR 71.

The IEA, John said, supports the proposed amendment as a means for implementing two of the education association's support positions. The IEA favors increasing bonding power of school districts and making it possible for the state to levy an income tax, both provisions of the proposed amendment.

Kirby has been assistant state superintendent since 1963. Presently assistant superintendent for legislation and inter-agency liaison, he was previously assigned to school finance and statistics.

Assistant county superintendent of schools in Sangamon County from 1961 to 1963, Kirby is a Korean War veteran and a graduate of Blackburn College and the University of Illinois. He has a master's degree in educational administration from the state university.

He was principal at two downstate schools — Tri-City High School and Williamsville — and was superintendent of the Williamsville School system from 1958-59. (B10

Preparations are now under way for another season of golf competition in the Tri-City Ladies league at Mount Prospect Country Club.

An organizational meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Vernon Moore, 125 We-Go, Mount Prospect, with 1966 play scheduled to begin May 3.

Watch these sports pages for additional details on the women's golf league.

Indoor Tourneys At Tennis Club

The Barrington Tennis Club announced this week that ladies' and men's indoor tennis doubles tournaments will be conducted in March with entries closing on February 20.

Entries will be divided into classes A, B and C for these championship events.

Anyone interested in entering should contact the manager and professional at the club, Steve Morgan, DU 1-2570, or Box 543, Barrington. If there is any doubt about the class to be entered, Morgan will be glad to assist in this decision or arrange for partners.

ASKED ABOUT the club activities, Morgan stated: "We are very pleased with the acceptance of the club as there are about 400 people playing on a regular weekly basis. We hope to develop more interest on the part of juniors and are looking forward to developing some special programs in addition to our class lessons to increase activities of all juniors through the high school age."

Morgan also advised that effective February 1 membership rates will be cut in half for the last half of the season's play. Men's memberships will be $27.50, ladies $11.00, juniors' $11.00, and family $55.00.

The Barrington Tennis Club is in its first year of operation, has four indoor courts, a pro shop with all the necessary supplies, a large lounge overlooking the courts, and locker and dressing room facilities for both men and women.

Pastors to Host Catholic Priests

Four area pastors will be among 100 Episcopalian clergy serving as hosts at a dinner on Feb. 17 for Chicago's Archbishop John Patrick Cody and 100 Catholic priests.

Bishop Gerald Francis Burrill of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago and his clergy will have Archbishop Cody and his priests as their guests in the Saddle and Sirloin Club.

AREA EPISCOPALIAN hosts are the Rev. Richard N. Warren, vicar of St. Hillary's Episcopal Church, Wheeling; the Rev. Sheldon B. Foote, rector of St. Philip's Episcopal Church, Palatine; the Rev. Jay W. Breisch, vicar of Holy Innocent's Episcopal Church, Hoffman Estates; and the Rev. Samuel N. Keys, vicar of St. Simon's Episcopal Church, Arlington Heights.

The dinner, which is being sponsored by the Episcopal Church's Commission on Ecumenical Affairs, will be entirely social, according to the Ven. J. Ralph Deppen, chairman of the Ecumenical Commission and Archdeacon of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago.

Welfare Council to Hear Officer Bopp

The Northwest Suburban Welfare Council monthly meeting scheduled for noon today (Thursday) at the Des Plaines YMCA will feature Juvenile Officer Joseph Bopp of the Mount Prospect Police Department.

Officer Bopp will discuss "The Role of the Juvenile Officer" in the suburbs and the need for coordination of suburban community resources. Bopp has been with the Mount Prospect Police Department for three years and is responsible for the coordination of the juvenile activities of the department.

THE NORTHWEST Suburban Welfare Council was established to develop a closer working relationship in communities of the northwest suburbs and their social, educational and welfare agencies. Also the council has, as a part of its purpose, the seeking out of unmet needs of the communities in Maine, Wheeling, Palatine, Hanover, Barrington, Elk Grove and Schaumburg Townships.

In addition to the council's education program, it also publishes a directory of official services for the northwest suburban area.

Officer Bopp is a graduate of the Chicago Police Academy program on "in service" training for juvenile officers and holds certificates in police courses from University of Illinois and the F.B.I. "in service" training service school. Bopp also attended DePauw University. (B-10

New Mental Health Series Under Way

The first of a series of weekly seminar meetings was held last week at the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic in Arlington Heights.

Taking part in this pioneer program were nine ministers from the area, including the Rev. Richard Ferris of Elk Grove Village, vice-president of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Association which sponsors the clinic.

Designed to assist ministers in their own pastoral counselling, the goals of the seminar are also to establish a better working relationship with ministers and to help them identify kinds of mental disorders which may need immediate referral to the clinic.

THIS SERIES, it is hoped, will eventually be enlarged to include other ministerial groups, according to LeRoy Marks, president of the association. Other professional groups, Marks says, will in the near future have their own seminars, also led by the medical director and members of the clinic staff.

The Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic is a non-profit, out-patient clinic serving Arlington Heights, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman - Schaumburg, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Wheeling, Buffalo Grove and their surrounding areas. (B10

Crown Handball Champs at 'Y'

Brian Falknor of Des Plaines and Frank Epstein of Mount Prospect won the 6th Annual Doubles Handball Tournament at the Northwest Suburban YMCA.

The champs set down four sets of opponents before emerging victorious in the final round. They defeated Robert Rumpsa and Chuck McClellan in the semi-finals by scores of 21-15, 21-18, and then came from behind to defeat Richard Craig and Stan Sitarz in the final match.

Falknor and Epstein join the list of previous winners, who include Richard Craig and George Wahlborg (1965); Bob Rumpsa and Bob Baker (1964); Richard Craig and Brian Falknor (1963); Stan Sitarz and Don Schmidt (1962) and Walt Hadley and Arnold Brenick (1961).

Ecumenical, Simultaneous

Four Baccalaureate Services Scheduled

Clergymen in the area served by High School District 214 have announced plans to sponsor four simultaneous baccalaureate services this June for graduating seniors.

Planned by clergymen of Episcopal, Catholic and Baptist churches, the same ecumenical service will be used at each location.

The service will be presented simultaneously the evening of June 5, a Sunday, at Arlington, Prospect, Forest View and Wheeling High Schools. Graduating seniors and their families will attend on a voluntary basis.

Churches in each community have been asked to underwrite the costs, which will primarily cover renting of school facilities and printing programs.

THE baccalaureate services will replace those formerly sponsored by High School District 214.

Acting on the advice of the American Association of School Administrators, the high school board voted last year to discontinue sponsorship of the religious services. Board members said they felt such services should be the responsibility of individual denominations, rather than public institutions. At that time they talked of offering free use of the school buildings.

When clergymen, students and parents protested, the District 214 board agreed to continue its sponsorship of the baccalaureate for one year more. The ministers asked that this be done so they would have time to plan adequately for taking over the joint services.

The three clergymen who planned next June's ecumenical services were Rev. Samuel N. Keys of St. Simon's Episcopal Church, Arlington Heights; Rev. Donald Fenske of St. Raymond's Catholic Church in Mount Prospect, and Rev. John DiGangi of the South Community Baptist Church, Mount Prospect.

THEY WERE PART of an eight-member committee chosen in March 1965, to represent the communities District 214 serves.

Other members of the clergy group were Rev. Rowland Koch, Congregational United Church of Christ, Arlington Heights; Rev. Albert W. Weidlich, Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, Prospect Heights; Rev. William Herman, Community Church of Rolling Meadows; Rev. George Ekstrom, Community Presbyterian Church of Wheeling, and Rev. Richard Ferris, Prince of Peace Methodist Church in Elk Grove Village.

Bruno Waara, Arlington High School principal, was recording secretary for the group which also included one representative of each high school's administrative staff. (ACM(E(K

Powerful Lawson YMCA, the unbeaten defending city champion, rolled past the Northwest 'Y' boys basketball team Saturday, 52-34.

The loss was the third in nine games for the Northwest Suburban entry.

The locals will host Elmhurst this Saturday. Gary Fairhead and Mark Browning paced a comeback for the Northwest team, but the talier Lawson squad pulled away.

Northwest toppled St. Paul's of Mount Prospect last week, 57-47, with Fairhead tossing in 16 points. Mark Browning and Ken Malcolmson had 15 and 14 respectively.

Northwest Boys Record 4th Win

The Northwest Suburban boys swimming team scored its fourth victory of the season last weekend, stopping the West Communities YMCA, 166-156.

There were several standouts in the triumph with Ivison setting a new pool record in the junior 100 backstroke.

Stoltz worked on two winning relays and also topped the 25 yard butterfly in cadet action. Beal swam on the two relays and he won the 25 yard breaststroke. Takata won the 25 yard backstroke and competed on one winning relay.

In midget competition the leaders were the Schlacks and Busse while Mottweiler and Evans paced the preps.

Reveal Plans for 7-Story Building

Plans for a seven-story apartment and office complex have been completed and groundbreaking will take place next month as the first step in revitalization of Arlington Heights' central business district.

A development group, headed by Joseph W. Bernstein, H. Myles Gordon and Norman Rudenberg, plans a luxury building on the site bordered by Eastman, Highland and St. James Streets, which was formerly occupied by St. Peter's Lutheran School.

THE FIREPROOF structure will house 23 two-bedroom apartments, 30 one-bedroom apartments and 12 studio apartments in addition to 21,000 square feet of office space in an attached three-story elevator building. The entire project will cost a total of $1.7 million.

The builders expect occupancy of the apartment building in October and possession will be given to the first tenant of the office building in August. Forty per cent of the office building has been leased to a major utility company. (A

Dick Anderson led the night's scoring and Arlington Park Sinclair with 27 points to win over Sellergren Sports, 65-54.

Chas. Klehm's Nursery routed Pure Oil 76-48, while the 45th Artillery Brigade took a forfeit win from the 755th Radar Squadron.

'Y' Gals Win 21st Straight

Jan Lesniak of Prospect Heights won three events in the midget division to pace the Northwest Suburban 'Y' girls swimming team to its 21st straight victory last weekend.

Jan set a pool record in the 25 yeard breastroke with a 19.2 clocking and also won the 100 yard individual medley and 25 yard backstroke as the powerful Northwest entry coasted, 261-64, past Indian Boundary.

One other record was broken by the area team. Pat Wollerman of Arlington Heights, Liz Tobin of Des Plaines, Cathy Rowe of Arlington, and Cathy Barale of Mount Prospect broke the 200 yeard medley relay pool record in the junior class with a 2:13.2 mark.

Gail Schlak of Des Plaines took the 25 yard freestyle and 25 yard butterfly in the cadet division, and Andy Sue Hibbs of Palatine tied a pool record in the 25 yeard butterfly for midgets. Miss Hibbs also won the 25 yard freestyle with a 15.0 effort.

The local Y team will travel to Glenbrook North High School to swim against the North Suburban Y in its next competition.

Forston, Harth Post Only Wins In Final Duals

Denny Forston and Mike Harth, two heavyweights who have each dropped only one match this season, scored the only victories last Saturday as St. Viator's wrestlers dropped decisions to St. Patrick of Chicago.

Forston posted a pin in the varsity division to run his streak to 11-1 for the season. Denny racked up eight pins in those 12 matches.

St. Patrick won the varsity meet, 43-5, to hand the Lions their 12th setback.

Harth, who had dropped his first match of the season in an earlier meeting with St. Pat's, rebounded this time for a 4-0 decision as the Lion frosh-sophs fell, 40-3.

The bouts with St. Patrick concluded the dual meet season for John Zid's squads. St. Viator will enter the district wrestling competition Friday at Forest View.

Wheeling Sophs Fall To Maine As Rally Fails

A fourth quarter rally wasn't enough for Wheeling's sophomore basketball team, as the Wildcats lost a 56-53 tingler to Maine West Saturday.

Maine had steadily built a lead over Gary Tjarks' five, until the Warriors led 50-37 after three quarters. Wheeling charged back with a 16-6 fourth period domination, but fell just short.

Phil Smith, on a contribution of seven field goals and two free throws, was high for the 'Cats with 16 points, but teammate Robin Melzer was just a point back.

The loss was the seventh for Wheeling, against four wins.

Crown 17 'Y' Mat Champions

Seventeen champions were crowned in three age groups Saturday in the Northwest Suburban YMCA wrestling tournament.

One hundred and eleven matches were staged and the program culminated four weeks of basic wrestling instruction at the Y.

Area champions in the competition for eight and nine-year-olds were Mike Prellberg of Arlington Heights, Glenn Johnson of Mount Prospect, and Steve Hoglund of Mount Prospect.

In the clss for 10 and 11-year-olds the area winners were Dick Newth of Arlington, John Layer of Mount Prospect, and Brian Bakk of Mount Prospect.

Mike Kozel and Don Trinan of Mount Prospect and Lonnie Adams of Arlington and Chuck Laurence of Wheeling won mat titles in the division for 12 and 13-year-olds.

Mount Prospect Club Sets Point Standard

A new Mount Prospect Speed Skating Club team record of 39 points was scored last Saturday, when it traveled to neighboring Des Plaines Skating Club's first sponsored speed skating meet.

This Des Plaines curtain raiser enjoyed beginner's luck and was blessed with ideal weather but all other good conditions were due to the excellent planning of the host club.

The Prospect club did a good job of illustrating to the Des Plaines sponsors of speed skating what can be accomplished in a few short years. Two of its Prospect skaters skated off with individual championship trophies in the course of the program.

GARY JONLAND, skating in his first competition since winning the National crown in St. Paul, responded to the pressure of being a champion by winning the Juvenile boys award. Gary stroked his way to a thrilling finish in the 220 yard sprint, nosing out teammates John Audo and Tom Tangney who finished second and third. The half mile event found Gary being pushed all the way to the finish by teammates Bobby Knight, Tangney and Audo, who finished in that order. This gave Prospect a sweep of all four places.

Jim Zuckermandel earned his trophy by taking a first place in the two mile final. Jim scored in all three events in a closely matched field. No one skater was able to win more than a single event on their program.

Bob Haenisch narrowly missed matching the accomplishments of Jonland and Zuckermandel, finishing with two seconds for his days work. Tim Jilek made his contribution to the team effort by taking a fourth in the Junior boys half mile. To this Mary Cunningham, steady Junior girl skater, added an impressive third place finish in her final race.

IN CLASS B competition the Prospect Bantam Rooster team of boys continued in their domination of all Illinois competition. They were led by Tom Gunnah, Jim Tangney and Rich Vehe. However, Lee Hubbard, Neale Roberts and Andy Lindstrom, all wearing the red white and black of the Prospect team, joined in the final argument.

Pony boy John Guzzardo skated both final events in his class. Julie Cunningham, Bantam, took ribbon awards for her third and fourth place finishes. Graduating into the big time of competition was Suzzane Coffey, who by taking two firsts in her Pony class, has now advanced into the select circle of Class A competitors.

With no Illinois races scheduled this weekend it is expected that a number of the Prospect skaters may visit Minneapolis to compete in the Ten Thousand Lakes Meet, which always includes a sizable Canadian skating entry.

73 TB Cases Hospitalized From Northwest Area in '65

A total of 73 cases of TB were hospitalized from 22 northwest suburban towns at the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium District hospital last year.

Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, field director of the district, said provisional figures indicated a total of 52 new active cases of tuberculosis were found in those towns during the same period.

The largest number of new active cases, according to the provisional figures, came from Des Plaines, with nine, and Arlington Heights, with seven.

REFERRING TO THE recent outbreak of 14 cases of TB among children in a Detroit nursery school, Dr. Piszczek warned:

"TB is a contagious disease. If you have it, you can infect others. Many people besides teachers come in close contact with the public every day. They should be X-rayed every year." Illinois teachers and other school employes are required by law to be X-rayed annually.

Free chest X-rays are offered by the district at clinics in Forest Park, Park Ridge and Harvey.

"The facilities are available free and I urge all residents to take advantage of them," Dr. Piszczek said.

FOLLOWING IS the breakdown of new active cases according to provisional figures and patients hospitalized at the District sanitarium in 1965:

Arlington Heights — 7 new cases, 12 hospitalized; Des Plaines — 9 new cases, 12 hospitalized; Elk Grove — 1 new case, none hospitalized; Glenview — 3 new cases, 3 hospitalized; Harwood Heights — 3 new cases, 2 hospitalized; Hoffman Estates — 1 new case, none hospitalized; Lincolnwood — 3 new cases, 3 hospitalized; Morton Grove — 4 new cases, 6 hospitalized; Mount Prospect — 4 new cases, 5 hospitalized; Niles — 3 new cases, 4 hospitalized; Norridge — 3 new cases, 4 hospitalized; Northbrook — 1 new case, 2 hospitalized; Northfield — 1 hospitalized; Norwood Park—1 new case, none hospitalized; Palatine — 1 new case, 3 hospitalized; Park Ridge — 2 new cases, 2 hospitalized; Prospect Heights — 1 hospitalized; Rolling Meadows — 2 new cases, 3 hospitalized; Rosemont — 1 hospitalized; Skokie — 4 new cases, 5 hospitalized; Streamwood — 2 hospitalized; Wheeling — 2 hospitalized.

Land Valuation Challenged By School Board President

Disagreement with the valuation of a 186-acre tract of land proposed as a junior college site was voiced last week by Fred Downey, Schaumburg Township School Board president.

Downey took issue with figures applied to the land by Robert O. Atcher, Schaumburg Village president, who said the land will eventually be worth about $30 to $50 million in assessed valuation.

Downey questioned the reliability of Atcher's comment, as reported in the Herald Feb. 3, that the removal of the tract, which lies in the heart of a 3,200 acre area slated for future industrial development, would deprive the surrounding school districts of $30 - $50 million in assessed valuation.

ATCHER HAS expressed disappointment over the site on several counts and suggested use of an alternate piece of property which he feels is better suited to the total industrial development of the area.

Downey called the assessed valuation figures used by Atcher ridiculous and untrue and offered as a comparison the city of Chicago, which he said "has a total assessed valuation of only $10 billion."

Citing still another example, Downey referred to school district 59, which includes Centex Industrial Park, as having a total valuation of $138 million all inclusive.

Downey called the $30 - $50 million assessed valuation claim a "projection quite a few years off" adding that speculation on future valuation doesn't help the school district.

"It seems we have a lot of money and we don't," he said.

DOWNEY SAID that this appeared to be a case of one governmental body attempting to exercise veto power over the selection of a college site adding the question "Will we be next?"

"Press support of this concerns the school board," Downey said, referring to editorialization of another newspaper on statements made by Atcher.

Board member Robert Seelbach, said that while he shared Downey's comments with regard to the exaggerated assessed valuation figures, he felt that there was danger in the board president's statement.

"The fact remains," Seelbach said, "that the acreage is industrially zoned land now and this board has gone on record as being opposed to the change from taxable to tax-free land."

JOHN OVERTON, another school board member, expressed disagreement with Seelbach on the removal of this acreage from the tax-rolls.

Overton said he felt there was no site that would remove less land from the tax-rolls than the Golf and Meacham acreage.

"The cost of land right now gives a better indication of its ultimate worth than zoning," Overton commented.

Board member, Mrs. Virginia Hayter, expressed fear that the junior college might be completely lost to Schaumburg because of the animosity which has arisen. (B10

Teachers to Hear Kirby

John Kirby, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, will speak next Wednesday at a meeting sponsored by the Northwest Suburban Division of the Illinois Education Association.

Kirby will address the IEA division meeting at 8 p.m. in the Arlington High School's 350-seat Little Theater.

He has been asked to explain the provisions of the proposed revenue amendment, which voters will be asked to approve next November.

STANLEY JOHN, a member of the IEA legislative committee, said that Kirby is expected to stress three things in his talk:

—How the present proposed revenue amendment came about, and what amendments and proposed amendments — preceded it.

—What the amendment's provisions are.

—How the new revenue amendment, if approved, will affect the state's income picture.

In addition to teachers who are members of the northwest suburban IEA, the audience will include area superintendents, members of local boards of education, members of Parent-Teacher Association councils, and local PTA executive board members.

IN HEARING the revenue article discussed, the PTA people will be informing themselves on an issue they will be asked to take a stand on this spring at a state convention. At that state meeting they will be asked to go on record as supporting—or opposing—the proposed state constitutional amendment.

The Illinois Education Association, John said, already is on record as supporting the proposed revenue amendment, adopted by the General Assembly as HJR 71.

The IEA, John said, supports the proposed amendment as a means for implementing two of the education association's support positions. The IEA favors increasing bonding power of school districts and making it possible for the state to levy an income tax, both provisions of the proposed amendment.

Kirby has been assistant state superintendent since 1963. Presently assistant superintendent for legislation and inter-agency liaison, he was previously assigned to school finance and statistics.

Assistant county superintendent of schools in Sangamon County from 1961 to 1963, Kirby is a Korean War veteran and a graduate of Blackburn College and the University of Illinois. He has a master's degree in educational administration from the state university.

He was principal at two downstate schools — Tri-City High School and Williamsville — and was superintendent of the Williamsville School system from 1958-59. (B10

We hope to develop more interest on the part of juniors and are looking forward to developing some special programs in addition to our class lessons to increase activities of all juniors through the high school age."

Morgan also advised that effective February 1 membership rates will be cut in half for the last half of the season's play. Men's memberships will be $27.50, ladies $11.00, juniors' $11.00, and family $55.00.

New Mental Health Series Under Way

The first of a series of weekly seminar meetings was held last week at the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic in Arlington Heights.

Taking part in this pioneer program were nine ministers from the area, including the Rev. Richard Ferris of Elk Grove Village, vice-president of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Association which sponsors the clinic.

Designed to assist ministers in their own pastoral counselling, the goals of the seminar are also to establish a better working relationship with ministers and to help them identify kinds of mental disorders which may need immediate referral to the clinic.

THIS SERIES, it is hoped, will eventually be enlarged to include other ministerial groups, according to LeRoy Marks, president of the association. Other professional groups, Marks says, will in the near future have their own seminars, also led by the medical director and members of the clinic staff.

The Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic is a non-profit, out-patient clinic serving Arlington Heights, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman - Schaumburg, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Wheeling, Buffalo Grove and their surrounding areas. (B10

Four Baccalaureate Services Scheduled

Clergymen in the area served by High School District 214 have announced plans to sponsor four simultaneous baccalaureate services this June for graduating seniors.

Planned by clergymen of Episcopal, Catholic and Baptist churches, the same ecumenical service will be used at each location.

The service will be presented simultaneously the evening of June 5, a Sunday, at Arlington, Prospect, Forest View and Wheeling High Schools. Graduating seniors and their families will attend on a voluntary basis.

Churches in each community have been asked to underwrite the costs, which will primarily cover renting of school facilities and printing programs.

THE baccalaureate services will replace those formerly sponsored by High School District 214.

Acting on the advice of the American Association of School Administrators, the high school board voted last year to discontinue sponsorship of the religious services. Board members said they felt such services should be the responsibility of individual denominations, rather than public institutions. At that time they talked of offering free use of the school buildings.

When clergymen, students and parents protested, the District 214 board agreed to continue its sponsorship of the baccalaureate for one year more. The ministers asked that this be done so they would have time to plan adequately for taking over the joint services.

The three clergymen who planned next June's ecumenical services were Rev. Samuel N. Keys of St. Simon's Episcopal Church, Arlington Heights; Rev. Donald Fenske of St. Raymond's Catholic Church in Mount Prospect, and Rev. John DiGangi of the South Community Baptist Church, Mount Prospect.

THEY WERE PART of an eight-member committee chosen in March 1965, to represent the communities District 214 serves.

Other members of the clergy group were Rev. Rowland Koch, Congregational United Church of Christ, Arlington Heights; Rev. Albert W. Weidlich, Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, Prospect Heights; Rev. William Herman, Community Church of Rolling Meadows; Rev. George Ekstrom, Community Presbyterian Church of Wheeling, and Rev. Richard Ferris, Prince of Peace Methodist Church in Elk Grove Village.

Bruno Waara, Arlington High School principal, was recording secretary for the group which also included one representative of each high school's administrative staff. (ACM(E(K

Newcomers to Ridge Park are Joseph and Maureen Ruane who moved from Chicago to 949 N. Ridge with their girls, Kathleen, 1½, and Sharon, 3 months. Joseph, with Peoples Gas for 15 years, is in programming.

An evening of bridge was enjoyed by the David Quills, 928 N. Ridge, when the William Kochs of Chicago visited them Jan. 29.

Despite the sub-zero weather Jan. 29, the Richard Lanzons, 814 N. Patton, James Ringels, 722 N. Ridge, and the George Wojtkiewiczs, 920 N. Ridge, went to Uncle Andy's Cow Palace for dinner and dancing.

The Vincent Cunningham's, 802 N. Harvard have returned from a rather disappointing vacation. Florida just wasn't what they expected. While their daughter, Donna, took charge of the other children at home, Vince and Lorraine took Linda with them on their trip. Because of the cool weather and the rain they were only able to play golf once and Lorraine managed to swim for half an hour. After three days of rain in Fort Myers, they decided to move further south. Unable to find warmer weather, they turned around and headed for home.

SUSAN BENOIT, daughter of the Jack Benoits, 913 N. Harvard, had an overnight guest, Kathy Dieter, to help her celebrate her Jan. 27 birthday.

On Jan. 29, there was a birthday and farewell party at 1012 N. Ridge, home of William and Ethel Lee. It was Maureen's second birthday and Billy was reporting in Des Plaines for the army Feb. 2. Guests included Billy's fiance, Kathy Rausch, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rausch of Palatine, Grandmothers Lee and Nebel and aunts and uncles.

MRS. ELMER Schmidt, 736 N. Ridge, had a surprise Jan. 29. When she answered her door, Dorothy Petersen, a friend she hadn't seen in more than 30 years dropped in for a visit. They had lost touch with one another.

At Gloria Ringel's home, Erna met Dorothy's daughter who lived down the street for the past 8 years. She knew this but had been unable to call her because she didn't know her married name. Erna introduced herself, so when Dorothy visited her daughter she paid a visit to Erna where they caught up on the news of the past years.

St. Valentine's was the theme of Margie Kelly's 10th birthday Jan. 28. Margie is the daughter of the J. Kellys, 828 N. Fernandez. Cindy Walsh, Lorrie and Susan Juhl, Laura Stebbins and Cindy Nolan were invited for ice cream and cake.

She flew there Jan. 20, as one of the 57 people in the Pacific Paradise Landowners Tour, to see the property she purchased in the Blacksand Beach Subdivision of Hilo, Hawaii. While there she visited Oahu, Maui, Molokai and Hawaii.

Spending eight days on Oahu gave her time to visit many of the places she has heard about. Her room in the Waikiki Grand Hotel in Honolulu enabled her to see Diamond Head from her window and she went to Waikiki Beach, Pearl Harbor and to a luau at the Queen's Surf. There was the Royal Hawaiian Hotel for dancing and a floor show and Duke Kahanamoko's in the International Village on Waikiki Beach. She went to the Hawaiian Village to the Tapa Room to see 300 pound Hilo Hattie do the hula; the Canlis Restaurant for dinner and a champagne party and the Conrad Hilton Hotel. She also visited the Lee Gablers, formerly of Arlington Heights who moved to Haneonoe, a suburb of Honolulu, seven years ago.

FROM THERE she went to Hilo, Hawaii for two days and stayed at the New Hilo Bay Hotel. It is so new it has no electricity yet. In Hilo, at the Hukilau, there was a luau, entertainment and dancing. There, too, she visited friends: the owners of the Honolulu newspaper, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Leong; Mr. and Mrs. John Smith from McHenry, and the Schillings from Roselle.

Lisa Owens, young daughter of the J. Benjamin Owens, 720 N. Patton, is home recuperating from surgery performed in Holy Family Hospital Feb. 3.

Tobogganing, ice skating, games, gabbing and skits were the order of the day on a cold winter weekend trip Jan. 29. Seven girls from Ridge Park and Sherwood braved the 23 below zero weather at Camp McLean, Wis. Trying to keep warm together were Marsha Bensinger, 945 N. Ridge, Peggy Cunningham, 802 N. Harvard, Karen Munsen, 736 N. Harvard, Jan Balfour, 1208 Northwest Hwy., Ellen Olson, 1219 Watling, Kathy Owens, 720 N. Patton, and Diana Dohrmann, 921 N. Salem.

Mrs. Beaver and her daughter, Beth, were also weekend guests.

Robert Von Boeckmann retruned to Northern Illinois University Jan. 30, after nearly two weeks at home with his parents, the Vernon H. Von Boeckmanns, 709 N. Fernandez.

Since then their other son, Bill, has celebrated his 16th birthday with a family dinner. Guests were his grandparents Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Maver, and uncles, aunt and cousins, Arthur Von Boeckmann and C. Horst family.

Mrs. Claire Bakowski, 716 N. Kennicott, and Mrs. Sophie Topp, 810 N. Kennicott, are now the proud possessors of trophies presented to them along with the rest of their bowling team, the Stewed Tomatoes. Jan. 30 they won first place in the Women's Paddock Bowling Tournament.

Richard Carlson, 1711 W. Oakton, is back at the University of Illinois after a weekend visit at home.

Every year Jeff and Mrs. McGentry's 11 other nieces and nephews are treated to lunch and a party and then to a play. This year they saw "Rapunzel and the Witch" at the Goodman's Children's Theatre. Schaumburg President Opposes College Site

Tax Base Threat Cited by Atcher

Schaumburg Village Pres. Robert O. Atcher this week claimed Junior College District 301 is endangering its and the grade and high school districts' tax base as a result of its choice of campus site.

Atcher believes the junior college can choose an equal alternate site not zoned for industrial development.

"A poor district in assessed valuation can only afford a poor college," Atcher said. He warned voters in all four townships will not permit a site with such enormous potential tax value as the Aribert Wild site adjacent to the northwest corner of Golf and Meacham Roads, to be taken from the tax rolls.

Atcher said any village welcomes a junior college but this particular site has too many disadvantages to the village and school districts. Professional planners value the 186 acres as having $30-50 million assessed valuation, according to Atcher.

In a release, Atcher based his opposition on eight major points.

1. Industrial tax valuation: Of the 144 square miles of Schaumburg, Palatine, Elk Grove and Wheeling townships in the junior college district, 11¼ square miles are available, zoned, or feasible for large scale industrial development. This falls slightly short of the 10 per cent professional planners consider desirable for total adequate tax base.

The 11¼ miles include six in the Schaumburg Industrial Park, 2½ in the Elk Grove Village Centex Industrial Park, one in the Milwaukee Road Park; one in Rolling Meadows Industrial Park; and about 3/4 of a square mile in the south Schaumburg industrial area.

In the remaining 132 3/4 square miles of area in the junior college district there is no other large parcel of land that is either zoned, planned, or feasible for industrial development. The remaining 132 3/4 square miles do, however, contain several sites available and suitable for construction of the junior college. Yet the junior college board has begun condemnation proceedings to acquire 186 acres of the small amount of industrial area available — and to remove that 186 acres, with its enormous projected tax valuation, from the tax rolls.

This seems to be a "grave disservice" to the taxpayers of Grade School District 54 and High School District 211, who currently pay approximately 3/4 of their real estate tax bills to the local school. It seems, further, to be a disservice to the entire junior college district, which also must look to a strong tax base to support the new junior college. This prospect is especially grave now that shortages of state funds may throw all, or nearly all, of the financing of the junior college onto the local district residents.

2. Commensurate Commercial Development Unlikely:

The loss of some $50 million in tax valuation to Schaumburg Township residents, and the High School District 211 as well, would be offset, over a period, by commercial development prompted by the existence of the junior college.

This is extremely unlikely for two reasons. A large commercial development is already committed and planned near the proposed junior college site. This is the Sears Roebuck shopping center. The junior college is being planned to serve day students from this four-township area, not resident students who would depend on local retailers for day to day needs.

3. Loss of Job Opportunities and Locally Spent Payrolls:

The portion the Schaumburg Industrial Park proposed to be removed from development by the junior college district would offer many thousands of jobs to local area people, either present or future residents. There could easily be 15,000 jobs in that area alone. At an average of $7,000 per year per job, that would total $105,000,000 per year in payroll which will never be spent in our local economy.

The Pure Oil Company for example, owns 200 acres, only 12½ per cent occupied with its building and parking lot. Room remains on their ground for eight such facilities. Pure's building is designed to accommodate 2,000 employes. There could be 16,000 jobs on two hundred acres if eight facilities were figured. This is only 19 acres more than the "Bert" Wild property.

Those eight buildings which could be put on the Pure Oil property would have an assessed valuation of approximately $32 million. This is in line with the figures used to demonstrate the loss in assessed valuation on the 186 acres. Too, Pure chose to build principally a one-story building. Schaumburg's codes in an industrial area allow a 45-foot height which would permit a four-story, or much more expensive building. So, on the same amount of land, the assessed valuation could well be approximately three times $32 million.

4. Alternate Sites Are Available In Schaumburg:

At least three other sites, feasible for construction and at substantially less cost to the taxpayers, are available in Schaumburg Township for the junior college. Furthermore, the choice of any one of these sites — all well situated to transportation, better actually than the disputed site if Interstate 90 builds by its present plans — would render a real service to taxpayers because all are residentially zoned properties which do not provide a tax asset.

5. Nearly A Third Of The Selected Site Is Flood Plain:

The "Bert" Wild property, which the junior college board seeks to acquire through condemnation, is only approximately two-thirds buildable without costly earth moving. Nearly one-third of that specific land was covered by water in the 1954 flood and the Metropolitan Sanitary District will not allow sewage pickup from any building built on the flood plains outlined in the map of the 1954 flood. Schaumburg too, does not allow building on this kind of land.

Big industry is accustomed to remaking land at high costs but junior colleges, with taxpayer revenue, are not.

The floor-plain problem does not exist on other sites available for the college in Schaumburg Township.

6. The "Bert" Wild Site Offers Real Traffic Problems To College:

No entrances or exits are planned at Golf Road for Interstate 90. Students and faculty would have to exit at Algonquin Road or Higgins Road. This means that college personnel and students would have to thread their way through the traffic generated by whatever industrial development salvaged by the park. In either case, Higgins or Algonquin, this means two and one-half to three miles by zig-zag route, through traffic, to reach the site from I-90.

7. Utilities Problem for Schaumburg:

Schaumburg could not have started the industrial park at the site without availability of sewer and water. To circumvent years of court battles with a private utility company already in the area, the village made an agreement with Wild to allow him to install the sewer mains, put in the well, the pumps, tank, and water mains. At completion, the village is to take them over. In lieu of cash or general obligation bonds, the payment to Wild will be in revenue bonds to be retired by the revenues from the systems.

By state statute, a village is authorized to go into the sewer and water utilities business anywhere within its boundaries at any time. A private individual or company cannot.

If the junior college board takes the Wild site, it will leave Schaumburg in the position of having invested $200,000 to $300,000 in a sewer and water system which will have a junior college as its principal customer. Schaumburg would have to pay to run long mains to distant areas in order to have the systems to serve the industry around the junior college.

The village cannot afford to furnish a facility for one principal "at-cost" customer. The transaction between the junior college board and Wild, if completed, would suggest that Schaumburg has been taken in by a "fairy tale."

One of the alternate sites available to the junior college is at Higgins Road (Route 72) and Meacham Road. A 10-inch water main is located at Golf Road and Meacham. It is .8 of a mile from that present main to the Meacham-Higgins site. That main could be put in for approximately $15,000. Sewer main could be run from that site to the interceptor at Plum Grove Road for approximately $40,000. For approximately $55,000, the college could be located on residentially zoned land. This would save the industrial district, give the junior college (and Lexington Fields) sewer and water, and at the same time, open up several hundred more acres for development.

8. Professional Versus Amateur Planners:

Schaumburg has worked for years and spent thousands of dollars for the professionally planned master plan. The planners and Schaumburg Plan Commission agreed the site of the industrial park was best because it met more of the needs of industry than other sites in the northwest suburban areas. Schaumburg's professional planners believe the highest and best use of the land is for industry.

Dr. Robert Lahti, college president, appeared to admit some of Schaumburg's objections had merit. He arranged a meeting with the college board on this basis. It appears one board member is primarily responsible for the decision to take this site. (B10

Marge's to Occupy Emerald Location

Marge's Apparel Sample Shop will move to the former site of the Emerald Shop, 10 N. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights, on March 1.

"We plan to open there March 1 and have a grand opening on March 5," said Marge LeMeilleur, president. The Sample Shop is presently located at 15 E. Miner St.

"We will have about three times our present space in the new location."

THE EMERALD Shop, which has one of the prime downtown business locations, announced last month it was going out of business after 40 years.

Marge's has been in business only two years but has experienced rapid growth. Mrs. LeMeilleur attributed that to its unusual merchandising approach.

"We sell manufacturers' sample garments — hand made garments of the finest domestic and imported fabrics, sold below cost."

The store will retain that sample - store character, she said, though more manufacturers will be added to the present list of 34 sample lines. "We will also be able to increase the display space and the number of garment sizes."

The store employs 10 women part-time. "Most are friends and neighbors who have helped to make this a success. All live in Arlington Heights, and are active in civic groups."

The store on occasion holds fashion shows for charitable organizations, and sales girls donate their time as models.

THE LeMEILLEURS came to Arlington Heights from Texas nine years ago. They live at 1009 W. Miner St. Her husband, R. W., is secretary-treasurer of the firm, and his father L. N. LeMeilleur, Houston, is vice president.

Manager of the store is Marcy Micek, whose daughter Pat, an Arlington High School senior, also is employed there.

Mrs. LeMeilleur has been connected with garment manufacturers for about 25 years and formerly was a representative for several New York manufacturers.

Store hours in the new location will remain 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday; from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday; and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

Panel to Discuss 'Politics and Press'

"Politics and the Press" will be the theme of the monthly meeting of the Wheeling Township Regular Republican Club next Thursday.

A panel of local newspaper executives and reporters will discuss their reporting and public service policies in regard to local government, schools and national political party activities in the suburbs.

Members of the panel include Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications, which has suburban newspapers throughout the northwest suburbs, and representatives of two Field Enterprises subsidiaries. They are John Reddy, suburban reporter for the Chicago Sun-Times and former reporter for Paddock Publications, and Frank Von Arx, news editor of the Arlington Day.

INVITATIONS ALSO have been issued to Prospect Publications, publishers of the Mount Prospect News and the Arlington Heights News, both weekly non-subscription newspapers: and to the Independent Newspapers, weekly publishers of the Arlington Heights, Wheeling, and Mount Prospect Independents.

Moderator for the panel will be Albert J. Miller, the club's education chairman. The meeting will be held at the VFW Hall, Yale and Northwest Highway, and is open to the public. Thomas W. Novotny, club president, emphasized that the club meetings will start at 8:30 p.m.

Several committee chairman appointments have been announced by Novotny. Those previously made public are: membership, Edward Welflin of Wheeling; civic affairs, A. R. McIntyre, Wheeling; and ways and means, John Gillen, Arlington Heights.

Robert Cagann of Arlington Heights has accepted the post of program chairman. Cagann is a Wheeling Township auditor.

THE BUDGET chairman, who will work closely with the ways and means committee, is Wayland Buchholz of Wheeling. Buchholz is the newly-elected president of the Wheeling Township Republican Workshop.

Serving as special projects chairman will be Richard Forrest of Mount Prospect. This committee handles such assignments as the recent successful "Toys for Can-Gio" drive, which resulted in shipment of toys for each of the 3,500 children in that sector of Viet Nam. The project was jointly conducted by all Republican clubs in the township. (ACM

Schools to Renew Bid For Learning Clinic Aid

A federal aid proposal, to establish a four - townships diagnostic learning clinic, will be submitted by Arlington Heights Elementary District 25.

The proposal, previously rejected when it was submitted by High School District 214, has been revised slightly.

District 25 Supt. R. E. Clabaugh told his board Monday the grade and high schools met with state and federal officials after the project was vetoed in Washington, and they were advised to resubmit it, with minor revisions and a "more fully developed" budget.

"SINCE DISTRICT 214 already has an approved project," Clabaugh said, "and the diagnostic learning clinic was initially planned by District 25, it seems most logical for District 25 to submit the proposal as the applying agency for the four-township area. We have asked each of the schools who participated in the original planning to officially re-endorse the proposal."

Clabaugh said the center would be housed in the current Arlington Heights Memorial Library building when District 25 acquires it.

Board members voted 7 to 0 for the project.

Not so on a second federal aid proposal to endorse a program initiated by Palatine District 15. Board Member Theodore Seiler gave a long dissenting argument on that proposal and cast the lone "no" vote.

IT WILL, if approved, provide a center for the development of an outdoor education program in cooperation with the forest preserve district. Seiler said he was not convinced the use of federal funds in the center was necessary.

On Clabaugh's recommendation, the board voted 7 to 0 not to participate in another program proposed by District 15. That program would be "for planning an afternoon and evening program of academic and cultural opportunities."

Clabaugh said he did not feel the proposal reflected the needs of District 25, and board members agreed.

All three programs under discussion are eligible for federal grants under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. (A

Elk Grove Principal To Arlington School

The principal of an Elk Grove Village school Monday was named principal of a new Arlington Heights school that received a citation for its architecture.

Jean Griffith, 36 Woodcrest, Elk Grove Village, will become the principal of the Elk Grove District 59 Juliette Low School in the Surrey Ridge subdivision of Arlington Heights. She has been principal of Grant Wood School since its opening in September, 1964.

Mrs. Griffith was one of the originators of the team teaching approach in Elk Grove District 59 when she taught at Rupley School. The new Juliette Low School that opens in September is designed architecturally to accommodate team teaching and an independent learning center.

THE MOTHER of two children and an Elk Grove Village resident, Mrs. Griffith has a bachelor's degree from the University of Iowa and a master's degree from the National College of Education. She has been in the district since 1959 when she taught fifth grade, first grade and kindergarten levels.

Mrs. Griffith was chosen because of her experience as an administrator with knowledge of the kind of educational plan the Low school will use. The district administration also prefers to have a principal live outside the community in which the school is located.

Kay Maun, teacher and learning center director of the Brentwood School in Des Plaines, will replace Mrs. Griffith as principal at Grant Wood School. Before joining District 59 in 1964, Mrs. Maun taught in Arlington Heights. (A

President's Committee

Arlington Heights Man Is Named to Employment Post

A 43-year-old paraplegic, disabled during World War II, has been named vice chairman of the employer committee of President Johnson's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

Dwight D. Guilfoil Jr., 633 S. Burton Place, Arlington Heights, is co-founder and president of Paraplegics Manufacturing Co., Inc., Bensenville.

Employer of a large number of handicapped persons, his company specializes in electrical and mechanical assembly. He was named Handicapped American of the Year in 1959.

By his own example, over the years, he has convinced other employers of the soundness of hiring handicapped persons. He believes "it is good business."

GUILFOIL'S experience in opening up increased oportunities for disabled workers brought him to the attention of the committee, whose purpose is to promote the greater acceptance of the handicapped by employers in business and industry.

He has been confined to a wheelchair since 1943, when he contracted spinal meningitis and polio while serving as an aerial photographer in the U. S. Air Force.

The Paraplegics Manufacturing Co., founded in 1950, is located in York Road near Chicago's O'Hare International Airport.

It is a primary sub-contractor to the electronic, communication, aircraft and graphic arts industries.

Most of the employes are physically handicapped, but are expert at wiring and assembling electronic equipment, industrial controls, alarm devices, missile components and a variety of electro-mechanical sub-assemblies.

THE FATHER of eight children, the former commercial artist also is vice president and director of the Brett Die Supply Corp., Oak Park.

Other organizations he heads are the U. S. Wheelchair Sports Fund, Inc.; Door, Inc., (mentally retarded workshop); National Paraplegia Foundation; and Valiant Development Assn.

He is associate director of the military procurement advisory committee for the United States Senate.

"Chicago Father of the Year" in 1953, he was named "Mr. Illinois" the same year. In 1957, he was one of the "Ten Outstanding Young Men of the United States." (A

Two Persons Are Charged In Burglary

Arlington Heights police have arrested two persons in connection with the burglary of Monaco Drugs, 1828 N. Arlington Heights Road, last Jan. 6.

Burglars netted $1,253 in cash and $2,438 worth of goods in the breakin.

Arrested were Lewis W. Fett, 20, Rosemont, and Mrs. Laveda Madsen, 25, of 1823 Park Place, Buffalo Grove. A second man, whom police said was implicated by Fett, was being held in Cook County Jail for Missouri officials on a charge there.

FETT SAID the burglary was committed to get funds to release Duane Madsen from a Seymour, Ind., jail, according to police.

The store was looted after the druggist, Harold Spielburg, was accosted outside the Madsen home where he had made a delivery. Spielburg was taken for a ride at gunpoint by one man while another looted the store.

Surety Bond Okayed For Town Collector

A surety bond covering Wheeling Township Tax Collector Mrs. Marjorie Annen Carter was approved by the township auditors at their monthly meeting last week.

Mrs. Carter will be bonded for approximately $1¼ million by Kehe, Foy and Snelton Insurance Agency of Arlington Heights whose premium of $1,844 for a one year period was the lowest of four quoted.

Other agencies who offered to provide the surety bond and their premiums were Committee of Insurance Brokers of Arlington Heights, $2,778; Ken Gallagher Agency, $2,439; and Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Co., $1,961.

The $1¼ million bond for Mrs. Carter satisfies a state law requiring that township tax collectors be bonded for a sum equal to 10 per cent of the largest amount of taxes collected in any year during the preceding five years. Mrs. Carter handled about $12 million in tax money last year.

Schaumburg President Opposes College Site

Tax Base Threat Cited by Atcher

Schaumburg Village Pres. Robert O. Atcher this week claimed Junior College District 301 is endangering its and the grade and high school districts' tax base as a result of its choice of campus site.

Atcher believes the junior college can choose an equal alternate site not zoned for industrial development.

"A poor district in assessed valuation can only afford a poor college," Atcher said. He warned voters in all four townships will not permit a site with such enormous potential tax value as the Aribert Wild site adjacent to the northwest corner of Golf and Meacham Roads, to be taken from the tax rolls.

Atcher said any village welcomes a junior college but this particular site has too many disadvantages to the village and school districts. Professional planners value the 186 acres as having $30-50 million assessed valuation, according to Atcher.

In a release, Atcher based his opposition on eight major points.

1. Industrial tax valuation: Of the 144 square miles of Schaumburg, Palatine, Elk Grove and Wheeling townships in the junior college district, 11¼ square miles are available, zoned, or feasible for large scale industrial development. This falls slightly short of the 10 per cent professional planners consider desirable for total adequate tax base.

The 11¼ miles include six in the Schaumburg Industrial Park, 2½ in the Elk Grove Village Centex Industrial Park, one in the Milwaukee Road Park; one in Rolling Meadows Industrial Park; and about 3/4 of a square mile in the south Schaumburg industrial area.

In the remaining 132 3/4 square miles of area in the junior college district there is no other large parcel of land that is either zoned, planned, or feasible for industrial development. The remaining 132 3/4 square miles do, however, contain several sites available and suitable for construction of the junior college. Yet the junior college board has begun condemnation proceedings to acquire 186 acres of the small amount of industrial area available — and to remove that 186 acres, with its enormous projected tax valuation, from the tax rolls.

This seems to be a "grave disservice" to the taxpayers of Grade School District 54 and High School District 211, who currently pay approximately 3/4 of their real estate tax bills to the local school. It seems, further, to be a disservice to the entire junior college district, which also must look to a strong tax base to support the new junior college. This prospect is especially grave now that shortages of state funds may throw all, or nearly all, of the financing of the junior college onto the local district residents.

2. Commensurate Commercial Development Unlikely:

The loss of some $50 million in tax valuation to Schaumburg Township residents, and the High School District 211 as well, would be offset, over a period, by commercial development prompted by the existence of the junior college.

This is extremely unlikely for two reasons. A large commercial development is already committed and planned near the proposed junior college site. This is the Sears Roebuck shopping center. The junior college is being planned to serve day students from this four-township area, not resident students who would depend on local retailers for day to day needs.

3. Loss of Job Opportunities and Locally Spent Payrolls:

The portion the Schaumburg Industrial Park proposed to be removed from development by the junior college district would offer many thousands of jobs to local area people, either present or future residents. There could easily be 15,000 jobs in that area alone. At an average of $7,000 per year per job, that would total $105,000,000 per year in payroll which will never be spent in our local economy.

Elk Grove Principal To Arlington School

The principal of an Elk Grove Village school Monday was named principal of a new Arlington Heights school that received a citation for its architecture.

Jean Griffith, 36 Woodcrest, Elk Grove Village, will become the principal of the Elk Grove District 59 Juliette Low School in the Surrey Ridge subdivision of Arlington Heights. She has been principal of Grant Wood School since its opening in September, 1964.

Mrs. Griffith was one of the originators of the team teaching approach in Elk Grove District 59 when she taught at Rupley School. The new Juliette Low School that opens in September is designed architecturally to accommodate team teaching and an independent learning center.

THE MOTHER of two children and an Elk Grove Village resident, Mrs. Griffith has a bachelor's degree from the University of Iowa and a master's degree from the National College of Education. She has been in the district since 1959 when she taught fifth grade, first grade and kindergarten levels.

Mrs. Griffith was chosen because of her experience as an administrator with knowledge of the kind of educational plan the Low school will use. The district administration also prefers to have a principal live outside the community in which the school is located.

Kay Maun, teacher and learning center director of the Brentwood School in Des Plaines, will replace Mrs. Griffith as principal at Grant Wood School. Before joining District 59 in 1964, Mrs. Maun taught in Arlington Heights. (A

"Politics and the Press" will be the theme of the monthly meeting of the Wheeling Township Regular Republican Club next Thursday.

A panel of local newspaper executives and reporters will discuss their reporting and public service policies in regard to local government, schools and national political party activities in the suburbs.

Members of the panel include Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications, which has suburban newspapers throughout the northwest suburbs, and representatives of two Field Enterprises subsidiaries. They are John Reddy, suburban reporter for the Chicago Sun-Times and former reporter for Paddock Publications, and Frank Von Arx, news editor of the Arlington Day.

INVITATIONS ALSO have been issued to Prospect Publications, publishers of the Mount Prospect News and the Arlington Heights News, both weekly non-subscription newspapers; and to the Independent Newspapers, weekly publishers of the Arlington Heights, Wheeling, and Mount Prospect Independents.

Moderator for the panel will be Albert J. Miller, the club's education chairman. The meeting will be held at the VFW Hall, Yale and Northwest Highway, and is open to the public. Thomas W. Novotny, club president, emphasized that the club meetings will start at 8:30 p.m.

Several committee chairman appointments have been announced by Novotny. Those previously made public are: membership, Edward Welflin of Wheeling; civic affairs, A. R. McIntyre, Wheeling; and ways and means, John Gillen, Arlington Heights.

Robert Cagann of Arlington Heights has accepted the post of program chairman. Cagann is a Wheeling Township auditor.

THE BUDGET chairman, who will work closely with the ways and means committee, is Wayland Buchholz of Wheeling. Buchholz is the newly-elected president of the Wheeling Township Republican Workshop.

Serving as special projects chairman will be Richard Forrest of Mount Prospect. This committee handles such assignments as the recent successful "Toys for Can-Gio" drive, which resulted in shipment of toys for each of the 3,500 children in that sector of Viet Nam. The project was jointly conducted by all Republican clubs in the township. (ACM

A surety bond covering Wheeling Township Tax Collector Mrs. Marjorie Annen Carter was approved by the township auditors at their monthly meeting last week.

Mrs. Carter will be bonded for approximately $1¼ million by Kehe, Foy and Snelton Insurance Agency of Arlington Heights whose premium of $1,844 for a one year period was the lowest of four quoted.

Other agencies who offered to provide the surety bond and their premiums were Committee of Insurance Brokers of Arlington Heights, $2,778; Ken Gallagher Agency, $2,439; and Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Co., $1,961.

The $1¼ million bond for Mrs. Carter satisfies a state law requiring that township tax collectors be bonded for a sum equal to 10 per cent of the largest amount of taxes collected in any year during the preceding five years. Mrs. Carter handled about $12 million in tax money last year.

Two Persons Are Charged In Burglary

Arlington Heights police have arrested two persons in connection with the burglary of Monaco Drugs, 1828 N. Arlington Heights Road, last Jan. 6.

Burglars netted $1,253 in cash and $2,438 worth of goods in the breakin.

Arrested were Lewis W. Fett, 20, Rosemont, and Mrs. Laveda Madsen, 25, of 1823 Park Place, Buffalo Grove. A second man, whom police said was implicated by Fett, was being held in Cook County Jail for Missouri officials on a charge there.

FETT SAID the burglary was committed to get funds to release Duane Madsen from a Seymour, Ind., jail, according to police.

The store was looted after the druggist, Harold Spielburg, was accosted outside the Madsen home where he had made a delivery. Spielburg was taken for a ride at gunpoint by one man while another looted the store.

Welfare Reports Offered by League

As part of a four-year study of welfare services for children in Illinois, the League of Women Voters is offering two new publications. They cover two areas of welfare, birth control and the Illinois Youth Commission.

"Family Planning Services for the A.F.D.C. Mother" provides background information and the latest available data concerning the birth control programs in Illinois. Related problems of illegitimacy and dependency are put in their proper perspective, and costs and future savings to the taxpayer are indicated.

A THOROUGH discussion of the implementation, both in Cook County and downstate, of the new public policy on birth control is presented. The assembling of all these facts plus a look at national trends and programs provides a complete, up-to-date picture of the current situation.

The role and responsibilities of the Illinois Youth Commission are presented in "Youth Corrections — Illinois: Pattern, Problems, Potential." Findings of the Governor's Survey Committee are used as a backdrop against which to measure the accomplishments of the youth commission.

Many of the necessary changes which have already been accomplished are discussed as well as those which still need to be effected.

EXAMPLES OF those situations to which attention must be given are: the ineffective program at Sheridan, the tremendous overcrowding at all institutions, the lack of a four-year supervised and certified high school program, and the lack of proper facilities and treatment programs for emotionally disturbed young persons committed to the Illinois Youth Commission.

Each of these publications sells for 15 cents and may be ordered from the local publications chairman, Mrs. John Muller, or by purchased at the office of the LWV, 67 E. Madison St., Chicago. Add 10 cents for tax, postage and handling for each set. Other League publications on welfare are also available. (ACME

New Voter Service Chairman Is Named

Mrs. W. F. Marier says her husband can blame the Great Books movement if she's too busy with League of Women Voters work this spring.

Mrs. Marier, who has just been named voter service chairman for the local LWV, calls her present interest in the nonpartisan organization a "logical outgrowth" of years in Great Books groups.

"I turned to the league to put into practice the ideals developed through Great Books. I particularly like the stress league puts on action based on thorough study of the facts," she says.

A RELATIVE newcomer in the area herself, Mrs. Marier is planning as one of her first voter service projects a series of new resident coffees offering information on local government. The coffees will begin in March and the LWV leader says she is already collecting names of interested persons. Persons wishing to attend the coffees can contact her at 392-5648.

Mrs. Marier's appointment as voter service chairman was announced this week by Mrs. Frank Moore, local LWV president. She replaces Mrs. Donald Krezek, who has moved to Tucson, Ariz.

Active here on the metropolitan problems committee, Mrs. Marier moved to Arlington Heights from the Pittsburgh, Pa., area. As a member of the Mt. Lebanon, Pa., league she worked on judicial reform and constitutional revision action projects and had just been named apportionment study chairman when her husband's transfer came.

Since last fall the Mariers have resided at 437 S. Windsor Drive in Stonegate. A commuter to Chicago, Mr. Marier is domestic sales manager for Cherry-Burrell Corp. The couple's children are 12 and 6 years old. ACME

Young Mom Finds Time for Gardening, Clubs

Achieves Goal of Flower Show Judge

by Pat Adam
Suburban Living Editor

With a home, two children and a husband to care for and a third baby on the way Mrs. William Wermes of Hoffman Estates understandably could be taking life slow and easy these wintry days.

But Joanmarie Wermes is interested in too many things, gardening for one.

So, though she admits to less pep than usual, the pert, dark-haired young homemaker keeps active—as president of the Hoffman Estates Woman's Club, as an enthusiastic member of its gardening and gourmet cooking interest groups, as membership chairman of the Home Gardeners of Roselle and as a guild member at St. Hubert's Catholic Church.

Just before Christmas, Joanmarie added another activity to the list. She received her certificate as a nationally accredited flower show judge, the reward for more than two years of study and winning blue ribbons. She has yet to judge her first show as an accredited judge, and she probably won't till May or June, but that doesn't dampen the thrill and satisfaction the young homemaker feels at knowing she has achieved the goal she set for herself several years ago.

JOANMARIE'S interest in gardening dates to childhood days in Elmhurst.

"My father gardened," she explained, "and he always gave me seeds to plant."

Married not quite seven years, Joanmarie and Bill Wermes moved to their Hoffman Estates home in 1960, and the enthusiastic new homeowner immediately planted flowers and shrubs around the exterior of her brick and frame house. She put in tulips first because they were easiest to plant, Joanmarie recalled.

At first the eager, young gardener planted mostly perennials, but she soon learned these bloomed only about two weeks and then their flowers were gone. So now she plants plenty of annuals so she can have cut flowers all during the growing season.

"I TRY TO plant something new each year," she said.

Lessons given by a nationally accredited flower show judge to her Woman's Club gardening interest group stimulated Joanmarie's interest in becoming a judge. She began attending the twice-yearly courses offered in the Chicago Loop by the Illinois Federation of Garden Clubs.

To qualify as a judge one must attend five of these courses, covering flower show practice, horticulture and flower arranging, plus actual practice judging. A test is given at the end of each course. A candidate also must win five blue ribbons in flower shows with no more than two from the same show, and she must serve as a student judge in five shows. There is also some required reading. After all that, the applicant must take and pass a 100-question test.

BETWEEN THE time she began working toward certification and completion of the requirements, Joanmarie gave birth to Billy, 4, and Bonnie, 19 months. It wasn't easy to tend to her family and still travel to the Loop for three consecutive days of classes and tests. But Joanmarie was determined to finish what she'd started.

Fortunately, she belongs to a babysitting club and was sure of a sitter each time she had to travel downtown. Her youngsters didn't mind her absence because they were with a sitter they knew, and there usually were playmates. For naps, Joanmarie sent along a portable crib to the sitter's house.

The required blue ribbons Joanmarie won for her parsley horticulture entry and an abstract floral arrangement in a Lombard show, a blooming succulent specimen at a Bellwood show, a sedum specimen in competition at Downers Grove and a flower arrangement in a Japanese hibachi at Long Lake. In that Lombard show she garnered a total of five blue ribbons plus two red ones, but she could count only two of the blues toward her certificate.

JOANMARIE LIKES everything about gardening but says she gets the most enjoyment from arranging flowers. She always has at least a couple around the house. This presents no problem in spring, summer and fall, but winter arrangements are more of a challenge. Most everything has to be dried for winter arrangements, she explained, and dried materials, mainly grays and browns, are still fall colors. They also begin to disintegrate in the winter dryness.

The busy young homemaker's job as president of the Hoffman Estates Woman's Club involves at least two meetings each month, the board get-together plus the regular club meeting. Her term of office ends in May, and Joanmarie is keeping her fingers crossed that she'll be around for installation of the new board. Her new baby is due about then.

However, she doesn't anticipate slowing down much after arrival of her third child.

"I DON'T LIKE to leave my children when they're still tiny so I probably will have to miss a few meetings," she remarked. "But I expect to stay active."

Staying active includes her interest in cooking, particularly gourmet cooking.

"I love to cook, but the trouble with cooking is that you have to taste everything," she laughed.

Among her culinary skills, Joanmarie lists breadbaking.

"But I don't bake too often. We're constantly on a diet around here," she confessed.

Recalling the many times she watched her grandmother bake bread, Joanmarie disclosed that she inherited her grandmother's "lucky" bread pans—her bread never failed—but not the recipe.

"SHE USED A pinch of this and a pinch of that and kept adding flour until the dough was right, but nobody ever wrote down the quantities."

Also a collector of recipe books, the young clubwoman has some that belonged to her grandmother. She admits she's an avid recipe clipper, too.

Joanmarie worked hard to earn the right to judge flower shows, but she can't rest on her laurels. To retain her certificate she must take a refresher course within a three-year time limit, judge in at least six shows and exhibit in a minimum of five, though she doesn't have to win any blue ribbons. With her enthusiasm, however, chances are, she will.

St. Alexius Hospital Auxiliary Is New Name

"Our name may have changed but our purpose is the same." With this statement, Alexian Brothers Hospital Auxiliary announces the change in its name to St. Alexius Hospital Auxiliary.

At the annual meeting held Jan. 20 at Itasca Village Hall, the general membership of the auxiliary made this decision in keeping with the change in the hospital's name. This was done to avoid confusion that has existed because of Alexian Brothers Hospital in Chicago.

Although many suburbanites who were native Chicagoans know of the hospital which the Brothers have operated for 100 years on the north side of Chicago, they do not realize that the facility being completed on Biesterfield Road will be an entirely separate operation. The Brothers hope to avoid any further confusion with this change.

A CHECK FOR $5,000 was presented to them at the auxiliary's annual meeting as an additional payment on its initial pledge of $55,000. A total of $30,000 has been paid on this pledge to furnish the day nursery, snack and gift shops and fourth floor foyer.

On behalf of the administration, Brother Roderick, director of volunteers, thanked the auxilians for their splendid cooperation and asked their continued support. He announced that volunteer interviews have been started and requested members who had not returned their volunteer service application to do so immediately. Anyone intending to do volunteer service will be interviewed and assigned to an orientation course. This course is mandatory for all volunteers.

The minimum requirement for an active volunteer is 8 hours per month. Daytime shifts will be 4 hours and early evening shifts, 3 hours.

THE INITIAL AREAS to be serviced by volunteers are the snack and gift shops. Although these facilities adjoin each other, they will be operated independently, each with its own committee. Mrs. Robert Eitzenhoefer and Mrs. Richard Harwood, both of Elk Grove, are co-chairmen of the Snack Shop and will serve under volunteer chairman Mrs. Darryl Skarda of Elk Grove who will coordinate all volunteer services.

The Gift Shop committee is directed by Mrs. Charles Siewert of Elk Grove. Members have attended gift and toy shows to obtain ideas on merchandise and pointers on how to best present these items. The committee has prepared a list of basic purchases and will develop its stock slowly, keeping in mind the needs of the patients and staff.

LOCATION OF these two shops are to the immediate left as one enters the hospital lobby. A unique feature is their oval design with window walls to attract hospital visitors.

To do volunteer service work in the hospital, one must be a member of the auxiliary. Further information is available from Mrs. John Mecking of Itasca, membership chairman, at 773-1396 or Mrs. Richard Toledo, Elk Grove are chairman, at 439-0588.

Brochure Available On Contact Lenses

The great number of inquiries regarding contact lenses has prompted the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness to publish a brochure on contact lenses, according to the Society's president, John C. Colman. The text was prepared following suggestions given by five ophthalmologists and five optometrists.

This brochure was designed to present facts regarding contact lenses, not to encourage or discourage their use. Although most contact lenses are sold for cosmetic purposes, some individuals benefit more from contacts than from spectacles.

THERE ARE CERTAIN eye conditions in which the vision often may be corrected more efficiently by contact lenses than by spectacles. Frequently they are desirable when the lens of the eye has been removed as in cataract surgery. Similarly, contact lenses may be preferable in case of gross irregularities in the shape or curvature of the eye.

Properly fitted contact lenses, worn as directed by an eye doctor, should be comfortable and safe. If any discomfort is experienced, the eye doctor should be seen immediately.

Because contact lenses are worn directly on the eye, absolute cleanliness must be observed. Far too many people carelessly moisten the lenses with their tongues before putting them on. This action places bacteria directly on the eye which could easily cause an infection.

Lincoln Theme For St. Mary's Parish Dance

If Abe Lincoln himself could walk into St. Mary's parish hall on his birthday Saturday, Feb. 12, he would have every reason to believe that the festivities were being held in his honor. A decorating theme of the Lincoln era will prevail and even the waitresses and bartenders will be dressed in costumes of the Lincoln era.

The occasion will be the annual pre-Lenten dance sponsored by St. Mary's Parish, Buffalo Grove. "This is really not so unusual an idea for St. Mary's," commented the chairman, "for as a mission parish it dates back to pre-Lincoln days."

Guests at the dance will include original settlers of the area, along with the many new residents, who will dance to the music of the Royal Vagabonds.

Palatine Methodist Women Set for 12th Smorgasbord

A Swedish flag donated by the Swedish Consul in Chicago will highlight decorations for the 12th annual smorgasbord of the Women's Society of First Methodist Church, Palatine. Posters and brochures on Sweden will also be given out to guests who attend the Scandinavian feast on Saturday Feb. 12, at William Fremd High School in Palatine.

The months of preparation and creating of authentic decorations for tables at the smorgasbord make this the outstanding project of the year for the Methodist churchwomen.

NEWS OF THE event has reached the Chicago Consulate, which prompted the enthusiasm of the Consul in offering the Swedish flag. Several people from the Consulate have also planned to attend the dinner.

The women expect to serve 1,400 guests in the two servings of traditional smorgasbord. One serving is set for 5 to 6:15 p.m., the other from 6:30 to 8 o'clock. Tickets are marked for each, in order to provide efficient service.

HEADING THE smorgasbord committee are Mrs. M. Brooke, Mrs. T. Westerberg and Mrs. H. Carlson. Assisting the three are Mrs. C. Knodel in charge of decorations, Mrs. M. Miller, posters, and Mrs. J. Roberts, personnel.

The WSCS will also have the help of the Methodist Men's Club and the youth fellowships of the church.

Tickets are only available in advance, by calling Mrs. Frank Bonheim, FL 8-2433; Mrs. Clarence Steeves, 359-0287, or Mrs. Albert Knez, 358-5128. A nursery will be operated at the school, with a small charge for baby sitting.

Juniors Hear Speaker On Juvenile Crime

Facts and figures from a study on juvenile delinquency and crimes were presented by Mrs. Virginia Newsom of the Village Youth Commission when the Youth Department of Mount Prospect Junior Woman's Club held its January meeting. Information had been compiled by a committee from Mount Prospect's Youth Commission. The speaker also outlined the Commission's future plans.

The Juniors' Youth Department has been working on plans for a Youth Employment Service for the village and expects the service to be in operation sometime during 1966, according to Mrs. Monte Bannister, department chairman, who hosted the meeting.

THROUGH THE combined efforts of the American Home and Youth Departments, 30 stuffed toys and 10 hospital gowns were made and donated to Project Hope, an IFWC project. These departments will be making 300 Easter baskets for the Convent of the Holy Spirit during February and March.

Mount Prospect Juniors recently participated in "Operation Snow Ball" by collecting clothing for men, toys and games for children and items such as tooth brushes, combs and other toilet articles for state mental hospitals.

Mrs. M. N. Levers, club president, announces that the last ways and means project for the club year will be a salad luncheon card party in April. Proceeds from the affair will be used to complete the scholarship fund.

Plan Lunch, Book Review At Church

A luncheon and book review are planned by Grace Lutheran Churchwomen of Prospect Heights on Tuesday, Feb. 15, at the church, Euclid and Wolf Roads.

Luncheon begins at 12:45 p.m., with a review of the best seller, "Those Who Love," by Irving Stone following the meal. Rev. Herbert H. Duenow, speaker and dramatist, will do the review, and special music will be presented by The Temple Trio.

THE REV. Mr. Duenow, minister of Washburn Congregational Church, Half Day, is a popular reviewer in the area, known for his photographic memory, accurate dialect interpretation and flawless diction.

The luncheon is open to members of the church and friends, and tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Donald Wiley, CL 9-1313.

Sitter service will be available by reservation and a small additional charge.

Tooth Coating Next Advance

The next great advance against dental disease will be the development of a coating for the teeth which will reduce the ability of bacteria to cling to the tooth surface, Dr. Gilbert J. Parfitt, Vancouver, Canada, suggested at a recent American Dental Association meeting.

Such a coating would affect both dental decay and gum disease, since both dental disorders are affected by the collection of material containing bacteria around the teeth. He added that removal of this material is difficult, since the "bacteria adhere to each other and to the tooth surface with tenacity."

Medinah Club to Meet Week Early

The Medinah Woman's Club will meet a week early this month since its regular date would fall on Ash Wednesday.

A luncheon will be held at noon Wednesday, Feb. 16, at Indian Lakes Country Club, 24W201 Schick Road, Boomingdale. Reservations for the luncheon may be made by calling Mrs. William Fawcett, 529-2020.

Those desiring to play bridge following the luncheon are asked to make their own arrangements for a foursome and provide their own cards.

Fine Arts Talk

The North Suburban Home Economists in Homemaking will be the guests of the Chicago Home Economists in Business tonight (Thursday). Edward Walkup, operating manager of the Vincent Price Collection of Fine Arts, sponsored by Sears, Roebuck & Co., will discuss how business has brought original art to the mass market.

This meeting will be held at the Furniture Club of America, 666 N. Lake Shore Drive. Hospitality hour begins at 5:30, followed by dinner at 6:30.

Young Mom Finds Time for Gardening, Clubs

Achieves Goal of Flower Show Judge

by Pat Adam
Suburban Living Editor

With a home, two children and a husband to care for and a third baby on the way Mrs. William Wermes of Hoffman Estates understandably could be taking life slow and easy these wintry days.

But Joanmarie Wermes is interested in too many things, gardening for one.

So, though she admits to less pep than usual, the pert, dark-haired young homemaker keeps active—as president of the Hoffman Estates Woman's Club, as an enthusiastic member of its gardening and gourmet cooking interest groups, as membership chairman of the Home Gardeners of Roselle and as a guild member at St. Hubert's Catholic Church.

Just before Christmas, Joanmarie added another activity to the list. She received her certificate as a nationally accredited flower show judge, the reward for more than two years of study and winning blue ribbons. She has yet to judge her first show as an accredited judge, and she probably won't till May or June, but that doesn't dampen the thrill and satisfaction the young homemaker feels at knowing she has achieved the goal she set for herself several years ago.

JOANMARIE'S interest in gardening dates to childhood days in Elmhurst.

"My father gardened," she explained, "and he always gave me seeds to plant."

Married not quite seven years, Joanmarie and Bill Wermes moved to their Hoffman Estates home in 1960, and the enthusiastic new homeowner immediately planted flowers and shrubs around the exterior of her brick and frame house. She put in tulips first because they were easiest to plant, Joanmarie recalled.

At first the eager, young gardener planted mostly perennials, but she soon learned these bloomed only about two weeks and then their flowers were gone. So now she plants plenty of annuals so she can have cut flowers all during the growing season.

"I TRY TO plant something new each year," she said.

Lessons given by a nationally accredited flower show judge to her Woman's Club gardening interest group stimulated Joanmarie's interest in becoming a judge. She began attending the twice-yearly courses offered in the Chicago Loop by the Illinois Federation of Garden Clubs.

To qualify as a judge one must attend five of these courses, covering flower show practice, horticulture and flower arranging, plus actual practice judging. A test is given at the end of each course. A candidate also must win five blue ribbons in flower shows with no more than two from the same show, and she must serve as a student judge in five shows. There is also some required reading. After all that, the applicant must take and pass a 100-question test.

BETWEEN THE time she began working toward certification and completion of the requirements, Joanmarie gave birth to Billy, 4, and Bonnie, 19 months. It wasn't easy to tend to her family and still travel to the Loop for three consecutive days of classes and tests. But Joanmarie was determined to finish what she'd started.

Fortunately, she belongs to a babysitting club and was sure of a sitter each time she had to travel downtown. Her youngsters didn't mind her absence because they were with a sitter they knew, and there usually were playmates. For naps, Joanmarie sent along a portable crib to the sitter's house.

The required blue ribbons Joanmarie won for her parsley horticulture entry and an abstract floral arrangement in a Lombard show, a blooming succulent specimen at a Bellwood show, a sedum specimen in competition at Downers Grove and a flower arrangement in a Japanese hibachi at Long Lake. In that Lombard show she garnered a total of five blue ribbons plus two red ones, but she could count only two of the blues toward her certificate.

JOANMARIE LIKES everything about gardening but says she gets the most enjoyment from arranging flowers. She always has at least a couple around the house. This presents no problem in spring, summer and fall, but winter arrangements are more of a challenge. Most everything has to be dried for winter arrangements, she explained, and dried materials, mainly grays and browns, are still fall colors. They also begin to disintegrate in the winter dryness.

The busy young homemaker's job as president of the Hoffman Estates Woman's Club involves at least two meetings each month, the board get-together plus the regular club meeting. Her term of office ends in May, and Joanmarie is keeping her fingers crossed that she'll be around for installation of the new board. Her new baby is due about then.

However, she doesn't anticipate slowing down much after arrival of her third child.

"I DON'T LIKE to leave my children when they're still tiny so I probably will have to miss a few meetings," she remarked. "But I expect to stay active."

Staying active includes her interest in cooking, particularly gourmet cooking.

"I love to cook, but the trouble with cooking is that you have to taste everything," she laughed.

Among her culinary skills, Joanmarie lists breadbaking.

"But I don't bake too often. We're constantly on a diet around here," she confessed.

Recalling the many times she watched her grandmother bake bread, Joanmarie disclosed that she inherited her grandmother's "lucky" bread pans—her bread never failed—but not the recipe.

"SHE USED A pinch of this and a pinch of that and kept adding flour until the dough was right, but nobody ever wrote down the quantities."

Also a collector of recipe books, the young clubwoman has some that belonged to her grandmother. She admits she's an avid recipe clipper, too.

Joanmarie worked hard to earn the right to judge flower shows, but she can't rest on her laurels. To retain her certificate she must take a refresher course within a three-year time limit, judge in at least six shows and exhibit in a minimum of five, though she doesn't have to win any blue ribbons. With her enthusiasm, however, chances are, she will.

St. Alexius Hospital Auxiliary Is New Name

"Our name may have changed but our purpose is the same." With this statement, Alexian Brothers Hospital Auxiliary announces the change in its name to St. Alexius Hospital Auxiliary.

At the annual meeting held Jan. 20 at Itasca Village Hall, the general membership of the auxiliary made this decision in keeping with the change in the hospital's name. This was done to avoid confusion that has existed because of Alexian Brothers Hospital in Chicago.

Although many suburbanites who were native Chicagoans know of the hospital which the Brothers have operated for 100 years on the north side of Chicago, they do not realize that the facility being completed on Biesterfield Road will be an entirely separate operation. The Brothers hope to avoid any further confusion with this change.

A CHECK FOR $5,000 was presented to them at the auxiliary's annual meeting as an additional payment on its initial pledge of $55,000. A total of $30,000 has been paid on this pledge to furnish the day nursery, snack and gift shops and fourth floor foyer.

On behalf of the administration, Brother Roderick, director of volunteers, thanked the auxilians for their splendid cooperation and asked their continued support. He announced that volunteer interviews have been started and requested members who had not returned their volunteer service application to do so immediately. Anyone intending to do volunteer service will be interviewed and assigned to an orientation course. This course is mandatory for all volunteers.

The minimum requirement for an active volunteer is 8 hours per month. Daytime shifts will be 4 hours and early evening shifts, 3 hours.

THE INITIAL AREAS to be serviced by volunteers are the snack and gift shops. Although these facilities adjoin each other, they will be operated independently, each with its own committee. Mrs. Robert Eitzenhoefer and Mrs. Richard Harwood, both of Elk Grove, are co-chairmen of the Snack Shop and will serve under volunteer chairman Mrs. Darryl Skarda of Elk Grove who will coordinate all volunteer services.

The Gift Shop committee is directed by Mrs. Charles Siewert of Elk Grove. Members have attended gift and toy shows to obtain ideas on merchandise and pointers on how to best present these items. The committee has prepared a list of basic purchases and will develop its stock slowly, keeping in mind the needs of the patients and staff.

LOCATION OF these two shops are to the immediate left as one enters the hospital lobby. A unique feature is their oval design with window walls to attract hospital visitors.

To do volunteer service work in the hospital, one must be a member of the auxiliary. Further information is available from Mrs. John Mecking of Itasca, membership chairman, at 773-1396 or Mrs. Richard Toledo, Elk Grove are chairman, at 439-0588. (SSD

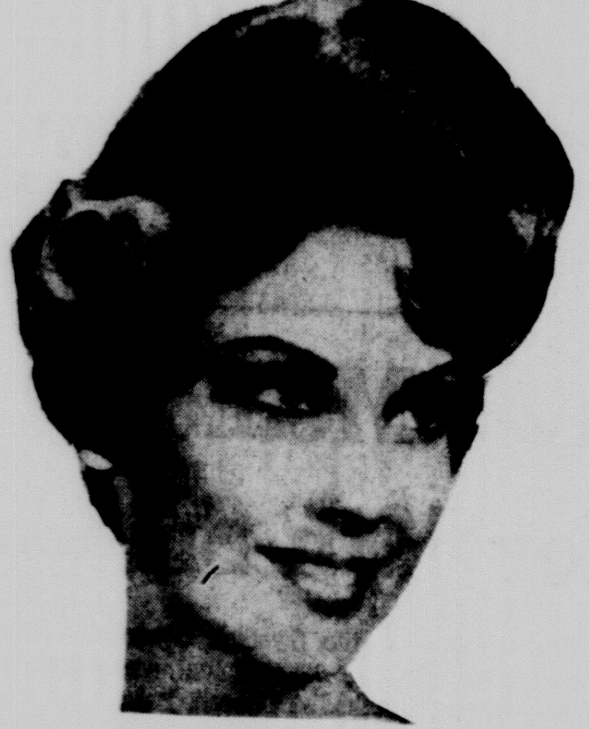
Valentine LOVE-LY

WING INTO SPRING . . .

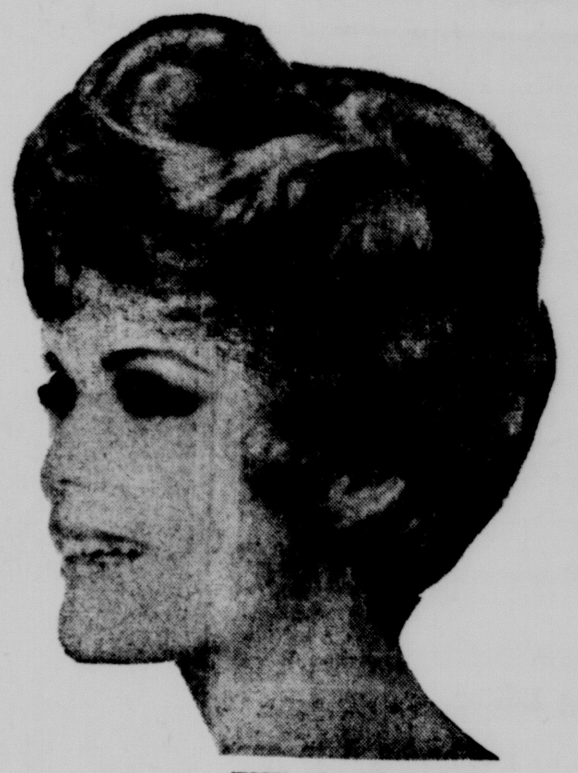


THE "LARK WING"

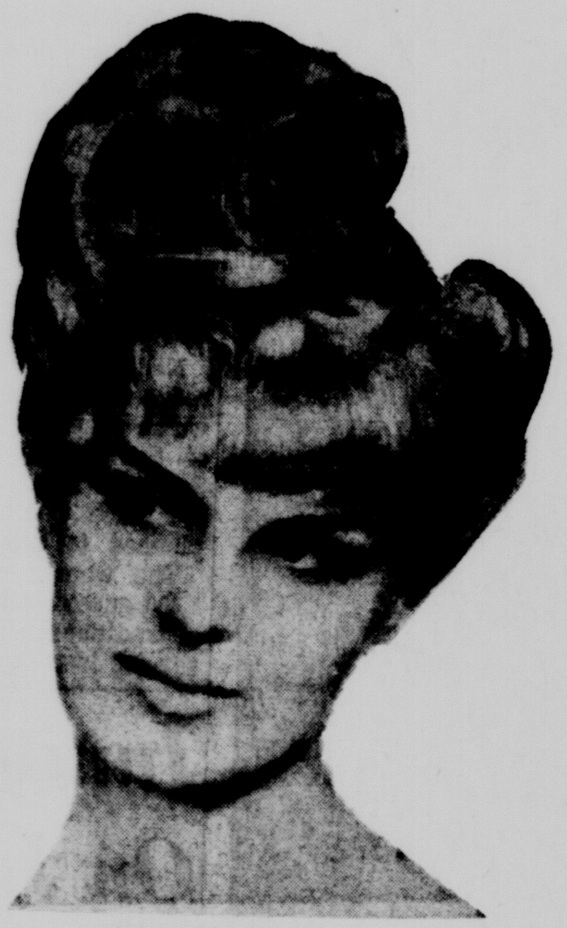
If you want to stay lovely for your Valentine, it's time to think about a new hair style for Spring. This Spring Dickey-Bird hair styles are in fashion. Featuring a small head look, the Dickey-Bird styles are dramatically accented with softly waved hair that flips up into a crest on one side.

For daytime wear, the rise of the crest is generally more subdued except for high fashion devotees who seek that way out look. For evening, the crest is dressed into a high flare with the aid of hair pieces. In all cases the rise must be carefully proportioned to the individual to retain the elegance of the small head look.

Hair is waved rather than curled. The new treatment is one of wavelets, short shell-shaped waves with a curl or half a curl on the end. Soft and lustrous hair is vital to the Dickey-Bird look, so have your hair conditioned to eliminate any winter drabness.



THE "COCKATOO"



THE "JAY BIRD"

Chic hair this Spring is short hair. Exact length depends upon individual needs, but it should be shaped professionally for the Dickey-Bird styles. Hair at sides and nape is texturized for a snug fit, while hair at top and back crown is shaped to flare out or up.

The one color look is out. Color is used in combinations of natural shadings. Color in one area is echoed subtly by a harmonizing color value in another area to enhance the design of the coiffure.

Dickey-Bird styles, designed by the official hair fashion committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, will be shown during Beauty Salon Week Feb. 13-19.

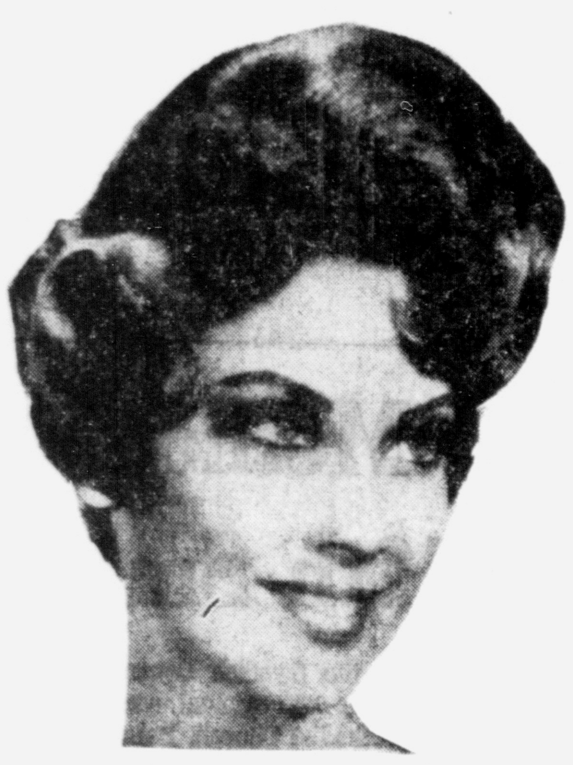
Valentine LOVE-LY

WING INTO SPRING . . .

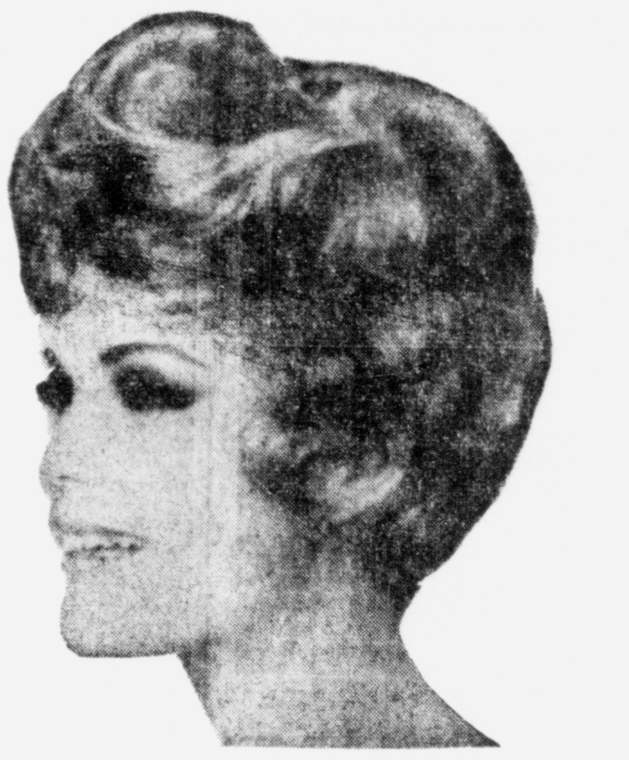


THE "LARK WING"

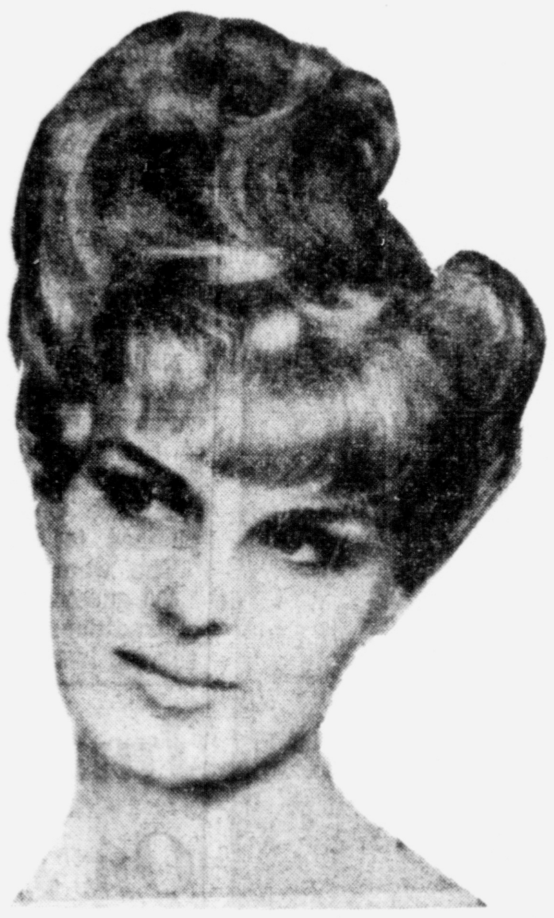
If you want to stay lovely for your Valentine, it's time to think about a new hair style for Spring. This Spring Dickey-Bird hair styles are in fashion. Featuring a small head look, the Dickey-Bird styles are dramatically accented with softly waved hair that flips up into a crest on one side.

For daytime wear, the rise of the crest is generally more subdued except for high fashion devotees who seek that way out look. For evening, the crest is dressed into a high flare with the aid of hair pieces. In all cases the rise must be carefully proportioned to the individual to retain the elegance of the small head look.

Hair is waved rather than curled. The new treatment is one of wavelets, short shell-shaped waves with a curl or half a curl on the end. Soft and lustrous hair is vital to the Dickey-Bird look, so have your hair conditioned to eliminate any winter drabness.



THE "COCKATOO"



THE "JAY BIRD"

Chic hair this Spring is short hair. Exact length depends upon individual needs, but it should be shaped professionally for the Dickey-Bird styles. Hair at sides and nape is texturized for a snug fit, while hair at top and back crown is shaped to flare out or up.

The one color look is out. Color is used in combinations of natural shadings. Color in one area is echoed subtly by a harmonizing color value in another area to enhance the design of the coiffure.

Dickey-Bird styles, designed by the official hair fashion committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, will be shown during Beauty Salon Week Feb. 13-19.

Wheeling Juniors Enter Competition

Wheeling Junior Women's Club has announced that it has entered the contest jointly sponsored by the Shell Oil Co. and the General Federation of Women's Clubs for cash awards in the field of education. Any cash award that the club might win would be used for community improvement activities in the Village of Wheeling.

This contest aims to encourage the women's clubs of the United States to support their educational institutions through either time or monetary means.

The Wheeling club has long been interested in scholarships and giving hours of volunteer work to the field of education. Some of the items included in their entry scrapbook are participation in the School District 21 Caucus Committe, a donation to the District 21 Fund for Scholarships for Exceptional Children, purchase of a phonograph for the Wheeling school district which is used in the hard of hearing program.

IT HAS ASO made donations to educational institutions such as the Northwest Mental Health Clinic, Cancer Research, State Scholarship Fund for Teachers of Exceptional Children, the Brain Research Foundation, CARE Little Bells project which is building schools in Mexico for underdeveloped areas, and Lincoln Lodge and Park Ridge School for Girls.

"This contest entry really expresses the heart of the work of the Wheeling club," says their president, Mrs. John Koeppen, "and it is with much aniticpation that we enter our scrapbook."

New Chairmen Named To Hospital Auxiliary

New committee chairmen for the Women's Auxiliary of Northwest Community Hospital were announced by president, Mrs. A. J. Daley of Mount Prospect, at a luncheon board meeting recently.

Mrs. Robert Lockwood of Palatine has been assigned as chairman of financing and purchasing while Mrs. Robert Rich of Mount Prospect and Mrs. Donald Wilson of Des Plaines are chairmen of hospitality. In charge of programming are Mrs. Albert Boeck of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Kenneth Zellmer.

Accepting chairmanships in public relations and publicity were Mrs. Thomas J. Waldron Jr. of Rolling Meadows and Mrs. Charles Cashion of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Charles Baker of Arlington Heights is chairman of ways and means and Mrs. Robert Atcher of Schaumburg is chairman of life memberships.

THE SCRAPBOOK is under Mrs. George Noble of Mount Prospect, Mrs. Lavern Wille of Arlington Heights is in charge of courtesy and Mrs. Otto Bouc Jr. of Mount Prospect is chairman of revisions.

Although four general meetings have been held in each of the past years, it was recommended that the by-laws be revised to hold only three. The second of these general meetings is scheduled for Thursday, April 28, at 12:30 in Old Orchard Country Club. Since many members were absent because of near-blizzard conditions the day of the last meeting, the "Best Off Broadway Players" will make a return engagement with another program for the April meeting. Here's Haugh to Plan a Party

Shamrocks, Kites Theme for St. Pat's

BY DOLORES HAUGH

Sure and there's a little bit of blarney in all of us, so why not plan to give a St. Patrick's Day party? But, not with those green derbies again, please. Let the March winds blow your party off to a good start; use kites and shamrocks for the theme.

INVITATIONS

Cut white kites to fit standard-sized envelopes. Use a heavier stock than bond paper. Attach a gold cord and five green construction paper shamrocks. Knot the cord so that the five shamrocks will represent the tail of the Irish Kite and on each shamrock write part of the following verse:

We're planning some Shamrock Shenanigans,
As Irish as Paddy's Pig.
So join the Murphs and Flannigans,
We'll dance an Irish jig.
Just "sail" on in asmilin' and awearin' o' the GREEN,
We'll make the 17th of March,
The likes you've never seen!
Ah sure, 'twill be so peaceful,
There's Irish food galore,
We'll not have any brawlin',
Leave shillelaghs at the door.
The leprechauns have promised,
We're sure to find some gold,
We'll try to keep them till you come,
And now our "tail" is told.

State time, place, hostess's name and mention again the Wearin' o' the GREEN. Make several extra kites to be used on prize packages, decorations, name tags, tallies, scorepads to carry out the motif.

MENU

For a dinner party you may want to serve lime sherbet with honeydew melon balls, watercress salad, corned beef and cabbage, Irish potato bread with green mint jelly, pistachio nut parfait with Irish whiskey-flavored cookies.

For a late buffet serve lime sherbet punch, green gelatin salad in the form of a kite, fluted with white cream cheese. Place a kite tail similar to the one on the invitation under the glass tray or plate so that it will not touch the mold but will appear to be fastened to it. Serve corned beef sandwiches, Irish potato salad, relishes and mint parfait or ice cream with shamrock design through the center. All of these are easily prepared ahead of time and may be kept till the hostess needs them, thus releasing her for fun at her own party.

DECORATIONS

Decorate with lots of green and white balloons, crepe paper streamers and shamrock kites. For the table, use a dark green tablecloth and milk glass dinnerware, if you have it. Garnish with white napkins folded in the form of a kite, bearing the shamrock tail. If you have a sitdown dinner, these may also be used as place cards for seating arrangements.

For a centerpiece, cut a large cardboard kite in duplicate. Staple at points, top, left and right leaving the bottom point open so that a dowel or flat slat of wood may be inserted. Cover each staple with a shamrock on both sides of the kite. Staple as close to the wood as possible and insert this wood into a flower arranging pin holder, placed in a bright green, flat bowl. Fill the bowl with green carnations and Bells of Ireland. Make the tail of the kite as for the gelatin mold mentioned above and fasten to pin holder allowing it to extend onto the table.

For each Irish Miss, have a small carnation corsage with green pipecleaner shamrock in its center. Place these on the outside of the bowl, as a wee bit of the green to wear. To carry out the leprechaun's promise, place small bags of gold chocolate coin candies on the table as favors or wrap green silk handkerchiefs and clay pipes in white boxes tied with green ribbon for the ladies and men as favors or prizes.

PREPARATIONS

As your guests arrive, give them 10 green beads and their Irish name for the evening on kite-shaped nametags. On the back of the tag write parts of a kite, i.e., top, right point, left point, string, shamrock tail, and have enough shamrocks for each point of the kite. Then at a given time and after each guest is aware of his "place," announce "Everyone form the Shamrock Shenanigans Kite." Make the tail of the kite long so that each guest is accommodated with a place.

All evening your guests will use their Irish names, forfeiting a green bead if they forget. The one with the most beads at the end of the evening wins a container of live shamrocks.

Choose your guessing games using pertinent subjects like St. Patrick, Irish Stew, Mrs. Murphy's chowder and if you need ideas just substitute these subjects for "Kids' games." Putting clothespins in the Irish Stew, pin the overalls in Mrs. M's chowder are just two examples.

Irish Potato Relays end the games. The finale will be the awarding of prizes for the person brave enough to wear orange, wearing the most green, best jig, best Irish joketeller and give prizes such as pig salt and pepper shakers, green ties, but you know what your guests enjoy so use your own Irish imagination. Your Shamrock Shenanigans party should be "kite-high" in fun and be a "tail" long retold. (SSD

French Cook Flavors Stew with Garlic, Herbs

IT IS OBVIOUS from the expressions on the faces of Chris and Jenny Cooney of Arlington Heights that their mother's Apricot Chantilly accompanied by Tuiles Aux Amandes (almond cookies) is one of their favorite desserts. Mrs. David C. Cooney, a native of Paris, France, makes these using authentic French recipes. Both are easy to prepare and delightful to taste.

Apricot Dessert Is Easy to Prepare

By LOIS SEILER

Authentically French in origin and delicious to taste are the delightful recipes being featured today. They have been shared with readers by Mrs. David C. Cooney of Arlington Heights, a French woman whose native city is Paris, France.

As a young lady she came to America twice, once in 1949 and again in 1952 to travel. But the second time she stayed on as a result of marrying an American.

Fortunately for her husband and children, Mrs. Cooney not only has the French know-how in preparing interesting foods, but has an extensive recipe collection, too.

ONE OF HER favorite menus features roast beef or pork with boiled or steamed rice, Ratatouille Nicoise (a vegetable stew) and a green salad, with Apricot Chantilly and Tuiles Aux Amandes (almond cookies) for dessert.

"The Ratatouille Nicoise is a recipe from the south of France and thus has a bit of the Italian flavor," Mrs. Cooney commented.

It calls for onions, diced eggplant, zucchini squash, green peppers and tomatoes cooked together with garlic and a bouquet garni.

A bouquet garni consists of spices tied together in a little cheesecloth bag. Mrs. Cooney's choice is parsley, bay leaf and thyme, which gives the stewed vegetables lots of zip.

BECAUSE THE Ratatouille Nicoise has such a dominant flavor, she likes to couple it with a strong-tasting meat such as beef or pork.

"It is easy to increase or decrease the proportions in this recipe," Mimi Cooney said. "One vegetable may be omitted or replaced with another to suit one's taste.

"The Ratatouille Nicoise may also be served cold," she continued, "with additional lemon juice and olive oil."

Her favorite dessert, Apricot Chantilly, is easy to prepare and delicious to taste.

'Chantilly means with whipped cream," Mrs. Cooney explained, "thus this recipe means apricots with whipped cream."

FOR THIS DESSERT she cooks and purees dried apricots and combines the puree with finely-slivered blanched almonds.

"It may be spooned into a glass serving bowl or into parfait glasses for elegance," Mimi said. "Just before serving, it is covered with whipped cream."

"Or the whipped cream may be folded into the puree making a sort of mousse that can be chilled in individual pots de creme," she added.

This is a filling dessert, with an appealing tart flavor that complements almost any meal.

With the Apricot Chantilly, Mrs. Cooney serves Tuiles Aux Amandes. These unique almond cookies are very quick and easy to make.

The unusual batter is dropped by teaspoonsful onto a buttered and floured cookie sheet and then sprinkled with powdered sugar. Baked for a very few minutes in a hot oven, the cookies are set to dry on a round object such as a rolling pin or broom handle.

THEY WILL BE round and resemble a roof tile in shape," Mimi Cooney explained. "Thin and brittle, the cookies have a nice flavor and go well with the Apricot Chantilly.

"The Tuiles Aux Amandes are very common in France, and we always had them at home," she added.

They are a great favorite with her own children, Jennifer, 11, and Christopher, 10.

The Cooneys moved from Denver over three years ago to their home at 902 W. Thomas in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Cooney teaches catechism at home for St. Thomas of Villanova, is active in the gym and swim classes at the YMCA and takest Spanish lessons.

RATATOUILLE NICOISE
(Stew from Nice)

1/3 olive oil or butter
2 medium-size onions, coarsely chopped
1 large eggplant with skin, coarsely diced
2 medium-size zucchini, cut in thick slices
2 green peppers, cut in strips
4 medium-size tomatoes
Bouquet garni (parsley, bay leaf, thyme)
1 clove garlic
Salt and pepper

In a deep saucepan, cook onions in oil until transparent. Then add the vegetables, bouquet garni, garlic salt and pepper and simmer, covered, for 20 minutes.

Remove cover, mix carefully with wooden spoon, then cook 20 minutes longer, uncovered, until vegetables are soft and the juice of tomatoes is reduced. The mixture should be thick and well-blended. Remove garlic and bouquet garni and serve in heated serving dish. Serves 4 to 6.

The Ratatouille Nicoise can be served cold with additional oil and lemon juice.

APRICOT CHANTILLY

1 pound dried apricots
¾ cup sugar
½ cup almonds, blanched and finely-slivered
1 cup whipping cream
½ teaspoon vanilla

Rinse apricots; place in saucepan with water to cover well. Simmer very slowly, uncovered, for 25 minutes. Then stir sugar into apricots and cook an additional five minutes.

Force the apricots and juice through a colander or cool and puree them in an electric blender with the juice. Add the slivered almonds. Spoon puree into a glass serving bowl or parfait glasses and chill.

Just before serving, cover with whipped cream which has been sweetened with a little powdered sugar and flavored with vanilla. Serves 6 to 8.

The whipped cream may be folded into the puree with the almonds, making a sort of mousse that should be chilled in individual pots de creme.

TUILES AUX AMANDES

½ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 egg whites
¼ cup flour
¼ cup melted butter
1¼ ounces shredded almonds
Powdered sugar

Beat sugar, vanilla and egg whites together for three or four minutes with a fork or egg beater. Quickly mix in the flour, melted butter and shredded almonds.

Butter and flour a cookie sheet and drop a small amount of the batter with a teaspoon. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and bake 4 to 5 minutes in a very hot oven, 450 degrees, until edges are brown.

As soon as they are baked, set the cookies to dry on a round object, such as a rolling pin or broomstick handle. They will curve and resemble a roof tile. Makes 30 cookies.

French Cook Flavors Stew with Garlic, Herbs

IT IS OBVIOUS from the expressions on the faces of Chris and Jenny Cooney of Arlington Heights that their mother's Apricot Chantilly accompanied by Tuiles Aux Amandes (almond cookies) is one of their favorite desserts. Mrs. David C. Cooney, a native of Paris, France, makes these using authentic French recipes. Both are easy to prepare and delightful to taste.

Apricot Dessert Is Easy to Prepare

By LOIS SEILER

Authentically French in origin and delicious to taste are the delightful recipes being featured today. They have been shared with readers by Mrs. David C. Cooney of Arlington Heights, a French woman whose native city is Paris, France.

As a young lady she came to America twice, once in 1949 and again in 1952 to travel. But the second time she stayed on as a result of marrying an American.

Fortunately for her husband and children, Mrs. Cooney not only has the French know-how in preparing interesting foods, but has an extensive recipe collection, too.

ONE OF HER favorite menus features roast beef or pork with boiled or steamed rice, Ratatouille Nicoise (a vegetable stew) and a green salad, with Apricot Chantilly and Tuiles Aux Amandes (almond cookies) for dessert.

"The Ratatouille Nicoise is a recipe from the south of France and thus has a bit of the Italian flavor," Mrs. Cooney commented.

It calls for onions, diced eggplant, zucchini squash, green peppers and tomatoes cooked together with garlic and a bouquet garni.

A bouquet garni consists of spices tied together in a little cheesecloth bag. Mrs. Cooney's choice is parsley, bay leaf and thyme, which gives the stewed vegetables lots of zip.

BECAUSE THE Ratatouille Nicoise has such a dominant flavor, she likes to couple it with a strong-tasting meat such as beef or pork.

"It is easy to increase or decrease the proportions in this recipe," Mimi Cooney said. "One vegetable may be omitted or replaced with another to suit one's taste.

"The Ratatouille Nicoise may also be served cold," she continued, "with additional lemon juice and olive oil."

Her favorite dessert, Apricot Chantilly, is easy to prepare and delicious to taste.

'Chantilly means with whipped cream," Mrs. Cooney explained, "thus this recipe means apricots with whipped cream."

FOR THIS DESSERT she cooks and purees dried apricots and combines the puree with finely-slivered blanched almonds.

"It may be spooned into a glass serving bowl or into parfait glasses for elegance," Mimi said. "Just before serving, it is covered with whipped cream."

"Or the whipped cream may be folded into the puree making a sort of mousse that can be chilled in individual pots de creme," she added.

This is a filling dessert, with an appealing tart flavor that complements almost any meal.

With the Apricot Chantilly, Mrs. Cooney serves Tuiles Aux Amandes. These unique almond cookies are very quick and easy to make.

The unusual batter is dropped by teaspoonsful onto a buttered and floured cookie sheet and then sprinkled with powdered sugar. Baked for a very few minutes in a hot oven, the cookies are set to dry on a round object such as a rolling pin or broom handle.

THEY WILL BE round and resemble a roof tile in shape," Mimi Cooney explained. "Thin and brittle, the cookies have a nice flavor and go well with the Apricot Chantilly.

"The Tuiles Aux Amandes are very common in France, and we always had them at home," she added.

They are a great favorite with her own children, Jennifer, 11, and Christopher, 10.

The Cooneys moved from Denver over three years ago to their home at 902 W. Thomas in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Cooney teaches catechism at home for St. Thomas of Villanova, is active in the gym and swim classes at the YMCA and takest Spanish lessons.

RATATOUILLE NICOISE
(Stew from Nice)

1/3 olive oil or butter
2 medium-size onions, coarsely chopped
1 large eggplant with skin, coarsely diced
2 medium-size zucchini, cut in thick slices
2 green peppers, cut in strips
4 medium-size tomatoes
Bouquet garni (parsley, bay leaf, thyme)
1 clove garlic
Salt and pepper

In a deep saucepan, cook onions in oil until transparent. Then add the vegetables, bouquet garni, garlic salt and pepper and simmer, covered, for 20 minutes.

Remove cover, mix carefully with wooden spoon, then cook 20 minutes longer, uncovered, until vegetables are soft and the juice of tomatoes is reduced. The mixture should be thick and well-blended. Remove garlic and bouquet garni and serve in heated serving dish. Serves 4 to 6.

The Ratatouille Nicoise can be served cold with additional oil and lemon juice.

APRICOT CHANTILLY

1 pound dried apricots
¾ cup sugar
½ cup almonds, blanched and finely-slivered
1 cup whipping cream
½ teaspoon vanilla

Rinse apricots; place in saucepan with water to cover well. Simmer very slowly, uncovered, for 25 minutes. Then stir sugar into apricots and cook an additional five minutes.

Force the apricots and juice through a colander or cool and puree them in an electric blender with the juice. Add the slivered almonds. Spoon puree into a glass serving bowl or parfait glasses and chill.

Just before serving, cover with whipped cream which has been sweetened with a little powdered sugar and flavored with vanilla. Serves 6 to 8.

The whipped cream may be folded into the puree with the almonds, making a sort of mousse that should be chilled in individual pots de creme.

TUILES AUX AMANDES

½ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 egg whites
¼ cup flour
¼ cup melted butter
1¼ ounces shredded almonds
Powdered sugar

Beat sugar, vanilla and egg whites together for three or four minutes with a fork or egg beater. Quickly mix in the flour, melted butter and shredded almonds.

Butter and flour a cookie sheet and drop a small amount of the batter with a teaspoon. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and bake 4 to 5 minutes in a very hot oven, 450 degrees, until edges are brown.

As soon as they are baked, set the cookies to dry on a round object, such as a rolling pin or broomstick handle. They will curve and resemble a roof tile. Makes 30 cookies.

Save Vitamins

Neither thiamine (vitamin B1) nor riboflavin can be stored by the body in any quantity, so foods rich in them should be eaten daily. Liver is the best natural source of riboflavin while pork and pork sausage are best "naturals" for thiamine.

Both of these vitamins are water soluble. This means they lose a lot of their punch when cooked in liquid. What's the remedy? Use the liquid in which they're cooked for soups, sauces or gravy!

Loose or Close?

When should you cover meat loosely? Or closely? Or, is there ever a difference? Yes! there is a difference.

Fresh meat is covered loosely.

Cooked meat is covered closely.

Soak Potatoes

If potatoes for baking are allowed to stand in hot water for 15 minutes, they will bake in half the time and be more palatable and mealy.

What is the best diet for people with arthritis?

This is a question which comes to practicing physicians and to all the organizations which offer informational services by mail. What shall I eat to prevent arthritis? What shall I eat when I have arthritis? What should I avoid eating, to help my arthritis?

There are really two answers. One, given far too often, is hopeless and needlessly discouraging. There is no diet which will prevent or cure arthritis. Is this a true answer? Well, it is and it isn't. It is true that there is no dietary formula for well persons that will insure them against developing arthritis. Neither is there any dietary formula for persons with arthritis that will assure them of a cure.

BUT THERE IS another answer, and it is a more encouraging one. This is a positive answer, one that sweeps away some of the misconceptions of the past. It is: proper diet is an important factor in the successful treatment of arthritis. True, it is not a cure in and of itself, but it is hopeful and helpful.

In the past, arthritic patients were deprived of protein, on the false assumption that too much protein was partly responsible for arthritic changes. They were also deprived of calcium, on the ground that changes in the bones and joints were necessarily due to over-supply rather than to faulty body utilization of this nutrient.

Now, specialists dealing with arthritis emphasize that a fundamental principle in dealing with this disease is good nutrition, including adequate supplies of calcium, protein, minerals, vitamins and, indeed all good nutrients — the four basic food groups we keep emphasizing in this column.

Overweight is to be avoided to minimize stress on the weightbearing joints, but good nutrition is to be maintained by balanced diet.

THIS PUTS AN end to the elimination of meats, fish, eggs and cheese from the diets of arthritic patients. It ends the banning of milk and its products, for fear of too much calcium.

It recognizes the protein contributions of dairy products as well as their calcium content. It recognizes that the cause of arthritis, as yet undetermined, has certainly not been demonstrated to be dietary. It recognizes the clinical experience that well-nourished arthritics who are not overweight do better than poorly nourished ones suffering from dietary insufficiencies on top of their arthritis.

The diet for any ond all arthritics is that prescribed by their attending physicians in the light of their weight, their dietary requirements in relation to general health, and such special needs as may be determined by allergies, racial and religious customs — and other factors known only to the attending physician. Sardine Spread

Make a delicious sardine sandwich spread by mixing a can of drained sardines with ½ cup soft butter. Add a tablespoon of mayonnaise and a tablespoon of finely minced parsley. Mash all the ingredients together and spread on bread. You also may like to add lettuce.

For canapes, use small slices of the bread or cut bread into fancy shapes and top with the spread. (SH

Clean, Soft Water Needed To Launder Your Clothes

Take a tub of water, add some detergent and perhaps a cupful of bleach and you have a good clothes washing solution. Right?

Not necessarily.

Water performs some of the most essential functions in laundering. It acts as a solvent, its currents flex fabrics, and it rinses away lint, soil and detergent. But — and here's where the "not necessarily" comes in — the laundering results you obtain are directly affected by the condition of the water you use — by its hardness, turbidity and the minerals present in it.

HARD WATER, found in about 85 per cent of the United States, can create problems in laundering because it diminishes the effectiveness of the detergents used. The degree of water hardness is usually expressed in grains per gallon. Generally, under three grains of hardness is considered soft, and over 10 grains is very hard.

All but the most extremely hard water —over 19 grains — can be corrected satisfactorily in laundering by using increased amounts of detergent. For over 19 grains, you must use either a packaged water conditioner or have a water softener installed in your home.

Iron and manganese in the water supply — the most common minerals creating laundry problems —can cause red, yellow, brown or black stains on fabrics. Using a chlorine bleach intensifies the problem.

WHEN MANGANESE alone is present, increasing the amount of detergent used or, in extreme cases, using a mechanical water softener, will reduce the problem.

When iron is present, increasing the amount of detergent or using a non-precipitating water conditioner will help, also. However, in extreme cases a phosphate feeder may be needed in the water line to hold the iron in suspension in the water. If you have a water softener, a chemical iron filter can be installed to remove the suspended iron particles.

Turbidity is caused by fine particles of sand, clay or vegetable matter that turn the water cloudy. In laundering, these particles sometimes are deposited on fabrics, giving them a gray or yellow appearance.

TURBIDITY MAY be an occasional occurrence or a regular condition. In the latter case, a special filter should be installed. If your water supply is both hard and turbid, a mechanical water softener will usually eliminate both problems.

It takes more than just water to do the laundry — you need good clean, soft water for really clean clothes. (S

Lack of Exercise Causes Back Pains

Many young women suffer from persistent low back pain after the birth of a baby because of chronic spectator-itis, or lack of exercise since early childhood, according to Dr. Evalyn S. Gendel of Topeka, Kan.

Dr. Gendel became suspicious when many of her young patients admitted that they had not done their prescribed exercises following childbirth because they found them "too exhausting." Why should mild exercise exhaust healthy young women, the doctor wondered? After tests and careful examinations ruled out infections or structural abnormalities, the case histories revealed the answer.

THE WOMEN, who were 18 to 23 years of age, confessed that they could not recall doing physical exercise of any kind since elementary school. Nor had they had physical education or sports in junior high or high school.

"None of these patients," the doctor found, "had ever ridden a bicycle; only one or two cared about dancing. None were walkers; none had ever participated in a physical improvement program; none were bowlers, skaters, or golfers."

While none were obese, all had poorly developed and weak abdominal muscles, their abdomens protruded and their posture was poor.

OTHER KANSAS physicians confirmed Dr. Gendel's findings. When patients followed a prescribed exercise routine for a period of time, Dr. Gendel reported, their backaches decreased or disappeared.

The doctor, who is assistant director of maternal and child health of the Kansas Health Department, recommends that girls participate in sports all their lives. (S

Schaumburg Women Plan GOP Workshop

The Republican Women's Club of Schaumburg Township is in the midst of four workshops on political parties and their functions, studying them at the national, state and local levels.

The next workshop is slated for Wednesday, Feb. 16 at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Leonard Syverson, 1306 Sharon Lane, Weathersfield. Mrs. Arthur Jicha, Palatine Township Committeewoman, will lead the discussion.

THE FIRST OF the workshops was held Feb. 2 with Mrs. Paul Sherrick, State Central Committeewoman for the 13th Congressional District, as guest speaker. The second was on Feb. 9 with Mrs. Alan MacDonald, Cook County Central Committeewoman from Arlington Heights, as special guest, along with Mrs. Bruce Berger, Schaumburg Township Committeewoman.

The final session will be held March 2.

DETAILS ARE available from Mrs. Edward Ness, 529-7084, or Mrs. Michael Bartnett, 894-9289. 9289.

The Schaumburg Republican women are inviting interested residents to a get-acquainted coffee on Thursday, Feb. 17, at 1:30 p.m. in Mrs. Doyle Erkenbeck's home, Mohawk Drive, Sunset Hills. (S

Save Vitamins

Neither thiamine (vitamin B1) nor riboflavin can be stored by the body in any quantity, so foods rich in them should be eaten daily. Liver is the best natural source of riboflavin while pork and pork sausage are best "naturals" for thiamine.

Both of these vitamins are water soluble. This means they lose a lot of their punch when cooked in liquid. What's the remedy? Use the liquid in which they're cooked for soups, sauces or gravy!

Loose or Close?

When should you cover meat loosely? Or closely? Or, is there ever a difference? Yes! there is a difference.

Fresh meat is covered loosely.

Cooked meat is covered closely.

Soak Potatoes

If potatoes for baking are allowed to stand in hot water for 15 minutes, they will bake in half the time and be more palatable and mealy.

Doctor in the Kitchen

What is the best diet for people with arthritis?

This is a question which comes to practicing physicians and to all the organizations which offer informational services by mail. What shall I eat to prevent arthritis? What shall I eat when I have arthritis? What should I avoid eating, to help my arthritis?

There are really two answers. One, given far too often, is hopeless and needlessly discouraging. There is no diet which will prevent or cure arthritis. Is this a true answer? Well, it is and it isn't. It is true that there is no dietary formula for well persons that will insure them against developing arthritis. Neither is there any dietary formula for persons with arthritis that will assure them of a cure.

BUT THERE IS another answer, and it is a more encouraging one. This is a positive answer, one that sweeps away some of the misconceptions of the past. It is: proper diet is an important factor in the successful treatment of arthritis. True, it is not a cure in and of itself, but it is hopeful and helpful.

In the past, arthritic patients were deprived of protein, on the false assumption that too much protein was partly responsible for arthritic changes. They were also deprived of calcium, on the ground that changes in the bones and joints were necessarily due to over-supply rather than to faulty body utilization of this nutrient.

Now, specialists dealing with arthritis emphasize that a fundamental principle in dealing with this disease is good nutrition, including adequate supplies of calcium, protein, minerals, vitamins and, indeed all good nutrients — the four basic food groups we keep emphasizing in this column.

Overweight is to be avoided to minimize stress on the weightbearing joints, but good nutrition is to be maintained by balanced diet.

THIS PUTS AN end to the elimination of meats, fish, eggs and cheese from the diets of arthritic patients. It ends the banning of milk and its products, for fear of too much calcium.

It recognizes the protein contributions of dairy products as well as their calcium content. It recognizes that the cause of arthritis, as yet undetermined, has certainly not been demonstrated to be dietary. It recognizes the clinical experience that well-nourished arthritics who are not overweight do better than poorly nourished ones suffering from dietary insufficiencies on top of their arthritis.

The diet for any ond all arthritics is that prescribed by their attending physicians in the light of their weight, their dietary requirements in relation to general health, and such special needs as may be determined by allergies, racial and religious customs — and other factors known only to the attending physician. Week's Best Food Buys

Some pork and poultry promotions are scheduled. Port loins off most in wholesale channels. Portion cuts rib end now range from feature low of 59 cents a pound to common 69; loin end roasts 69 to 79 cents; center cut chops quote 79 cents to mostly $1.19. Fresh pork butt roasts are a better value at 59 to 69 cents; pork steaks, 69 to 79 cents.

Fryers occasionally are quoted low at 29 cents a pound for whole birds and 31 cents a pound for cut-up. General retail level is holding at 43 cents for fresh grade A birds.

COLD CUTS and sausage meats soar in cost. Anticipate retail advance to match new wholesale jump of two to four cents a pound. Bacon is the exception. Wholesales hold. Promotion price low at 79 cents a pound but bacon mostly 99 cents to $1.09.

Anticipate drop in egg costs from the current high point.

Trade survey shows fresh vegetable frost losses negligible. Quality varies widely.

CHICAGO Area Food Values:

Meats: ground beef, beef pot roasts, round steak; pork butt roasts and steaks, pork picnics, spareribs; veal shoulder roasts and steaks.

Poultry: whole fryers.

Beef with Eggs

Do something different with scrambled eggs for breakfast, lunch or dinner. Lightly brown 2½-ounce dried beef in butter or margarine, add the scrambled egg mixture of 4 to 6 eggs to the frying pan with the beef. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally. Serve with toast, hot biscuits or muffins.

Sardine Spread

Make a delicious sardine sandwich spread by mixing a can of drained sardines with ½ cup soft butter. Add a tablespoon of mayonnaise and a tablespoon of finely minced parsley. Mash all the ingredients together and spread on bread. You also may like to add lettuce.

For canapes, use small slices of the bread or cut bread into fancy shapes and top with the spread. (SH

Clean, Soft Water Needed To Launder Your Clothes

Take a tub of water, add some detergent and perhaps a cupful of bleach and you have a good clothes washing solution. Right?

Not necessarily.

Water performs some of the most essential functions in laundering. It acts as a solvent, its currents flex fabrics, and it rinses away lint, soil and detergent. But — and here's where the "not necessarily" comes in — the laundering results you obtain are directly affected by the condition of the water you use — by its hardness, turbidity and the minerals present in it.

HARD WATER, found in about 85 per cent of the United States, can create problems in laundering because it diminishes the effectiveness of the detergents used. Child's First Dental Visit Is Important

That first visit to the dentist is an important event in the life of a child, the American Dental Association points out.

Proper age for this first visit is when the child is between the ages of two and three, when all deciduous (baby) teeth have erupted. The sooner the dentist can check for any dental problems, such as decay or faulty bite, the less need there will be for major treatment as the child grows older.

The ADA suggests these guidelines for your child's first dental appointment:

1. Make an appointment and keep it.
2. Don't offer a bribe to the child.
3. Be prepared to let the child go into the treatment room alone.
4. Let the dentist do the talking. (S

Modern Etiquette

Q. If all the other guests at a dinner table have refused a second helping of some dish, and then you are asked, is it all right to accept?

A. Under these circumstances, it would probably be better if you refused, too. If you were the only guest to accept, you might be delaying the serving of the next course—and a well-bred person is always considerate of others.

Q. When a girl is walking along the street with a man, and he speaks to someone whom she doesn't know, should she speak also?

A. She should smile and nod her head. And this likewise holds true for the man, should she speak to an acquaintance.

A CRUISE ON THE good ship "S.S. Motherhood" marked the theme last week at the Casino when the 1966 enrollment drive of the Chicago Maternity Center officially embarked. Among the 350 women attending the luncheon were Mrs. Harold B. Christenson and Mrs. Carl V. Palmer, both of Arlington Heights.

Center Guests Will Dance Amid Black, Copper Decor

Itasca Country Club will be gay with black and copper decorations, featuring a replica of the Lincoln head penny bearing the motto "Coins for Center Care," Saturday, Feb. 12, when some 250 couples gather for the traditional cocktail dance and dinner to benefit The Chicago Maternity Center.

Members of the northwest area fund raising team are enthusiastic over the arrangements made to entertain their guests. Favors will be presented to the gentlemen rather than to their ladies this year and the roast beef dinner to be served following the dance hours is also planned to please the men.

GUESTS ARE URGED to arrive promptly to enjoy dancing to the music of George Fanelli's orchestra from 4:30 to 8 p.m. and be entertained by strolling musicians during the dinner hour which follows. This occasion marks the 71st birthday of The Chicago Maternity Center which was founded on Valentine's Day 1895 by Dr. Joseph B. DeLee, known as the "father of modern obstetrics."

Saturday's party is eagerly awaited by friends of the Center whose patronage of this annual benefit has made the northwest area committee the leading fund-raising team of the entire Chicago area for the past four years. Co-chairmen of this year's party are Mrs. George N. Tuttle of Mount Prospect and Mrs. William Cook of Arlington Heights. (S

Some Birthmarks Are Likely to Disappear

If your infant has a strawberry birthmark, don't worry.

There's an excellent chance it will disappear on its own — without medical treatment.

Characterized by a soft and compressible red lesion elevated above the skin's surface, this birthmark (medically known as an immature hemangioma truly resembles a strawberry.

Although it may grow rapidly during your infant's first year, don't let this frighten you. The size will eventually reach a point where it remains unchanged, usually around 18 months of age, and then reduces.

BUT REGRESSION is very slow. It may take two to six years before the strawberry mark disappears. By age seven, however, over 70 per cent of these marks completely disappear, leaving absolutely no trace behind.

Another type of birthmark that may disappear on its own is the cavernous hemangioma. This type of birthmark involves blood vessels conglomerated beneath the skin's surface which elevate the skin and give it a bluish color.

This birthmark's course of regression usually is similar to the strawberry mark, but it may leave a trace. This is because some of the overlying skin may remain as a soft hanging "pouch." In some cases, the appearance of the pouch may improve on its own over the years. If it doesn't improve, plastic surgery may be considered.

Unfortunately, the most common type of birthmark, the port-wine stain capillary hemangioma, rarely disappears or fades with age. However, it often appears on the back of the scalp where it is covered by hair.

SHOULD THIS reddish mark appear on the face, certain medical treatments may be used with varying success. Perhaps the cheapest and safest treatment is to camouflage the mark with cosmetic creams prepared specifically for this purpose.

What causes birthmarks?

There are many superstitions which hold that these marks are caused by an event in the mother's life during pregnancy — such as a frightening experience, a bad dream, etc. There is absolutely no truth to this!

Some authorities believe the marks may be caused by some defect in the child's development — perhaps a hereditary defect — which prevents the small blood vessels of the outer skin to develop properly. The exact cause, however, has not yet been determined. (S

Women's Guild To Hear Review

"An enjoyable program is in store for ladies attending the Feb. 16 meeting of the Women's Guild of the Lutheran Church of the Holy Spirit," says Mrs. Charles Franke, program chairman.

DAR Chapter Marks American History Month

Gov. Kerner has issued a proclamation declaring the month of February is to be celebrated as American History Month asking all organizations and schools to emphasize the study of American history, stressing the birthdates of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Eli Skinner chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution has sponsored American History Month in February since 1955. This year the chapter has decorated four display cases in the Mount Prospect library with documents, articles and books pertaining to early American heritage covering Indian lore and early American days. The cases will be on display for the month of February.

Mrs. Byron Mabie, American History Month state chairman, says, "Great events are shaping our lives as never before. Our future is as exciting as we ourselves make it. But let us not forget to look 'backward' to those who have given us our American heritage, freedom and liberty!" (S

Child's First Dental Visit Is Important

That first visit to the dentist is an important event in the life of a child, the American Dental Association points out.

Proper age for this first visit is when the child is between the ages of two and three, when all deciduous (baby) teeth have erupted. The sooner the dentist can check for any dental problems, such as decay or faulty bite, the less need there will be for major treatment as the child grows older.

The ADA suggests these guidelines for your child's first dental appointment:

1. Make an appointment and keep it.
2. Don't offer a bribe to the child.
3. Be prepared to let the child go into the treatment room alone.
4. Let the dentist do the talking. (S

Modern Etiquette

Q. If all the other guests at a dinner table have refused a second helping of some dish, and then you are asked, is it all right to accept?

A. Under these circumstances, it would probably be better if you refused, too. If you were the only guest to accept, you might be delaying the serving of the next course—and a well-bred person is always considerate of others.

Q. When a girl is walking along the street with a man, and he speaks to someone whom she doesn't know, should she speak also?

A. She should smile and nod her head. And this likewise holds true for the man, should she speak to an acquaintance.

A CRUISE ON THE good ship "S.S. Motherhood" marked the theme last week at the Casino when the 1966 enrollment drive of the Chicago Maternity Center officially embarked. Among the 350 women attending the luncheon were Mrs. Harold B. Christenson and Mrs. Carl V. Palmer, both of Arlington Heights.

Center Guests Will Dance Amid Black, Copper Decor

Itasca Country Club will be gay with black and copper decorations, featuring a replica of the Lincoln head penny bearing the motto "Coins for Center Care," Saturday, Feb. 12, when some 250 couples gather for the traditional cocktail dance and dinner, to benefit The Chicago Maternity Center.

Members of the northwest area fund raising team are enthusiastic over the arrangements made to entertain their guests. Favors will be presented to the gentlemen rather than to their ladies this year and the roast beef dinner to be served following the dance hours is also planned to please the men.

GUESTS ARE URGED to arrive promptly to enjoy dancing to the music of George Fanelli's orchestra from 4:30 to 8 p.m. and be entertained by strolling musicians during the dinner hour which follows. This occasion marks the 71st birthday of The Chicago Maternity Center which was founded on Valentine's Day 1895 by Dr. Joseph B. DeLee, known as the "father of modern obstetrics."

Saturday's party is eagerly awaited by friends of the Center whose patronage of this annual benefit has made the northwest area committee the leading fund-raising team of the entire Chicago area for the past four years. Co-chairmen of this year's party are Mrs. George N. Tuttle of Mount Prospect and Mrs. William Cook of Arlington Heights. (S

Some Birthmarks Are Likely to Disappear

If your infant has a strawberry birthmark, don't worry.

There's an excellent chance it will disappear on its own — without medical treatment.

Characterized by a soft and compressible red lesion elevated above the skin's surface, this birthmark (medically known as an immature hemangioma truly resembles a strawberry.

Although it may grow rapidly during your infant's first year, don't let this frighten you. The size will eventually reach a point where it remains unchanged, usually around 18 months of age, and then reduces.

BUT REGRESSION is very slow. It may take two to six years before the strawberry mark disappears. By age seven, however, over 70 per cent of these marks completely disappear, leaving absolutely no trace behind.

Another type of birthmark that may disappear on its own is the cavernous hemangioma. This type of birthmark involves blood vessels conglomerated beneath the skin's surface which elevate the skin and give it a bluish color.

This birthmark's course of regression usually is similar to the strawberry mark, but it may leave a trace. This is because some of the overlying skin may remain as a soft hanging "pouch." In some cases, the appearance of the pouch may improve on its own over the years. If it doesn't improve, plastic surgery may be considered.

Unfortunately, the most common type of birthmark, the port-wine stain capillary hemangioma, rarely disappears or fades with age. However, it often appears on the back of the scalp where it is covered by hair.

SHOULD THIS reddish mark appear on the face, certain medical treatments may be used with varying success. Perhaps the cheapest and safest treatment is to camouflage the mark with cosmetic creams prepared specifically for this purpose.

What causes birthmarks?

There are many superstitions which hold that these marks are caused by an event in the mother's life during pregnancy — such as a frightening experience, a bad dream, etc. There is absolutely no truth to this!

Some authorities believe the marks may be caused by some defect in the child's development — perhaps a hereditary defect — which prevents the small blood vessels of the outer skin to develop properly. The exact cause, however, has not yet been determined. (S

Mt. Prospect Pair United In Lindskoog-Gehl Rites

A Mount Prospect couple, Diane Adele Lindskoog and Jack Alfred Gehl, were married in St. Mark Lutheran Church during the Christmas holidays and then returned to the University of Oklahoma to study for semester exams. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gehl, 420 N. Fairview, is a junior, majoring in marketing. His bride, daughter of the N. Roy Lindskoogs, 700 S. I-Oka, is in her freshman year.

For the 8 o'clock rites on Dec. 29, Rev. Philip Ramsey of St. Mark church was assisted by the bride's brother-in-law, Rev. Edward C. Biegert, who is campus minister at the University of Pittsburgh and Carnegie Tech. The Rev. Mr. Biegert also gave the wedding sermonette.

POINSETTIA plants and lighted Christmas trees decorated the altar, as the bridal party came down the aisle wearing green velvet and candlelight brocade dresses and carrying white poinsettia bouquets mixed with holly leaves and berries.

Their dresses were styled with a green velvet bodice which was complemented by a candlelight brocade skirt, A-line, with a green velvet panel flowing to the floor-length hem.

MAID OF HONOR was Nancy Kees of Rolling Meadows, while Nancy Harmon of Mount Prospect, a Forest View High School classmate of the bride and Marilu Kloster, also of Mount Prospect, were bridesmaids.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white organza over ivory taffeta gown, the empire bodice styled of re-embroidered alencon lace. The square neckline and short sleeves were scalloped. The organza skirt had a detachable cone-shaped train which also was accented with the lace.

A flat crown of seed pearls held the bride's elbow-length veil in place, and she carried a cascade of Amazon lilies, stephanotis and holly leaves.

THERE WERE two ring bearers in the wedding party, both nephews of the bride. Three-year-old Matthew Biegert of Pittsburgh and Gregg Lindskoog, 2, of Arlington Heights carried the double rings.

The groom's brother, Robert Gehl, was his best man, and two of his Prospect High School friends, Steve Miller and Tony Inzerello, seated the guests. Steve is from Arlington Heights and Tony from Elk Grove.

Pale blue silk was chosen by Mrs. Lindskoog for her ensemble for the day, and with her 3-piece suit she wore a pink cymbidium corsage. Mrs. Gehl chose an aqua jacket dress, aqua accessories and a white cymbidium corsage.

The newlyweds greeted 200 guests at a reception in the church hall immediately following the ceremony. They plan a future honeymoon, as they had to be back in Norman, Okla., after the holidays for college exams.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gehl, 420 N. Fairview, is a junior, majoring in marketing. His bride, daughter of the N. Roy Lindskoogs, 700 S. I-Oka, is in her freshman year.

For the 8 o'clock rites on Dec. 29, Rev. Philip Ramsey of St. Mark church was assisted by the bride's brother-in-law, Rev. Edward C. Biegert, who is campus minister at the University of Pittsburgh and Carnegie Tech. The Rev. Mr. Biegert also gave the wedding sermonette.

POINSETTIA plants and lighted Christmas trees decorated the altar, as the bridal party came down the aisle wearing green velvet and candlelight brocade dresses and carrying white poinsettia bouquets mixed with holly leaves and berries.

Their dresses were styled with a green velvet bodice which was complemented by a candlelight brocade skirt, A-line, with a green velvet panel flowing to the floor-length hem.

MAID OF HONOR was Nancy Kees of Rolling Meadows, while Nancy Harmon of Mount Prospect, a Forest View High School classmate of the bride and Marilu Kloster, also of Mount Prospect, were bridesmaids.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white organza over ivory taffeta gown, the empire bodice styled of re-embroidered alencon lace. The square neckline and short sleeves were scalloped. The organza skirt had a detachable cone-shaped train which also was accented with the lace.

A flat crown of seed pearls held the bride's elbow-length veil in place, and she carried a cascade of Amazon lilies, stephanotis and holly leaves.

THERE WERE two ring bearers in the wedding party, both nephews of the bride. Three-year-old Matthew Biegert of Pittsburgh and Gregg Lindskoog, 2, of Arlington Heights carried the double rings.

The groom's brother, Robert Gehl, was his best man, and two of his Prospect High School friends, Steve Miller and Tony Inzerello, seated the guests. Steve is from Arlington Heights and Tony from Elk Grove.

Pale blue silk was chosen by Mrs. Lindskoog for her ensemble for the day, and with her 3-piece suit she wore a pink cymbidium corsage. Mrs. Gehl chose an aqua jacket dress, aqua accessories and a white cymbidium corsage.

The newlyweds greeted 200 guests at a reception in the church hall immediately following the ceremony. They plan a future honeymoon, as they had to be back in Norman, Okla., after the holidays for college exams. (Bak Studio (S

JEFFERSON WRITES A GIFT FOR MANKIND:
THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

America has given many gifts to its people; among the most outstanding is the philosophy in our Declaration of Independence.

The process of producing this historic document took less than a month.

On June 7, 1776, Thomas Jefferson was asked to write a declaration of independence for the 13 colonies; he finished June 28; on July 4 it was adopted.

The Declaration put into writing that men have the right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness"; and it said government derives its power "from the consent of the governed".

The Declaration of Independence is important to our heritage, not just because it declared a free America, but because it gave inspiration to men then fighting our war of independence; and because it gives inspiration to all who want to uphold democracy now, and in all future generations.

Home Builders Defeat Licensing Ordinance

Home builders and some 32 specialty subcontractors in the northern Illinois area have again successfully defeated an illegal licensing ordinance similar to others which are presently enforced by many municipalities in the Chicago area.

This week, DuPage, County Circuit Court Judge William J. Bauer ruled the Village of Wheaton's contractor licensing ordinance invalid on a suit brought by the Northern Illinois Home Builders Association by its attorney Edward L. S. Arkema.

In 1964, the Illinois Supreme Court had ruled a similar ordinance enacted by the City of Chicago to be unconstitutional and invalid on a suit brought by the South Side Builders Association. Arkema also acted as attorney for the SSBA in this suit.

UNDER THE decree, the Village of Wheaton will be required to refund some $18,000 collected as license fees under the provisions of the rescinded ordinance. In the Chicago suit, the city was required to refund over $870,000 in license fees to building and specialty contractors. In both cases, Arkema had moved through court proceedings to have the license fees held in escrow accounts by the municipalities, thereby prohibiting them from using these funds pending the outcome of the suits.

Home builder trade associations have strenuously resisted these contractor licensing ordinances on the grounds that these laws interfere with the normal conduct of business, and due to the multiplicity of such ordinances in many municipalities where these contractors operate, the costs of all these separate licenses is a financial hardship.

Arkema said that at the present time, many of the villages in the Chicago metropolitan area are presently enforcing similar licensing ordinances aimed at receiving revenues collected as license fees from home builders and the many sub-contracts operating in the homebuilding field.

"We are not lead to believe that these municipalities will voluntarily rescind their ordinances," said Arkema. "Future plans regarding possible litigation in those towns and villages will be dependent on the advice to be given those municipalities by the Illinois Municipal League."

AFTER THE Illinois Supreme Court ruled the Chicago licensing ordinance invalid, the league advised the municipalities that the 1964 decision did not have any direct effect on their licensing laws.

During the 1965 Illinois General Assembly, Arkema had drafted a state-wide licensing ordinance supported by the home builder trade associations which would provide for a single license fee to be paid to either the state or to the city of Chicago. This action was to demonstrate the willingness of the builders to operate under accurate and professional supervision of the licensing body of the state government, without suffering the financial hardship of the repetitous licensing ordinances in every municipality where the contracted worked.

The bill provided for an 11 member board of examiners who were experienced and knowledgable in the home building field to examine applicants, investigate complaints, conduct hearings, and to issue, suspend and revoke licenses.

The proposed bill provided that the examining board, which would be appointed by the governor of Illinois, would be composed of no less than eight licensed contractors. It also called for license fees of $50 for the first year, and $25 for each renewal.

THE BILL was entered in the General Assembly, but did not get out of committee before adjournment. Arkema said that plans are to propose the bill again in the next session of the state legislature.

Arkema will be honored at the coming meeting of the Associated Builder Organizations of Illinois for his successful prosecution of the Wheaton case. The ABOI is a home builder and subcontractor trade association representing over 1,500 individual members in seven northern Illinois counties.

The meeting will be held on February 10, 6:30 p.m. at Banona's Steak House in Oak Lawn. (RE

Centex Industrial Park Leads Nation

Centex Industrial Park was the scene of 61 industrial site transactions during 1965 to lead the nation and the Chicago area in the number of transactions comsummated, it has been announced by the developer of the 2,000-acre industrial park adjacent to Chicago's O'Hare International Airport.

Bennett & Kahnweiler, the developer, said the 61 transactions involved the purchase of land, the built-to-suit leasing of buildings and the leasing or purchases of existing facilities. They pushed the total number of firms operating or owning property in the nation's fastest growing industrial park to 259.

More than 7-million square feet of land valued conservatively in excess of $4,500,000 was involved in the 1965 transactions. Land sales ran the gamut of size. They ranged from a 54-acre sale to Cinch Manufacturing Co., a division of United-Carr Corp., to a 15,000-square-foot site upon which Micro Plastics Co. constructed a 5,000-square-foot plant.

OTHER DIRECT land sales included a 320,000-square-foot site to be utilized by Jupiter Printing Co. for an 85,000-square-foot plant currently under construction and a 200,000-square-foot site upon which D. H. Overmyer Warehouse Co. is constructing its first Chicago public warehouse.

The firms involved in the record-breaking 1965 transactions that have announced construction plans will put up more than 2-million square feet of plant and office space. Value of the construction will run between $15 and $20-million depending on the type of construction.

Much of the construction work has already been completed. For instance, National Material Corp. acquired its site in 1965 and completed its building during the same year, as did Schwinn Sales Co. which has a 60,000-square-foot facility on Arthur Avenue.

THE ACTIVITIES of the firms that located in Centex during 1965 are nearly as varied as the number of transactions consummated. They range from Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp. warehouse for home insulation products through Dell Publishing Co. book distribution center to Great Lakes Car Distributors facility for the distribution and servicing of British-manufactured automobiles.

Still other transactions represented firsts for the firms involved. Sunray DX's Sunray Plastics Co. first manufacturing plant was opened in Centex Industrial Park late last year. Ampex Corp. launced the manufacture of television recording equipment in a 77,000-square-foot building.

Many of the transactions involved expansion of firms which have operated in the Park for several years. Clark Brass and Copper Co., for instance, sold its building and purchased another site which will nearly double its older facilities.

THE DEVELOPER said that nearly all of the 1965 transactions involved companies which looked to the suburbs when confronted with a need to expand to larger, more modern, one-story facilities. One of the major reasons why they selected Centex Industrial Park was the fact that economical land costs make it possible to purchase land for future expansion.

Other dominant factors listed by the new land purchasers included the fact that the Park is adjacent to O'Hare International Airport, is less than 800 yards from the Illinois superhighway system, has Chicago-based rail and truck freight rates and is served by two railroads.

The year also saw 35 acres added to the Park's total acreage when land between Landmeier Road and Higgins Road east of Busse Road was annexed. Immediate plans of developer and builder J. R. Gottlieb & Co. call for construction of six buildings for purchase or built-to-suit leasing. Ultimately between 50 and 70 plants of varying size will be located in the area — known as Centex North. Centex Industrial Park Leads Nation

Centex Industrial Park was the scene of 61 industrial site transactions during 1965 to lead the nation and the Chicago area in the number of transactions comsummated, it has been announced by the developer of the 2,000-acre industrial park adjacent to Chicago's O'Hare International Airport.

Bennett & Kahnweiler, the developer, said the 61 transactions involved the purchase of land, the built-to-suit leasing of buildings and the leasing or purchases of existing facilities. They pushed the total number of firms operating or owning property in the nation's fastest growing industrial park to 259.

More than 7-million square feet of land valued conservatively in excess of $4,500,000 was involved in the 1965 transactions. Land sales ran the gamut of size. They ranged from a 54-acre sale to Cinch Manufacturing Co., a division of United-Carr Corp., to a 15,000-square-foot site upon which Micro Plastics Co. constructed a 5,000-square-foot plant.

OTHER DIRECT land sales included a 320,000-square-foot site to be utilized by Jupiter Printing Co. for an 85,000-square-foot plant currently under construction and a 200,000-square-foot site upon which D. H. Overmyer Warehouse Co. is constructing its first Chicago public warehouse.

The firms involved in the record-breaking 1965 transactions that have announced construction plans will put up more than 2-million square feet of plant and office space. Value of the construction will run between $15 and $20-million depending on the type of construction.

Much of the construction work has already been completed. For instance, National Material Corp. acquired its site in 1965 and completed its building during the same year, as did Schwinn Sales Co. which has a 60,000-square-foot facility on Arthur Avenue.

THE ACTIVITIES of the firms that located in Centex during 1965 are nearly as varied as the number of transactions consummated. They range from Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp. warehouse for home insulation products through Dell Publishing Co. book distribution center to Great Lakes Car Distributors facility for the distribution and servicing of British-manufactured automobiles.

Still other transactions represented firsts for the firms involved. Sunray DX's Sunray Plastics Co. first manufacturing plant was opened in Centex Industrial Park late last year. Ampex Corp. launced the manufacture of television recording equipment in a 77,000-square-foot building.

Urges Rent Aid for Low Income Families

A new day of cooperation between government and the real estate calling to solve the housing problems of low-income families was hailed last week by the new president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards as he took office .

The rent supplement program enacted by the Congress now makes it possible within the framework of privately owned property to help obtain shelter of good quality for families in need, declared Jack Justice, Miami Beach, Fla., as he was installed as president of the 82,000-member association during its midwinter meeting in the Sheraton - Park Hotel. He succeeds Maurice G. Reed, Berkeley, Calif.

Significant progress can be made this year in meeting this urgent need, he said, urging Congress to appropriate the funds to put the program into operation, a step which it declined to take last year.

JUSTICE SAID that during his visits to the NAREB local boards and state associations this year he would "urge them to take an active and helpful part in using this where it is needed."

(Under Section 221 (d) (3) of the National Housing Act, the program would provide rent supplements to low-income families living in housing privately owned by non-profit, limited dividend, or cooperative organizations. Five categories of tenants who because of their income range are eligible for public housing assistance could receive instead benefits under this plan. These are the elderly, the physically handicapped, families displaced by governmental action, those living in substandard housing, and families whose housing was destroyed or extensively damaged by a major natural disaster. The tenants would pay 25 per cent of their income toward the market rent for the unit of shelter, and the federal government would make up the balance.)

A new opportunity is presented here, Mr. Justice stated, in eminding his audience that NAREB at its November convention in Chicago voted to support "this hopeful new program."

"We are confident that the administrative rules will direct the benefits to the low income families who are in genuine need of housing assistance," he said.

"WE ARE HOPEFUL that the program will avail itself of the statutory authority to use rehabilitation as well as new construction in the interest of gaining maximum impact."

Strengthening of the real estate license laws was called for also by the new NAREB president at the banquet during which Lyn E. Davis, Dallas, was installed as NAREB treasurer, and 13 vice - presidents and the presidents of nine affiliated institutes also took office.

"In a survey of Realtor opinion conducted shortly before our last convention, replies revealed the nearly unanimous view that we should act to strengthen real estate license laws," Mr. Justice revealed.

"The most frequently suggested method is the use of more exacting license examinations," he said. "We must accept this expression as a directive to launch a major new effort that will raise the standards of competence under state laws."

Urges Rent Aid for Low Income Families

A new day of cooperation between government and the real estate calling to solve the housing problems of low-income families was hailed last week by the new president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards as he took office .

The rent supplement program enacted by the Congress now makes it possible within the framework of privately owned property to help obtain shelter of good quality for families in need, declared Jack Justice, Miami Beach, Fla., as he was installed as president of the 82,000-member association during its midwinter meeting in the Sheraton - Park Hotel. He succeeds Maurice G. Reed, Berkeley, Calif.

Significant progress can be made this year in meeting this urgent need, he said, urging Congress to appropriate the funds to put the program into operation, a step which it declined to take last year.

JUSTICE SAID that during his visits to the NAREB local boards and state associations this year he would "urge them to take an active and helpful part in using this where it is needed."

(Under Section 221 (d) (3) of the National Housing Act, the program would provide rent supplements to low-income families living in housing privately owned by non-profit, limited dividend, or cooperative organizations. Five categories of tenants who because of their income range are eligible for public housing assistance could receive instead benefits under this plan. These are the elderly, the physically handicapped, families displaced by governmental action, those living in substandard housing, and families whose housing was destroyed or extensively damaged by a major natural disaster. The tenants would pay 25 per cent of their income toward the market rent for the unit of shelter, and the federal government would make up the balance.)

A new opportunity is presented here, Mr. Justice stated, in eminding his audience that NAREB at its November convention in Chicago voted to support "this hopeful new program."

"We are confident that the administrative rules will direct the benefits to the low income families who are in genuine need of housing assistance," he said.

"WE ARE HOPEFUL that the program will avail itself of the statutory authority to use rehabilitation as well as new construction in the interest of gaining maximum impact."

Strengthening of the real estate license laws was called for also by the new NAREB president at the banquet during which Lyn E. Davis, Dallas, was installed as NAREB treasurer, and 13 vice - presidents and the presidents of nine affiliated institutes also took office.

"In a survey of Realtor opinion conducted shortly before our last convention, replies revealed the nearly unanimous view that we should act to strengthen real estate license laws," Mr. Justice revealed.

"The most frequently suggested method is the use of more exacting license examinations," he said. "We must accept this expression as a directive to launch a major new effort that will raise the standards of competence under state laws."

Lists 9 Safety Rules For Snow Throwers

The homeowner who obtains a mechanical snow thrower to eliminate the risk of a winter heart attack is on the right track, but he may be creating a new danger for himself if he is careless.

"A snow thrower can be a hazardous piece of machinery in the hands of an inexperienced person," according to Edward R. Klamm, accident prevention director for the Allstate Insurance Companies.

"As with any other type of mechanical equipment, the operator should thoroughly acquaint himself with the equipment and its operation before he starts to use it," Klamm points out.

WITH THE increasing use of snow throwers, it is essential that the public is aware of the dangers involved in their operation. The Allstate safety expert offers the following tips for the snow thrower users:

1. Read the owner's manual. Know all controls and how to stop the machine quickly. Keep machine in good operating condition and keep safety devices in place.
2. Disengage all clutches and shift into neutral before starting motor. Keep hands, feet and clothing away from power-driven parts to avoid amputation or mangling. Electric power units should be equipped with a grounded three-wire extension cord, so no one is shocked or electrocuted.
3. Always disengage power and stop motor before cleaning discharge, removing obstacles, making adjustments or when leaving operating position.
4. Handle gasoline with care. Always use an approved gasoline container. Never add gasoline to a running motor and always fill tank outdoors. Carelessness can cause serious burns.
5. NEVER DIRECT discharge at bystanders or allow anyone in front of machine. Debris, which often is hidden in snow, can cause serious injury.
6. Never allow children to operate machine; the same applies to adults who have not been thoroughly instructed in its operation.
7. Keep children and pets a safe distance away.
8. Adjust height to clear gravel or crushed rock.
9. Exercise caution to avoid slipping or falling — especially when operating in reverse.

Bruning to Sell Drafting Pencil

The Charles Bruning Co. has announced plans to market a new drafting film pencil that eliminates the chief complaint against drafting film — smearing.

The pencil is manufactured by the Dur-O-Lite Pencil Co. and has been found to be especially compatible with Bruning's "Sure-Scale" drafting film. The new product is a disposable mechanical pencil equipped with a .046-inch stick of diamond extruded composition that draws like graphite "lead," but is almost totally resistant to smearing, the company stated.

Yet, its line is easily and cleanly erased with a standard vinyl eraser.

Called the Film King, the pencil is a dramatic departure from the standard graphite or plastic compositions in other drafting film pencils. It draws a clean, black line that refuses to smear or smudge, even when the line is redrawn twice or more and the deposit of "lead" is built up.

It works equally well over erasures on film, spots some draftsmen say cause difficulties for ordinary drafting pencils. The pencil offers economies and convenience as well, the firm said.

It costs much less than other lead holders and is competitive with woodcased drafting pencils. It is not thrown away until all the "lead" is used and even then can be used as a scribe, if desired. (10B

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by Richard H. DeLano, Associate Farm Advisor

ALERT HOMEOWNERS DIAL DAILY 392-3060

Rabbits at Easter are cute, but in the winter shrubbery they can be disastrous.

One rabbit left uncontrolled can destroy the landscaping of an entire neighborhood. The damage occurs when hungry rabbits chew the bark off trunk and twigs.

When bark is destroyed a gap is created which prevents food and water from passing from root to leaf. It only takes the destruction of a portion of this thin eighth inch deep life zone to cause death of a small tree or shrub.

Most damage occurs in winter when snow is on the ground. Natural vegetation is covered and rabbits are hard pressed for food.

IN OPEN FARM areas rabbits may not become a problem because trapping and hunting is permitted. Foxes and hawks also play their part and help keep the rabbit population in check. Farmers can even go a step further and remove brush piles and other hiding places.

In cities and towns, however, these predators are not active, thus the rabbit population flourishes.

I've personally seen several in our neighborhood. All summer long whenever I mowed the grass near the foundation shrubbery, rabbits would fly out of the greenery. Fortunately during the summer they had plenty to eat and didn't bother the garden. Now however food supplies are low and rabbit control measures are necessary.

ONE METHOD of rabbit control is to treat all young trees and shrubs with a rabbit repellent. The chemical doesn't scare the animal away, it just makes the bark so distasteful that he refuses to eat it. Several materials are suggested by the Fish and Wildlife Service. They include nicotine sulfate, rosin and alcohol mixtures, and Arasan 75 which is also called Thiram.

Unfortunately at this time of year it's difficult to apply chemicals because they freeze in the sprayer. Applying the material with a paintbrush held in a gloved hand is clumsy. In addition mixing up a batch of repellent for a dozen or so trees is somewhat tedious and time consuming.

The most practical approach to the rabbit problem at this time of year is live trapping or protecting the tree with a barrier. Many live traps are on the market that do not require a trapping license. After the rabbit is caught it can be released out in the country.

THE EASIEST and most fool proof method of rabbit control is to wrap the trunk. Several materials can be used. Old newspapers many layers thick can be rolled and secured with string. Tin foil can also serve as a deterrent. The easiest, longest lasting, and most attractive type of barrier is hardware cloth or aluminum foil mesh. If the mesh is sold expressly for the purpose of foiling rabbits it may come with tabs which will lock the mesh in a circle around the tree. The permanent mesh or screening may then be left in place until the tree has outgrown its protection.

And remember, rabbits on snow can reach quite high. Best have the protection reach a foot and half to two feet above the ground.

If an especially valuable tree is damaged it can be repaired by bridge grafting or inarching. These methods however take highly skilled techniques practiced by an experienced nurseryman. Therefore protect your prized plantings now, before damage occurs.

Maher At Hardware Convention

Pierce J. Maher of Maher Lumber, 301 W. Irving Park Road, Wood Dale, was one of over 800 Ace dealers from coast to coast, Hawaii and the Bahamas, who recently attended the corporation's annual dealer convention at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

The convention was designed to bring up to date, over a four day period, significant merchandising, accounting, procedural and advertising happenings of the past year, and how best these proceedings may be implemented during the coming year.

"Much was accomplished during the four day period," Maher stated, and during the coming weeks and months ahead, the benefits derived will become self evident in the way of more efficient merchandising methods, and day to day store operations." (15BB

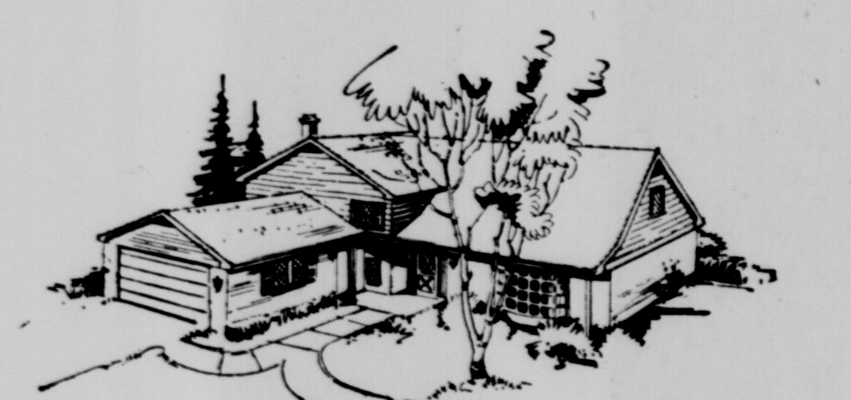
If we had more space in this home, we wouldn't know what to do with it.
Neither would you.



This architectural plan is a Cape Cod adaptation, featuring 3 bedrooms—plus a giant 25'6" x 15'0" dormitory (great hobby room or play room, etc.!)... 2½ bathrooms, family room, separate living and dining rooms, attached 2-car garage, etc., etc. It is priced at $34,800. Excellent conventional financing available. Other models, too!—a 4-bedroom ranch home...and a 4-bedroom split-level.

We call this luxurious home simply—"architectural plan number 6446." Perhaps that's not saying enough. However, we assume that by now you've come to recognize the distinctive features and quality construction that always go into Regent Park's homes. We're guessing, too, that with its location in an ideal section of Arlington Heights, this home already speaks for itself. So we'll stop now...and hope you stop by—soon!

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by Richard H. DeLano, Associate Farm Advisor

ALERT HOMEOWNERS DIAL DAILY 392-3060

Rabbits at Easter are cute, but in the winter shrubbery they can be disastrous.

One rabbit left uncontrolled can destroy the landscaping of an entire neighborhood. The damage occurs when hungry rabbits chew the bark off trunk and twigs.

When bark is destroyed a gap is created which prevents food and water from passing from root to leaf. It only takes the destruction of a portion of this thin eighth inch deep life zone to cause death of a small tree or shrub.

Most damage occurs in winter when snow is on the ground. Natural vegetation is covered and rabbits are hard pressed for food.

IN OPEN FARM areas rabbits may not become a problem because trapping and hunting is permitted. Foxes and hawks also play their part and help keep the rabbit population in check. Farmers can even go a step further and remove brush piles and other hiding places.

In cities and towns, however, these predators are not active, thus the rabbit population flourishes.

I've personally seen several in our neighborhood. All summer long whenever I mowed the grass near the foundation shrubbery, rabbits would fly out of the greenery. Fortunately during the summer they had plenty to eat and didn't bother the garden. Now however food supplies are low and rabbit control measures are necessary.

ONE METHOD of rabbit control is to treat all young trees and shrubs with a rabbit repellent. The chemical doesn't scare the animal away, it just makes the bark so distasteful that he refuses to eat it. Several materials are suggested by the Fish and Wildlife Service. They include nicotine sulfate, rosin and alcohol mixtures, and Arasan 75 which is also called Thiram.

Unfortunately at this time of year it's difficult to apply chemicals because they freeze in the sprayer. Applying the material with a paintbrush held in a gloved hand is clumsy. In addition mixing up a batch of repellent for a dozen or so trees is somewhat tedious and time consuming.

The most practical approach to the rabbit problem at this time of year is live trapping or protecting the tree with a barrier. Many live traps are on the market that do not require a trapping license. After the rabbit is caught it can be released out in the country.

THE EASIEST and most fool proof method of rabbit control is to wrap the trunk. Several materials can be used. Old newspapers many layers thick can be rolled and secured with string. Tin foil can also serve as a deterrent. The easiest, longest lasting, and most attractive type of barrier is hardware cloth or aluminum foil mesh. If the mesh is sold expressly for the purpose of foiling rabbits it may come with tabs which will lock the mesh in a circle around the tree. The permanent mesh or screening may then be left in place until the tree has outgrown its protection.

And remember, rabbits on snow can reach quite high. Best have the protection reach a foot and half to two feet above the ground.

If an especially valuable tree is damaged it can be repaired by bridge grafting or inarching. These methods however take highly skilled techniques practiced by an experienced nurseryman. Therefore protect your prized plantings now, before damage occurs.

Maher At Hardware Convention

Pierce J. Maher of Maher Lumber, 301 W. Irving Park Road, Wood Dale, was one of over 800 Ace dealers from coast to coast, Hawaii and the Bahamas, who recently attended the corporation's annual dealer convention at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

The convention was designed to bring up to date, over a four day period, significant merchandising, accounting, procedural and advertising happenings of the past year, and how best these proceedings may be implemented during the coming year.

"Much was accomplished during the four day period," Maher stated, and during the coming weeks and months ahead, the benefits derived will become self evident in the way of more efficient merchandising methods, and day to day store operations." (15BB

WHEN YOU MAY REFUSE TO TESTIFY

Publicity in newspapers, radio and television in recent years has drawn considerable attention to the phrase "taking the 5th Amendment" by witnesses appearing in court or before legislative committees.

Most of our citizens are well aware of the Federal Constitutional right provided in the 5th Amendment whereby a person may not be forced to give evidence against himself if it will tend to incriminate him. Few people, however, are aware of the many ramifications of that provision, as demonstrated by many cases decided before our courts.

Like many of our other laws this privilege came into our Constitution in 1791 from English law. Its birth in English law came about as a result of the attempt during Queen Elizabeth's times to extinguish Puritanism. As a result of these "trials" in which Puritans were forced to testify on oath regarding their beliefs and activities, a public outcry ultimately brought Charles I to abolish the practice in 1641.

The Fifth Amendment Today

The privilege against self-incrimination, as it is employed by U. S. law, generally speaking, permits a person to refuse to testify in a court proceeding if he can establish that the testimony called for would tend to subject him to punishment for violation of a criminal law. This rule does not mean that a witness can ignore a properly issued summons or subpoena and refust to appear in court. He must respond, appear in court, and then claim his privilege.

It is of interest to note that the protection is not limited to testimony. For example, it has been held to include articles taken from the home of an accused without benefit of a search warrant.

Contempt of Court

Since a witness may decline to answer only those questions which tend to incriminate him, he cannot claim the privilege when asked a question that might tend to disgrace him or harm his reputation, nor can he claim the privilege to avoid incriminating others.

A court may hold a witness in contempt where he refuses to testify on these grounds unless it appears from the nature of the circumstances of the case and the evidence sought that there is a reasonable basis for concern that the witness will be subjecting himself to possible prosecution. But if the offense which the witness fears may be brought out in his testimony is barred by the statute of limitations, that is, too many years have passed since the crime was committed to permit the State to prosecute him, then the privilege cannot be claimed.

In certain cases a statute or the court may grant a witness immunity from prosecution and require him to testify. By thus removing the threat of prosecution the witness is not subject to self - incrimination as to that offense and may be found in contempt of court if he still refuses to testify.

Civil and Criminal Cases

The constitutional guaranty against self-incrimination extends to all proceedings sanctioned by law. It is not limited to criminal cases and applies to proceedings of a civil nature as well, wherever the answer has the effect of tending to subject the person to criminal prosecution.

In the case of a defendant in a criminal action, he may refuse to testify at all in a prosecution against him.

Whether the historical basis for the privilege serves only to protect the guilty from punishment they justly deserve, or whether it is a valuable safeguard against the abuses of a police state, remains the subject of much debate.

WHEN YOU MAY REFUSE TO TESTIFY

Publicity in newspapers, radio and television in recent years has drawn considerable attention to the phrase "taking the 5th Amendment" by witnesses appearing in court or before legislative committees.

The Way We See It

Schools Must Keep Citizens Informed

Heartening referendum victories were chalked up last Saturday in two area high school districts.

Voters in Wheeling and Elk Grove Townships approved a sixth high school for District 214, the largest school district in the state outside Chicago.

The victory margin of 2 to 1 was impressive evidence that voters consider the money spent on the high schools as a sound investment. The reputation earned by District 214 schools is an asset to the entire community, not just to the parents of high school students.

Equally impressive and more surprising was the 3 to 1 margin of approval given to a Fenton High School tax increase by more than 4,000 voters.

Bensenville and Wood Dale voters had defeated four previous tax increase proposals, two of the defeats coming in 1965. The changed result must be explained by greater understanding of the consequences of another defeat, plus much hard work by concerned school people, parents, pupils and other interested citizens.

Although two hurdles were cleared Saturday, many more school problems lie ahead throughout growing suburbia.

How can they be prevented from reaching crisis proportions?

A helpful practice has been the formation of citizens committees, acting as aides to school boards in weighing needs and proposing solutions.

Such committees should be composed neither of hand-picked yes-men nor confirmed stand-patters, but instead should be representative of the entire community.

They perform genuine services. They can make a more thorough survey than a school board can, acting alone. They can anticipate many questions that are apt to be asked. Their independent investigation instills confidence among the voters.

Also important is the need for keeping school finances constantly in view, giving the public the current picture and future prospects.

Last minute "crisis" appeals are never effective in gaining "yes" votes in a school referendum.

In Arlington Heights, the elementary school board has enlisted a citizens committee to make a study of the long-term financial prospects of the district. This report can be an important tool in planning for future school needs, and gaining acceptance for such plans. It could also serve as a model for similar action by other districts.

A fully informed electorate seldom turns down a valid school proposal. That is why it is important to use citizens committees, regular financial reporting, and any other technique contributing to broad popular understanding of schools and their needs.

Young People of Ideals

We have printed an impressive number of stories of area young people leaving for or returning from Peace Corps service overseas the past few years.

Back in August, 1963, Lynn Christopherson, the first graduate of the X-ray technician training program at Northwest Community Hospital, left for training to join a medical project in Brazil.

At about the same time, Thomas W. Livingston returned from two years of teaching school in an isolated village in Ghana, West Africa.

In succeeding months, Sheila Hegy, Addison, left for Peace Corps service in Liberia . . . Deanna Warejcka, Arlington Heights, went to Nigeria to teach . . . Fred Brace, Rolling Meadows, left for Sierra Leone to teach physics . . . Peggy Anderson came back to Arlington Heights after teaching for two years in Togo . . . Virginia Sowinski, Prospect Heights, headed for Morocco to help organize women's activities in small rural towns . . . Pat Cusack, Hoffman Estates, helped the Aymara Indians in Bolivia establish a cocoa plantation . . . Stephen Elrick, Inverness, helped bring piped water to a slum in Santo Domingo . . . Carol Marker, Palatine, taught pre-school children in Turkey . . . and the list could go on and on.

By using their knowledge and skills to help others, these young volunteers are acting in the best American tradition. They benefit, too, for they learn of the diversity of the world's peoples and of common desires for a better life.

We are proud that our communities continue to develop young people of high ideals which find expression in the Peace Corps.

Thank You for the Plaque

We were pleased to accept the plaque from Striking Lanes' Marty Weber, saluting us for our work the past 15 years in conducting the annual Paddock bowling tourneys.

We were also pleased to have Mt. Prospect mayor Dan Congreve heap praise on us for our work in backing the local villages, the schools and other worthwhile community issues. We are proud to have been a part of the growth of the northwest suburbs.

But that is as it should be. A local newspaper has responsibilities to the communities it serves. It must exercise good judgment in its coverage of the local scene, and express opinions on vital issues in an effort to convince local, responsible leaders.

Paddock Publications has been attempting to exert such responsible direction for almost 70 years. It has been interesting, enjoyable and rewarding. We refuse to consider it work, but rather satisfaction.

We say "thank you" to the bowlers of the area for according us honors two weeks ago. We will do our best to continue to merit the support of local communities in the future.

Recollections Of Scouthood

by CHARLES E. HAYES
Executive Editor

The spotlight this week is on activities of the Boy Scouts of America, which are celebrating their 56th year of helping to train boys in the skills of growing up.

I was one of those boys.

There are those who may still debate how well the national youth movement helped me to master such skills, but I for one am grateful for the experience.

Hayes

I was reminded of this colorful chapter in my now-distant youth when I read that, as part of the Boy Scout Week observance, the organization was urging those who, like me, were Scouts but are not active today to remember the Good Turn principle by which they lived as Scouts. The 1966 alumni slogan is "Once a Scout Always a Scout."

The worthwhile, positive contributions of Scouting are well-known and well-publicized. Who cannot help but be impressed at the past and present performance of Scout programs in behalf of character building, citizenship training, and physical fitness.

THERE CAN BE other reminiscences of Scouting, however, and some of them I recall with vivid accuracy.

The rubber band battles we waged during Good Turn lectures by Stanley Huntington, my boyhood Scout executive.

The "hazings" we gave Tenderfoot scouts despite the exhortations of kindly Scoutmaster Cobb of Troop 1, Park Ridge.

The Fatima cigarettes we filched and puffed on backstage in Jorgeson Hall of the First Methodist Church, and Jack Torgeson teaching me how to inhale.

THE BEER WE smuggled into Camp Dan Beard and then had to surrender when we got caught by the senior patrol leader. Later, we saw him and two other leaders finishing our beer in their tents.

The time we all bet Star Scout Frank Hanson he couldn't swipe a lampshade from the F. W. Woolworth store and Frank won.

The frustration of never being able to start a fire by rubbing stones together and having to cheat when nobody was looking and use matches.

THE NIGHT I bruised Fred Johnston's rib while administering artificial respiration for a First Aid merit badge examination.

The reality of my always-inedible pancakes and the two times Scoutmaster Cobb made me eat them. Both times I got sick.

How my eggs kept falling into the fire.

Devoting two weeks at Camp Wabaningo to unsuccessfully making a belt and wasting a month's allowance just on leather goods.

The scrap paper drives of World War II and my tying a dozen bundles which flew apart when thrown on the collection truck and my never admitting it was me that mistied them.

The mysteries of Scout rope knots which never did reveal themselves to me, despite countless nights of tutoring by my older brother on the kitchen floor. Even today I'm cowed by a broken shoe lace.

THE TIME I nearly severed a thumb while attempting to whittle.

That 14-mile hike! The trek from Park Ridge to the Des Plaines River, down to Lawrence Avenue and back again which left me bedridden with fatigue.

The two times I nearly drowned while learning to swim.

The time I fell ill with sinus after a weekend camporee highlighted by 31 consecutive hours of heavy rain.

But it wasn't all failure.

I did honestly earn a Journalism merit badge!

A Tough Assignment

By NANCY ANDERSON
Staff Writer

Every day, hundreds of people enter the wide doors of the Cook County Juvenile Court building at 2240 W. Roosevelt Road, at the northeast corner of the triangular intersection of Ogden Avenue and Roosevelt on Chicago's near West Side.

Inside, they sit patiently on wood benches lined up against the walls, or mill around in the hallways. There are the young — bewildered children whose parents have left them, already-hardened repeaters. And there are the old—frustrated parents, guardians who are required to appear with their charges.

WHILE THEY WAIT their turn in court, many are silent, resigned. But as one moves through this melting pot in miniature, others can be heard speaking in Spanish, accents of the Deep South, or the hill country.

All these people will be heard during the day by the six judges of the Juvenile Court, presided over by new Chief Judge Walter P. Dahl, 43, of 416 E. Windsor, Arlington Heights.

JUDGE DAHL

Born and raised on the North Side of Chicago, the Democratic judge has lived in Arlington since 1955; he and his wife, Mary, have two children, James, 15, and Janet, 14.

A GRADUATE of Northwestern University Law School, he was Illinois assistant attorney general in 1950-51, later Wheeling Township justice of the peace for six years, and had served on the Criminal Court bench since 1962 until his transfer last month.

At Juvenile Court, the load "usually runs about 40 or 50 cases per day for each judge," according to Dahl, who points out that unlike adult courts, Juvenile Court cannot accumulate a backlog. Cases must be acted upon as soon as possible.

"Whatever business walks in on a given day, the judges have to dispose of." Last year the court considered 20,000 different petitions.

While "that many is difficult for any judge," the manner in which the cases are handled has already won Dahl's admiration.

"ACTUALLY, the judges around here do a fine job. In spite of the load, I think they're getting enough time. The cases that need the time get it," he says, pointing out a murder trial that carried over into a second day last week.

But Dahl is not about to make any snap judgments on his new position: "I've been ordering an awful lot of material to study." He's accepted the new assignment calmly, terms it "very interesting."

Several other judges reportedly turned down the post when they were contacted by Chief Circuit Court Judge John S. Boyle. Considered one of the toughest judicial assignments, Juvenile Court is frustrating and full of emotion—Boyle himself has said two years' service there is sufficient.

WHILE DAHL didn't ask for the post, he said "I would take it. It seemed a part of Circuit Court that offered something different than accident cases." He had never before worked with juveniles —boys up to the age of 17, girls up to 18.

Emotional? Yes, and "obviously you need to be sympathetic. But then everywhere in this world we find these same problems, and worse. And maybe I've managed to build up my defense mechanisms, facing this job."

The psychological burdens of the court may have eased somewhat, too, with major changes in the past couple years. Two years ago there were only two judges. Now there are four more. In addition, "the clinical services department has really been beefed up." The department now has one full-time psychiatrist and hopes to add two more; it also has five positions for full-time psychologists, although two are now vacant.

ALSO SERVING the court is a psychiatric advisory committee with representatives from universities and hospitals. "We're talking now of a seminar for the advisers and judges, to determine how we can best use the clinical services," Dahl says.

Under the new Juvenile Act, youngsters usually are referred to the clinical services department if necessary after the first hearing, held to consider evidence of delinquency. A second hearing is held for adjudication of the case.

Delinquents — those who have violated the law—make up the greater share of the court load, but "I hadn't realized how much time was taken for the dependents," Dahl comments. Two days are set aside primarily for dependents, Thursday and Friday.

FOR WORK WITH these youngsters, Dahl also credits various welfare and service organizations: "They do a good job and help take a big load off the court, working with probation, guardianship, custody," he says.

The court itself has "well over 200" probation officers —and their case load is still "too high." Some 400 persons are directly connected with the work of the court.

And the work they do deserves recognition, Dahl says strongly. "That's the only thing I've really started. I've thought of all the good the Juvenile Court does, and it's doing a real job down here."

A Look at Avant-Garde

by BOB CUMMINS
Staff Writer

It is always exhilarating to get a look at the avant-garde world.

I got my latest glimpse by reading reviews of Susan Sontag's new book, "Against Interpretation." Miss Sontag is an essayist and spokesman for the New York avant-garde.

CUMMINS

She has been dealt with severely by Alan Levensohn, writer of the review I have at hand. Too severely, perhaps. I hope his criticisms won't discourage people from joining the avant-garde. We need more people there.

Levensohn accused Miss Sontag of exalting knowledgeableness rather than learning.

"She uses, quite persuasively," he said, "not only the usual lists of impressive names and the casual mentions of esoteric figures, but also the generalizations which imply vast erudition."

HERE HE cited as example: "Of all the philosophers in the Hegelian tradition (and I include Heidegger), Sartre is the man who has understood the dialectic between self and other in Hegel's 'Phenomenology' in the most interesting and usuable manner."

I was anxious to avoid condemning Miss Sontag hastily, so I made my own survey among a group of acquaintances.

At the gas station, I asked my chassis lubricator: "Randy, of all the philosophers in the Hegelian tradition, which one understood the dialectic between self and other in Hegel's 'Phenomenology' in the most interesting and usable fashion?"

Randy replied: "Do you include Heidegger?"

"Including Heidegger," I said.

"That makes it rough," Randy said. "But Sartre is the man."

NEXT I STOPPED at the butcher shop to pick up a package of neck bones.

"Max, "I said to the butcher, "I know you value Sartre's writings. Why?"

"Bob," he told me, "It's because he was the philosopher who understood the dialectic between self and other in Hegel's 'Phenomenology' in the most interesting and usable fashion."

Before going home, I had one more chore to perform: getting a haircut. As I sat in the chair, my barber and I chatted about the weather and Leo Durocher and then I asked, quite casually: "Jim, the philosophers in the Hegelian tradition have been a pretty disappointing lot, haven't they?"

"YES, BOB, they've disappointed me," Jim declared. "Only Sartre among them understood in an interesting and usable fashion the dialectic between self and other in Hegel's 'Phenomenology'."

There you have it. Miss Sontag is exonerated. But I wonder if her circle is really avant-garde.

Three changes in Paddock Publications news staff were announced this week by Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of the 16 suburban newspapers.

David J. Hanks, news editor of Roselle Register, has been named news editor of the Wheeling Herald, effective Feb. 10.

A journalism graduate of Wichita State University, Hanks has done graduate study at University of Kansas. Prior to joining Paddock Publications last year, he worked as promotion director for KFH Radio, Wichita; reporter for the Southern Illinoisan, Carbondale; night editor for Associated Press bureau in Kansas City; and public relations assistant for University of Kansas.

NAMED AS staff writers and special assignment reporters for Arlington Heights Herald were Eugene Nojek, formerly rewriteman on copy desk, and David H. Crippen, a recent graduate in the Master of Science in Journalism program at University of Iowa.

Nojek is a graduate of Brown University and a veteran of the army. He joined Paddock Publications last fall.

Crippen earned his B.S. in Journalism degree from Colorado State University and worked for the Littleton, Colo., Independent before completing his graduate studies at Iowa. He began work on the Herald this week.

FOR WORK WITH these youngsters, Dahl also credits various welfare and service organizations: "They do a good job and help take a big load off the court, working with probation, guardianship, custody," he says.

The court itself has "well over 200" probation officers—and their case load is still "too high." Some 400 persons are directly connected with the work of the court.

And the work they do deserves recognition, Dahl says strongly. "That's the only thing I've really started. I've thought of all the good the Juvenile Court does, and it's doing a real job down here."

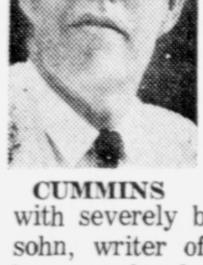
A Look at Avant-Garde

by BOB CUMMINS
Staff Writer

It is always exhilarating to get a look at the avant-garde world.

I got my latest glimpse by reading reviews of Susan Sontag's new book, "Against Interpretation." Miss Sontag is an essayist and spokesman for the New York avant-garde.



CUMMINS

She has been dealt with severely by Alan Levensohn, writer of the review I have at hand. Too severely, perhaps. I hope his criticisms won't discourage people from joining the avant-garde. We need more people there.

Levensohn accused Miss Sontag of exalting knowledgeableness rather than learning.

"She uses, quite persuasively," he said, "not only the usual lists of impressive names and the casual mentions of esoteric figures, but also the generalizations which imply vast erudition."

HERE HE cited as example: "Of all the philosophers in the Hegelian tradition (and I include Heidegger), Sartre is the man who has understood the dialectic between self and other in Hegel's 'Phenomenology' in the most interesting and usuable manner."

I was anxious to avoid condemning Miss Sontag hastily, so I made my own survey among a group of acquaintances.

At the gas station, I asked my chassis lubricator: "Randy, of all the philosophers in the Hegelian tradition, which one understood the dialectic between self and other in Hegel's 'Phenomenology' in the most interesting and usable fashion?"

Randy replied: "Do you include Heidegger?"

"Including Heidegger," I said.

"That makes it rough," Randy said. "But Sartre is the man."

NEXT I STOPPED at the butcher shop to pick up a package of neck bones.

"Max, "I said to the butcher, "I know you value Sartre's writings. Why?"

"Bob," he told me, "It's because he was the philosopher who understood the dialectic between self and other in Hegel's 'Phenomenology' in the most interesting and usable fashion."

Before going home, I had one more chore to perform: getting a haircut. As I sat in the chair, my barber and I chatted about the weather and Leo Durocher and then I asked, quite casually: "Jim, the philosophers in the Hegelian tradition have been a pretty disappointing lot, haven't they?"

"YES, BOB, they've disappointed me," Jim declared. "Only Sartre among them understood in an interesting and usable fashion the dialectic between self and other in Hegel's 'Phenomenology'."

There you have it. Miss Sontag is exonerated. But I wonder if her circle is really avant-garde.

Three changes in Paddock Publications news staff were announced this week by Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of the 16 suburban newspapers.

David J. Hanks, news editor of Roselle Register, has been named news editor of the Wheeling Herald, effective Feb. 10.

A journalism graduate of Wichita State University, Hanks has done graduate study at University of Kansas. Prior to joining Paddock Publications last year, he worked as promotion director for KFH Radio, Wichita; reporter for the Southern Illinoisan, Carbondale; night editor for Associated Press bureau in Kansas City; and public relations assistant for University of Kansas.

NAMED AS staff writers and special assignment reporters for Arlington Heights Herald were Eugene Nojek, formerly rewriteman on copy desk, and David H. Crippen, a recent graduate in the Master of Science in Journalism program at University of Iowa.

Nojek is a graduate of Brown University and a veteran of the army. He joined Paddock Publications last fall.

Crippen earned his B.S. in Journalism degree from Colorado State University and worked for the Littleton, Colo., Independent before completing his graduate studies at Iowa. He began work on the Herald this week.

Suggests Junior College Use High School Classrooms

Could someone please explain why the District 301 Junior College Board has not more seriously considered using our high school classrooms from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. (as some of our neighboring suburbs are doing)?

According to the Arlington Heights Herald, it is absolutely essential that we pass the High School District 214 referendum for $6,800,000. Elementary School District 25 has needed and will probably continue to need many millions before they get enough classrooms built to meet their needs. Now the paper says the Junior College is thinking of asking $10,000,000 to build some more buildings when the alternative (which they apparently haven't really considered) would be to spend much much less by using the empty and expensive high school buildings.

Also, don't people realize that if the money comes from the Federal Government (which I understand has been proposed) or from the State Government, or from a local bond referendum, it still comes out of your pocket and mine? "Government" has no money except what it gets from us!

As I understand it, the Junior College is especially planned for those young people who are either not academically gifted enough or wealthy enough to go to a regular four-year college. If the high schools were used in the fashion suggested, the students would have time for at least a part-time job to help pay for the final two years of college which would be needed to get their degrees.

I have two high school age children and certainly appreciate the need for a Junior College, but I would like to see some discussion of the above in the newspapers, because I feel that there must be an end to the enormous increase in real estate taxes some time.

Poor Taxpayer.

Junior College Coverage Called 'Great Service'

As chairman of the Citizens' Committee for Securing a Junior College for DuPage County, I wish to express my deep appreciation to your paper for the excellent news coverage as well as editorial support which you provided for the Dec. 4 referendum to establish the college, and the Jan. 29 election of its first board.

Your endorsement of the basic proposal and publishing of detailed information regarding the candidates for the board were a tremendous service to the community. I wish to compliment and thank you and your staff for the vital part which you performed with respect to the undertaking.

This letter of thanks and appreciation from the Kiwanis Club of Elk Grove is just a token of our feelings for all the time and effort you have given to our club in its endeavor to grow and assume its proper place in the community.

Thinks Luna 9 Proves Moon Made of Cheese

Luna Nine's last transmitted picture apparently shows the surface of the moon to be made of a very hard porous material. Based on this information N.A.S.A. should immediately conduct the following experiment:

Expose Gorgonzola cheese to near absolute zero temperatures, photograph it and compare the photo with that obtained by Luna Nine.

A similarity between the two photographs should be sufficient evidence, according to our modern federally supported science concepts, to prove John Heywood right, who stated in 1546: "The moon is made of a green cheese."

This earth-shaking discovery should prove to be of global importance because, at a slight expenditure of a few extra billion dollars, great fleets of manned rockets can be sent to the moon to carve it up and bring back enough food for the starving millions of the earth and thus to fulfill President Johnson's promise to provide both guns and butter.

An added boon would be in the conduct of the war in Viet Nam because that country could be unmercifully bombed with green cheese and, while the North Vietnamese are busy consuming it, they could thus be in a giant mouse trap.

The article Eugene Nojek wrote concerning The Salvation Army Community Counseling Center has just come to my desk.

I read it with much interest and wish to thank you for a splendid interpretation of our service. This kind of writing in local papers is a great help to the community as a whole in telling them in a direct and understanding way of a service available to them. We are most appreciative of this.

Is there a possibility of receiving another clip of this story? I would like to send it to our Public Relations Committee.

Draft Rules for Parents Driving Children to School

In answer to Mrs. Grossnickle's letter regarding safety around the schools, I would like to use this medium to increase the awareness of this problem.

The school administration, police, and PTA have been conscious of these school safety problems and potentially dangerous situations and have presented periodic safety education programs for parents and children. The following bulletin was sent home to parents last fall and at most public schools was again handed to drivers picking up children on a rainy day.

"The school district and the police department have, for some time, recognized the auto and pedestrian traffic problem which develops at the schools during periods of bad weather. While no one has been injured, there appears to be real danger as children rush to waiting cars and parents use their horns to attract the attention of youngsters.

"The police do not have the manpower to direct traffic at the schools. This is understandable when there are 16 public schools, three parochial schools, and two high schools all with approximately the same school hours.

"We believe the parents who drive to and from school must try to insure the safety of children.

"As a result, a brief list of rules has been developed jointly by the public schools and the police department which, if followed by all, would contribute greatly to pedestrian and auto traffic safety.

1. Parents should park their car, go to the school, find their child, and walk with him back to the car.
2. The drivers of parallel parked cars should not allow children to enter the car from the left side.
3. Parents should not beckon children to cross the street in the middle of the block.
4. Traffic signs regarding parking and stopping should be rigidly obeyed.
5. Speed, during inclement weather, should be limited to five or ten miles per hour in the immediate area of the school.
6. If rain is falling heavily at the time of dismissal, children will be kept in their classrooms and parents should go directly there to call for them."

People are horrified after an accident; yet many ignore the warnings of those who devote so many hours to promote the safety and welfare of our children. Thank you, Mrs. Grossnickle, for helping bring the problem to the attention of the driving public.

Safety Chairman,

Pharmacists Praised for Diaper Gifts

Thought it should be known that Endlers Pharmacy at Route 62 and Busse Road are not only very accommodating but are also very thoughtful.

Last March there was a tornado in Island Lake. I mentioned to pharmacists Al Maslov and Jerry Barnbaum that many of my friends had lost everything in the storm. They gave me several disposable diapers to give those with babies.

Last week, without thought of any more help, I told them of the couple that had bought our house just before the tornado had hit it. They had just finished repairing the house from results of tornado, when fire burned out the entire house. Again Endlers Pharmacy gave me several dozen disposable diapers to take to them for their baby.

The following paragraph is hereby added to Section 13.020 thereof: "Where the holder of a liquor license is also engaged in another business, other than a restaurant, such as a department store, grocery or drug store within the same building in which alcoholic liquors are sold, all the area in which alcoholic liquors are sold, displayed or stored shall be separated from the area in which such other business is conducted. Such separation shall be accomplished by solid partitions at least 8 feet high (or to the ceiling if less than 8 feet) in such a manner that traffic within the building between the aforementioned areas is physically impossible except at a single entrance and a single exit, neither to exceed six feet in width and both to be under constant surveillance by the licensee or his adult agent, with direction of traffic, both ingress and egress controlled by turnstyles which permit passage in one direction only. what is your potential?

When you think deeply about it from a religious standpoint, you begin to wonder — can anyone really measure man's potential, or put any limits on it? Can you measure God's love for His creation? No. But we can learn to let it mold and fill our lives. Hear this one-hour public lecture, "What Is Your Potential?" by JANE O. ROBBINS, C.S., a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Dancers to Appear On Concert Program

MICHAEL MAULE AND COLLEEN CORKRE'

Dancers Michael Maule and Colleen Corkre' have received many tributes by the press using such descriptions as ". . . they had the audience cheering," "Michael Maule and partner are a heaven-sent blessing every time they appear" and "Magical freshness, amazing technical command and a dazzling sense of style."

This is what "Two Go Dancing" has in store for the Arlington Heights Community Concert members tonight (Thursday). Appearing with them will be actress Helen Dayton, who will tie the program together with a narrative especially written for the dancers by The New York Herald-Tribune's and America's top dance critic, Walter Terry.

"Two Go Dancing" will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Arlington Theatre. Doors will open at 7:30 p.m.

THE COMBINED talents and backgrounds of Michael Maule and Colleen Corkre' add up to an impressive story of experience and achievements. Maule, who was born in Durban, South Africa, had known classic ballet most of his life when he met Miss Corkre' who was appearing in the Broadway production of "My Fair Lady." The two soon found they had much to offer each other regarding technical knowledge of dance in their respective fields. Their concert vividly illustrates the many styles of the dance.

Maule is one of the foremost dancers performing today. As one New York dance critic put it, "He is a cavalier and a brilliant one, aristocratic and technically skillful." Although he is now an American citizen, he was born in South Africa where he began studying dance at the age of six. After his schooling, he served in the South African Naval Forces as a Lieutenant. He then left his homeland for New York where he readily established a career that has proved an impressive one.

Miss Corkre', daughter of a former dancer and a prominent dentist, was born in Seattle, Wash., where her training began at four. At 14, she turned professional to appear in productions in Seattle. Upon graduation from high school at 16, she went to New York to continue dance studies and expanded her talents into acting and singing as well.

SOON AFTER SHE was engaged by Ruth Page for the Chicago Opera Ballet which was followed by a transcontinental tour with the New York Opera Festival. Aside from "My Fair Lady," Broadway audiences have also seen her in "Happy Town" and "Beg, Borrow or Steal." In recent summers she has been actively engaged as leading dancer in some of the best-loved American musicals such as "Oklahoma,"! "Brigadoon," "South Pacific," "Can Can" and others. Television credits include engagements on the Gary Moore show and "The Ethel Merman Spectacular."

Ceramics Show Is Viewed by Artist

That unglazed porcelain bowl which looks as though it could filter cold viruses is really one of the six winning entries in the 102-piece exhibit, "Ceramic Arts — U.S.A. — 1966," which opened Feb. 7 at International Minerals & Chemicals Corp. in Skokie.

Wandering through this show is comparable to hitching a ride on the Time Machine, reported Shirley Hogberg, Paddock Publications artist who recently took in the show.

Some of the pieces appear to have been made prior to the Stone Age — such as the mandril baboon entered by one competitor, she said.

ITEMS, MOSTLY containers of one kind or another, proceed through Egyptian, Oriental and Persian influence and then jump from American Indian to contemporary pop art, complete with striped exteriors and polka-dotted interiors, according to the Paddock artist.

A candy dish sized for a behemoth, an evil eye barbeque cooker, a $400 beanpot—these are just some of the pieces on exhibit.

The show will run through Sunday, Feb. 20, in the IMC lounge at 5401 Old Orchard Road. Open free to the public, the exhibition hours are 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. week days and 2 to 5 p.m. weekends. (Bill

The second winner will appear, as paid performers, on "Dick Clark's American Bandstand," with travel expenses also paid.

Both shows are on the ABC-TV network and seen locally on Channel 7. Interested groups may apply for auditions by calling the local Dick Clark office: 642-2388. (Bill

Dancers to Appear On Concert Program

MICHAEL MAULE AND COLLEEN CORKRE'

Dancers Michael Maule and Colleen Corkre' have received many tributes by the press using such descriptions as ". . . they had the audience cheering," "Michael Maule and partner are a heaven-sent blessing every time they appear" and "Magical freshness, amazing technical command and a dazzling sense of style."

This is what "Two Go Dancing" has in store for the Arlington Heights Community Concert members tonight (Thursday). Appearing with them will be actress Helen Dayton, who will tie the program together with a narrative especially written for the dancers by The New York Herald-Tribune's and America's top dance critic, Walter Terry.

"Two Go Dancing" will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Arlington Theatre. Doors will open at 7:30 p.m.

THE COMBINED talents and backgrounds of Michael Maule and Colleen Corkre' add up to an impressive story of experience and achievements. Maule, who was born in Durban, South Africa, had known classic ballet most of his life when he met Miss Corkre' who was appearing in the Broadway production of "My Fair Lady." The two soon found they had much to offer each other regarding technical knowledge of dance in their respective fields. Their concert vividly illustrates the many styles of the dance.

Maule is one of the foremost dancers performing today. As one New York dance critic put it, "He is a cavalier and a brilliant one, aristocratic and technically skillful." Although he is now an American citizen, he was born in South Africa where he began studying dance at the age of six. After his schooling, he served in the South African Naval Forces as a Lieutenant. He then left his homeland for New York where he readily established a career that has proved an impressive one.

Miss Corkre', daughter of a former dancer and a prominent dentist, was born in Seattle, Wash., where her training began at four. At 14, she turned professional to appear in productions in Seattle. Upon graduation from high school at 16, she went to New York to continue dance studies and expanded her talents into acting and singing as well.

SOON AFTER SHE was engaged by Ruth Page for the Chicago Opera Ballet which was followed by a transcontinental tour with the New York Opera Festival. Aside from "My Fair Lady," Broadway audiences have also seen her in "Happy Town" and "Beg, Borrow or Steal." In recent summers she has been actively engaged as leading dancer in some of the best-loved American musicals such as "Oklahoma,"! "Brigadoon," "South Pacific," "Can Can" and others. Television credits include engagements on the Gary Moore show and "The Ethel Merman Spectacular."

Dress Rehearsal Disorder

Will Old Saying Ring True?

There's an old saying in theatre circles that a "bad dress rehearsal makes a good opening night." There is a corollary to the old saying: "If old saying is true, then we're guaranteed a terrific opening night!"

The fact is, as any Village Theatre member will tell you, that a dress rehearsal is almost always a sort of restrained, organized chaos, and the dress rehearsal for "Come Blow Your Horn" will be no different tonight (Thursday).

The six actors involved in the production will be working under enormous odds: they will be using costumes and makeup for the first time, and neither will be right. The ladies of the cast, Carol O'Dea, Sarah Levin, and Karen Kareba, will be told by at least 30 people that their make-up is too pink and they look as though they have bad sunburns.

DARYL SCHULTZ, who has the lead role of Alan Baker, will stumble repeatedly over a member of the furniture crew who is on stage trying to recover a chair while rehearsal is going on.

Bob Hawley will make his first entrance with a smear of red paint on his arm because the center door has just been painted and it isn't dry. By the third act, someone will be close to hysterics because the sound equipment isn't synchronized with the action on stage, and Eugene Good will be seen doing a cha-cha routine to complete silence.

The doorbell won't ring, the lights won't function, a costume will rip at a critical point, and in the middle of a tender love scene, the bookcase on the stage-right wall will collapse with a nerve-shattering crash. By 11 o'clock, resident director Richard Tyler will be jumping up and down in frustration, and stage manager Sheila Baker may possibly be in tears. The cast and crew will go home muttering to themselves in despair.

ALL THIS MAY happen on the set of "Come Blow Your Horn" tonight at 8:30, as the excitement and the tension of production week mount. Then again, it may not. After 16 seasons, Village Theatre members refuse to swear by the obnoxious Old Saying.

But it's a funny thing. On dress rehearsal nights you always hear somebody say hopefully, "Tomorrow night at 8:30, it'll be great, everything will go beautifully, you wait and see."

And another funny thing; it always does.

"Come Blow Your Horn" will be presented at Prospect High School Friday and Saturday, Feb. 11, 12, 18 and 19, at 8:30 p.m. Call CL 9-3200 for tickets and information. (Bill

BOB HAWLEY, as the father of Alan Baker, welcomes Carol O'Dea (Connie Dayton) into the family circle in this scene from "Come Blow Your Horn," Village Theatre's winter production.

More Singers Added To Lyric's Roster

Lyric Opera of Chicago has announced the singing stars for two more of its operas in the 1966 season.

Spanish soprano Montserrat Caballe will make her Chicago opera debut os Desdemona in Lyric's 1966 production of Guiseppe Verdi's "Otello." Her co-stars will be Jon Vickers and Tito Gobbi, as Otello and Iago respectively. Vickers has been Lyric's Otello previously, alternating in the 1963 season with Dimiter Uzonov. Gobbi will be appearing in his 12th Lyric Opera season, his third in the Iago role.

"La Gioconda" will have the young Russian-Greek soprano Elena Suliotis in its title role. She made her U.S.A. debut in Lyric Opera's 1965 production of "Mefistofele," when she appeared as Helen of Troy.

ITALY'S Fiorenza Cossoto is cast as Laura in the Amilcare Ponchielli work. She has sung with Lyric in 1964 and 1965. Renato Cioni will return for his third season at Lyric as Enzo Grimaldi of "LaGioconda." Barnaba will be sung by the famed Italian baritone, Giangiacomo Guelfi, who made his Chicago debut as Marcello in Lyric's 1954 staging of "La Boheme."

Ivo Vinco as Alvise completes the major castings for "La Gioconda." He was the Ferrando of "Il Trovatore" and the Baldassare of "La Favorita" in 1964 and last fall was Ramfis in "Aida" and Sparafucile in "Rigoletto." (Bill

Art Guild Slates Demonstration Of Oil Painting

An oil demonstration by Charles Greenholdt of Des Plaines will be the program Monday for the Des Plaines Art Guild. The meeting will be held in the West Park Field House in Des Plaines at 8 p.m.

Greenholdt is a professional artist who has shown his paintings throughout the Chicago area as well as the Illinois State Fair and in Wisconsin. He has studied under Richard Frooman. His pictures may be seen in the Distil Heim Gallery in Chicago where he is to have a one-man show in March.

The Art Guild Spring art show is scheduled for March 18 at the Northwest Suburban YMCA.

Ravinia Guest List Reported For '66 Season

In its first announcement of guest conductors and soloists for the 1966 Ravinia season, the Ravinia Festival Association has reported the engagement of five eminent guest conductors and famous soloists to appear at Ravinia this summer.

Bob Hawley will make his first entrance with a smear of red paint on his arm because the center door has just been painted and it isn't dry. By the third act, someone will be close to hysterics because the sound equipment isn't synchronized with the action on stage, and Eugene Good will be seen doing a cha-cha routine to complete silence.

The doorbell won't ring, the lights won't function, a costume will rip at a critical point, and in the middle of a tender love scene, the bookcase on the stage-right wall will collapse with a nerve-shattering crash. By 11 o'clock, resident director Richard Tyler will be jumping up and down in frustration, and stage manager Sheila Baker may possibly be in tears. The cast and crew will go home muttering to themselves in despair.

ALL THIS MAY happen on the set of "Come Blow Your Horn" tonight at 8:30, as the excitement and the tension of production week mount. Then again, it may not. After 16 seasons, Village Theatre members refuse to swear by the obnoxious Old Saying.

But it's a funny thing. On dress rehearsal nights you always hear somebody say hopefully, "Tomorrow night at 8:30, it'll be great, everything will go beautifully, you wait and see."

And another funny thing; it always does.

"Come Blow Your Horn" will be presented at Prospect High School Friday and Saturday, Feb. 11, 12, 18 and 19, at 8:30 p.m. Call CL 9-3200 for tickets and information. (Bill

BOB HAWLEY, as the father of Alan Baker, welcomes Carol O'Dea (Connie Dayton) into the family circle in this scene from "Come Blow Your Horn," Village Theatre's winter production.

More Singers Added To Lyric's Roster

Lyric Opera of Chicago has announced the singing stars for two more of its operas in the 1966 season.

Spanish soprano Montserrat Caballe will make her Chicago opera debut os Desdemona in Lyric's 1966 production of Guiseppe Verdi's "Otello." Her co-stars will be Jon Vickers and Tito Gobbi, as Otello and Iago respectively. Vickers has been Lyric's Otello previously, alternating in the 1963 season with Dimiter Uzonov. Gobbi will be appearing in his 12th Lyric Opera season, his third in the Iago role.

"La Gioconda" will have the young Russian-Greek soprano Elena Suliotis in its title role. She made her U.S.A. debut in Lyric Opera's 1965 production of "Mefistofele," when she appeared as Helen of Troy.

ITALY'S Fiorenza Cossoto is cast as Laura in the Amilcare Ponchielli work. She has sung with Lyric in 1964 and 1965. Renato Cioni will return for his third season at Lyric as Enzo Grimaldi of "LaGioconda." Barnaba will be sung by the famed Italian baritone, Giangiacomo Guelfi, who made his Chicago debut as Marcello in Lyric's 1954 staging of "La Boheme."

Ivo Vinco as Alvise completes the major castings for "La Gioconda." He was the Ferrando of "Il Trovatore" and the Baldassare of "La Favorita" in 1964 and last fall was Ramfis in "Aida" and Sparafucile in "Rigoletto." (Bill

Guild Players Lists Cast, Crew for 'Girls in 509'

"The Girls in 509," Guild Players' third presentation of its eighth season, will be staged Friday and Saturday, Feb. 18 and 19, at Lake Park High School theatre-auditorium in Medinah. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Winning the top roles in The Guild Players' offering are Shirley Swangren as the effervescent and naive Mimsey, Mrs. Dorothy Sicher as Republican diehard, Aunt Hettie, and Charles Block as Professor Pusey.

Cast in main supporting roles are Marvin Kaufman as Old Jim, an elderly bellboy with unrealized efforts in legitimate theatre; David Fulton in the dual role of the Republican and the Democratic national party chairmen, Winthrop Allen and Francis X. Nella; Henry Netter as Aubrey McKittridge, the family lawyer, whose handling of the girls' fortune is governed by a Jimmy Valentine touch and Shirley McNally as Miss Freud, an efficient social worker for the city of New York.

MARVIN Kaufman's Old Jim is the third role for the former New Yorker. Kaufman's first appearance for The Guild Players was instigated by his small son who prompted him to try for the role of a simple-minded villain, "Ugly," in last season's play for children, "The Clown Who Ran Away." Kaufman got the part. He was recently on stage as the ill-fated garbageman in "The Desperate Hours."

David Fulton (Allen and Nella) received critic's plaudits for his portrayal of the tepid husSky." A past member of the board of directors, Fulton appeared as Thomas Putnam in "The Crucible" and was The Rock in this season's "Rapunzel."

A charter member of The Guild Players, Henry Netter (McKittridge) was first involved in technical and official duties in the organization. His first appearance on stage was as Emmett, the Hobo in "The Silver Whistle." Then followed Jules, a convict in "My Three Angels," Chuck Robbins in "Third Best Sport" and Judge Hawthorne in "The Crucible."

AS MEMBERS of the fourth estate who descend upon the oldest and richest family in Manhattan, hopefully for the scoop of the year, are some of the Guild's newest and oldest members. Ryan, of the Daily News is played by Bob Jagert; Rosanthal of the Post, by Art Dern; Johnson of the Journal American, by Bill Schumacher; Summers, of the Herald Tribune, by El Bollyn.

Newcomer Bob Jagert spent two years with the historical 190-year-old Dock Street Theatre which he discovered while stationed with the marines in South Carolina. He appeared in "Stalag 17," "Command Decision" and "The Night of January 16."

Art Dern was the Jailkeeper in "The Crucible," a policeman in "The Clown Who Ran Away" and the sheriff in "The Desperate Hours."

GUILD VETERAN Bill Schumacher played the memorable old toymaker in "Cricket on the Hearth," the younger "angel" of "My Three Angels," the lead, Bob Meredith, in "Grand Prize," a candidate's press agent in "The Best Man" and Andrew the Doll Maker in "The Clown Who Ran Away."

Versatile El Bollyn is past president and a founder of the then Hoffman Estates Theatre Guild. Bollyn was Elwood P. Dowd in "Harvey," Rev. Watson in "The Silver Whistle," Stage Manager in "Land of the Dragon," Deputy Governor in "The Crucible" and Rudolph, the villain boss, of "The Clown Who Ran Away."

"The Girls in 509" is directed by Vic Simone. Stage manager is Dorothy Pfeiffer, assisted by Jan Boutelle. Production manager is Art Blackaller. Blackaller's crew chairmen are Ken Boutelle, set design and construction; Dan McNally, lights; Hank Ralston, sound.

MEMO FROM BILL COOK

Our Used Car Creed

"When we sell NEW automobiles we act chiefly as a retailer, selling merchandise that bears another's name and reputation.

"But when we sell USED cars, we take on some of the responsibility of a manufacturer.

"The various USED cars that we sell are no longer warranted by the original makers. In effect, they bear OUR name.

"We have succeeded as a merchant of re-conditioned automobiles with the honesty of our products and our methods.

"We can't afford to jeopardize our reputation by selling merchandise we cannot offer with pride and confidence.

"Our USED cars must be honestly re-conditioned to give us the benefit of a product that will create the right kind of word-of-mouth advertising."

Before you call an ad-visor to place your

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS AD

consider this:

You are about to invest money for an ad and you are entitled to get results. To accomplish this it is necessary for you to TELL ALL about the details of your offer. Be sure you don't make any of the following errors that prevent results:

1. DON'T OMIT THE ADDRESS

Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.

2. DON'T OMIT THE PHONE NUMBER

Many readers will call you but do not find it convenient to come to your home.

3. DON'T USE BLIND BOX NUMBERS

Avoid them if at all possible. They are difficult to answer and many people are suspicious of them.

4. DON'T CONCEAL THE PRICE DESIRED

Surveys show that a high percentage of readers will not answer an ad unless the price is given.

5. DON'T LEAVE HOME ON THE DAYS YOU ADVERTISE

Many good prospects will not call the second time if your phone is unanswered.

6. DON'T OMIT IMPORTANT WORDS TO SAVE MONEY

Readers can't guess on important details. Remember, a well written informative ad will get results faster and amount to much less in the long run.

7. DON'T OVERLOOK OUR LOWER RATE FOR CONSECUTIVE INSERTIONS

You'll get the biggest parade of readers at the lowest price. Your Needs Satisfied thru Paddock Publications Classified.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

BOB FRISK

Underhand Toss Has Support . . .

They have an underhanded way of doing things at St. Viator High School.

You can see it for yourself every weekend during the basketball season.

Some people call it old-fashioned. Some say it's unnatural.

Whatever the comments, however critical they may seem at times, you'll have a hard time convincing Larry Nomellini that the underhanded way isn't the best way.

Nomellini is the head basketball coach at St. Viator, and he preaches the underhand method — for shooting free throws. He starts a boy as a freshman with the underhand toss from the line, and that's the way the player shoots for the next four years.

CHUCK GRANDT
A Master At Line . . .

Ever since the jump shot revolutionized the offensive phase of basketball, most players have been shooting free throws the same way they do baskets. Right handers position the ball on the left hand and fire away with the right.

Now, it's no longer fashionable to shoot underhand free throws although there are those coaches, like Nomellini, who favor the old-fashioned way and have reasons for their preference.

"For one thing, it's a softer shot," says Nomellini who first became a believer in the method when he played at DePaul under coach Ray Meyer. "You have more chance for what I'd call a 'garbage' shot where the ball, if it doesn't go in directly, may do more rolling around and drop in."

Nomellini also feels that the softer shot helps in offensive rebounding because the ball doesn't come bounding off the rim. The offensive man can go to the boards with better position and more confidence on where the ball will be.

"The big thing on the underhand throw is the back-spin," Nomellini says. "The ball has a tendency to stick up there. It doesn't bounce around the rim like the overhand throw. I have the boys shoot the ball so it comes up evenly, with no more accent on either side of the ball, and with a smooth back-spinning motion. They aim just past the front of the rim."

Advocates of the underhand toss also emphasize that the players' arms hang down in a normal and relaxed position for the underhand throw. Nomellini says that when a boy plays long and his muscles tire the natural thing is to bring the arms up with the ball, not to hoist the arms overhead and then push the ball off.

Bunny Leavitt, the game's champion free thrower, agrees.

"A player's shooting hand becomes sore and weary in the final minutes of a game," says Leavitt who once made 499 consecutive free throws in a special exhibition, shooting underhand, missed the 500th and then didn't miss again until the 871st.

"Even tired, a player shooting underhand remains accurate," Leavitt insists. "He has a steadier control of the ball than he would if he held it up over his head with two tired, nervous, jittery hands."

Those who favor the underhand throw also point out that although a boy shoots his jump shots with one hand he's on the move when he delivers that shot, unlike the situation at the free throw line.

DePaul's Meyer, a veteran in the coaching business, doesn't make his players shoot underhand from the line now because, as Nomellini explains, " he found that too many kids were shooting overhand when they came to college and were hard to convert.

"It's not that difficult on a high school level," the Lion coach points out. "It's hard for the boys to make the adjustment when they first begin playing at St. Viator, but we've been gratified with the success as juniors and seniors."

The Lions hit .677 last year and have been around the .650 mark this season. Their greatest effort for a single game came in a win over Immaculate Conception when they hit 31 of 35, many in pressure situations.

Chuck Grandt, an All-Stater last winter and now a frosh at Lewis College, demonstrates better than any other Lion — past or present — the ladder of progress with the underhand throw.

Grandt hit on only 47 per cent of his free throws as a freshman when he was first using the method, but he hiked that to 52 per cent as a soph. He flashed a .719 standard as a junior and a school mark of .758 as a senior.

Grandt went to the line 256 times as a senior, better than 10 per game on an average, and converted 196.

Frank Hogan, junior guard on the current Lion five, knew he was headed for St. Viator so started using the underhand free throw in grade school. He's shooting around .680 this year after hitting .633 as a soph and .579 as a freshman.

Nomellini isn't alone in his feelings on the subject of the underhand free throw although admittedly he is in a minority.

Pat Callahan of St. Joseph High, another member of the Chicagoland Prep League, changed methods at the Westchester school this season and has been pleased with the success.

"We were just too erratic before," he says, "so I decided to make the switch to the underhand throw. We haven't changed the older boys who have been having success shooting with one hand but have put through the switch at all levels. Gradually we'll have everyone shooting underhand."

Larry Nomellini and Pat Callahan agree. The underhanded way is the best way.

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

Arlington High took fourth in the wrestling sectional. . .Ralph Carlino topped the field at 103 pounds and Gerry Bonn (95) and Ed Beier (133) earned runner-up honors. . .Riverside whipped the Cards in basketball, 62-55 . . .John Sujack scored 21 for the losers. . . In a West Suburban shocker Maine, with a 4-8 record, walloped league-leading LaGrange, 98-72.

St. Viator Visits Dragons, Shamrocks

Lions Hope to Keep Rolling; Await Two Rough Road Trips

by BOB FRISK

There's no looking back for any basketball team that wants to go forward.

St. Viator's varsity Lions fired the shot heard 'round the Chicagoland Prep League Saturday evening when they thrashed state-ranked DeLaSalle, but Larry Nomellini's outfit can't rest on its laurels.

The Lions, now riding along with a three-game winning streak and 9-9 season standard, run into two more severe tests this weekend when they journey to St. George and St. Patrick.

"ONE GAME doesn't make a season," Nomellini said Monday, "but the boys know now they can play with anyone in this league. That was a fantastic effort against DeLaSalle. Everyone helped out in dominating a strong club."

The Lions controlled the boards against a team that delights in burying its opponents in the rebounding department. Paul Pomplun, enjoying another impressive weekend, and Emille Bataille were the leaders as St. Viator showed a surprising 29-18 edge on the boards.

"That game could have a prolonged effect on our program here," Nomellini said. "The crowd was alive, the enthusiasm was high. It's one thing to just get by a strong team, but to so completely dominate the game is something else.

"Isn't it something," Nomellini said as an after thought, "that we had to beat DeLaSalle to reach .500 for the season."

INDIVIDUAL heroics were many for the Lions in a weekend sweep past Holy Cross and DeLaSalle with Pomplun and junior guard Frank Hogan the offensive pace-setters.

Pomplun, who now has 90 points over his past four games, threw in 40 over the weekend, and Hogan bounced back from a nine-point effort at Holy Cross with a 32-point barrage against DeLaSalle, three shy of the school mark.

Forest View Quintet Takes Trip to Maine

by MICHAEL HESS

Bad news travels fast, but apparently not fast enough for Forest View cagers.

It seems FV's quintet has finally jelled. After 17 games of sickness and shifting line-ups, FV's quintet has found a winning groove.

That's unpleasant information for other Mid-Suburban League teams. However the Falcons travel to Maine West tomorrow (Friday) and Wheeling Saturday to speed the word on its way.

"We feel a lot more optimistic now than at any time earlier this season," said Ken Arneson, Forest View's headman. "We're a lot different team now than we were and we've been playing well."

ARNESON'S BRIGHT outlook is due primarily to three factors: the good health of his starters, four triumphs in the last five contests and a Pat Dunnigan-Jim Baumgardt combination which could be fearsome.

Since the season opened the Falcons have been plagued by all manner of injury and disease. This caused erratic, often sloppy play and a mediocre won-lost mark. But recently medical men haven't been needed among FV forces, the same five has started three times in a row and consistant improvement has been the result.

Only conference leader Prospect has topped Forest View in M-SL action. Palatine, Conant and both of this week's opponents have already fallen before FV which, at 4-1, is number two in the league and 11-6 over-all.

The Falcons' last win was a 58-44 whipping of Conant. In that affair Forest View hit 39 per cent from the floor, pulled down 40 rebounds and commit-

7 Teams Seek Sectional Slots

First Round Friday; Final Bouts Saturday

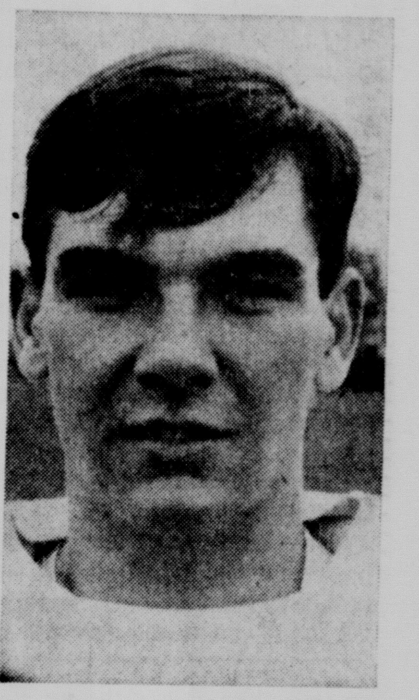
by Michael Hess

Those 12 labors of Hercules are nothing when compared with the labors facing 12 wrestlers of Illinois . . .

Tournament grappling opens tomorrow (Friday) with action at 29 district centers. Seven area mat teams will gather at Forest View.

From district competition the first and second place winners in each weight class advance to sectional meets February 18 and 19. Ending on top at FV means a step up to bouts at Palatine.

Sectional victors and runnerups will journey to McGaw Hall, Evanston, on the 25th and 26th. Honors there go to only a dozen and, after triumphs in 10 consecutive matches, they'll be state champs.



RICH HADDOCK
13-2-2 for 'Cats

MIKE SEVERNS
15-3 for Falcons

THE MOVES to Evanston are not easy. In fact those 12 designated best in Illinois will have had two weeks of gruelling, pressure-packed labor. Quite rightfully they can tell strongman Hercules to stand aside. Wanting to earn that right is the goal of every mat aggregation entering a district meet including those at Forest View.

With the host Falcons as preliminary bouts begin tomorrow at 7 p.m. will be teams from Arlington, Prospect, Wheeling, St. Viator, Maine East and Maine West. Semi-final grappling is set for 2 p.m. Saturday and finals are scheduled for 7:00 that evening.

Of the wrestling entries at FV, the host's dual meet record during the past season is the best. Under coach Hal Henson the Falcons were 9-3.

Next in line is the 8-3 mark of Maine West's Warriors and their headman Dick Carlini. Dick Mudges' Knights were 8-3-1, the 'Cards of Julius Fliehler 5-5-3, the Wildcats, coached by Art Kraft, 6-7-1, and Maine East 3-8-1 for Ken Houston. John Zid's Lions are last at 0-12.

THOSE WRESTLERS in each weight division who seem to have the best chance for advance to the sectional are:

At 95 Pounds—Jim Whitnell, an Arlington sophomore, carries a standout 13-4-1 mark in individual bouts this season at 95 pounds. He'll receive tough tests from Forest View's Tom Mann, who is 6-1-1, and Prospect's Gary McMorrow, 8-6-1.

At 103 Pounds—Only one entry here own a won-lost total above average. That's Dave Holmes of the Knights who is 9-5-2. Most probable dark horse at 103 is Ray Weidner of Wheeling.

At 112 Pounds—This weight seems a toss-up due to the lack of any single standout. Best choice here might belong to Maine East's Mike Thomas. He's a soph with a 6-5-1 record who defeated FV, Arlington and Wheeling entries at 112 during dual meets. Mike Mohr of Prospect, 9-7 for the year, could also challenge.

At 120 Pounds—Bill Kalvog and Karl Meisenheimer should battle to the wire at 120. Prospect's Kalvog, 9-4-1, was fourth at 112 in district action one year ago. The boy who took third was Meisenheimer of Wheeling who is 10-5-2 this season. The 'Cards entry at 120, Tom MacCarthy, has moved up from 103 where he was third last year.

At 127 Pounds—Al Eisenstein has finished dual meet competition with an 11-3-2 record. The Wheeling grappler could be tough but he won't go untested. Maine East's Bruce Garnett, 8-4, is rated as the best boy on his team by coach Houston and though Bruce Conti missed most of Arlington's season with pneumonia he was still 3-0 for matches entered and could cause trouble.

At 133 Pounds—Odds on favorite at 133 has to be the Cardinals' Chip Douglas. He was fourth at the weight last year and carries a 13-5 record this season which includes only one loss in a rugged West Suburban schedule. Behind Douglas might be the Knights' Jim Herod who is 10-7.

At 138 Pounds—A second place winner last year, Maine West's Tom Hansch could be first this time around. He is 14-1 for the season. One from Arlington and one from Forest View also rate consideration. The 'Cards Dave Gooding is 10-5-1 while FV's Ken Andrews is 9-6.

At 145 Pounds—Undoubtedly some of the stiffest competition in the district will come at 145. Leading the way here is Rick Bertoglio of Prospect who won his own holiday tournament and is 14-1 for the year. Almost as good has been the showing of the Falcons' Jim Kubik who's 14-3-2. Arlington's Kirk Wolter is 12-6 and took

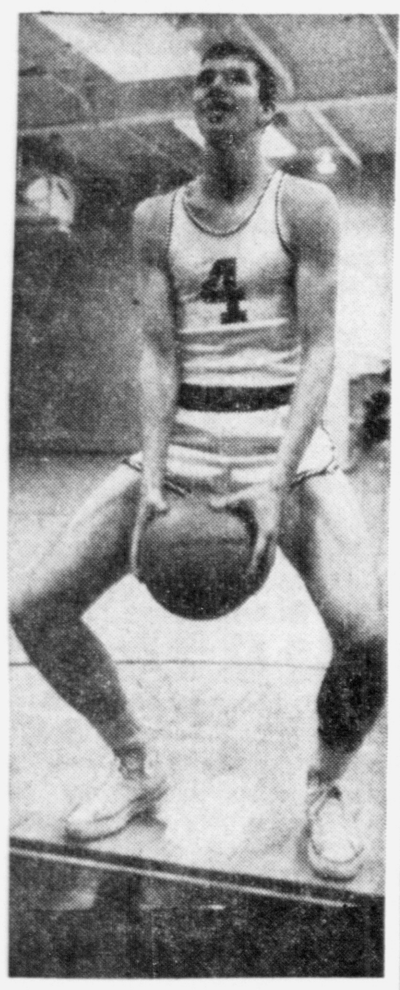
Underhand Toss Has Support . . .



CHUCK GRANDT
A Master At Line . . .

They have an underhanded way of doing things at St. Viator High School.

You can see it for yourself every weekend during the basketball season.

Some people call it old-fashioned. Some say it's unnatural.

Whatever the comments, however critical they may seem at times, you'll have a hard time convincing Larry Nomellini that the underhanded way isn't the best way.

Nomellini is the head basketball coach at St. Viator, and he preaches the underhand method — for shooting free throws. He starts a boy as a freshman with the underhand toss from the line, and that's the way the player shoots for the next four years.

Ever since the jump shot revolutionized the offensive phase of basketball, most players have been shooting free throws the same way they do baskets. Right handers position the ball on the left hand and fire away with the right.

Now, it's no longer fashionable to shoot underhand free throws although there are those coaches, like Nomellini, who favor the old-fashioned way and have reasons for their preference.

"For one thing, it's a softer shot," says Nomellini who first became a believer in the method when he played at DePaul under coach Ray Meyer. "You have more chance for what I'd call a 'garbage' shot where the ball, if it doesn't go in directly, may do more rolling around and drop in."

Nomellini also feels that the softer shot helps in offensive rebounding because the ball doesn't come bounding off the rim. The offensive man can go to the boards with better position and more confidence on where the ball will be.

"The big thing on the underhand throw is the back-spin," Nomellini says. "The ball has a tendency to stick up there. It doesn't bounce around the rim like the overhand throw. I have the boys shoot the ball so it comes up evenly, with no more accent on either side of the ball, and with a smooth backspinning motion. They aim just past the front of the rim."

Advocates of the underhand toss also emphasize that the players' arms hang down in a normal and relaxed position for the underhand throw. Nomellini says that when a boy plays long and his muscles tire the natural thing is to bring the arms up with the ball, not to hoist the arms overhead and then push the ball off.

Bunny Leavitt, the game's champion free thrower, agrees.

"A player's shooting hand becomes sore and weary in the final minutes of a game," says Leavitt who once made 499 consecutive free throws in a special exhibition, shooting underhand, missed the 500th and then didn't miss again until the 871st.

"Even tired, a player shooting underhand remains accurate," Leavitt insists. "He has a steadier control of the ball than he would if he held it up over his head with two tired, nervous, jittery hands."

Those who favor the underhand throw also point out that although a boy shoots his jump shots with one hand he's on the move when he delivers that shot, unlike the situation at the free throw line.

DePaul's Meyer, a veteran in the coaching business, doesn't make his players shoot underhand from the line now because, as Nomellini explains, " he found that too many kids were shooting overhand when they came to college and were hard to convert.

"It's not that difficult on a high school level," the Lion coach points out. "It's hard for the boys to make the adjustment when they first begin playing at St. Viator, but we've been gratified with the success as juniors and seniors."

The Lions hit .677 last year and have been around the .650 mark this season. Their greatest effort for a single game came in a win over Immaculate Conception when they hit 31 of 35, many in pressure situations.

Chuck Grandt, an All-Stater last winter and now a frosh at Lewis College, demonstrates better than any other Lion — past or present — the ladder of progress with the underhand throw.

Grandt hit on only 47 per cent of his free throws as a freshman when he was first using the method, but he hiked that to 52 per cent as a soph. He flashed a .719 standard as a junior and a school mark of .758 as a senior.

Grandt went to the line 256 times as a senior, better than 10 per game on an average, and converted 196.

Frank Hogan, junior guard on the current Lion five, knew he was headed for St. Viator so started using the underhand free throw in grade school. He's shooting around .680 this year after hitting .633 as a soph and .579 as a freshman.

Nomellini isn't alone in his feelings on the subject of the underhand free throw although admittedly he is in a minority.

Pat Callahan of St. Joseph High, another member of the Chicagoland Prep League, changed methods at the Westchester school this season and has been pleased with the success.

"We were just too erratic before," he says, "so I decided to make the switch to the underhand throw. We haven't changed the older boys who have been having success shooting with one hand but have put through the switch at all levels. Gradually we'll have everyone shooting underhand."

Larry Nomellini and Pat Callahan agree. The underhanded way is the best way.

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

Arlington High took fourth in the wrestling sectional. . .Ralph Carlino topped the field at 103 pounds and Gerry Bonn (95) and Ed Beier (133) earned runner-up honors. . .Riverside whipped the Cards in basketball, 62-55 . . .John Sujack scored 21 for the losers. . . In a West Suburban shocker Maine, with a 4-8 record, walloped league-leading LaGrange, 98-72.

There's no looking back for any basketball team that wants to go forward.

St. Viator's varsity Lions fired the shot heard 'round the Chicagoland Prep League Saturday evening when they thrashed state-ranked DeLaSalle, but Larry Nomellini's outfit can't rest on its laurels.

The Lions, now riding along with a three-game winning streak and 9-9 season standard, run into two more severe tests this weekend when they journey to St. George and St. Patrick.

Both Play Two Games

Prospect Seeks Win From Wheeling Five

by MICHAEL HESS

If variety spices life then life must be deadly dull for Prospect and Wheeling cage units because neither has had any variety.

Recent hoop diets have found the Knights devouring nothing but wins, the 'Cats swallowing nothing but losses. Change now seems unlikely.

Prospect's quintet has gained 11 victories in a row and is presently 14-3 for the season. Coach Dick Kinneman's crew is in first, at 5-0, among Mid-Suburban League entries.

Wheeling's five has dropped six straight and owns an overall standard of 3-13. Headman Mike Owen's aggregation is currently 0-5 in the M-SL, a mark which puts them alone in the conference cellar.

THE KNIGHTS and Wildcats both have a pair of contests on their schedules this weekend. They meet each other tomorrow (Friday) while on Saturday Prospect hosts Conant and Wheeling hosts Forest View. If past results mean anything, the monotony of triumph and defeat strings won't be broken.

In the first round of Mid-Suburban games the Knights crushed the 'Cats 71-43. Prospect went on to paste Conant 74-56 as Wheeling was being slapped by FV 66-42. Now each club prepares for another encounter.

Preparations for the Knights involve overcoming a recent slump which hasn't brought setbacks but which has caused consecutive sub-par performances. "A lot of ball clubs slump a little between the holiday and state tournaments," commented Kinneman. "I think we've had our slump, at least we seemed to look better in the last quarter against Palatine."

It took a final period comeback for Prospect to nip Palatine 64-62 last week.

Tom Lundstedt, 6-3 forward, remains the top Knights threat. He has 378 points this season, a 22.2 average, and is shooting 57.6 per cent from the floor and 71.7 per cent at the line. Lundstedt tallied 19 points in the last 10 minutes to drive his team from behind against Palatine.

OTHER PROSPECT starters will be Tom Beard, Dan Agard, J. D. Thorne and Tony Kulasa.

Center Beard carries a 6.5 scoring average. He put in 10 markers and grabbed 14 rebounds his last game. Agard, with a 7.6 average from his forward post, is rugged on defense and turned in a brilliant second half defensive job against the Pirates. Thorne and Kulasa, with 8.7 and 5.2 averages respectively, perform at guards.

Filling out what is essentially a "starting" seven for the Knights are Craig Wolf and Dave Kingman. Wolf has garnered a 4.0 average in sub roles this year and Kingman has a mark of 7.0.

A recent addition to Prospect's varsity picture is Mike Mueller, brought up last week from the junior varsity. Mueller, 6-1, is a guard-forward who tallied 219 points in 12 games for the JV's. As a soph he played on a team which ended 16-0 and he led the junior varsity to a 10-2 record so his diet has also been one of steady victories.

WHEELING TOO has been in a slump, but a slump of rather prolonged duration. Correcting errors might provide a way up.

"Our trouble is that we've just been making too many mistakes to win," said coach Owens. "We had 28 fouls and 15 turnovers in our last game and that's not very good. But, if we play the game we're capable of then we could start winning."

Last week the 'Cats were beaten by Maine West 55-44. Leader of the losing cause was Mark Newman, who hit 11 for 20 from the floor and one of two at the line for 23 points. For the season 5-11 Newman carries an 8.9 average. He'll be at guard when game time comes tomorrow.

At center for the 'Cats will be Scott Bischoff, one of two starters for Wheeling with a point average in double figures. Bischoff connects for 11.1 a game. Forward Tom Neuckranz is the other high scorer, with an 11.6 average. An 8.3 average will be found at the other guard slot in the person of Rex Peterson.

THE REMAINING vacancy among the opening 'Cats five is at forward. There either Skip Grandt, whose had andle trouble lately, or Greg Fedyski, just up from the junior varsity, will fill in. Grandt has a 6.1 average while Fedyski had a high game of 16 points and hit double figures five times with the JV's.

Prospect's Saturday opponent, Conant, is 5-11 this year and 2-3, fourth, in Mid-Suburban League competition.

Pacing the Cougars have been John Glasshof, Bill Lunebach and Larry Powell. Glasshof, a 5-10 guard, has 208 points, an average of 13.0 while averages of 10.9 and 9.4 belong to 6-1 forward Lunebach and 6-7 center Powell respectively. Powell, due to recent tonsillitis and flu attacks, is a very doubtful starter.

If Powell doesn't play, then Lunebach will switch to center and Dave Sander, 6-1, and Dick Helmer, 6-0, will be the forwards. Sander and Helmer both average around five points a game. Rounding out the starting five will Walt Riley, a 5-8 guard with a 9.5 average.

ted just 12 fouls and eight turnovers. In Mid-Suburban struggles Arneson's crew has averaged over 40 per cent on goal tries, 37 rebounds, 17 fouls and 12 turnovers each time out.

Much of this excellence stems from 6-2 forward Dunnigan and 6-5 center Baumgardt.

DUNNIGAN, AN all-conference choice last year and headed in the same direction now, has been good but he's gotten better. In his high school career Pat has scored 768 points, a school record. Of those markers 288 have come this season, 23 against Conant. He augments his point punch with tough defense and 10 rebounds per game.

Baumgardt led his team in scoring and rebounding last season but a heel injury caused him to miss five contests this campaign. He hadn't achieved any semblance of previous top form. But, Jim picked up 16 points, making 85 his season total, 19 rebounds and four assists against Conant. "It was his best game of the year," commented Arneson.

Of course their are other Falcons whose efforts have aided in the surge.

Forward Howie Brasch has 84 points this season while guards Jim Buckholz and Byron Borgardt carry totals of 149 and 123 respectively. Those three, along with Dunnigan and Baumgardt, will start against Maine West and Wheeling. Sixth man, and a potent sub he is, has been Jeff Grismer. He has 142 points.

IN MAINE WEST, which will be met tomorrow at Maine East, the Falcons will meet a quintet which they handled by a slim 51-48 margin four weeks ago. Though MW gave FV trouble the Warriors haven't been of much concern for other opponents. The charges of coach Gaston Freeman possess a lowly 2-13 mark and are 1-4, fifth, in the M-SL.

One ray of hope in the dim Maine picture came last week when the Warriors gained their second triumph of the campaign. They knocked off Wheeling 55-44. That result broke a seven game losing streak.

"I think our boys have improved," said cage director Freeman. "They now have much more experience and we don't have as many turnovers as we had earlier this year. We've cut our mistakes at least 50 per cent."

Maine's starting alignment against Forest View will put Ken Mueller and Dick Manny at guard, Al Fritz at center, Dale Haase at one forward and either Pete Kulik or Paul Moehling at the other forward. Best of the starters has been Mueller.

A 5-8 BACKCOURT playmaker, Mueller has 238 points this season, a 15.9 average. Only once this season has he missed hitting for double figures and four times he has been above 20 with 25 his personal high. He led his aggregation with 15 points against Wheeling.

Of the other sure starters Fritz has produced the most points. He has 80 markers in 15 games. Manny has managed 45 points in seven games while

Wheeling, Saturday's opponent, is fifth in the league at 0-5, and was trounced by Forest View 66-42 in their first meeting as Buckholz got 16 and Brasch 13 points in the victory. The 'Cats own a 3-13 record for the year. (For complete details on Wheeling see separate story in this section.)

Falcons Hit Conant; Stay In MSL Race

by KEN KNOX

Little things, the song said, mean a lot.

Little things like performing just a little better than your opponent, but doing it consistently for four consecutive quarters of basketball.

Little things like having one of your troubled veterans use an important occasion to signal that his rejuvenation may have begun.

Little things like tonsillitis.

Little things — when you're the team attempting a comeback flurry — like surrendering the basketball before giving yourself a chance to put it into the netting.

Little things — when you're in peril of being overcome — like converting your own missed free throws into field goals.

Little things like having a Pat Dunnigan efforting for your side.

LITTLE THINGS? Take each item individually, assess it relative to all the facets and factors of a basketball game, and it may not have much net significance. But take the sum of the parts, blended in the same contest, and it can indeed mean a lot.

The meaning to Forest View's Falcons Friday night was immense. Foremost for Ken Arneson's five, it meant victory over Conant's Cougars. But it also meant—in the broad panorama of the Mid-Suburban League basketball race — that the Falcons remained significantly in contention for the league's laurels.

Forest View ended the game at 4-1 in the MSL, just a step back of Prospect after the Knights' narrow-escape with Palatine in another Friday night game. Rol Berg's Cougars dipped to 2-3 in the league with the loss, but they stayed in fourth place with still a chance to ascend to a better position.

THE GAME ended at 58-44 in the Falcons' favor, but that's a deceiving statistical summation of the action. The Falcons had to work harder than that for the triumph, and they worked just hard enough each time they were menaced to compile a margin that seems comfortable in retrospect.

They didn't supremely dominate the play in any one quarter, but they did outscore the Cougars by one to six points in each stanza, and they never allowed Conant to have a lead. Offensively, they labored against a Conant zone defense that had stymied Wheeling the week before, and eventually they pierced it.

One of the prime performers in the event was 6-5 Falcon center Jim Baumgardt. Troubled all season by a blending that included injury, foul trouble and inability to score, he resurged with a performance that included 16 points, a flock of rebounds and several blocked shots on defense. Using his height to special advantage in front of the basket, he dropped in eight field goals, two in each period, several at key moments, three while rebounding other's shots.

THE GAME, to some degree, was a story of the big man who was there and the big man who wasn't. For while Baumgardt was a pillar in the FV lineup, Conant's 6-7 Larry Powell was forced to the sidelines again with a recurrence of tonsillitis. Rebounding and defensing Forest View close in, he could have been a factor.

But Conant did hurt its own cause with or without Powell, especially in the second quarter. In that period, after shooting by forward Dick Helmer and guard John Glasshof kept it close at 14-14, 16-16 and 18-19, the Cougars missed the opportunity to capitalize because of their own mistakes. Seven times Conant gave up the ball in that one period without getting a shot, and Forest View — mostly on the work of Baumgardt and Dunnigan — took advantage of it to run up an 11-point lead.

Those kind of mistakes, combined with some tight FV defensing and the sort of slow shooting start that saw Conant get only two field goals in the first period, kept Conant in a scrambling position all through the game.

THE COUGARS did make several good charges for the lead during the game, cutting the difference to five in the third quarter and threatening again in the fourth.

FV's rebounding advantage produced some unusual dividends during the last Conant rush. Early in the fourth quarter, after short jumpers by Walt Riley and Dave Sander had narrowed matters to 44-35, the Cougars had the chance to slice it even more as Dunnigan missed two free throws. But Jeff Grismer — in an impressive last quarter sub role — bounded up to slap in the rebound of Dunnigan's shot.

Bill Lunebach, high for Conant with 12 points in the game, followed with a field goal from the corner to cut the margin to nine again. But the event was repeated. Grismer went to the foul line, missed, and before Conant could get the rebound, Baumgardt had dropped it through. Conant, mainly because of two more field goals by Grismer, couldn't come back after that.

Final word should be made of the unsinkable Pat Dunnigan, the other 'little thing' that was so critical for Forest View. With 23 points, 15 in the first half, he was in a familiar role of topping all scorers and — as a bonus — surging up in the MSL scoring ranks ond plumping his FV career record total to 768 points. Frequently unstoppable on his drives near the basket, he converted his efforts into half of his team's first half points and again demonstrated why basketball observers have come to expect those things of him.

Lions Hope to Keep Rolling

Dan Collins had 30 in two games, including 20 against Holy Cross, and worked in at a guard slot "like he'd played there all the time" according to Nomellini.

BATAILLE HAD seven and eight-point nights, but his board work was vital, particularly against the Meteors when he took down eight.

Paul Dumke has had better weekends on the attack, scoring only nine points, but this rugged 6-4 senior also helped out under both baskets with some solid work. Dumke owns a 13.5 per game average so Nomellini isn't worried about the senior's ability to bounce back with some double-figure nights.

The Lions will need two more strong efforts this weekend if they hope to hold on to their third place standing in the Chicagoland Prep League.

YOU CAN DISREGARD St. Viator's 77-62 thumping of St. George in an earlier meeting because the return bout will be in the Dragon gymnasium, a cracker-box that affords some unusual problems.

Nomellini took a capable outfit into St. George last year and the Lions absorbed a 49-45 licking. They whipped the Dragons in Arlington Heights, 79-54.

St. George stands 2-8 in Chicagoland action but is still dangerous. Key man is 6-4 Don Geist, who has thrown in 185 points in ten league frays for an 18.5 standard. Geist had 25 against the Lions in that first engagement.

St. George owns league wins over St. Mel (80-77) and St. Joseph (68-67), two clubs that have handled the Lions this winter.

NOW THAT St. Viator has knocked off DeLaSalle, they should head into Saturday's battle at St. Pat's with more optimism. The Lions lost to the Shamrocks in Arlington, 55-48, but were tied with 30 seconds left.

St. Patrick is the only Chicagoland entry St. Viator has never beaten in varsity basketball, and the Lions want this one Saturday.

Coach Max Kurland's Shamrocks feature good balance with 6-7 Joe Burke their leading league scorer with a 15.5 average. Burke wrecked St. Viator in that first meeting with 21 points and a three-point play in the closing seconds that sealed the triumph.

John Lucas, a 6-4 senior who didn't bother St. Viator too much the first time around, has a 13.7 league average, and soph standout Carlos Martinez stands at 13.8.

The Shamrocks have lost only three grmes this season, two to DeLaSalle. The Meteors clipped St. Pat's in holiday play 59-58 and then scored a 61-48 win in a first round league encounter.

Unbeaten East Leyden whipped St. Patrick in the season opener, 70-53.

second in the Palatine holiday tourney but he has been beaten by Bertoglio earlier this season. Maine East's Tom Harner, a junior, is 6-4 and has also topped Wolter.

At 154 Pounds—If the most difficult weight to win isn't 145 it will be 154. Best record here and best record in the meet is ownd by Maine West's Steve Ryden. Ryden is 16-1 but his lone setback came to another who's first place material at 154, Rich Haddock of Wheeling. Haddock is 13-2-2. Two others with good chances at 154 are Don Lindmark and Pete Phillips. The Cards Lindmark is 13-4-1 this year and was second in district last year. Phillips, of Forest View, is 12-5-1 and has beaten Lindmark during the present campaign though he lost to him in the district a year ago.

At 165 Pounds—Mike Jones of Arlington and Brian Lampert of Forest View head the list at 165. Jones is 14-4 and Lampert has a 10-4 mark. Records of 9-5 belong to Marty Destafanis, of Prospest, and Paul Berwanger, of Wheeling.

At 180 Pounds—The Falcons' Mike Severns seems to be the class at 180. He was 15-3 during the just completed campaign. However the 11-5-1 standard of the 'Cats Ted Armstrong tabs him as one to watch. Also, though he's just 4-5 for the year, Wally Pollack of Maine East came on very strong at the end of the season.

At Heavyweight—If records mean anything their is only one choice in the heavyiest weight division. That's Dennis Forston of St. Viator. Just a junior, Forston, 6-3 and 235 pounds, is 11-1 for the year and eight of his personal victories have come via the pin route. Lone challenges here might come from Al Gildemeister of Forest View and Claude DeRusha of Maine East. Gildemeister was third last year and is 7-4-1 so far this season while DeRusha, who has been defeated by Gildemeister, is 4-5. Outside possibility at heavyweight might be Royce Leonardson of Maine West.

SPECIFIC pairings of the wrestlers at every weight will be decided tonight (Thursday) in a coaches meeting at Forest View.

Last year's Falcons district mat action was taken by Palatine, not present this season. Second one year ago was Prospect while Maine West was third, Arlington fourth, Forest View fifth, Maine East sixth and Wheeling seventh. The spread between first and third in '65 was just four points.

Both Play Two Games

Prospect Seeks Win From Wheeling Five

by MICHAEL HESS

If variety spices life then life must be deadly dull for Prospect and Wheeling cage units because neither has had any variety.

Recent hoop diets have found the Knights devouring nothing but wins, the 'Cats swallowing nothing but losses. Change now seems unlikely.

Prospect's quintet has gained 11 victories in a row and is presently 14-3 for the season. Coach Dick Kinneman's crew is in first, at 5-0, among Mid-Suburban League entries.

Wheeling's five has dropped six straight and owns an overall standard of 3-13. Headman Mike Owen's aggregation is currently 0-5 in the M-SL, a mark which puts them alone in the conference cellar.

THE KNIGHTS and Wildcats both have a pair of contests on their schedules this weekend. They meet each other tomorrow (Friday) while on Saturday Prospect hosts Conant and Wheeling hosts Forest View. If past results mean anything, the monotony of triumph and defeat strings won't be broken.

In the first round of Mid-Suburban games the Knights crushed the 'Cats 71-43. Prospect went on to paste Conant 74-56 as Wheeling was being slapped by FV 66-42. Now each club prepares for another encounter.

Preparations for the Knights involve overcoming a recent slump which hasn't brought setbacks but which has caused consecutive sub-par performances. "A lot of ball clubs slump a little between the holiday and state tournaments," commented Kinneman. "I think we've had our slump, at least we seemed to look better in the last quarter against Palatine."

It took a final period comeback for Prospect to nip Palatine 64-62 last week.

Tom Lundstedt, 6-3 forward, remains the top Knights threat. He has 378 points this season, a 22.2 average, and is shooting 57.6 per cent from the floor and 71.7 per cent at the line. Lundstedt tallied 19 points in the last 10 minutes to drive his team from behind against Palatine.

OTHER PROSPECT starters will be Tom Beard, Dan Agard, J. D. Thorne and Tony Kulasa.

Center Beard carries a 6.5 scoring average. He put in 10 markers and grabbed 14 rebounds his last game. Agard, with a 7.6 average from his forward post, is rugged on defense and turned in a brilliant second half defensive job against the Pirates. Thorne and Kulasa, with 8.7 and 5.2 averages respectively, perform at guards.

Filling out what is essentially a "starting" seven for the Knights are Craig Wolf and Dave Kingman. Wolf has garnered a 4.0 average in sub roles this year and Kingman has a mark of 7.0.

A recent addition to Prospect's varsity picture is Mike Mueller, brought up last week from the junior varsity. Mueller, 6-1, is a guard-forward who tallied 219 points in 12 games for the JV's. As a soph he played on a team which ended 16-0 and he led the junior varsity to a 10-2 record so his diet has also been one of steady victories.

WHEELING TOO has been in a slump, but a slump of rather prolonged duration. Correcting errors might provide a way up.

"Our trouble is that we've just been making too many mistakes to win," said coach Owens. "We had 28 fouls and 15 turnovers in our last game and that's not very good. But, if we play the game we're capable of then we could start winning."

Last week the 'Cats were beaten by Maine West 55-44. Leader of the losing cause was Mark Newman, who hit 11 for 20 from the floor and one of two at the line for 23 points. For the season 5-11 Newman carries an 8.9 average. He'll be at guard when game time comes tomorrow.

At center for the 'Cats will be Scott Bischoff, one of two starters for Wheeling with a point average in double figures. Bischoff connects for 11.1 a game. Forward Tom Neuckranz is the other high scorer, with an 11.6 average. An 8.3 average will be found at the other guard slot in the person of Rex Peterson.

THE REMAINING vacancy among the opening 'Cats five is at forward. There either Skip Grandt, whose had andle trouble lately, or Greg Fedyski, just up from the junior varsity, will fill in. Grandt has a 6.1 average while Fedyski had a high game of 16 points and hit double figures five times with the JV's.

Prospect's Saturday opponent, Conant, is 5-11 this year and 2-3, fourth, in Mid-Suburban League competition.

Pacing the Cougars have been John Glasshof, Bill Lunebach and Larry Powell. Glasshof, a 5-10 guard, has 208 points, an average of 13.0 while averages of 10.9 and 9.4 belong to 6-1 forward Lunebach and 6-7 center Powell respectively. Powell, due to recent tonsillitis and flu attacks, is a very doubtful starter.

If Powell doesn't play, then Lunebach will switch to center and Dave Sander, 6-1, and Dick Helmer, 6-0, will be the forwards. Sander and Helmer both average around five points a game. Rounding out the starting five will Walt Riley, a 5-8 guard with a 9.5 average.

(FOR DETAILS on Wheeling's opponent Saturday night, Forest View, see separate story in this section.)

ted just 12 fouls and eight turnovers. In Mid-Suburban struggles Arneson's crew has averaged over 40 per cent on goal tries, 37 rebounds, 17 fouls and 12 turnovers each time out.

Much of this excellence stems from 6-2 forward Dunnigan and 6-5 center Baumgardt.

DUNNIGAN, AN all-conference choice last year and headed in the same direction now, has been good but he's gotten better. In his high school career Pat has scored 768 points, a school record. Of those markers 288 have come this season, 23 against Conant. He augments his point punch with tough defense and 10 rebounds per game.

Baumgardt led his team in scoring and rebounding last season but a heel injury caused him to miss five contests this campaign. He hadn't achieved any semblance of previous top form. But, Jim picked up 16 points, making 85 his season total, 19 rebounds and four assists against Conant. "It was his best game of the year," commented Arneson.

Of course their are other Falcons whose efforts have aided in the surge.

Forward Howie Brasch has 84 points this season while guards Jim Buckholz and Byron Borgardt carry totals of 149 and 123 respectively. Those three, along with Dunnigan and Baumgardt, will start against Maine West and Wheeling. Sixth man, and a potent sub he is, has been Jeff Grismer. He has 142 points.

IN MAINE WEST, which will be met tomorrow at Maine East, the Falcons will meet a quintet which they handled by a slim 51-48 margin four weeks ago. Though MW gave FV trouble the Warriors haven't been of much concern for other opponents. The charges of coach Gaston Freeman possess a lowly 2-13 mark and are 1-4, fifth, in the M-SL.

One ray of hope in the dim Maine picture came last week when the Warriors gained their second triumph of the campaign. They knocked off Wheeling 55-44. That result broke a seven game losing streak.

"I think our boys have improved," said cage director Freeman. "They now have much more experience and we don't have as many turnovers as we had earlier this year. We've cut our mistakes at least 50 per cent."

Maine's starting alignment against Forest View will put Ken Mueller and Dick Manny at guard, Al Fritz at center, Dale Haase at one forward and either Pete Kulik or Paul Moehling at the other forward. Best of the starters has been Mueller.

A 5-8 BACKCOURT playmaker, Mueller has 238 points this season, a 15.9 average. Only once this season has he missed hitting for double figures and four times he has been above 20 with 25 his personal high. He led his aggregation with 15 points against Wheeling.

Of the other sure starters Fritz has produced the most points. He has 80 markers in 15 games. Manny has managed 45 points in seven games while Wheeling, Saturday's opponent, is fifth in the league at 0-5, and was trounced by Forest View 66-42 in their first meeting as Buckholz got 16 and Brasch 13 points in the victory. The 'Cats own a 3-13 record for the year. (For complete details on Wheeling see separate story in this section.)

Falcons Hit Conant; Stay In MSL Race

by KEN KNOX

Little things, the song said, mean a lot.

Little things like performing just a little better than your opponent, but doing it consistently for four consecutive quarters of basketball.

Little things like having one of your troubled veterans use an important occasion to signal that his rejuvenation may have begun.

Little things like tonsillitis.

Little things — when you're the team attempting a comeback flurry — like surrendering the basketball before giving yourself a chance to put it into the netting.

Little things — when you're in peril of being overcome — like converting your own missed free throws into field goals.

Little things like having a Pat Dunnigan efforting for your side.

LITTLE THINGS? Take each item individually, assess it relative to all the facets and factors of a basketball game, and it may not have much net significance. But take the sum of the parts, blended in the same contest, and it can indeed mean a lot.

The meaning to Forest View's Falcons Friday night was immense. Foremost for Ken Arneson's five, it meant victory over Conant's Cougars. But it also meant—in the broad panorama of the Mid-Suburban League basketball race — that the Falcons remained significantly in contention for the league's laurels.

Forest View ended the game at 4-1 in the MSL, just a step back of Prospect after the Knights' narrow-escape with Palatine in another Friday night game. Rol Berg's Cougars dipped to 2-3 in the league with the loss, but they stayed in fourth place with still a chance to ascend to a better position.

THE GAME ended at 58-44 in the Falcons' favor, but that's a deceiving statistical summation of the action. The Falcons had to work harder than that for the triumph, and they worked just hard enough each time they were menaced to compile a margin that seems comfortable in retrospect.

They didn't supremely dominate the play in any one quarter, but they did outscore the Cougars by one to six points in each stanza, and they never allowed Conant to have a lead. Offensively, they labored against a Conant zone defense that had stymied Wheeling the week before, and eventually they pierced it.

One of the prime performers in the event was 6-5 Falcon center Jim Baumgardt. Troubled all season by a blending that included injury, foul trouble and inability to score, he resurged with a performance that included 16 points, a flock of rebounds and several blocked shots on defense. Using his height to special advantage in front of the basket, he dropped in eight field goals, two in each period, several at key moments, three while rebounding other's shots.

THE GAME, to some degree, was a story of the big man who was there and the big man who wasn't. For while Baumgardt was a pillar in the FV lineup, Conant's 6-7 Larry Powell was forced to the sidelines again with a recurrence of tonsillitis. Rebounding and defensing Forest View close in, he could have been a factor.

But Conant did hurt its own cause with or without Powell, especially in the second quarter. In that period, after shooting by forward Dick Helmer and guard John Glasshof kept it close at 14-14, 16-16 and 18-19, the Cougars missed the opportunity to capitalize because of their own mistakes. Seven times Conant gave up the ball in that one period without getting a shot, and Forest View — mostly on the work of Baumgardt and Dunnigan — took advantage of it to run up an 11-point lead.

Those kind of mistakes, combined with some tight FV defensing and the sort of slow shooting start that saw Conant get only two field goals in the first period, kept Conant in a scrambling position all through the game.

THE COUGARS did make several good charges for the lead during the game, cutting the difference to five in the third quarter and threatening again in the fourth.

FV's rebounding advantage produced some unusual dividends during the last Conant rush. Early in the fourth quarter, after short jumpers by Walt Riley and Dave Sander had narrowed matters to 44-35, the Cougars had the chance to slice it even more as Dunnigan missed two free throws. But Jeff Grismer — in an impressive last quarter sub role — bounded up to slap in the rebound of Dunnigan's shot.

Bill Lunebach, high for Conant with 12 points in the game, followed with a field goal from the corner to cut the margin to nine again. But the event was repeated. Grismer went to the foul line, missed, and before Conant could get the rebound, Baumgardt had dropped it through. Conant, mainly because of two more field goals by Grismer, couldn't come back after that.

Final word should be made of the unsinkable Pat Dunnigan, the other 'little thing' that was so critical for Forest View. With 23 points, 15 in the first half, he was in a familiar role of topping all scorers and — as a bonus — surging up in the MSL scoring ranks ond plumping his FV career record total to 768 points. Frequently unstoppable on his drives near the basket, he converted his efforts into half of his team's first half points and again demonstrated why basketball observers have come to expect those things of him.

Lions Hope to Keep Rolling

Dan Collins had 30 in two games, including 20 against Holy Cross, and worked in at a guard slot "like he'd played there all the time" according to Nomellini.

BATAILLE HAD seven and eight-point nights, but his board work was vital, particularly against the Meteors when he took down eight.

Paul Dumke has had better weekends on the attack, scoring only nine points, but this rugged 6-4 senior also helped out under both baskets with some solid work. Dumke owns a 13.5 per game average so Nomellini isn't worried about the senior's ability to bounce back with some double-figure nights.

The Lions will need two more strong efforts this weekend if they hope to hold on to their third place standing in the Chicagoland Prep League.

YOU CAN DISREGARD St. Viator's 77-62 thumping of St. George in an earlier meeting because the return bout will be in the Dragon gymnasium, a cracker-box that affords some unusual problems.

Nomellini took a capable outfit into St. George last year and the Lions absorbed a 49-45 licking. They whipped the Dragons in Arlington Heights, 79-54.

St. George stands 2-8 in Chicagoland action but is still dangerous. Key man is 6-4 Don Geist, who has thrown in 185 points in ten league frays for an 18.5 standard. Geist had 25 against the Lions in that first engagement.

St. George owns league wins over St. Mel (80-77) and St. Joseph (68-67), two clubs that have handled the Lions this winter.

NOW THAT St. Viator has knocked off DeLaSalle, they should head into Saturday's battle at St. Pat's with more optimism. The Lions lost to the Shamrocks in Arlington, 55-48, but were tied with 30 seconds left.

St. Patrick is the only Chicagoland entry St. Viator has never beaten in varsity basketball, and the Lions want this one Saturday.

Coach Max Kurland's Shamrocks feature good balance with 6-7 Joe Burke their leading league scorer with a 15.5 average. Burke wrecked St. Viator in that first meeting with 21 points and a three-point play in the closing seconds that sealed the triumph.

John Lucas, a 6-4 senior who didn't bother St. Viator too much the first time around, has a 13.7 league average, and soph standout Carlos Martinez stands at 13.8.

The Shamrocks have lost only three grmes this season, two to DeLaSalle. The Meteors clipped St. Pat's in holiday play 59-58 and then scored a 61-48 win in a first round league encounter.

Unbeaten East Leyden whipped St. Patrick in the season opener, 70-53.

Forest View Hosts District Mat Event

RICK BERTOGLIO
14-1 for Knights

CHIP DOUGLAS

DENNY FORSTON
11-1 for Lions

second in the Palatine holiday tourney but he has been beaten by Bertoglio earlier this season. Maine East's Tom Harner, a junior, is 6-4 and has also topped Wolter.

At 154 Pounds—If the most difficult weight to win isn't 145 it will be 154. Best record here and best record in the meet is ownd by Maine West's Steve Ryden. Ryden is 16-1 but his lone setback came to another who's first place material at 154, Rich Haddock of Wheeling. Haddock is 13-2-2. Two others with good chances at 154 are Don Lindmark and Pete Phillips. The Cards Lindmark is 13-4-1 this year and was second in district last year. Phillips, of Forest View, is 12-5-1 and has beaten Lindmark during the present campaign though he lost to him in the district a year ago.

At 165 Pounds—Mike Jones of Arlington and Brian Lampert of Forest View head the list at 165. Jones is 14-4 and Lampert has a 10-4 mark. Records of 9-5 belong to Marty Destafanis, of Prospest, and Paul Berwanger, of Wheeling.

At 180 Pounds—The Falcons' Mike Severns seems to be the class at 180. He was 15-3 during the just completed campaign. However the 11-5-1 standard of the 'Cats Ted Armstrong tabs him as one to watch. Also, though he's just 4-5 for the year, Wally Pollack of Maine East came on very strong at the end of the season.

At Heavyweight—If records mean anything their is only one choice in the heavyiest weight division. That's Dennis Forston of St. Viator. Just a junior, Forston, 6-3 and 235 pounds, is 11-1 for the year and eight of his personal victories have come via the pin route. Lone challenges here might come from Al Gildemeister of Forest View and Claude DeRusha of Maine East. Gildemeister was third last year and is 7-4-1 so far this season while DeRusha, who has been defeated by Gildemeister, is 4-5. Outside possibility at heavyweight might be Royce Leonardson of Maine West.

SPECIFIC pairings of the wrestlers at every weight will be decided tonight (Thursday) in a coaches meeting at Forest View.

Last year's Falcons district mat action was taken by Palatine, not present this season. Second one year ago was Prospect while Maine West was third, Arlington fourth, Forest View fifth, Maine East sixth and Wheeling seventh. The spread between first and third in '65 was just four points.

Sportsman's Notebook

by
KEN KNOX
Outdoor Editor
CLearbrook 3-1520

FROM A BULGING NOTEBOOK:

This is what outdoorsmen usually think of—with a chill—as the stalled season. The guns have been oiled and tucked away because it's too late to do any more hunting, and the fishing equipment—at best—has been spread out on the floor in anxious anticipation of those radiant days still a couple months off. Unless you like ice fishing or hiking, there's not much to do.

So it might be considered timely that tomorrow marks the 1966 debut of Chicago's annual Sports, Vacation and Boat Show, called the biggest of its kind in the world by its promoters. It'll be staged at the International Amphitheatre from Feb. 11 through Feb. 20, with the opening day exhibition to begin at 6 p.m., weekend showings to begin at noon, and weekends at 1 p.m. Closing hour every day will be 11 p.m.

As usual, there'll be a lot you can do as well as see at the show, with live trout fishing, casting-practicing, archery and skeet shooting among the availabilities.

For those going just for the seeing, the vistas will include all manner of the latest in outdoor sports equipment, fishing tackle, boats, trailers, mobile homes, camper units, tents, sports movies, log-rolling demonstrations, flycasting by heavyweight boxing champion Jack Sharkey, MC'ing by occasional movie and television star John Bromfield, and even Tinkerbelle, the 13½ foot sloop that carried Cleveland newspaperman Robert Manry on a 78-day journey across the Atlantic last summer.

Not to be confused with the aforementioned, the Chicago National Boat, Travel and Outdoors Show is also returning shortly. It'll run March 5 through March 13 at McCormick Place.

It's the more boat and water-oriented of the two shows, but I can't preview much of the outdoor attractions that will be available. The first missive from the show's promoters dwelled on the origins and antics of funnyman Allan Sherman, who presumably is to be considered the principal attraction.

A GLINT OF HOPE for anyone who has any sympathy with the efforts to save man's surroundings from man: word that the steel, petroleum and chemical plants hemming the southern end of Lake Michigan will undertake to cease their polluting of the waters.

If it works—and it's supposed to by the end of 1968—it'll be a banner accomplishment for the new U. S. Water Pollution Control Administration. And for the companies whose defiling of the waters made it all possible.

A less ambitious but still meaningful conservation experiment is passing with honors in DuPage County. The Forest Preserve District reports that 11,000 fishermen spent 34,000 hours working the waters of Herrick Lake between mid-June and the first of October last year, landing mounds of bass and bluegills.

Herrick is the lake that had gone to ruin, and was closed for almost two years beginning in 1963. The conservation people cleaned out the foul fish and plant life, restocked the water with bass and bluegills, invited the fishermen back and proved that the piece of nature could be saved.

Herrick is open for ice fishing now, and if you want to fish there, the conservation officials ask only that you don't fish with minnows or introduce any other fish from the outside.

Reminder: Jan. 31 is past, and with it the last valid date of the 1965 fishing and hunting licenses. New ones are available, same places you bought your old ones, same price.

For 15-year old Debbie Threedy of 2277 Circle Drive in Palatine, this winter had at least one special moment. Doing some vacation fishing off Fort Lauderdale, Florida, she landed—among other fish—a wahoo that weighed 48 pounds and measured just over five feet. It was good for a cash award of $50.00 from the Bahia Mar fishing Fleet for the biggest catch of the week.

Saw a misguided mourning dove a few days ago. Three of them, to be precise. I don't know what they were doing in this latitude the first of February, but if a dove comes, can spring be far behind? Let's hope it's an omen.

EG Frosh Cage Team Splits

Elk Grove's freshman basketball players divided a pair of games over the weekend, staging a huge fourth quarter surge to stop Carmel of Mundelein, and losing a back-and-forth struggle with Niles North.

Carmel, succumbing to a 17-2 EG edge in the fourth period, fell 45-33. Niles, with some key free throws in the last minute, pulled out a 38-34 win. The decisions left Ken Grams' Grenadiers with a mark of 3-10 overall.

Forward Joe Kalisz was the potent factor against Mundelein, scoring 24 of his team's 45 points, with 11 field goals in the collection. He also picked off 14 rebounds. Tom Klemens with seven points and Gregg Peterson with six supported him.

Kalisz was also the big man in defeat for Elk Grove, hitting 14 points and taking 16 rebounds against Niles. Ray Davidson, Steve Bentall and Gary Pleickhardt each had six points.

The Grove frosh "B" squad—now 2-8 for the year—also had a split, beating Carmel 26-24 and losing 43-17 to Niles North.

Lundstedt Leads Comeback

Prospect Nips Palatine For 64-62 Triumph

by MICHAEL HESS

A "Battle of the Bulge" was fought last weekend.

Cage troops from Palatine mounted an attack Friday evening. Prospect's quintet assembled in defense on their home ground.

For two and one-half quarters Knights forces retreated before the invader's onslaught. Over enemy terrain the Pirates ran up a 45-33 bulge with 2:27 left in period three.

Then came "L" hour.

TOM LUNDSTEDT, Prospect big gun, had been completely silenced to that juncture. However the 6-3 junior opened up and shot in 10 markers, reducing the buge to 47-43, before the last eight minutes began.

Answering fire from the attackers proved Palatine was not yet dead. Sharpshooting by Paul Kozlicki and Jerry McCormick maintained the four point margin. Kozlicki's lay-up made it 54-50 at 4:30 of closing action.

A long range blast by Craig Wolf moved the Knights to within two, at 54-52, and then Lundstedt tapped in a rebound eliminating the bulge and knotting the tally. An exchange of goals followed and, with 1:21 left, the count was still even at 58 apiece.

Only 23 seconds later Lundstedt gave Prospect the lead, a lead that wasn't relinquished. Tom tossed in a two-pointer from three feet out and his army was on top 60-58. Both sides contributed four more points but the issue had been decided and the Pirates were downed 64-62.

TO THE VICTOR went the hoop war spoils.

The Knights' booty included an extenstion of its winning streak to 11 straight, retention of a perfect 5-0 first place Mid-Suburban League mark and a ballooning over-all record, now at 14-3. One blotch on the showing of coach Dick Kinneman's crew was the poor quality of their play in the initial half.

For the loser there was little more than dregs of defeat.

Palatine slipped below .500 for the season, at 8-9, and dropped to third, at 3-2, in M-SL competition. A saving factor of the narrow setback for coach Bud Mueller was that his legion looked sharp, giving the winners their closest combat since December 18 when Prospect's triumph string started.

As the battle opened, the Pirates slipped into a small lead. After one quarter three buckets by Dave Willy and a pair from Randy McWilliams helped put the visitors in front 13-11. The Knights were hampered in that period by eight turnovers and helped by five points and strong rebounding from Tom Beard.

IN THE SECOND quarter Palatine jumped away 20-13 on scoring by Kozlicki, Willy and McCormick. By the half that gap was cut to three, at 29-26, as Propect's Beard and Dan Agard made five and six points respectively The Pirates built their bulge to start period three. Kozlicki led the advance, scoring nine points the last four of which sent his team in front 45-33.

Then Lundstedt's barrage began.

Shut out to that point and benched for foul and defensive troubles, Lundstedt made up for former deficiencies. He made a lay-up, a foul shot, another lay-up, a three-footer, a three point play and another lay-up. All came within 147 seconds and brought the Knights within three at 47-43, as the last eight minutes began.

Quarter four started with McCormick flipping in a goal from the corner. Lundstedt countered with a foul and seven-footer. A lay-up by Kozlicki and nine-footer by Tony Kulasa brought the score to 51-48.

AFTER McCORMICK'S free throw Lundstedt sank a jumper and Kozlicki his second lay-up in as many minutes. The score was 54-50 until Wolf and Lundstedt tied it. Lundstedt made his go-ahead points moments later and Wolf, who had eight clutch markers in the final four minutes, finished Prospect's offense with a quartet of foul shots.

One crucial factor of the struggle was Palatine's inaccuracy at the charity stripe. During the concluding action there were two first tries in one and one situations missed by the Pirates, who popped in only eight of 19 during the entire affair. Prospect made 14 of 18.

From the floor it was a different story as the Knights were outshot for just the fourth time this year. Palatine hit 27 for 55 (49.1 per cent) and Prospect 25 of 59 (42.4 per cent). Coach Kinneman's quintet also committed more fouls, 15 to 13, and more turnovers, 15 to nine.

High scorer in the battle was Kozlicki with 20 points. The balanced Palatine attack had McCormick with 13, Willy 12 and Williams 11. Lundstedt, with 19, led Prospect. Beard and Agard both had 10.

Improving Maine to Battle Cards Friday

by BOB FRISK

Arlington High School, knocked down twice last weekend, will attempt to bounce off the floor Friday evening against a club that has been leveled eleven straight times in West Suburban Conference basketball.

Facing Maine East over the past two seasons has not been a cause for alarm, but there have been signs pointing to a "new look" at the Park Ridge school.

The Blue Demons are still losing, but they're making it a lot more interesting.

Over the past two conference weekends coach Bruce Brothers' Maine East outfit has taken La Grange and Glenbard West to the wire before succumbing.

La Grange, trailing by one point at halftime, nipped the Blue Demons, 63-62. Glenbard was down by two at the intermission but pulled out a nervous 71-68 decision.

WHAT THOSE two contests have done is give Brothers' crew a needed boost for the final month of the league campaign. Maine is extremely anxious to spring an upset and climb into the win column in West Suburban action.

Arlington entertains the Blue Demons Friday evening, and Cardinal fans are interested in seeing how their club will react after that double loss last weekend.

The Cards were flat Saturday at Hinsdale after dropping a 10-point decision to state-ranked York and lost their firm hold on second place in the conference. Arlington, Glenbard West, and La Grange are now tied for the runnerup spot with 7-4 marks.

YORK RAN its winning streak to 19 games with victories over Arlington and Riverside-Brookfield and clinched the conference flag to no one's great surprise.

Arlington's Ted Wissen gave his charges a day off Monday but it was practice as usual Tuesday as the Cards prepared for the invasion of Maine East.

"I had been worried all week about that game at Hinsdale," Wissen admitted, "and we tried to warn the boys. That would have been a good one to pull out in those final seconds, but I'm still hopeful we'll bounce back."

THE TRAP at Hinsdale was set when the schedule sent York to Arlington the night before. A capacity house watched the Cards tangle with York, but a slim crowd was in attendance Saturday at Hinsdale.

Arlington's "big six" of Steve Allen, Terry Townley, Pete Barker, Jim Donchess, Bruce Hubbard, and Jim Jorgensen is aware of the dangers ahead if they look past Maine East to the bouts with Downers Grove and La Grange.

The Cards tripped up Maine in an earlier meeting, 67-59, but only enjoyed a five-point lead at the halftime break.

CRAIG McGREGOR, a 6-3 center, is the Blue Demons' top scorer in West Suburban play with 154 points and a 14.0 average. McGregor flipped in 15 against Arlington the first time around and has a high of 30 against Glenbard West.

Bob Leesley, a 6-1 forward who dialed 17 in that eight-point loss to Arlington, has 97 markers in league scuffling despite missing the first three games. Bob has been in double figures in four of his last five WSC outings with a high of 16 against York.

Brothers, the former Quincy High School All-Stater and regular at the University of Illinois, was stripped of available talent when he took the head job at Maine East and his Demons have won only two of 25 league games during that period.

But Brothers has seen reason for hope over the past two weekends and may be ready to unveil a few surprises Friday.

ALTHOUGH checked with six points Friday by the tenacious York defense, Arlington's Steve Allen still ranks among the scoring leaders thanks to a 24-point barrage at Hinsdale.

Allen now owns 206 points in league games, 17 behind the leader, Larry Saunders of York. Bud Bocker of Downers Grove (218) and Parker Wellington of Hinsdale (215) rank behind Saunders.

Terry Townley enjoyed an impressive weekend for Arlington with 32 points to hike his conference average to 14.4 and season standard to 12.4.

Pete Barker fashioned his best varsity night Friday with an 18-point contribution against York and passed the century mark for the season. He has 118 season points and 93 in league play. Despite a late start, he is fourth on the team in scoring in the WSC.

Barker still dazzles at the free throw line. He has hit 36 charity tosses in 43 attempts for a sparkling .842 standard.

Townley Nears School Record

Terry Townley, Arlington's 5-11 junior guard, will establish a school record for a single conference season when he hits three more free throws. Townley has 68 in West Suburban play, and the Cardinal record for 14 conference games is 70, set in 1956-57 by Tom Jacobsen.

Townley is the West Suburban leader this season in number of free throws made. He has 68 and Kirk Biggs of Glenbard West is second with 56.

The West Suburban record for free throws in a single season is 105, established in 1954-55 by Bob Whitehead of Glenbard.

FV Sophs Shoot Well, Belt Conant

Hitting 45 per cent from the floor and 69 per cent from the foul line, Forest View's sophomore basketball players drubbed Conant 66-44 last Saturday.

For Rog Steingraber's crew, it was the seventh win in 12 games, and was featured by fine performances from several players. Kevin Grismer put in his best game to date offensively and defensively, leading all scorers with 23 points. Dennis Jones and John Wester each added 12 points, with Jones' total a personal high. And Steingraber cited Earl Thomas -- who had nine points — for good work in the pivot position, setting up screens for outside shooting.

FV defensed all but Conant's John Moffat, who picked up 20 points in the game. Ten of those were on free throws, as two Falcons fouled out on him.

Lion Frosh Post Split

Rebounding from a one-point loss on Friday evening, St. Viator's frosh Lions rocked DeLaSalle Saturday, 41-28, in Chicagoland Prep League basketball play.

A balanced attack paid off for the Arlington Heights school in the win over DeLaSalle. John Brawley was high with 11 points. Greg Doyle tallied 10, Dave Erfort nine, and Dick Aylward seven.

St. Viator was on top 26-21 heading into the final period.

Holy Cross rallied in the final period for a 40-39 victory over the Lions Friday. St. Viator carried a 31-28 advantage after three stanzas.

Brawley was high again for St. Viator with 11 points. Doyle tossed in nine, Erfort seven, and Aylward and Rich Dwyer six each.

Sportsman's Notebook

by
KEN KNOX
Outdoor Editor
CLearbrook 3-1520

FROM A BULGING NOTEBOOK:

This is what outdoorsmen usually think of—with a chill—as the stalled season. The guns have been oiled and tucked away because it's too late to do any more hunting, and the fishing equipment—at best—has been spread out on the floor in anxious anticipation of those radiant days still a couple months off. Unless you like ice fishing or hiking, there's not much to do.

So it might be considered timely that tomorrow marks the 1966 debut of Chicago's annual Sports, Vacation and Boat Show, called the biggest of its kind in the world by its promoters. It'll be staged at the International Amphitheatre from Feb. 11 through Feb. 20, with the opening day exhibition to begin at 6 p.m., weekend showings to begin at noon, and weekends at 1 p.m. Closing hour every day will be 11 p.m.

As usual, there'll be a lot you can do as well as see at the show, with live trout fishing, casting-practicing, archery and skeet shooting among the availabilities.

For those going just for the seeing, the vistas will include all manner of the latest in outdoor sports equipment, fishing tackle, boats, trailers, mobile homes, camper units, tents, sports movies, log-rolling demonstrations, flycasting by heavyweight boxing champion Jack Sharkey, MC'ing by occasional movie and television star John Bromfield, and even Tinkerbelle, the 13½ foot sloop that carried Cleveland newspaperman Robert Manry on a 78-day journey across the Atlantic last summer.

Not to be confused with the aforementioned, the Chicago National Boat, Travel and Outdoors Show is also returning shortly. It'll run March 5 through March 13 at McCormick Place.

It's the more boat and water-oriented of the two shows, but I can't preview much of the outdoor attractions that will be available. The first missive from the show's promoters dwelled on the origins and antics of funnyman Allan Sherman, who presumably is to be considered the principal attraction.

A GLINT OF HOPE for anyone who has any sympathy with the efforts to save man's surroundings from man: word that the steel, petroleum and chemical plants hemming the southern end of Lake Michigan will undertake to cease their polluting of the waters.

If it works—and it's supposed to by the end of 1968—it'll be a banner accomplishment for the new U. S. Water Pollution Control Administration. And for the companies whose defiling of the waters made it all possible.

A less ambitious but still meaningful conservation experiment is passing with honors in DuPage County. The Forest Preserve District reports that 11,000 fishermen spent 34,000 hours working the waters of Herrick Lake between mid-June and the first of October last year, landing mounds of bass and bluegills.

Herrick is the lake that had gone to ruin, and was closed for almost two years beginning in 1963. The conservation people cleaned out the foul fish and plant life, restocked the water with bass and bluegills, invited the fishermen back and proved that the piece of nature could be saved.

Herrick is open for ice fishing now, and if you want to fish there, the conservation officials ask only that you don't fish with minnows or introduce any other fish from the outside.

Reminder: Jan. 31 is past, and with it the last valid date of the 1965 fishing and hunting licenses. New ones are available, same places you bought your old ones, same price.

For 15-year old Debbie Threedy of 2277 Circle Drive in Palatine, this winter had at least one special moment. Doing some vacation fishing off Fort Lauderdale, Florida, she landed—among other fish—a wahoo that weighed 48 pounds and measured just over five feet. It was good for a cash award of $50.00 from the Bahia Mar fishing Fleet for the biggest catch of the week.

Saw a misguided mourning dove a few days ago. Three of them, to be precise. I don't know what they were doing in this latitude the first of February, but if a dove comes, can spring be far behind? Let's hope it's an omen.

EG Frosh Cage Team Splits

Elk Grove's freshman basketball players divided a pair of games over the weekend, staging a huge fourth quarter surge to stop Carmel of Mundelein, and losing a back-and-forth struggle with Niles North.

Carmel, succumbing to a 17-2 EG edge in the fourth period, fell 45-33. Niles, with some key free throws in the last minute, pulled out a 38-34 win. The decisions left Ken Grams' Grenadiers with a mark of 3-10 overall.

Forward Joe Kalisz was the potent factor against Mundelein, scoring 24 of his team's 45 points, with 11 field goals in the collection. He also picked off 14 rebounds. Tom Klemens with seven points and Gregg Peterson with six supported him.

Kalisz was also the big man in defeat for Elk Grove, hitting 14 points and taking 16 rebounds against Niles. Ray Davidson, Steve Bentall and Gary Pleickhardt each had six points.

The Grove frosh "B" squad—now 2-8 for the year—also had a split, beating Carmel 26-24 and losing 43-17 to Niles North.

Lundstedt Leads Comeback

Prospect Nips Palatine For 64-62 Triumph

by MICHAEL HESS

A "Battle of the Bulge" was fought last weekend.

Cage troops from Palatine mounted an attack Friday evening. Prospect's quintet assembled in defense on their home ground.

For two and one-half quarters Knights forces retreated before the invader's onslaught. Over enemy terrain the Pirates ran up a 45-33 bulge with 2:27 left in period three.

Then came "L" hour.

TOM LUNDSTEDT, Prospect big gun, had been completely silenced to that juncture. However the 6-3 junior opened up and shot in 10 markers, reducing the buge to 47-43, before the last eight minutes began.

Answering fire from the attackers proved Palatine was not yet dead. Sharpshooting by Paul Kozlicki and Jerry McCormick maintained the four point margin. Kozlicki's lay-up made it 54-50 at 4:30 of closing action.

A long range blast by Craig Wolf moved the Knights to within two, at 54-52, and then Lundstedt tapped in a rebound eliminating the bulge and knotting the tally. An exchange of goals followed and, with 1:21 left, the count was still even at 58 apiece.

Only 23 seconds later Lundstedt gave Prospect the lead, a lead that wasn't relinquished. Tom tossed in a two-pointer from three feet out and his army was on top 60-58. Both sides contributed four more points but the issue had been decided and the Pirates were downed 64-62.

TO THE VICTOR went the hoop war spoils.

The Knights' booty included an extenstion of its winning streak to 11 straight, retention of a perfect 5-0 first place Mid-Suburban League mark and a ballooning over-all record, now at 14-3. One blotch on the showing of coach Dick Kinneman's crew was the poor quality of their play in the initial half.

For the loser there was little more than dregs of defeat.

Palatine slipped below .500 for the season, at 8-9, and dropped to third, at 3-2, in M-SL competition. A saving factor of the narrow setback for coach Bud Mueller was that his legion looked sharp, giving the winners their closest combat since December 18 when Prospect's triumph string started.

As the battle opened, the Pirates slipped into a small lead. After one quarter three buckets by Dave Willy and a pair from Randy McWilliams helped put the visitors in front 13-11. The Knights were hampered in that period by eight turnovers and helped by five points and strong rebounding from Tom Beard.

IN THE SECOND quarter Palatine jumped away 20-13 on scoring by Kozlicki, Willy and McCormick. By the half that gap was cut to three, at 29-26, as Propect's Beard and Dan Agard made five and six points respectively The Pirates built their bulge to start period three. Kozlicki led the advance, scoring nine points the last four of which sent his team in front 45-33.

Then Lundstedt's barrage began.

Shut out to that point and benched for foul and defensive troubles, Lundstedt made up for former deficiencies. He made a lay-up, a foul shot, another lay-up, a three-footer, a three point play and another lay-up. All came within 147 seconds and brought the Knights within three at 47-43, as the last eight minutes began.

Quarter four started with McCormick flipping in a goal from the corner. Lundstedt countered with a foul and seven-footer. A lay-up by Kozlicki and nine-footer by Tony Kulasa brought the score to 51-48.

AFTER McCORMICK'S free throw Lundstedt sank a jumper and Kozlicki his second lay-up in as many minutes. The score was 54-50 until Wolf and Lundstedt tied it. Lundstedt made his go-ahead points moments later and Wolf, who had eight clutch markers in the final four minutes, finished Prospect's offense with a quartet of foul shots.

One crucial factor of the struggle was Palatine's inaccuracy at the charity stripe. During the concluding action there were two first tries in one and one situations missed by the Pirates, who popped in only eight of 19 during the entire affair. Prospect made 14 of 18.

From the floor it was a different story as the Knights were outshot for just the fourth time this year. Palatine hit 27 for 55 (49.1 per cent) and Prospect 25 of 59 (42.4 per cent). Coach Kinneman's quintet also committed more fouls, 15 to 13, and more turnovers, 15 to nine.

High scorer in the battle was Kozlicki with 20 points. The balanced Palatine attack had McCormick with 13, Willy 12 and Williams 11. Lundstedt, with 19, led Prospect. Beard and Agard both had 10.

Four Close Behind

Lattof Creates Narrow Lead

It took four weeks to do it, but Lattof Chevrolet worked itself back to the top of the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League last Saturday.

It was the first time in the second round that the queens of the PWCTL's first round had assumed the familiar position, but it wasn't with enough room to take a deep breath.

MARLENE SMITH

Lattof, bowling at Rolling Meadows Bowl, stopped River Rand Bowl 4-0 in a series tighter than the score indicates. At the same time, Steve's Restaurant—which had taken the lead a week before—tied 2-2 with Morton Pontiac to hang a point back of Lattof. And Rolling Meadows Bowl—anchored by the hottest performance of the season from Marlene Smith—struck Striking Lanes 3-1 to remain solidly with the pack threatening for the top.

Lattof's final margin over River Rand was only 70 pins, but the leaders out-bowled the tail-enders by just enough in each of the three games to claim everything.

OR ALMOST everything. River Rand's Gloria Lucchesi had the best series of the match, a 223-200-149—572. The best for Lattof was Donna Reinhardt, who totaled a 546. Each team had four bowlers over 500, that's how close it was. Lattof's game margins were 27, 22 and 21 pins, with a total pinfall edge of 2596-2526.

Morton used one big game to stop a Steve's sweep, but to work out a tie with the deposed leaders. Steve's had claimed game one by 87 pins and two by a scant four. Then Morton bowled back with the best team game of the night—a 943—to club Steve's by 122 pins, taking the game and the point for pinfall. By the tie, Morton put itself into a three-way deadlock for third with RMB and Striking Lanes.

The big factors in the tie were sub Juanita Davis and regular Jo Lindahl. Juanita bowled a 224 third game and Jo a 200, which added to Nancy Dietz' 191 and sub Blanche Weaver's 184 made Morton unbeatable. Davis with 559 and Lindahl with 537 ended high for Morton, while Winnie Lohse's 541 bested Steve's.

ROLING MEADOWS Bowl got its share of third place very much on the effort of Marlene Smith. She started with a 223, adding a 209 and 186 for a 618 series, the best of the evening in the PWCTL, and her personal high for the season. Next highest for her team was Jean Ladd with 516. Striking received its best from Judy Anderson, with a 568 series.

RMB came very close to winning it all in the series, missing taking game two by only 13 pins. But game three was won by only 10, so things evened out.

The next league results should show a continuation of the scramble that has characterized the loop until now. Leader Lattof was pitted against runner-up Steve's; Morton and Rolling Meadows Bowl were to dispute their tie; and Striking Lanes was catching River Rand Bowl.

St. Viator's Tankers Top Forest View

St. Viator's swimmers overwhelmed Forest View at both varsity and frosh-soph levels last week.

The unbeaten Lions scored a 72-23 victory in varsity action and 77-18 frosh-soph win.

Rennie Tague, Mike Gibler, and John Massey each figured in two firsts for the Lion varsity with Rick Withrow, Jim Spears, Rick Kalinowski and Dave Chantry also scoring victories.

Darryl Oberg topped the 100 butterfly and Mike Bodozian headed the 400 freestyle for Forest View.

Bill Saigh, Mike Madden, Lou Hibbs, and Fred Schmidt combined for a record-setting medley relay to spark the St. Viator sophs to an easy victory. The Lion quartet clipped off a 1:53.7 to knock almost four seconds off the old mark.

Veterans Pace Both

Chalet And Pioneer Spurt Up In PCTL

The aura of the Gemini program has been injected into the Paddock Classic Traveling League race.

Concourse Sports Chalet and Brim's Pioneer Lanes, soaring free of the pack, went into an almost tandem flight last Saturday night. Chalet won 5-2 over Bill Cook Buick to hold the lead, and Pioneer blasted Karlsen Pharmacy 7-0 to jet away from the cluster that had trailed Sports Chalet the week before.

The two are now running 1-2 only three points apart, while the third place team — Jeffery Lanes — is six points out of second. Jeffery won 5-2 over Morton Pontiac to get in that position, while City Welding Sales and Service was clouting first round champion The Brass Rail 7-0 to become part of the bunch. The teams third through seventh now have but three points separating them, while the Railers are lagging deep in the cellar.

LONG-TIME PCTL veteran Tom Kouros rolled out his best effort of the 1965-66 season to keep Sports Chalet on top. He had a 656 series on games of 197, 204 and 255, pacing Chalet to an evening's team high game of 1049 and series of 2961.

The win was the more impressive because it came at Bill Cook's home Rolling Meadows Bowl. It was also more than just the work of Kouros, for Dave Catherwood subbed with a 599 series, while Mike Wagner Jr. had 597 and Tony Sasso 584.

Bill Cook, which won the first game on a strong 956 performance, was led by Ted Geiersbach's 611 and Al Haase's 601.

George Schmidt was in his old familiar role for Pioneer Lanes, as the Pioneers blanked Karlsen at their Addison lanes. Schmidt had a 208-235-195—638 total, second best of the night and the only 600 series in the match. Bob Krisch followed up with 595 for Pioneer, while Ken Sikorski led an absentee-riddled Karlsen team with 536. The Pharmacy team also suffered from one of Joe Simonis' exceedingly rare bad nights, a 495 series.

JEFFERY LANES picked up three 600 series at home to handle Morton 5-2. Whitey Hefferan topped the victors with 617, while Hec Healey and Don Christensen followed up with 612 accumulations. John Miller was an easy best for Morton, hitting for 623. George White and Ernie Koche tied with 585s for Morton, which settled into a three-way tie for fifth with the setback.

The home advantage did no good for The Brass Rail, which has been troubled since Warren Walter departed for the service, and which had to take one blind score of 480 Saturday. City Welding took advantage in just the right measure, rolling the shutout at River Rand Bowl. Bill Todd, with his personal high for the PCTL season, led the winners with a 212-173-242—627 offering. The Brass Rail had its tops from John Giovannelli, a 570.

TOM KOUROS

The Welders will get a real challenge in this Saturday's action, confronting Sports Chalet at Jack Gunnell's Lanes. Brim's Pioneer will be at Jeffery Lanes in another headline meeting, while Karlsen and Morton Pontiac try to break their deadlock at Beverly Lanes and The Brass Rail meets Bill Cook Buick at Rolling Meadows Bowl.

Village Green Golf Club Names Officers for 1966

The annual meeting of the Mount Prospect Country Club Village Green was held at the clubhouse to elect their Board of Governors for the 1966 golf season.

Ray Felitto was named club president, replacing retiring Roy Cowdrey. Ted Small was elected vice president. This years secretary-treasurer will be new Board Governor Dick Haden, taking over the books from Herb Scott.

Other board members are Dan Lynch, rules and handicap chairman, and newly-elected Earl Boesenberg as chairman of golf events.

The Village Green Golf Club is planning a fun weekend of golf at French Lick, Ind. A chartered bus will leave on Friday, April 15 and return Sunday, April 17. A limited number of accommodations have been reseerved for club members on a "first come" basis. If you are interested, cost information and other details can be secured from co-chairmen Roy Cowdrey, Herb Scott or Ted Small.

A memorial plaque was presented to the Mount Prospect Country Club in memory of deceased Village Green Charter Members Tom Graves and Russ Holmes. A name plate will be added annually to a member who has contributed the most time and effort to the betterment of golf and The Village Green Golf Club. This year's selection was unanimous, naming Ed Pool, organizer, charter member and first club president as "Sportsman Award" winner.

The response to a suggestion creating a "Junior Village Green" modeled after the adult club among the young "C" and "D" members of the Mount Prospect Country Club was received with enthusiasm by the membership.

A committee will be appointed to sponsor, organize and work as liaison officers between the two clubs. As a starter, 1965 junior members will be invited to attend "Kick-off" night on Friday, March 25. The evening program will be a preview of 1966 golf events, entertainment, prizes and refreshments.

Meister Brau Tops Paddock All-Stars

The Paddock Classic All-Stars enjoyed the biggest game, but the Meister Brau All-Stars of Chicago had the best overall effort Sunday in a special exhibition bowling match at Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights.

Ches Dziedzina fired a 643 series with games of 204-212-227 to pace the powerful Chicago entry to its victory.

Only 54 pins separated the two teams, but Meister Brau took two games and high series.

The Chicago squad opened with a 956-916 victory thanks to a 204 by Dziedzina and 201 by Adam Kmak, but the Paddock stars bounced back with a 1007-992 triumph.

Les Zikes Jr. had a big 237 for Paddock in that second game, and Don Christensen rebounded with a 193.

The third game belonged to Meister Brau with Dziedzina ringing up a 227 and Frank Purpura a 204. The Chicago team showed a 912-883 advantage.

Four Close Behind

Lattof Creates Narrow Lead

It took four weeks to do it, but Lattof Chevrolet worked itself back to the top of the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League last Saturday.

It was the first time in the second round that the queens of the PWCTL's first round had assumed the familiar position, but it wasn't with enough room to take a deep breath.

Lattof, bowling at Rolling Meadows Bowl, stopped River Rand Bowl 4-0 in a series tighter than the score indicates. At the same time, Steve's Restaurant—which had taken the lead a week before—tied 2-2 with Morton Pontiac to hang a point back of Lattof. And Rolling Meadows Bowl—anchored by the hottest performance of the season from Marlene Smith—struck Striking Lanes 3-1 to remain solidly with the pack threatening for the top.

Lattof's final margin over River Rand was only 70 pins, but the leaders out-bowled the tail-enders by just enough in each of the three games to claim everything.

OR ALMOST everything. River Rand's Gloria Lucchesi had the best series of the match, a 223-200-149—572. The best for Lattof was Donna Reinhardt, who totaled a 546. Each team had four bowlers over 500, that's how close it was. Lattof's game margins were 27, 22 and 21 pins, with a total pinfall edge of 2596-2526.

Morton used one big game to stop a Steve's sweep, but to work out a tie with the deposed leaders. Steve's had claimed game one by 87 pins and two by a scant four. Then Morton bowled back with the best team game of the night—a 943—to club Steve's by 122 pins, taking the game and the point for pinfall. By the tie, Morton put itself into a three-way deadlock for third with RMB and Striking Lanes.

The big factors in the tie were sub Juanita Davis and regular Jo Lindahl. Juanita bowled a 224 third game and Jo a 200, which added to Nancy Dietz' 191 and sub Blanche Weaver's 184 made Morton unbeatable. Davis with 559 and Lindahl with 537 ended high for Morton, while Winnie Lohse's 541 bested Steve's.

ROLING MEADOWS Bowl got its share of third place very much on the effort of Marlene Smith. She started with a 223, adding a 209 and 186 for a 618 series, the best of the evening in the PWCTL, and her personal high for the season. Next highest for her team was Jean Ladd with 516. Striking received its best from Judy Anderson, with a 568 series.

RMB came very close to winning it all in the series, missing taking game two by only 13 pins. But game three was won by only 10, so things evened out.

MARLENE SMITH

The next league results should show a continuation of the scramble that has characterized the loop until now. Leader Lattof was pitted against runner-up Steve's; Morton and Rolling Meadows Bowl were to dispute their tie; and Striking Lanes was catching River Rand Bowl.

St. Viator's Tankers Top Forest View

St. Viator's swimmers overwhelmed Forest View at both varsity and frosh-soph levels last week.

The unbeaten Lions scored a 72-23 victory in varsity action and 77-18 frosh-soph win.

Rennie Tague, Mike Gibler, and John Massey each figured in two firsts for the Lion varsity with Rick Withrow, Jim Spears, Rick Kalinowski and Dave Chantry also scoring victories.

Darryl Oberg topped the 100 butterfly and Mike Bodozian headed the 400 freestyle for Forest View.

Bill Saigh, Mike Madden, Lou Hibbs, and Fred Schmidt combined for a record-setting medley relay to spark the St. Viator sophs to an easy victory.

The Lion quartet clipped off a 1:53.7 to knock almost four seconds off the old mark.

The aura of the Gemini program has been injected into the Paddock Classic Traveling League race.

Concourse Sports Chalet and Brim's Pioneer Lanes, soaring free of the pack, went into an almost tandem flight last Saturday night. Chalet won 5-2 over Bill Cook Buick to hold the lead, and Pioneer blasted Karlsen Pharmacy 7-0 to jet away from the cluster that had trailed Sports Chalet the week before.

The two are now running 1-2 only three points apart, while the third place team — Jeffery Lanes — is six points out of second. Jeffery won 5-2 over Morton Pontiac to get in that position, while City Welding Sales and Service was clouting first round champion The Brass Rail 7-0 to become part of the bunch. The teams third through seventh now have but three points separating them, while the Railers are lagging deep in the cellar.

LONG-TIME PCTL veteran Tom Kouros rolled out his best effort of the 1965-66 season to keep Sports Chalet on top. He had a 656 series on games of 197, 204 and 255, pacing Chalet to an evening's team high game of 1049 and series of 2961.

The win was the more impressive because it came at Bill Cook's home Rolling Meadows Bowl. It was also more than just the work of Kouros, for Dave Catherwood subbed with a 599 series, while Mike Wagner Jr. had 597 and Tony Sasso 584.

Bill Cook, which won the first game on a strong 956 performance, was led by Ted Geiersbach's 611 and Al Haase's 601.

George Schmidt was in his old familiar role for Pioneer Lanes, as the Pioneers blanked Karlsen at their Addison lanes. Schmidt had a 208-235-195—638 total, second best of the night and the only 600 series in the match. Bob Krisch followed up with 595 for Pioneer, while Ken Sikorski led an absentee-riddled Karlsen team with 536. The Pharmacy team also suffered from one of Joe Simonis' exceedingly rare bad nights, a 495 series.

JEFFERY LANES picked up three 600 series at home to handle Morton 5-2. Whitey Hefferan topped the victors with 617, while Hec Healey and Don Christensen followed up with 612 accumulations. John Miller was an easy best for Morton, hitting for 623. George White and Ernie Koche tied with 585s for Morton, which settled into a three-way tie for fifth with the setback.

The home advantage did no good for The Brass Rail, which has been troubled since Warren Walter departed for the service, and which had to take one blind score of 480 Saturday. City Welding took advantage in just the right measure, rolling the shutout at River Rand Bowl. Bill Todd, with his personal high for the PCTL season, led the winners with a 212-173-242—627 offering. The Brass Rail had its tops from John Giovannelli, a 570.

TOM KOUROS

The Welders will get a real challenge in this Saturday's action, confronting Sports Chalet at Jack Gunnell's Lanes. Brim's Pioneer will be at Jeffery Lanes in another headline meeting, while Karlsen and Morton Pontiac try to break their deadlock at Beverly Lanes and The Brass Rail meets Bill Cook Buick at Rolling Meadows Bowl.

Village Green Golf Club Names Officers for 1966

The annual meeting of the Mount Prospect Country Club Village Green was held at the clubhouse to elect their Board of Governors for the 1966 golf season.

Ray Felitto was named club president, replacing retiring Roy Cowdrey. Ted Small was elected vice president. This years secretary-treasurer will be new Board Governor Dick Haden, taking over the books from Herb Scott.

Other board members are Dan Lynch, rules and handicap chairman, and newly-elected Earl Boesenberg as chairman of golf events.

The Village Green Golf Club is planning a fun weekend of golf at French Lick, Ind. A chartered bus will leave on Friday, April 15 and return Sunday, April 17. A limited number of accommodations have been reseerved for club members on a "first come" basis. If you are interested, cost information and other details can be secured from co-chairmen Roy Cowdrey, Herb Scott or Ted Small.

A memorial plaque was presented to the Mount Prospect Country Club in memory of deceased Village Green Charter Members Tom Graves and Russ Holmes. A name plate will be added annually to a member who has contributed the most time and effort to the betterment of golf and The Village Green Golf Club. This year's selection was unanimous, naming Ed Pool, organizer, charter member and first club president as "Sportsman Award" winner.

The response to a suggestion creating a "Junior Village Green" modeled after the adult club among the young "C" and "D" members of the Mount Prospect Country Club was received with enthusiasm by the membership.

A committee will be appointed to sponsor, organize and work as liaison officers between the two clubs. As a starter, 1965 junior members will be invited to attend "Kick-off" night on Friday, March 25. The evening program will be a preview of 1966 golf events, entertainment, prizes and refreshments.

Meister Brau Tops Paddock All-Stars

The Paddock Classic All-Stars enjoyed the biggest game, but the Meister Brau All-Stars of Chicago had the best overall effort Sunday in a special exhibition bowling match at Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights.

Ches Dziedzina fired a 643 series with games of 204-212-227 to pace the powerful Chicago entry to its victory.

Only 54 pins separated the two teams, but Meister Brau took two games and high series.

The Chicago squad opened with a 956-916 victory thanks to a 204 by Dziedzina and 201 by Adam Kmak, but the Paddock stars bounced back with a 1007-992 triumph.

Les Zikes Jr. had a big 237 for Paddock in that second game, and Don Christensen rebounded with a 193.

The third game belonged to Meister Brau with Dziedzina ringing up a 227 and Frank Purpura a 204. The Chicago team showed a 912-883 advantage.

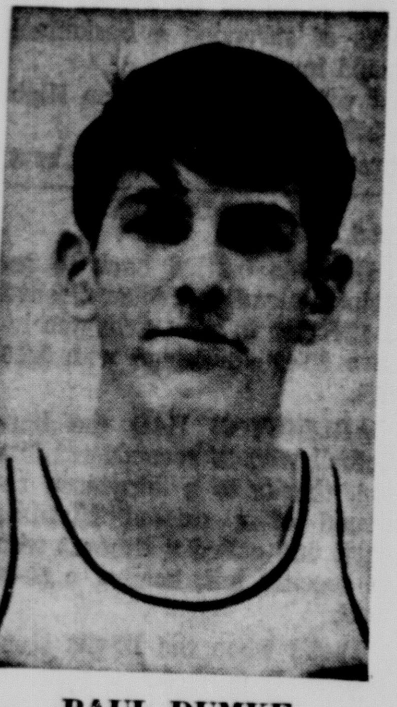
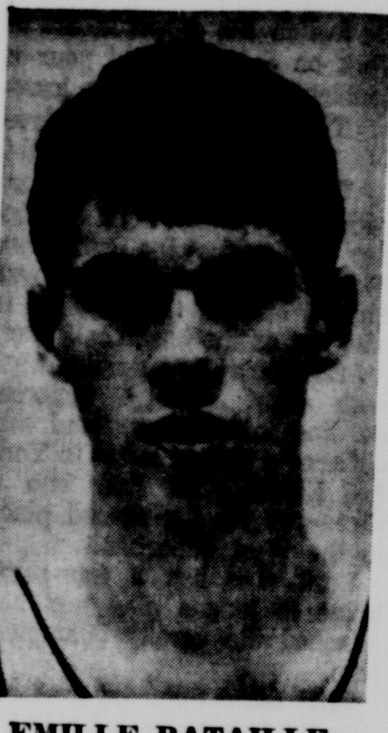
St. Viator Shocks Meteors



PAUL DUMKE



EMILLE BATAILLE

by FRED BOEDEKER

It was like watching the Mets sweep four straight from the Yankees, the All-Stars shutting out the NFL champions, the Celtics losing three in a row.

It was the most resounding upset in the history of the Chicagoland Prep League and the most rewarding victory in the abbreviated annals of St. Viator basketball.

This package was unwrapped last Saturday night in St. Viator's gymnasium before the unbelieving eyes of 500 students. It came in the form of a 69-52 home team victory over perennial Chicago area power DeLaSalle.

The Meteors were coasting along in first place in the C.P.L. with an unblemished 9-0 mark. No conference opponent had come closer than eleven points. Coach Jerry Tokar s squad sported a 16 game winning streak and an 18-1 overall season record. They had not lost a game since December 11 when Springfield Griffin upset them by three points.

AND JUST LAST week the Associated Press had labled the Meteors the fifteenth best schoolboy quintet in the state of Illinois. But somebody forgot to tell the St. Viator Lions.

The locals showed the Meteors no respect as they trounced them in every phase of the game — and soundly. It wasn't that DeLaSalle had an off night; to the contrary, they played their usual fine game. But the Lions just wouldn't let them get started.

WITH 6-7 center Paul Pomplun and sharpshooting guard Frank Hogan each getting five points in the first three minutes of play, the Lions had a 10-0 lead before the taller, more experienced Chicago team knew what had hit them.

The opening period was almost four minutes old before the Meteors could cash their first field goal. But that basket took the lid off the rim and DeLaSalle closed the gap to 10-8 before the home team scored again.

But the Lions were not to be denied. Guard Dan Collins hit on two jump shots, Pomplun swished a 15 footer, and Hogan tallied six points in the last 44 seconds of the period to provide the locals a 22-14 first quarter lead that prompted the most thunderous ovation the Viator rooting section has ever mustered.

IT SEEMED AS though everyone in the gym was waiting for the roof to cave in on the Viator upset plan except coach Larry Nomellini and his Lions — and they were all who counted. The locals matched the Meteors basket for basket in the second and third periods to carry the same eight point advantage, 46-38, into the final stanza.

With DeLaSalle pulling out all stops in a futile attempt to avoid their second defeat of the season, Viator remained poised. The Lions continued to employ their ball control offense and cashed six of nine free throws to tally 23 points in the final quarter to effect the 69-52 rout.

Hogan was the offensive sparkplug for the Lions throughout the contest. Frank hit on 12 of 17 field goal attempts, the majority of which were 15 and 20 foot jump shots, and eight of nine free throws to amass 32 points — the most productive night by a Lion cager since Chuck Grandt shed his blue and white uniform for the final time last March.

BUT EVEN THIS impressive individual performance was overshadowed by the magnificent team effort.

Pomplun turned in the best all-around game of his prep career. Playing opposite DeLaSalle's 6-5 all-state candidate Tommy Hunter, Paul had his finest hour.

For anyone who has seen Hunter and the Meteors' 6-5 forward Sevira Brown gang up on Pomplun under the boards in past games, it was a real pleasure to see the Lion center gain revenge in spades. Pomplun picked up 15 points on seven baskets and a charity toss but more important grabbed 10 rebounds to lead all players in that department. He also held the high scoring Hunter to 12 points, far below his average, and the look on the visiting center's face when Paul blocked four of his first five shots was worth the price of admission.

COLLINS, A 5-10 guard, also turned in a creditable performance. Dan chipped in with 10 counters on four baskets and two free throws and played a fine game defensively. He was responsible for four Lion steals and continually helped bottle up Hunter by abandoning his man to double team the big center when he got the ball at the top of the key.

Forwards Paul Dumke and Emile Bataille collected two and eight points respectively while playing great games under the boards. Bataille got eight rebounds while Dumke grabbed seven and the jobs they did in outpositioning Brown and Denny O'Toole were reflected in the final statistics that showed the Lions on top in the rebounding department by a 29 to 18 count.

Other figures showed Viator hitting on 27 of 49 shots from the field for an impressive 55 per cent. The locals also shot at a 72 per cent clip from the charity line, cashing 13 of 18 attempts. Nomellini's boys held their mistakees to a minimum, committing only six offensive turnovers, their lowest one game total of the season.

ALMOST REDUCED to an afterthought by the effect of Saturday night's upset was a 70-57 come-from-behind victory over Holy Cross the previous evening.

This one was a see-saw battle through the first three quarters that saw the Chargers open a five point first period lead, maintain a 31-27 advantage at intermission, and nurse a two point, 44-42, edge into the final quarter.

But Pomplun accounted for 14 of his 25 counters in the second half and Collins and Bataille contributed eight and seven points respectively to a 28 point last period surge that put the game on ice.

POMPLUN DOMINATED the game offensively with 11 baskets and three free throws as well as 16 rebounds. Collins rewarded Nomellini for his starting berth at guard by cashing nine of 14 attempts from the field and two of two from the free throw line for a total of 20 points. Bob Jelen, 5-10 sophomore guard, dialed 22 to lead Holy Cross in the scoring.

Last weekend's two game sweep, the first for the Lions in over a month, improved their record to 6-4 in the league and 9-9 for the season. The 6-4 mark leaves the locals deadlocked with St. Mel of Chicago for third place in the C.P.L. with four games left to play.

Knights To 4-0 In MSL

Palatine Drops To Prospect Gymnasts

Prospect's varsity gymnasts continued to bear the imprint of likely Mid-Suburban League champions last Friday, working out an 81½ to 50½ triumph over Palatine to remain unblemished in the MSL.

The Knights of Rick Farris stood at 4-0 in conference duals after the meet, and 7-3 overall. Joe Toth's Pirates absorbed their third defeat against a tie in MSL competition.

Prospect also won on the frosh-soph level, triumphing there by the score 84-58. Fred Gaines' boys went to 7-2-1 overall, 2-1-1 in the MSL.

In winning the varsity portion of the meeting on Palatine's equipment, Prospect had four individual firsts, with sweeps in two events.

ON THE trampoline, Rick Carr — with a rating of 150 — won the event for the fifth time this season. He was followed in a 1-2-3 finish by Bill Wendling and Jim Sesterhenn. A sweep in tumbling saw a Prospect finish of Bob Goffinski (138 points), Rick Burger and Mike Coughlin.

The highest event score of the day was gained by the Knights' Bruce Colie, who won with a two-judge total of 152 on the side horse. Teammate Ken Barr was second, while Palatine's Dave Chidley took third.

Prospect's other first came from Bruce Boult, who ruled the high bar competition with a 126 score. Fellow Knight Dave Jennings was second, and third was Palatine's Randy Keller.

KELLER contributed both firsts for Palatine, and made the largest individual contribution in the meet. He totaled 20 team points, winning on the parallel bars (130 points) and the rings (131 points), while having the third on the horizontal bar and fifth on the side horse.

Other significant placing came from Prospect's Vince Franzone and Bill Kroll, second and third on rings, from Vomaka, second on the parallel bars, and from Jeff Long, tied with the Pirates' Chuck Johnston for third on the parallel bars.

Bill Van Sky was a double winner for Prospect among the freshmen and sophomores, winning on the still rings and the parallel bars. Prospect had all the individual winners, with Nick Peneff winning on the trampoline, Jim Mattson on the side horse, Roy Hardin on the horizontal bar and Steve Bang in tumbling.

Palatine's best came from Phil Keller, second on the side horse; Greg Fenske, second on the high bar; Mike Moore, second on the parallel bars; Gary Cook, third on the rings; and Curt Morrow, third in tumbling.

Out-Wrestle Conant 39-8

FV JV's End Perfect Year

"This was a fabulous way to end our season."

Even that was almost an understatement by Forest View's junior varsity wrestling coach Maury Levy. His Falcons mauled Conant's JVs 39-8, wrapping up a perfect season. They ended with 11 wins in 11 duals, and with a 5-0 Mid-Suburban League mark that made them undisputed conference champions.

For Ron Rio's Cougars, the loss was painful, but they still ended 7-5 overall, with a 1-4 MSL mark.

THE FALCONS picked up four more pins in the win, with Mark Beatty so triumphing at 103, Mark Frankel at 154, Spence Dreischarf at 165 and Phil Reder in the heavyweight clash. Hank Tasche (180) also claimed five points with a forfeit win.

Working out decisions were Bob Urban (120), Clay Hadick (133), Ray Vitha (138) and George Bergau (145). Don Cappelen tied Conant's Bob O'Connor 3-3 at 95.

Conant's two victories came from Clark Ellithorpe, who decisioned Bob Hansen at 112, and from Mike Skoneczka, a decision winner over Marty Fontana at 127.

Levy's wrestlers, hailed by the coach as the most dedicated and hardest working he's ever handled, thus closed the book on some awesome statistics. Aside from their invincible record in duals, they also out-pointed all their opponents by a margin of 406 to 119. They had 35 pins to only six by their opposition. And in all matches, they won 97, lost only 33 and tied three others.

Bob Urban ended with the best record, a 10-0 standard, while Reder, with five, and Tasche, with four, had the most pins. Several other boys had unbeaten records, including Dreischarf (6-0), Beatty (4-0), Al Knoblauch (3-0) and George Taylor (3-0). Among the other outstanding records were Reder's 6-1, Stan Rohner's 6-1, Vitha's 6-2 and Tasche's 5-2.

It was a fabulous season.

Knights Share Wrestling Title

Being half a champion is infinitely better than being no champion, so these should be gay days for Prospect's varsity wrestlers.

Dick Mudge's matmen are exactly that: co-titlists in the Mid-Suburban League. They accomplished it last Friday by beating Palatine 31-16 on Palatine's mats. At the same time, Maine West was stopping Wheeling to settle into the tie with Prospect, each with a 4-1 mark in conference dual meets.

For Palatine, the event simultaneously marked the end of the unhappiest regular season in the school's wrestling history, and — except for the upcoming state tourney competition — the end of the illustrious mat coaching career of John Ellis. The veteran mentor — 14 years a wrestling headman at Palatine — indicated last week this season would be his last.

THE PIRATES ended the season with an overall dual mark of 0-12, and 0-5 in the MSL. Prospect, by the victory, went to 8-3-1 over-all.

The Palatine performance was actually one of the better ones for the Pirates, as they won at four weights, tied at another, and lost on close decisions at two others. But there was no doubt that it was clearly Prospect's day.

Gary McMorrow started it for the Knights, pinning Jim Lynch in 2:42 of their 95-pound match, one of four Prospect pins in the meeting.

Mike Lewis came back at 103 for Palatine, taking a 7-1 decision from Dave Holmes, who ended the regular season at 9-5-2. But Mike Mohr, with a 5-3 decision over Dave Bettinger, and Bill Kalvog, with a pin of Bob Ross, put Prospect comfortably ahead after that. Kalvog, with his win, advanced to 9-4-1 for the year.

VINCE CURRY took a close decision — 2-1 — from Palatine's Bill Schroeder at 138, and Rick Bertoglio followed with his 14th win in 15 matches, a pin in 2:57 of Bob Angleson at 145. The other Prospect points came from Marty DeStefanis (9-5 for the year) on a pin of Bill Peterman at 165, and from Tom Nading, who decisioned Paul Dolik 7-2 at 180.

Palatine's Dirk Fuqua and Prospect's Jeff Hansen had the tie, a 1-1 standoff at 127. Besides Lewis, the Palatine victories came from Charlie Grayson, a 1-0 victor over Jim Herod at 133; from Dick Biddle, 4-2 over Pete Smith at 154; and from heavyweight John Reed, who pinned Kim Schier in 5:07. Reed ended up at 13-3-1, having pinned four of five MS opponents.

Nothing to Lose

Knights, Falcons in League Swim Meet

Prospect and Forest View swimmers have nothing to lose and everything to gain in this weekend's conference swimming meet.

The past season hasn't been a happy one for the two District 214 swim aggregations. An overall record of 1-8 is owned by the Knights, 1-6 in league, while the Falcons are 0-8 overall and 0-7 in league.

In the conference action any points garnered by either will be a very pleasant surprise. If neither does well that wouldn't be unexpected. Both can only gain, there's little else to be lost.

The meet will be held at Niles North with preliminaries starting at 7 p.m. tomorrow (Friday). Diving finals begin at 12:45 p.m. on Saturday with final races in all other events opening at 7:00 that evening.

ENTRIES IN THE meet will be combined from both the Mid-Suburban League and Central Suburban League. Thus the champ will be designated as the Mid-Central Suburban League swimming titlist.

Leading the Knights into the meet will be their 200 yard medley relay team which has lost just twice this year. In that quartet are Bob Krysiak, Tom Braakman, John Norton and Mike Busse. The latter three also have other event talents.

Braakman will also be in the 100 yard breaststroke which he won five straight times to close the season. The 100 yard butterfly will draw Busse while Norton's specialty is also the 100 fly in which he has only lost once this season.

"Norton has the best chance of anyone on the team to win," commented Prospect coach Don Barrett. "His best time has been 58.4 which is only .4 off the state qualifying time."

For Forest View those tabbed by headman Keith North with possessing enough talent to come close to the leaders in their events are Mike Bodozian, Daryl Oberg, Mike Nolan and Harold Abrahamson.

BODOZIAU swims in the 200 yard freestyle and Oberg in the 100 yard butterfly while the 200 individual medley draws Nolan and the 50 yard freestyle is where Abrahamson could do well.

Favorite for the varsity title is Deerfield, 7-0 for the year though the host Niles North 6-1 club could come close. In frosh-soph action New Trier West, 8-1, seems best but Deerfield is again very strong at 7-1. Lower level Knights are 1-7 for the year while FV's frosh-soph unit is 0-8.

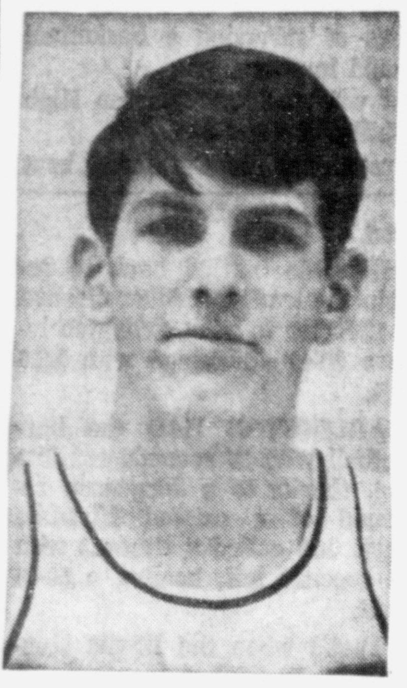
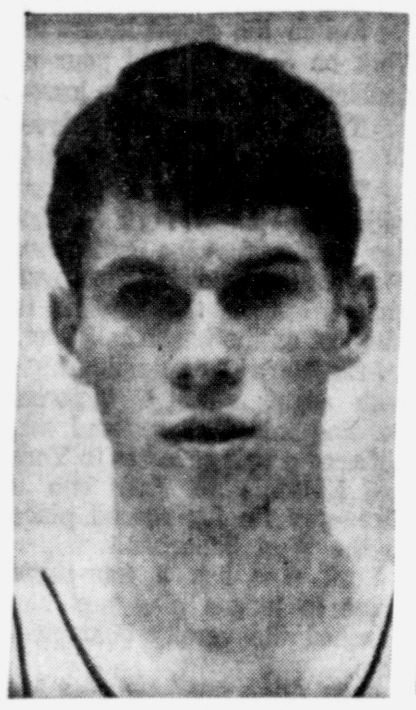
Dominates Chicagoland Contest

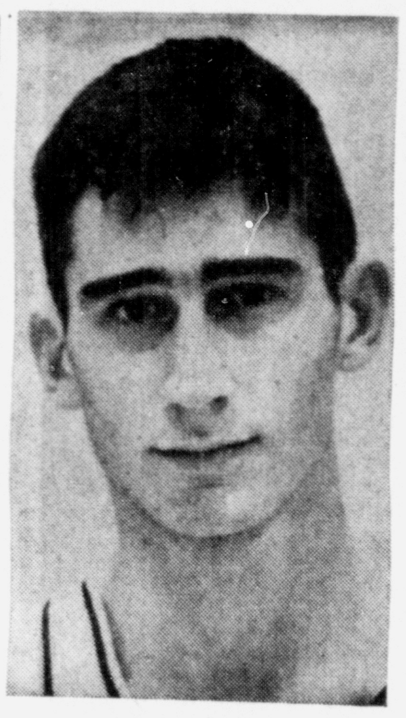
St. Viator Shocks Meteors



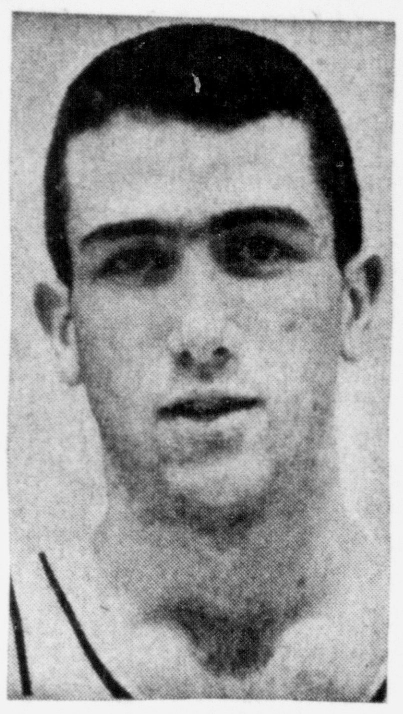
PAUL DUMKE



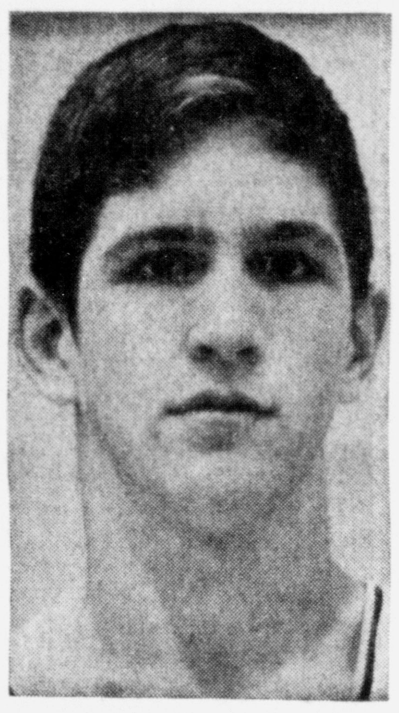
EMILLE BATAILLE



PAUL POMPLUN



DAN COLLINS



FRANK HOGAN

by FRED BOEDEKER

It was like watching the Mets sweep four straight from the Yankees, the All-Stars shutting out the NFL champions, the Celtics losing three in a row.

It was the most resounding upset in the history of the Chicagoland Prep League and the most rewarding victory in the abbreviated annals of St. Viator basketball.

This package was unwrapped last Saturday night in St. Viator's gymnasium before the unbelieving eyes of 500 students. It came in the form of a 69-52 home team victory over perennial Chicago area power DeLaSalle.

The Meteors were coasting along in first place in the C.P.L. with an unblemished 9-0 mark. No conference opponent had come closer than eleven points. Coach Jerry Tokar s squad sported a 16 game winning streak and an 18-1 overall season record. They had not lost a game since December 11 when Springfield Griffin upset them by three points.

AND JUST LAST week the Associated Press had labled the Meteors the fifteenth best schoolboy quintet in the state of Illinois. But somebody forgot to tell the St. Viator Lions.

The locals showed the Meteors no respect as they trounced them in every phase of the game — and soundly. It wasn't that DeLaSalle had an off night; to the contrary, they played their usual fine game. But the Lions just wouldn't let them get started.

WITH 6-7 center Paul Pomplun and sharpshooting guard Frank Hogan each getting five points in the first three minutes of play, the Lions had a 10-0 lead before the taller, more experienced Chicago team knew what had hit them.

The opening period was almost four minutes old before the Meteors could cash their first field goal. But that basket took the lid off the rim and DeLaSalle closed the gap to 10-8 before the home team scored again.

But the Lions were not to be denied. Guard Dan Collins hit on two jump shots, Pomplun swished a 15 footer, and Hogan tallied six points in the last 44 seconds of the period to provide the locals a 22-14 first quarter lead that prompted the most thunderous ovation the Viator rooting section has ever mustered.

IT SEEMED AS though everyone in the gym was waiting for the roof to cave in on the Viator upset plan except coach Larry Nomellini and his Lions — and they were all who counted. The locals matched the Meteors basket for basket in the second and third periods to carry the same eight point advantage, 46-38, into the final stanza.

With DeLaSalle pulling out all stops in a futile attempt to avoid their second defeat of the season, Viator remained poised. The Lions continued to employ their ball control offense and cashed six of nine free throws to tally 23 points in the final quarter to effect the 69-52 rout.

Hogan was the offensive sparkplug for the Lions throughout the contest. Frank hit on 12 of 17 field goal attempts, the majority of which were 15 and 20 foot jump shots, and eight of nine free throws to amass 32 points — the most productive night by a Lion cager since Chuck Grandt shed his blue and white uniform for the final time last March.

BUT EVEN THIS impressive individual performance was overshadowed by the magnificent team effort.

Pomplun turned in the best all-around game of his prep career. Playing opposite DeLaSalle's 6-5 all-state candidate Tommy Hunter, Paul had his finest hour.

For anyone who has seen Hunter and the Meteors' 6-5 forward Sevira Brown gang up on Pomplun under the boards in past games, it was a real pleasure to see the Lion center gain revenge in spades. Pomplun picked up 15 points on seven baskets and a charity toss but more important grabbed 10 rebounds to lead all players in that department. He also held the high scoring Hunter to 12 points, far below his average, and the look on the visiting center's face when Paul blocked four of his first five shots was worth the price of admission.

COLLINS, A 5-10 guard, also turned in a creditable performance. Dan chipped in with 10 counters on four baskets and two free throws and played a fine game defensively. He was responsible for four Lion steals and continually helped bottle up Hunter by abandoning his man to double team the big center when he got the ball at the top of the key.

Forwards Paul Dumke and Emile Bataille collected two and eight points respectively while playing great games under the boards. Bataille got eight rebounds while Dumke grabbed seven and the jobs they did in outpositioning Brown and Denny O'Toole were reflected in the final statistics that showed the Lions on top in the rebounding department by a 29 to 18 count.

Other figures showed Viator hitting on 27 of 49 shots from the field for an impressive 55 per cent. The locals also shot at a 72 per cent clip from the charity line, cashing 13 of 18 attempts. Nomellini's boys held their mistakees to a minimum, committing only six offensive turnovers, their lowest one game total of the season.

ALMOST REDUCED to an afterthought by the effect of Saturday night's upset was a 70-57 come-from-behind victory over Holy Cross the previous evening.

This one was a see-saw battle through the first three quarters that saw the Chargers open a five point first period lead, maintain a 31-27 advantage at intermission, and nurse a two point, 44-42, edge into the final quarter.

But Pomplun accounted for 14 of his 25 counters in the second half and Collins and Bataille contributed eight and seven points respectively to a 28 point last period surge that put the game on ice.

POMPLUN DOMINATED the game offensively with 11 baskets and three free throws as well as 16 rebounds. Collins rewarded Nomellini for his starting berth at guard by cashing nine of 14 attempts from the field and two of two from the free throw line for a total of 20 points. Bob Jelen, 5-10 sophomore guard, dialed 22 to lead Holy Cross in the scoring.

Last weekend's two game sweep, the first for the Lions in over a month, improved their record to 6-4 in the league and 9-9 for the season. The 6-4 mark leaves the locals deadlocked with St. Mel of Chicago for third place in the C.P.L. with four games left to play.

Knights To 4-0 In MSL

Palatine Drops To Prospect Gymnasts

Prospect's varsity gymnasts continued to bear the imprint of likely Mid-Suburban League champions last Friday, working out an 81½ to 50½ triumph over Palatine to remain unblemished in the MSL.

The Knights of Rick Farris stood at 4-0 in conference duals after the meet, and 7-3 overall. Joe Toth's Pirates absorbed their third defeat against a tie in MSL competition.

Prospect also won on the frosh-soph level, triumphing there by the score 84-58. Fred Gaines' boys went to 7-2-1 overall, 2-1-1 in the MSL.

In winning the varsity portion of the meeting on Palatine's equipment, Prospect had four individual firsts, with sweeps in two events.

ON THE trampoline, Rick Carr — with a rating of 150 — won the event for the fifth time this season. He was followed in a 1-2-3 finish by Bill Wendling and Jim Sesterhenn. A sweep in tumbling saw a Prospect finish of Bob Goffinski (138 points), Rick Burger and Mike Coughlin.

The highest event score of the day was gained by the Knights' Bruce Cole, who won with a two-judge total of 152 on the side horse. Teammate Ken Barr was second, while Palatine's Dave Chidley took third.

Prospect's other first came from Bruce Boult, who ruled the high bar competition with a 126 score. Fellow Knight Dave Jennings was second, and third was Palatine's Randy Keller.

KELLER contributed both firsts for Palatine, and made the largest individual contribution in the meet. He totaled 20 team points, winning on the parallel bars (130 points) and the rings (131 points), while having the third on the horizontal bar and fifth on the side horse.

Other significant placing came from Prospect's Vince Franzone and Bill Kroll, second and third on rings, from Vomaka, second on the parallel bars, and from Jeff Long, tied with the Pirates' Chuck Johnston for third on the parallel bars.

Bill Van Sky was a double winner for Prospect among the freshmen and sophomores, winning on the still rings and the parallel bars. Prospect had all the individual winners, with Nick Peneff winning on the trampoline, Jim Mattson on the side horse, Roy Hardin on the horizontal bar and Steve Bang in tumbling.

Palatine's best came from Phil Keller, second on the side horse; Greg Fenske, second on the high bar; Mike Moore, second on the parallel bars; Gary Cook, third on the rings; and Curt Morrow, third in tumbling.

Out-Wrestle Conant 39-8

FV JV's End Perfect Year

"This was a fabulous way to end our season."

Even that was almost an understatement by Forest View's junior varsity wrestling coach Maury Levy. His Falcons mauled Conant's JVs 39-8, wrapping up a perfect season. They ended with 11 wins in 11 duals, and with a 5-0 Mid-Suburban League mark that made them undisputed conference champions.

For Ron Rio's Cougars, the loss was painful, but they still ended 7-5 overall, with a 1-4 MSL mark.

THE FALCONS picked up four more pins in the win, with Mark Beatty so triumphing at 103, Mark Frankel at 154, Spence Dreischarf at 165 and Phil Reder in the heavyweight clash. Hank Tasche (180) also claimed five points with a forfeit win.

Working out decisions were Bob Urban (120), Clay Hadick (133), Ray Vitha (138) and George Bergau (145). Don Cappelen tied Conant's Bob O'Connor 3-3 at 95.

Conant's two victories came from Clark Ellithorpe, who decisioned Bob Hansen at 112, and from Mike Skoneczka, a decision winner over Marty Fontana at 127.

Levy's wrestlers, hailed by the coach as the most dedicated and hardest working he's ever handled, thus closed the book on some awesome statistics. Aside from their invincible record in duals, they also out-pointed all their opponents by a margin of 406 to 119. They had 35 pins to only six by their opposition. And in all matches, they won 97, lost only 33 and tied three others.

Bob Urban ended with the best record, a 10-0 standard, while Reder, with five, and Tasche, with four, had the most pins. Several other boys had unbeaten records, including Dreischarf (6-0), Beatty (4-0), Al Knoblauch (3-0) and George Taylor (3-0). Among the other outstanding records were Reder's 6-1, Stan Rohner's 6-1, Vitha's 6-2 and Tasche's 5-2.

It was a fabulous season.

By 87-45 Margin

'Cat Gymnasts Trounce Maine

Five firsts of a possible six led Wheeling gymnasts past Maine West 87-45 last Friday.

That one-sided triumph left the 'Cats with a 6-7 over-all record and 3-1 mark in Mid-Suburban League competition. It also left a very pleased coach.

"The team did a fine job against Maine," said Wheeling mentor Wayne Selvig. "It was our best meet of the year. We have improved steadily each week and I hope that continues."

Firsts in the meet for the Wildcats went to Mike Allen, Greg Shornden, Jim Bowker, Gerry Fontecchio, Dick Dyson.

ALLEN, ONLY A sophomore, was best on the side horse. He was rated at 138 which gave him a 20 point margin over teammate Don Savage who was second. A sweep on the parallel bars was led by Shornden's score of 153. Second and third on the P-bars were Mike Bangs and Jim Rainer.

JIM BOWKER
162 on Rings

Best score of the meet went to Bowker on the rings. He remained undefeated in M-SL action by ringing up an 80-82 for 162. Lonny Davis and Craig Ovesky were second and third on the rings behind Bowker in the other event sweep for Wheeling.

One-two on the trampoline were Gerry Fontecchio and Dick Dyson. Fontecchio, who was also second in tumbling, was judged at 145. Dyson, who took first in tumbling with 139, was at 102 on the tramp. Fourth on the tramp and fifth in tumbling went to Shornden.

With 12 points each Shornden, Fontecchio and Dyson were high scorers in the meet for the 'Cats.

AT THE FROSH-SOPH level Wheeling moved its record to an excellent 10-3-1 with an 89-43 trouncing of Maine West. Firsts for the winners went to John Whittington on both the horizontal bar and parallel bars, Dick Orna on the rings, Kim Butler on the horse, John Grund on the tramp and Jim Kniskern in tumbling.

Whittington also took a second on the rings to become the meet's high scorer with 19 points. Orna has 12 points and Steve Geiger has 11 with two thirds and a second.

Just 8 Come Out

Prospect's Thinclads Open Indoor Season

Five plus three, nine minus one, two times four — No matter how it's figured the answer still comes out at eight, but that may be enough.

Prospect High School opens its indoor track season next Tuesday with a meet at Niles North at 4:30 p.m. This initial thinclad action will find only eight boys performing for the Knights because that's all that showed up for practice.

"THOUGH WE only have eight boys out," commented coach Dick Calisch, "we should still win our share of dual meets. We aren't strong in relays but we have strong performers in the individual events." Prospect's share will come from a schedule which includes 10 indoor meets plus the Evanston, Wheeling and Oak Park relays.

Leading the Knights are seniors Jack Pollard and Phil Cordina. Pollard will run in the quarter, half or mile events. He went downstate last year as a member of Prospect's relay team. Cordina is a pole vaulter who has cleared 13 feet.

Another who journeyed to Champaign last season was Vaughn Pederson. He took a third in the district and qualified for the state meet with his performance in the hurdles.

BEHIND THOSE THREE are LeRoy Rateike, Dick Braunschweig, John Jacobsen, Larry Streibinger and Craig Peterson. Rateike broad jumps (over 21 feet last year) and is a dash man (owns a 5.8 in the 50). Braunschweig is a half miler who has done a 2:05 and Jacobsen is a miler. Backing up Cordina in the pole vault is Streibinger while Peterson is second in the hurdles behind Pederson.

Last season Prospect compiled a 5-4 record in varsity indoor track action. At the frosh-soph level, where Calisch expects strength this year, the Knights were 0-5 in '64.

Knights JV Cagers Edge Pirates 48-46

Nine points behind with 12 minutes left...

Those score-time disadvantages were overcome last Friday by Prospect junior varsity cagers. They rallied to nip Palatine 48-46.

At 5:15 of period three in that contest, Knights trailed Pirates 34-28. Then the comeback began:

Dan Carda and Mike Anderson made Prospect goals and John Ekeberg hit for Palatine. Two-pointers by Knights Tom Grafton and John Phillips plus Carda's foul shot set totals at 39-37.

AFTER JIM Render connected from the line for the Pirates, Grafton flipped in two at the charity stripe. Quarter four opened with the gap narrowed to 40-39. Fred Sanborn banked one through the nets for Palatine but Grafton followed with two Prospect lay-ups putting his team ahead, for the initial time in the struggle, 43-42.

Dick Smith regained the Pirates' lead on two free throws.

Anderson, however, countered by moving the Knights on top for good as, with 1:42 remaining, he popped a pair of foul attempts to give Prospect a 45-44 advantage. Moments later Phillips sank two free tries making it 47-44. Smith's goal closed Palatine's offense and Phillips established the final score with another foul shot.

HIGH MAN IN the game was Prospect's Grafton with 14 points. He was aided by nine each from Phillips and Anderson. Best for Palatine were 12 point showings by Smith and Freeman while Sanborn added 10 for the losers.

In victory the Knights retained a 4-1 Mid-Suburban League record and first place tie with Maine West. Over-all coach Don Arseneau's quintet is 11-2. Under headman Chuck Johannson the Pirates are 2-3, tied for fourth in the M-SL with Wheeling, and 4-8 over-all.

Pirate Frosh Lead MSL

The freshman wrestlers of Palatine stayed ahead of the Mid-Suburban League pack last Saturday morning, stopping Prospect 33-22 on the Pirate mats.

For Tom Hillesheim's Pirates, who have only a tie to mar their conference record, it pulled the season mark to 6-3-1. Tom Shirmang's Knights are now 6-3 overall 2-2 in the MSL.

PALATINE trimphed at seven weights, three on pins, and had a draw in another match. Pins went to Rick Berthold (103), Gary Karst (120) and Kent Jensen (133), while Bob Gill (154) won on default and Glenn Wilson (165) on a forfeit. Keith West took a decision at 112, and Tom Kaiser the same at 180, while Larry MacPhee drew with Jack Costello at 138. By their wins, West went to 11-2 for the year, Jensen to 10-2-1.

Prospect, besides Costello's tie, gained its points from Randy Cordova, a forfeit winner at 95; Mark Wendling, a pin winner at 127; Tony Lazzaroni, a pin winner at 145; and Martin Miller, the same in the heavyweight clash.

Maine West Triumphs

'Cats Cold in First Half of 55-44 Loss

by MARV PRELLBERT, JR.

It seems that it takes Coach Mike Owens' Wheeling varsity cage team an unusually long time to get its field goal shooting eye in focus. At least that has been the story in the Wildcats' last two outings.

Two weeks ago against Conant High it took Wheeling's cagers twenty shots from the field before they scored their first field goal.

Last Friday night against host Maine West, coach Owens suffered through a miserable 14 per cent first half shooting performance by his Cat quintet.

Such a shooting exhibition doomed the Wheeling five to its thirteenth loss of the season, 55-44, and let them have sole possession of the Mid-Suburban league cellar with a 0-5 record.

PRIOR TO THIS game both clubs had shared the MSL basement, and it must have been a bit of cheerful news to Maine West's head mentor Gaston Freeman when he was made aware of the final results.

Freeman was absent from the scene at the Maine fieldhouse because of illness, but Warrior JV coach Gene Zuccarini filled the Freeman shoes in fine fashion.

Although Maine West claimed the victory, the sparse crowd of Wheeling rooters did have some sense of satisfaction in witnessing a stellar all-around performance by guard Mark Newman.

NEWMAN HAD his finest night of the season, as he contributed heavily to the Wheeling point total and turned in a fine job of defense against the Warriors' touted guard Ken Mueller.

The 5-10 senior pumped in 23 points, over one half of the Wheeling game total. He tallied on 11 of 19 field goal attempts and one of two free throws to lead all scorers in the game.

At the same time Newman was largely responsible for holding Maine West's Mueller to only four field goals and only six field goal attempts for the night. Mueller ended up with 15 points, seven of them coming from the free throw lane, to pace the winner's scoring.

THE SCORING in the first half was at a snail's pace. In the first quarter Maine West shot only four times from the field and one of those shots was blocked. The Warriors still managed to take the lead 7-3 at the end of the quarter by hitting on seven of eleven free throws. In the same period Wheeling scored one basket and a free throw.

The Warriors finally scored their first field goal with one and one-half minutes elapsed in the second quarter on a long jump shot by substitute guard Pete Kulik. The hosts, paced by Kulik, quickly widened their margin to 15-3 before the Cats' Newman registered two field goals in succession. Maine West came right back with two-pointers by Paul Moehling, Mueller and Kulik to leave at halftime with a 21-7 lead.

The scoring pace picked up substantially in the third stanza. Newman notched 13 points for Wheeling in this period, but Maine West's balanced scoring pattern enabled the Warriors to climb to the 14 point lead going into the final quarter.

MAINE WEST quickly increased the lead to 46-26 early in the fourth quarter, but Wheeling then put on a balanced scoring act of its own to whittle down the deficit.

Newman, Tom Neuckranz, Jim Funk, and Al Gibbon all contributed to the Wildcat rally that brought them within nine points, 48-39, with a little over three minutes left in the game.

That was as close as Owens' charges were able to come to the Warriors, as Maine West went into a semi-stall and picked up its last seven points from the foul line for a 55-44 victory, its second in fourteen tries.

Wildcat Frosh Stop Maine W.

A fine balanced scoring attack spelled victory for Wheeling's freshman basketball players Saturday morning, as they knocked aside Maine West 47-40.

The win was a big one for Paul Grady's boys, who went to 7-3 over-all and 4-0 in Mid-Suburban League frosh competition with the triumph. Carl Fricke, with five baskets and four free throws, was high man with 14 points. But Don Wright had 12, Gary Salata 11 and Ron King 10.

The game was played on almost even terms after the first quarter, but in that initial stanza, the Wildcats charged out to a 17-7 lead and hung on.

Jerry Greer's "B" team also won another, its ninth in 10 games. The final read Wheeling 48, Maine West 35, as Ken St. Onge dropped in 23 points, and Mike Thomas added 12.

Big Soph Win for Palatine 5

Palatine's sophomore basketball team, undefeated since the Christmas holidays, won its fifth straight Mid-Suburban League game by stopping a tough Prospect five 59-52 last Saturday.

Al Eck's Pirates, the only unbeaten conference team, are assured of at least a tie for the MSL soph crown, and are now 7-4 for the year. Hank Szymanski's Knights slipped to 6-5 over-all.

THE GAME wasn't decided until late in the last quarter. The Knights had led by two at the first quarter and one at the half, and Palatine finally took a temporary 43-41 lead after the third period.

The entire game was closely played, and it wasn't until four minutes remained that Palatine made its move. Three straight ball-thefts were turned into scores as the Pirates pulled away. Kevin Freund was particularly valuable, coming off the bench to score six important points as Palatine iced the game.

Don Spence, who kept Palatine in the game throughout, was high for the winners with 22 points. But Marv Hope, outstanding in defeat, topped all scorers by hitting for 27 points for Prospect.

Knights' Frosh Triumph 40-37 Over Palatine 5

Holding off a fourth period assault, Prospect emerged triumphant in a freshman basketball clash with Palatine last Saturday morning.

Earl Benoche's Knights' five won 40-37, despite being outscored 13-9 in the last quarter by Leon Kasuboske's Pirates. They did it by building up a seven-point advantage in the middle periods, and ended the game with a 5-6 over-all mark, 2-2 in Mid-Suburban League play. Palatine is also 5-6 overall, and 3-2 in the MSL.

Prospect's Bob Frick was high for the game with 10 points, but Scott Lyman helped out with nine rebounds. For Palatine, Jerry Hoffman had eight points and Bill Mazanet 18 rebounds.

In the "B" game, Prospect withstood a 17-6 fourth period Palatine attack to win 38-37 and go to an overall 8-2 record. Larry Morris was high for the winners with eight points, while Steve Grant had 14 rebounds.

York, Hinsdale Triumph

Streak Ends; Cards Suffer Two Setbacks

by BOB FRISK

Switch the schedule around, play Hinsdale on Friday and York on Saturday and your chances of surviving a basketball doubleheader without two losses should improve.

That's the way it appeared last weekend as Arlington High School engaged in its final twin-bill of the 1965-66 season.

There was so much fanfare surrounding the Cardinals' bout with state-ranked York on Friday evening that the battle with Hinsdale the following night was almost lost in the shuffle. It was lost on the basketball floor.

Arlington's Cards, riding high with eight straight victories heading into the weekend set, suffered a pair of losses to York and Hinsdale to skid into a three-way tie for second place in the West Suburban.

York now has a four-game bulge in league play and has clinched the varsity championship.

THE LOSS Saturday was not entirely unexpected. It's never easy to bounce back after playing an emotion-charged game and through the years Arlington teams have had trouble on the Hinsdale floor. The ingredients were there for an upset.

But despite a so-so performance Arlington was within seconds of victory Saturday at Hinsdale when disaster struck.

A steal and basket by Scott Pfuetze with 13 seconds remaining gave the Red Devils a one-point, 51-50 lead, and Arlington quickly called a time out with 10 seconds showing on the clock.

BUT THIS WASN'T Arlington's night—or weekend. Steve St. John, more noted for his antics on the football field, stepped in to intercept a Cardinal pass and with three seconds left Bob Hughes was at the foul line.

Hughes missed and Jim Jorgensen cleared the rebound for Arlington, but a Cardinal time-out—one more than allowed—was worth a technical foul and Parker Wellington went to the line for Hinsdale.

Wellington hit the shot with one second remaining, Hinsdale took the ball out of bounds because of the technical and the clock ran out with the Devils nursing a 52-50 lead.

ARLINGTON, noticeably flat from the outset, didn't hold the lead for the first 11 minutes of the game at Hinsdale. Terry Townley dropped in a 15-footer to give the Cards a 20-19 lead in the second quarter, but the hosts struck back to take a 27-25 margin into the dressing room.

Hinsdale shot out to a 10-point lead in the third quarter before Arlington retaliated. Townley and Jim Jorgensen hit from the field and Pete Barker added a free throw on a technical to cut the Devil lead to 41-38 heading into the final period.

Steve Allen was the Cardinal offense in the final quarter, scoring all 12 points. Allen, who had been checked with six the night before against York, launched his outburst with a jumper from the side and at the four minute mark he had engineered the Cards into a 48-45 lead.

Hinsdale battled back to regain the lead, but Allen meshed a 15-footer to push Arlington into a 50-49 advantage with 2:16 left.

ARLINGTON HAD the basketball with 30 seconds remaining, thanks to a Jorgensen rebound of a missed Hinsdale shot, and called a timeout with 21 seconds left, holding a 50-49 lead.

That's when the Devils stepped in to pick off a pass. A quick flip to Pfuetze found the stocky guard scooting downcourt for the game-deciding layup.

Allen was high for both clubs with 24 points. Townley added 13 for Arlington. Wellington topped the Devils with 21.

THE ONE THING the Cards were afraid of Friday night in the battle with state-ranked York was a furious Duke rush in the first quarter.

York is famous for its opening assaults, and the Elmhurst entry streaked out to a 20-9 lead after one period before a capacity crowd.

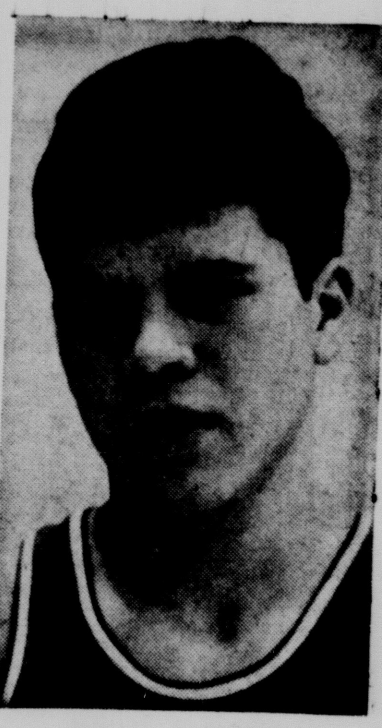
Arlington didn't let this opening charge bother them. The Cards trailed by 17 points (32-15) with 4:36 remaining in the first half but ran off 14 straight markers against the stunned visitors.

TOWNLEY WAS the key man for Arlington, scoring ten points in about three minutes, and his two free throws cut the York lead to 32-29 with 2:13 left in the first half.

The Dukes then decided it was time to go to work again. Sub Cam Ramsey, Ned Reese, and Scott Fiene tallied for York over the final two minutes to give the visitors a 40-32 cushion at the break.

That was the story of the final half. Whatever charge Arlington would make was met head-on.

THE CARDS GOT within nine with 4:41 remaining in the game, but the Dukes exploded for six straight points to put the issue out of reach, posting a 78-68 finale.



PETE BARKER
Has Best Night

Larry Saunders, the Dukes' 6-8 center, scored 24 points to take game honors. Townley was high for Arlington with 19, thirteen from the free throw line, and Barker, showing some long-range marksmanship, dialed 18, his career high.

The loss was the first for Arlington at home this season.

Falcon Jayvee Five Whips Conant 66-34

Staging a huge first half domination, Forest View's junior varsity basketball players went on to pulverize Conant's 66-34 last Friday evening.

Bob Rees' Falcons, enjoying a brisk night from the floor, ran up a 34-10 advantage by the halfway mark, and built it to an awesome 48-19 after the third period. The exhibition demonstrated a dramatic reversal from the Falcons' setback at Palatine the week before.

THE WIN improved FV's season standard to nine wins in 13 games, and upped the MSL mark to 3-2. For Doug Speer's Cougars, the loss was the fifth straight in Mid-Suburban play.

Ted Lambert and Frank Calvello again divided the bulk of the Forest View scoring. Lambert retired from the game with 20 points and Calvello with 19. Ten of Lambert's total came in the third quarter, when Conant made a charge into the huge margin.

The Cougars came out after the half to outscore the Falcons 9-3, with Larry Robertson getting a pair of baskets. But FV, with Lambert doing most of it, came back with 11 straight markers.

Conant had no more success in the last quarter, when Mike Russell came on in a substitute role to drop in four straight field goals for FV. He had those eight points for the game. High for Conant—with 10—was Chris Shadwell.

Conant Frosh Gets 9th Win

A Mid-Suburban League title remained a possibility for Conant's freshman wrestlers last Saturday, as they took a convincing 34-13 decision from Forest View.

Ron Smith's Cougars remained unbeaten for the season, possessing an overall mark of nine wins and three ties. They have only two ties to blemish their MSL record, and could win the title by beating Prospect this Saturday, while current leader Palatine was losing to Maine West.

Conant won at eight weight levels, getting victories from Reinhold Vanderhyd (95), Martin Ramirez (103), Tom Higgins (120), Steve Evenson (127), Bruce Rucks (145), Bob Haggstrom (165), Peter Bambach (180) and John Gerker (heavyweight). Ramirez and Bambach won on pins, Haggstrom and Gerker on forfeits. At 138, Dick Moscinski and FV's Ted Kubinski tied 2-2.

The Falcon winners were Bill Sundblom (112) and Jim Smith (133) on decisions, and Dave Longo (154) on a pin.

FV Freshmen Over Conant 5

Forest View's freshman basketball players dropped Conant 54-47 over the weekend, by playing what coach Al Kintzle called their best ball game since losing two members to the sophomore team.

The young Falcons had a six point lead at the half, and built it to 14 in the fourth quarter. The triumph moved the FV season record to 7-6, and the Mid-Suburban League mark to 3-2.

Warriors' JVs Nip 'Cats, 52-51

Maine West's Larry Kahler dropped in a free throw with only three sconds remaining in the game to break a 51-51 tie and give the Warriors a thrilling 52-51 JV victory over visiting Wheeling last Friday evening.

The Warriors held a ten point lead, 25-15, over the Wildcat JV cagers going into the second half, but Coach Ted Ecker's quintet came back to tie the score early in the final period and almost pulled out a victory.

A pair of free throws by center Rick Bruce gave Wheeling a 34-34 tie with 6:15 left to play. A few minutes later the Wildcats claimed a 40-36 lead, but at that point the agressive Bruce picked up his fifth personal foul and left the contest.

Wheeling still had a four point lead with just under one minute left on the clock. Maine West then tallied two quick field goals to tie the count at 50-50 with under one-half minute remaining.

Wheeling's Jay Newman was awarded a one-and-one free throw. Newman connected on the first shot but missed the second attempt, and Maine West took control of the ball with Wheeling on top 51-50.

With only five seconds showing on the clock Wheeling's John Serra was charged with a foul against Bob Banger, and Banger tied the score with his first attempt. His second free throw was missed, but the Warriors were awarded the ball out-of-bounds.

One second later Kahler was at the charity stripe. Kahler connected on the first attempt, and that was the ball game, 52-51 Maine West over Wheeling.

Phil Murdock and Ken Mach led the victors with 20 and 16 points respectively. Jeff Winterburg paced Wheeling with 19 tallies.

FV Swimming

Niles North coasted to varsity and frosh-soph swimming victories over Forest View last week. The Vikings topped the varsity meet, 75-18, and the frosh-soph action, 63-32.

'Cat Sophs Fall

Maine West posted a 22-21 victory over Wheeling's sophomore wrestlers last week. Additional details were unavailable at press time.

'Cat Gymnasts Trounce Maine

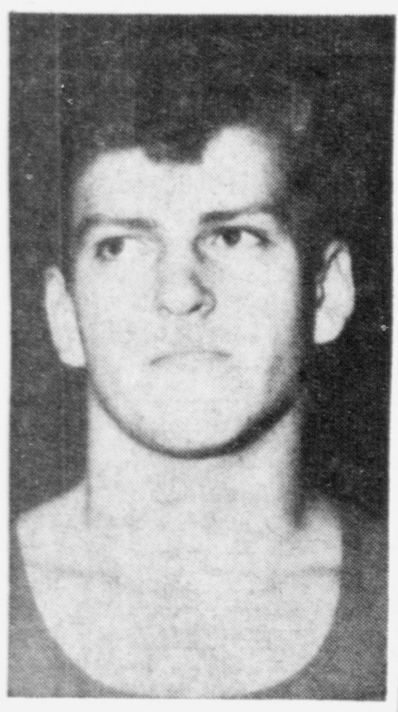
Five firsts of a possible six led Wheeling gymnasts past Maine West 87-45 last Friday.

That one-sided triumph left the 'Cats with a 6-7 over-all record and 3-1 mark in Mid-Suburban League competition. It also left a very pleased coach.

"The team did a fine job against Maine," said Wheeling mentor Wayne Selvig. "It was our best meet of the year. We have improved steadily each week and I hope that continues."

Firsts in the meet for the Wildcats went to Mike Allen, Greg Shornden, Jim Bowker, Gerry Fontecchio, Dick Dyson.

ALLEN, ONLY A sophomore, was best on the side horse. He was rated at 138 which gave him a 20 point margin over teammate Don Savage who was second. A sweep on the parallel bars was led by Shornden's score of 153. Second and third on the P-bars were Mike Bangs and Jim Rainer.



JIM BOWKER
162 on Rings

Best score of the meet went to Bowker on the rings. He remained undefeated in M-SL action by ringing up an 80-82 for 162. Lonny Davis and Craig Ovesky were second and third on the rings behind Bowker in the other event sweep for Wheeling.

One-two on the trampoline were Gerry Fontecchio and Dick Dyson. Fontecchio, who was also second in tumbling, was judged at 145. Dyson, who took first in tumbling with 139, was at 102 on the tramp. Fourth on the tramp and fifth in tumbling went to Shornden.

With 12 points each Shornden, Fontecchio and Dyson were high scorers in the meet for the 'Cats.

AT THE FROSH-SOPH level Wheeling moved its record to an excellent 10-3-1 with an 89-43 trouncing of Maine West. Firsts for the winners went to John Whittington on both the horizontal bar and parallel bars, Dick Orna on the rings, Kim Butler on the horse, John Grund on the tramp and Jim Kniskern in tumbling.

Whittington also took a second on the rings to become the meet's high scorer with 19 points. Orna has 12 points and Steve Geiger has 11 with two thirds and a second.

Just 8 Come Out

Prospect's Thinclads Open Indoor Season

Five plus three, nine minus one, two times four — No matter how it's figured the answer still comes out at eight, but that may be enough.

Prospect High School opens its indoor track season next Tuesday with a meet at Niles North at 4:30 p.m. This initial thinclad action will find only eight boys performing for the Knights because that's all that showed up for practice.

"THOUGH WE only have eight boys out," commented coach Dick Calisch, "we should still win our share of dual meets. We aren't strong in relays but we have strong performers in the individual events." Prospect's share will come from a schedule which includes 10 indoor meets plus the Evanston, Wheeling and Oak Park relays.

Leading the Knights are seniors Jack Pollard and Phil Cordina. Pollard will run in the quarter, half or mile events. He went downstate last year as a member of Prospect's relay team. Cordina is a pole vaulter who has cleared 13 feet.

Another who journeyed to Champaign last season was Vaughn Pederson. He took a third in the district and qualified for the state meet with his performance in the hurdles.

BEHIND THOSE THREE are LeRoy Rateike, Dick Braunschweig, John Jacobsen, Larry Streibinger and Craig Peterson. Rateike broad jumps (over 21 feet last year) and is a dash man (owns a 5.8 in the 50). Braunschweig is a half miler who has done a 2:05 and Jacobsen is a miler. Backing up Cordina in the pole vault is Streibinger while Peterson is second in the hurdles behind Pederson.

Last season Prospect compiled a 5-4 record in varsity indoor track action. At the frosh-soph level, where Calisch expects strength this year, the Knights were 0-5 in '64.

Knights JV Cagers Edge Pirates 48-46

Nine points behind with 12 minutes left. . .

Those score-time disadvantages were overcome last Friday by Prospect junior varsity cagers. They rallied to nip Palatine 48-46.

At 5:15 of period three in that contest, Knights trailed Pirates 34-28. Then the comeback began:

Dan Carda and Mike Anderson made Prospect goals and John Ekeberg hit for Palatine. Two-pointers by Knights Tom Grafton and John Phillips plus Carda's foul shot set totals at 39-37.

AFTER JIM Render connected from the line for the Pirates, Grafton flipped in two at the charity stripe. Quarter four opened with the gap narrowed to 40-39. Fred Sanborn banked one through the nets for Palatine but Grafton followed with two Prospect lay-ups putting his team ahead, for the initial time in the struggle, 43-42.

Dick Smith regained the Pirates' lead on two free throws. Anderson, however, countered by moving the Knights on top for good as, with 1:42 remaining, he popped a pair of foul attempts to give Prospect a 45-44 advantage. Moments later Phillips sank two free tries making it 47-44. Smith's goal closed Palatine's offense and Phillips established the final score with another foul shot.

HIGH MAN IN the game was Prospect's Grafton with 14 points. He was aided by nine each from Phillips and Anderson. Best for Palatine were 12 point showings by Smith and Freeman while Sanborn added 10 for the losers.

In victory the Knights retained a 4-1 Mid-Suburban League record and first place tie with Maine West. Over-all coach Don Arseneau's quintet is 11-2. Under headman Chuck Johannson the Pirates are 2-3, tied for fourth in the M-SL with Wheeling, and 4-8 over-all.

Pirate Frosh Lead MSL

The freshman wrestlers of Palatine stayed ahead of the Mid-Suburban League pack last Saturday morning, stopping Prospect 33-22 on the Pirate mats.

For Tom Hillesheim's Pirates, who have only a tie to mar their conference record, it pulled the season mark to 6-3-1. Tom Shirmang's Knights are now 6-3 overall 2-2 in the MSL.

PALATINE trimphed at seven weights, three on pins, and had a draw in another match. Pins went to Rick Berthold (103), Gary Karst (120) and Kent Jensen (133), while Bob Gill (154) won on default and Glenn Wilson (165) on a forfeit. Keith West took a decision at 112, and Tom Kaiser the same at 180, while Larry MacPhee drew with Jack Costello at 138. By their wins, West went to 11-2 for the year, Jensen to 10-2-1.

Prospect, besides Costello's tie, gained its points from Randy Cordova, a forfeit winner at 95; Mark Wendling, a pin winner at 127; Tony Lazzaroni, a pin winner at 145; and Martin Miller, the same in the heavyweight clash.

Maine West Triumphs

'Cats Cold in First Half of 55-44 Loss

by MARV PRELLBERT, JR.

It seems that it takes Coach Mike Owens' Wheeling varsity cage team an unusually long time to get its field goal shooting eye in focus. At least that has been the story in the Wildcats' last two outings.

Two weeks ago against Conant High it took Wheeling's cagers twenty shots from the field before they scored their first field goal.

Last Friday night against host Maine West, coach Owens suffered through a miserable 14 per cent first half shooting performance by his Cat quintet.

Such a shooting exhibition doomed the Wheeling five to its thirteenth loss of the season, 55-44, and let them have sole possession of the Mid-Suburban league cellar with a 0-5 record.

PRIOR TO THIS game both clubs had shared the MSL basement, and it must have been a bit of cheerful news to Maine West's head mentor Gaston Freeman when he was made aware of the final results.

Freeman was absent from the scene at the Maine fieldhouse because of illness, but Warrior JV coach Gene Zuccarini filled the Freeman shoes in fine fashion.

Although Maine West claimed the victory, the sparse crowd of Wheeling rooters did have some sense of satisfaction in witnessing a stellar all-around performance by guard Mark Newman.

NEWMAN HAD his finest night of the season, as he contributed heavily to the Wheeling point total and turned in a fine job of defense against the Warriors' touted guard Ken Mueller.

The 5-10 senior pumped in 23 points, over one half of the Wheeling game total. He tallied on 11 of 19 field goal attempts and one of two free throws to lead all scorers in the game.

At the same time Newman was largely responsible for holding Maine West's Mueller to only four field goals and only six field goal attempts for the night. Mueller ended up with 15 points, seven of them coming from the free throw lane, to pace the winner's scoring.

THE SCORING in the first half was at a snail's pace. In the first quarter Maine West shot only four times from the field and one of those shots was blocked. The Warriors still managed to take the lead 7-3 at the end of the quarter by hitting on seven of eleven free throws. In the same period Wheeling scored one basket and a free throw.

The Warriors finally scored their first field goal with one and one-half minutes elapsed in the second quarter on a long jump shot by substitute guard Pete Kulik. The hosts, paced by Kulik, quickly widened their margin to 15-3 before the Cats' Newman registered two field goals in succession. Maine West came right back with two-pointers by Paul Moehling, Mueller and Kulik to leave at halftime with a 21-7 lead.

The scoring pace picked up substantially in the third stanza. Newman notched 13 points for Wheeling in this period, but Maine West's balanced scoring pattern enabled the Warriors to climb to the 14 point lead going into the final quarter.

MAINE WEST quickly increased the lead to 46-26 early in the fourth quarter, but Wheeling then put on a balanced scoring act of its own to whittle down the deficit.

Newman, Tom Neuckranz, Jim Funk, and Al Gibbon all contributed to the Wildcat rally that brought them within nine points, 48-39, with a little over three minutes left in the game.

That was as close as Owens' charges were able to come to the Warriors, as Maine West went into a semi-stall and picked up its last seven points from the foul line for a 55-44 victory, its second in fourteen tries.

Wildcat Frosh Stop Maine W.

A fine balanced scoring attack spelled victory for Wheeling's freshman basketball players Saturday morning, as they knocked aside Maine West 47-40.

The win was a big one for Paul Grady's boys, who went to 7-3 over-all and 4-0 in Mid-Suburban League frosh competition with the triumph. Carl Fricke, with five baskets and four free throws, was high man with 14 points. But Don Wright had 12, Gary Salata 11 and Ron King 10.

The game was played on almost even terms after the first quarter, but in that initial stanza, the Wildcats charged out to a 17-7 lead and hung on.

Jerry Greer's "B" team also won another, its ninth in 10 games. The final read Wheeling 48, Maine West 35, as Ken St. Onge dropped in 23 points, and Mike Thomas added 12.

Big Soph Win for Palatine 5

Palatine's sophomore basketball team, undefeated since the Christmas holidays, won its fifth straight Mid-Suburban League game by stopping a tough Prospect five 59-52 last Saturday.

Al Eck's Pirates, the only unbeaten conference team, are assured of at least a tie for the MSL soph crown, and are now 7-4 for the year. Hank Szymanski's Knights slipped to 6-5 overall.

THE GAME wasn't decided until late in the last quarter. The Knights had led by two at the first quarter and one at the half, and Palatine finally took a temporary 43-41 lead after the third period.

The entire game was closely played, and it wasn't until four minutes remained that Palatine made its move. Three straight ball-thefts were turned into scores as the Pirates pulled away. Kevin Freund was particularly valuable, coming off the bench to score six important points as Palatine iced the game.

Don Spence, who kept Palatine in the game throughout, was high for the winners with 22 points. But Marv Hope, outstanding in defeat, topped all scorers by hitting for 27 points for Prospect.

Knights' Frosh Triumph 40-37 Over Palatine 5

Holding off a fourth period assault, Prospect emerged triumphant in a freshman basketball clash with Palatine last Saturday morning.

Earl Benoche's Knights' five won 40-37, despite being outscored 13-9 in the last quarter by Leon Kasuboske's Pirates. They did it by building up a seven-point advantage in the middle periods, and ended the game with a 5-6 over-all mark, 2-2 in Mid-Suburban League play. Palatine is also 5-6 overall, and 3-2 in the MSL.

Prospect's Bob Frick was high for the game with 10 points, but Scott Lyman helped out with nine rebounds. For Palatine, Jerry Hoffman had eight points and Bill Mazanet 18 rebounds.

In the "B" game, Prospect withstood a 17-6 fourth period Palatine attack to win 38-37 and go to an overall 8-2 record. Larry Morris was high for the winners with eight points, while Steve Grant had 14 rebounds.

York, Hinsdale Triumph

Streak Ends; Cards Suffer Two Setbacks

by BOB FRISK

Switch the schedule around, play Hinsdale on Friday and York on Saturday and your chances of surviving a basketball doubleheader without two losses should improve.

That's the way it appeared last weekend as Arlington High School engaged in its final twin-bill of the 1965-66 season.

There was so much fanfare surrounding the Cardinals' bout with state-ranked York on Friday evening that the battle with Hinsdale the following night was almost lost in the shuffle. It was lost on the basketball floor.

Arlington's Cards, riding high with eight straight victories heading into the weekend set, suffered a pair of losses to York and Hinsdale to skid into a three-way tie for second place in the West Suburban.

York now has a four-game bulge in league play and has clinched the varsity championship.

THE LOSS Saturday was not entirely unexpected. It's never easy to bounce back after playing an emotion-charged game and through the years Arlington teams have had trouble on the Hinsdale floor. The ingredients were there for an upset.

But despite a so-so performance Arlington was within seconds of victory Saturday at Hinsdale when disaster struck.

A steal and basket by Scott Pfuetze with 13 seconds remaining gave the Red Devils a one-point, 51-50 lead, and Arlington quickly called a time out with 10 seconds showing on the clock.

BUT THIS WASN'T Arlington's night—or weekend. Steve St. John, more noted for his antics on the football field, stepped in to intercept a Cardinal pass and with three seconds left Bob Hughes was at the foul line.

Hughes missed and Jim Jorgensen cleared the rebound for Arlington, but a Cardinal timeout—one more than allowed—was worth a technical foul and Parker Wellington went to the line for Hinsdale.

Wellington hit the shot with one second remaining, Hinsdale took the ball out of bounds because of the technical and the clock ran out with the Devils nursing a 52-50 lead.

ARLINGTON, noticeably flat from the outset, didn't hold the lead for the first 11 minutes of the game at Hinsdale. Terry Townley dropped in a 15-footer to give the Cards a 20-19 lead in the second quarter, but the hosts struck back to take a 27-25 margin into the dressing room.

Hinsdale shot out to a 10-point lead in the third quarter before Arlington retaliated. Townley and Jim Jorgensen hit from the field and Pete Barker added a free throw on a technical to cut the Devil lead to 41-38 heading into the final period.

Steve Allen was the Cardinal offense in the final quarter, scoring all 12 points. Allen, who had been checked with six the night before against York, launched his outburst with a jumper from the side and at the four minute mark he had engineered the Cards into a 48-45 lead.

Hinsdale battled back to regain the lead, but Allen meshed a 15-footer to push Arlington into a 50-49 advantage with 2:16 left.

ARLINGTON HAD the basketball with 30 seconds remaining, thanks to a Jorgensen rebound of a missed Hinsdale shot, and called a timeout with 21 seconds left, holding a 50-49 lead.

That's when the Devils stepped in to pick off a pass. A quick flip to Pfuetze found the stocky guard scooting downcourt for the game-deciding layup.

Allen was high for both clubs with 24 points. Townley added 13 for Arlington. Wellington topped the Devils with 21.

THE ONE THING the Cards were afraid of Friday night in the battle with state-ranked York was a furious Duke rush in the first quarter.

York is famous for its opening assaults, and the Elmhurst entry streaked out to a 20-9 lead after one period before a capacity crowd.

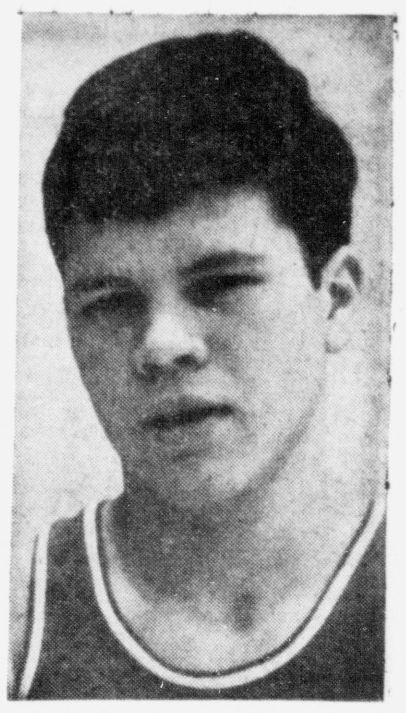
Arlington didn't let this opening charge bother them. The Cards trailed by 17 points (32-15) with 4:36 remaining in the first half but ran off 14 straight markers against the stunned visitors.

TOWNLEY WAS the key man for Arlington, scoring ten points in about three minutes, and his two free throws cut the York lead to 32-29 with 2:13 left in the first half.

The Dukes then decided it was time to go to work again. Sub Cam Ramsey, Ned Reese, and Scott Fiene tallied for York over the final two minutes to give the visitors a 40-32 cushion at the break.

That was the story of the final half. Whatever charge Arlington would make was met head-on.

THE CARDS GOT within nine with 4:41 remaining in the game, but the Dukes exploded for six straight points to put the issue out of reach, posting a 78-68 finale.



PETE BARKER
Has Best Night

Larry Saunders, the Dukes' 6-8 center, scored 24 points to take game honors. Townley was high for Arlington with 19, thirteen from the free throw line, and Barker, showing some long-range marksmanship, dialed 18, his career high.

The loss was the first for Arlington at home this season.

Conant Frosh Gets 9th Win

A Mid-Suburban League title remained a possibility for Conant's freshman wrestlers last Saturday, as they took a convincing 34-13 decision from Forest View.

Ron Smith's Cougars remained unbeaten for the season, possessing an overall mark of nine wins and three ties. They have only two ties to blemish their MSL record, and could win the title by beating Prospect this Saturday, while current leader Palatine was losing to Maine West.

Conant won at eight weight levels, getting victories from Reinhold Vanderhyd (95), Martin Ramirez (103), Tom Higgins (120), Steve Evenson (127), Bruce Rucks (145), Bob Haggstrom (165), Peter Bambach (180) and John Gerker (heavyweight). Ramirez and Bambach won on pins, Haggstrom and Gerker on forfeits. At 138, Dick Moscinski and FV's Ted Kubinski tied 2-2.

The Falcon winners were Bill Sundblom (112) and Jim Smith (133) on decisions, and Dave Longo (154) on a pin.

FV Freshmen Over Conant 5

Forest View's freshman basketball players dropped Conant 54-47 over the weekend, by playing what coach Al Kintzle called their best ball game since losing two members to the sophomore team.

The young Falcons had a six point lead at the half, and built it to 14 in the fourth quarter. The triumph moved the FV season record to 7-6, and the Mid-Suburban League mark to 3-2.

Falcon Jayvee Five Whips Conant 66-34

Staging a huge first half domination, Forest View's junior varsity basketball players went on to pulverize Conant's 66-34 last Friday evening.

Bob Rees' Falcons, enjoying a brisk night from the floor, ran up a 34-10 advantage by the halfway mark, and built it to an awesome 48-19 after the third period. The exhibition demonstrated a dramatic reversal from the Falcons' setback at Palatine the week before.

THE WIN improved FV's season standard to nine wins in 13 games, and upped the MSL mark to 3-2. For Doug Speer's Cougars, the loss was the fifth straight in Mid-Suburban play.

Ted Lambert and Frank Calvello again divided the bulk of the Forest View scoring. Lambert retired from the game with 20 points and Calvello with 19. Ten of Lambert's total came in the third quarter, when Conant made a charge into the huge margin.

The Cougars came out after the half to outscore the Falcons 9-3, with Larry Robertson getting a pair of baskets. But FV, with Lambert doing most of it, came back with 11 straight markers.

Conant had no more success in the last quarter, when Mike Russell came on in a substitute role to drop in four straight field goals for FV. He had those eight points for the game. High for Conant—with 10—was Chris Shadwell.

Warriors' JVs Nip 'Cats, 52-51

Maine West's Larry Kahler dropped in a free throw with only three sconds remaining in the game to break a 51-51 tie and give the Warriors a thrilling 52-51 JV victory over visiting Wheeling last Friday evening.

The Warriors held a ten point lead, 25-15, over the Wildcat JV cagers going into the second half, but Coach Ted Ecker's quintet came back to tie the score early in the final period and almost pulled out a victory.

A pair of free throws by center Rick Bruce gave Wheeling a 34-34 tie with 6:15 left to play. A few minutes later the Wildcats claimed a 40-36 lead, but at that point the agressive Bruce picked up his fifth personal foul and left the contest.

Wheeling still had a four point lead with just under one minute left on the clock. Maine West then tallied two quick field goals to tie the count at 50-50 with under one-half minute remaining.

Wheeling's Jay Newman was awarded a one-and-one free throw. Newman connected on the first shot but missed the second attempt, and Maine West took control of the ball with Wheeling on top 51-50.

With only five seconds showing on the clock Wheeling's John Serra was charged with a foul against Bob Banger, and Banger tied the score with his first attempt. His second free throw was missed, but the Warriors were awarded the ball out-of-bounds.

One second later Kahler was at the charity stripe. Kahler connected on the first attempt, and that was the ball game, 52-51 Maine West over Wheeling.

Phil Murdock and Ken Mach led the victors with 20 and 16 points respectively. Jeff Winterburg paced Wheeling with 19 tallies.

FV Swimming

Niles North coasted to varsity and frosh-soph swimming victories over Forest View last week. The Vikings topped the varsity meet, 75-18, and the frosh-soph action, 63-32.

Additional details were unavailable at press time.

'Cat Sophs Fall

Maine West posted a 22-21 victory over Wheeling's sophomore wrestlers last week. Additional details were unavailable at press time.

Funke: Three Firsts

Cougars Over FV Gymnasts

The multiple talents of Gary Funke made much of the difference Friday afternoon, as Conant's gymnasts out-maneuvered Forest View 73½ to 58½.

Funke was the individual winner in three events and had a second in another for 26 team points. With several seconds and thirds contributed by his teammates, Conant ruled the Mid-Suburban League meeting with the comfortable margin.

The victory advanced the season record of Bob Ferguson's Cougars to 7-5. They're 3-1 in the MSL, with powerful Prospect still on their schedule, and the conference meet to follow. Gay Hughes' Falcons dipped to 4-6-1 with the loss, with an 0-3-1 mark in the league.

The score was almost exactly reversed in the frosh-soph competition, where Forest View prevailed 75-57, with Hal Sprehe's performers advancing to an excellent mark of 9-2 overall, 4-0 in the MSL duals.

WITH ONE of his victories—on the parallel bars—Funke led a Conant sweep He was first with a two-judge declaration of 140, with John Armfield second and Denny Re third.

On the high bar, it was Funke and Butch Lochinger 1-2, with the Falcons' Garth Freeman third. And on the rings, where he had his highest routine score of 149, Funke was first with teammate Jack Meyer third. Dave Hippensteel took a second for FV, with a 146 score.

But Hippensteel's big event continued to be the trampoline, where he led the field with a 161 rating. That was 35 points better than Conant's Rod Tison, and 51 points better than teammate Tony Damico, who was third.

FOREST VIEW had two other firsts. Jim Olmon ruled a tight tumbling contest with a 114 score. Conant's Randy Griggs—who was also fourth on the tramp—had second with 111. Tied for third were FV's Damico and Conant's Karl Icenogle.

Mike Damore had the other Forest View victory, triumphing on the side horse. He beat out Funke and Conant's Dave O'Neal, who were second and third.

The younger Falcons took five individual firsts, in their meet with Conant. Jim Evans, just a point ahead of Conant's Lloyd Powell, won on the trampoline with a 40 score. The same one-judge rating gave victory to Roger Kratowicz on the horizontal bar. Dick Kees won on the rings, Gary Gathman on the parallel bars and Greg Murphy in tumbling.

Ross Goben had Conant's only first, winning on the side horse. The Cougars' Greg Nelsen had 11 team points with a second on the high bar and fourths on parallel bars and rings.

Prospect Wrestlers Nip Palatine's JVs

By a scant two points, Prospect's junior varsity wrestlers wrested second place in the Mid-Suburban League from Palatine last Friday.

Tom Porter's Knight JVs and Mike Emmons' Pirates went into their meeting with identical 3-1 league marks. They were almost as close after the match, as Prospect won 25-23 to finish just behind unbeaten Forest View in the league. For the season, Prospect ended at 6-4, Palatine at 6-5.

The teams started the tight duel by trading pins, with Rich Basch triumphing for Prospect at 95 and Brad Molinari at 103 for Palatine.

RUSTY MASON gave the Pirates a small lead with a 7-1 win at 112, but Mike Herod wiped that out with a 56-second pin win for Prospect at 120.

The Knights built to a 25-12 lead after that, as Marty Krause won on a pin at 127; Luke Dicci tied Bob Esmail at 133; Mike Rutowski took an 8-7 decision at 138; Joe Koza tied Jeff Elwell 3-3 at 145 and Gary Cobe triumphed 3-2 at 154.

Then Palatine charged back, but not quite by enough. Bob Salinas pinned Mike Hermann at 165 in 41 seconds to start it. Then John Jensen won 5-1 at 180 and Ron Stroud 3-2 in the heavyweight match.

At the end, five of the weight disputes had been decided on decisions so close that the meet could have gone either way, with either side able to win close or big. As it was, they almost divided.

Card Sophs Drop Two League Tilts

Arlington's sophomore Cardinals suffered two West Suburban Conference setbacks last weekend but had more to shout about this time than in earlier meetings.

York slipped by Fran Somers' Cardinals on Friday evening, 51-47, but the Barons had chalked up a 46-32 victory over Arlington in a December game.

Hinsdale shaded Arlington Saturday, 45-42. The Imps had scored a 54-38 win over the Cards in a first round tussle.

The Cardinals pulled within three points of York (47-44) with 2:38 remaining Friday when R. J. Collins hit a layup. The Barons battled back with two straight baskets before Collins scored from the line.

Greg Lemein and Collins tallied from the line for the final Cardinal points as York held on for the victory.

Lemein was high for Arlington with 12 points. Chuck McGuffey added 12 and Collins eight.

Hinsdale shot out on top 29-23 at halftime Saturday but could carry only a two-point advantage into the concluding period. Both teams showed 12-point fourth quarters.

Lemein and Bill Liddell were high for Somers' outfit with nine points each. Collins tossed in seven.

Arlington will entertain Maine East this Friday evening at seven o'clock.

Cougars Lose To Falcon Wrestlers

The winners and the losers ended the regular season on something of a high note last Friday, as Forest View's and Conant's varsity wrestlers had it out on Conant's mats.

Hal Henson's Falcons won 24-18, thereby gaining a season dual mark of 9-3. In the Mid-Suburban League, the Falcons were 3-2, worth a third place tie with Wheeling.

Though Merv Miller's Cougars lost, they still ended their first full varsity season with an even split in 14 dual meets. In the MSL, they ended 1-4.

CONANT ACTUALLY led the meet 18-10 after eight weight disputes had been decided, but Forest View took the last four matches handily. Getting the key victories were Pete Phillips, who decisioned Dennis Szymkowiak 5-0 at 154; Brian Lampert, a 4-0 victor over Conant's Dick Rogers at 165; Mike Severns, who pinned Greg Buckhalter in 5:09 at 180; and Al Gildemeister, a 6-1 heavyweight victor over Jim Lohff.

Forest View had two other victors. Tom Mann scored first, beating Mike Smith 8-0 at 95 pounds, and Ron McKisic added a 4-2 decision over Bill Lee at 127.

Conant's early lead came on a pin win from Tom Borthwick at 103, a 6-0 victory by Mike Ferguson at 112, a 12-1 decision by Fred Krempl at 133 and a 4-2 victory by Ken Roberts at 138. Two Cougars with some of the best personal records—Bill Gluck (120) and Dennis Skoneczka (145)—were tied 2-2 by their opponents.

St. Viator Swimmers Claim Varsity, Frosh-Soph Titles

Swimming is big business at St. Viator High School, and the present and future are both exciting.

Coach Charles Mondi's rugged Lions, one of the rising tank powers in the state, dominated the Chicagoland Prep League competition last Saturday at Eckhart Park in Chicago.

St. Viator ran up 99 points on a varsity level for a comfortable 26-point bulge over runnerup Holy Cross but had a much easier time in frosh-soph ranks.

St. Ignatius	32
St. Joseph	16

The Lions collected 117 frosh-soph points and headed runnerup St. Ignatius by 52 markers.

Showing overall strength in the two headliners, St. Viator captured 15 firsts and figured in seven Chicagoland records.

RENE TAGUE and Bill McCaffrey were the pace-setters in the two team victories with a pair of victories, but there were many heroes for the champs.

Tague topped the 50 freestyle 23.9 and the 100 free in 52.6 in varsity action, and McCaffrey showed a 1:34 clocking in the frosh-soph 150 freestyle and 3:28 in the 300 free, both conferenc marks.

In other varsity features the Lions medley unit of Mike Gibler, Rick Kalinowski, Joe Herrity, and John Massey established a conference mark with a snappy 1:53.5.

JIM SPEARS gave the Lions a first in the 100 breaststroke with a brilliant effort, clipping off a 1:08 for a conference mark in the preliminaries and coming back in 1:09.3 in the finals.

St. Viator's unit of Kevin Shea, Jim Cronin, Massey, and Brown set a Chicagoland standard in the 400 freestyle relay with a 3:51.0 clocking, and Dave Chantry gave the Lions their other varsity first with a 272.5 in diving.

Joe Herrity landed a second in the 100 butterfly with a 1:04.5 but had a 1:03.6 in the prelims.

Cards Whip York's JVs

Balance beat a two-man gang Saturday morning as Arlington's jayvee Cardinals rolled to their fourth straight basketball victory.

Three boys reached double figures for the Cards who jumped out on top 22-16 after one period and marched to a 72-56 victory over York.

John Blomquist was high for Arlington with 19 points on nine field goals and one free throw. Jim Bressler added 14 and George Bergstrom 12.

Two boys scored 40 of York's 56 points with Doolittle high with 25.

Coach Al Allen's Cardinals, now 7-3 for the season, will host Maine East Saturday morning in search of their fifth straight victory.

York Registers Two Frosh Wins Over Card Fives

Failure to cash in from the free throw line in the first half was costly Saturday morning as Arlington High School's frosh 'A' basketball team dropped a 48-43 decision to York.

York held a 20-15 lead at halftime and the two clubs traded points over the final two periods.

"It was a well-played game for both teams," said Arlington coach Tom Pitchford whose Cards now show an 8-4 record for the season.

Jim Baumgartner and Dave Somers topped the balanced Arlington attack with 12 points each. Dennis Meacham added 11.

York also won the 'B' game, 58-53.

Slow Starts Hurt Lion Soph Cagers

Two miserable first quarters spelled another double defeat for the ill-fated St. Viator sophomore basketball squad last weekend.

The Lions lost 54-46 to Holy Cross Friday night and 58-41 to DeLaSalle the following evening.

In several games this season the main reason the Lions have been unable to stay close to their opponents lies in the fact that they have had many unproductive first quarters and found themselves ten to fifteen points down at the start of the second period.

It was the same story last weekend as Viator got only four points in the first quarter against Holy Cross and three the following night when they hosted DeLaSalle.

THE LIONS WERE only six down after the opening period against Holy Cross but the Chargers increased the lead to 22-11 at intermission and upped it to 42-21 going into the final stanza.

Pat Zeller and Mark Pomplun led the Lions offensively with 15 and 11 points respectively.

It was much the same script Saturday night as DeLaSalle opened up an 18-3 first quarter lead and stretched it to 35-14 at the half time.

Once again the Lions outscored their oppenents in the second half but not by enough to offset the Meteors' 21 point lead.

Zeller was high again for the locals with 15 points while Pomplun collected 11.

FV Takes Big Soph Mat Win

With seven wins on pins and 11 victories over-all, Forest View's sophomore wrestlers mangled Conant's sophs 49-3 in a Mid-Suburban League dual last Saturday.

For Dave Theesfeld's Falcons, the win was the eighth of the year against four dual losses, though it was the first in five MSL meetings.

The pins came from Dan Foster (103), Brian Wolff (112), Bob Rohner (127), Ron Traub (133), Steve Allen (145), Kevin Powers (180), and Bob Savage (Heavyweight).

Bill DeHaven took a forfeit victory at 120 pounds, while Mike Walden (95), Mike Casey (138) and Marc Swanson (154) won on decisions.

Salvaging the three points for Conant was Ken Young, who beat Paul Lloyd 7-2 at 165 pounds.

Mat Drama: Knights 22, Palatine 20

The Mid-Suburban League's sophomore wrestling honors may have been all but wrapped up for Prospect last Saturday, as the Knights outlasted a powerful Palatine team in a dazzling dual on the Pirate mats.

The match ended with Dave Ziemek's Knights on top 22-20, standing at 8-1 for the year, 4-0 in the MSL. For Arv Herstedt's Palatine team, the marks now stand at 7-3 overall, 3-1 in the league.

EACH TEAM WON six bouts in the confrontation, but Prospect had two pins to Palatine's one, and that made the difference. The pins came from Prospect's Bill Hueckstaedt (103) and Terry Holshouser (127), and from Palatine's Bob Prochnow, a heavyweight who pinned 10 opponents this year and has a two-year mark of 21-4.

Prospect got its six wins in the first seven bouts, with the other triumphs coming from Jim Amoroso (95), Dave Phillips (112), Dave Sauter (133) and Bob Link (138).

Winning for Palatine were Ken Kuttig (120); Chuck Goodman, a 145-pound freshman 14-2 for the season; Greg Hoover (154); Leon Molway (165); and Pat Donahue (180), who ended 13-0 for the season, and was elected his team's captain. Donahue has recorded 24 wins in two seasons of competition.

EG Sophs Fall

Elk Grove's sophomore basketball team dropped a 53-48 decision to Niles North last week. Additional details were unavailable at press time.

'Cat Matmen Tied, Topped

Wheeling wrestlers had a good season but that was a bit hard to tell from closing dual meet results.

The 'Cats finished their campaign with a 6-7-1 mark after tying Maine East and losing to Maine West. Final tally against ME was 20-20 while 25-14 was the setback score against MW.

Due to the defeat by Maine West, the charges of coach Art Kraft finished in a tie for third among Mid-Suburban League entries. With a 3-2 conference standard Wheeling ended knotted with Forest View.

In the action against Maine East the Wildcats started with two bout wins. First Rex Meisenheimer came out ahead 4-2 at 95 pounds and then Ray Weidner took an 8-4 descision at 103. Only one win in the next six bouts went to Wheeling.

IZZY LOPEZ was edged 2-1 at 112, Al Eisenstein dropped a 5-4 decision at 127, Jerry Hawkinson was topped 8-5 at 133, Mike Fluegel was trounced 7-2 at 138 and, at 145, Matt Porzell was shutout 8-0. Only break in that loss string for the 'Cats was Karl Meisenheimer's 5-0 blanking of his 120 pound opponent.

At 154 Rich Haddock picked up five points for Wheeling as he registered a pin triumph in 2:25. Paul Berwanger slipped by at 165 on a 2-1 decision but Ray Pace was pinned in 1:54 in 180 pound action. The score at that juncture had Maine East ahead 20-17.

Heavyweight Ted Armstrong salvaged a tie in the meet. He scored a 10-3 decision to even the competition with ME at 20-20.

Only four matches were won by coach Kraft's forces against Maine West. Lopez, Eisenstein, Haddock and Berwanger all picked up decisions for the losers while Weidner tied. Lopez came out on top by a 4-2 margin while Eisenstein sent his opponent away 4-0. An 8-7 score gave victory to Haddock and Berwanger won 4-2. Weidner tied at 2-2.

THOUGH THE season's close wasn't as good as the start had been, there were still several individual Wildcats who came out with good records. Best was Haddock with a 13-2-2 mark. Eisenstein was 11-3-2, Armstrong 11-5-1, Karl Meisenheimer 10-5-2 and Berwanger 9-7 including wins in his last five matches.

Tomorrow (Friday) Wheeling wrestlers enter the district meet at Forest View. (See separate story for complete details.)

In West Suburban

Cards Finish 3-3-1 on Mat

A tie with league champion La Grange and victory over Riverside-Brookfield highlighted the West Suburban Conference wrestling schedule for Arlington High School.

Coach Julius Fliehler's Cardinals, who concluded dual meet and league activity last Saturday with a 23-17 loss to York, posted a 5-5-3 mark over-all in the 1965-66 season with a 3-3-1 conference standard.

"Injuries and sickness hurt us during the year," Fliehler said this week as he looked back on Arlington's final year of West Suburban Conference wrestling.

Three of the Cards' dual meet losses were by six or less points.

TWO DECISIONS and a pin over the final three bouts gave York a 23-17 win over Arlington last Saturday. The Cards carried a 17-12 advantage after nine bouts when the Dukes made their move.

Russ Rapier nipped Arlington's Mike Jones at 165, scoring the decisive point on riding time, and Jerry Horn fashioned a 4-1 victory over Brad Somers at 180. York's Mike Derrico pinned Ron Thompson in 3:46 at heavyweight.

Arlington jumped out on top 6-0 after two bouts thanks to Jim Whitnell's 5-0 conquest of John Fogle at 95 pounds, and Jay McDonnell's 8-0 win over Jim McConachie at 103.

YORK CLIMBED into a tie on wins by Jack Korkowski at 112 pounds and defending state champ Bob Bien at 120 and grabbed a 12-6 advantage by running the win streak to four.

Mike Stertz toppled Arlington's Mike Mills at 127 pounds, and the Dukes' Rick Bobus handed Chip Douglas his first league loss at 133 with a 7-6 effort. Robus won the match on riding time.

Arlington made its move at 138 with Dave Gooding scoring a 3-0 win over Bob Miller. Kirk Wolter put the Cards on top with a pin in 1:04 at 145, and Don Lindmark added three more points with a 6-2 decision at 154.

York took the last three bouts and the team victory.

Grove Matmen Drop Two Meets

Niles North registered frosh-soph and freshman wrestling victories over Elk Grove last Saturday.

The Central Suburban school dumped the Grenadiers on a sophomore level, 25-14.

Posting the Grove wins in frosh-soph ranks were Dan Austin (120), Dave Ernest (138), Chuck Raffaele (145), Steve Jung (154), and Bart Zeitner (heavyweight).

Gary Shick (103), Tom Schommer (120), and Pete Hagen (heavyweight) were the point-getters for the Grove frosh in a 43-9 loss.

Card Gymnasts Now 11-0 Face Evanston, York Next

The biggest weekend of the dual meet season . . .

That's what faces Coach Tom Walthouse and his Arlington High School gymnasts.

Arlington's unbeaten varsity, author of eleven straight dual meet victories in the 1965-66 season, will journey to Evanston Friday evening to battle the unbeaten Wildkits at 7:30.

Walthouse's crew will come home to host York Saturday afternoon at 2:00 in the key action on the West Suburban Conference schedule.

Evanston, defending state gymnastics champ, has not lost a dual meet since Jan. 11, 1964. And Arlington whipped the Wildkits on that occasion, 66½-65½.

York looms as the biggest obstacle between Arlington and another West Suburban Conference title.

THE CARDS warmed up for their big weekend with two easy victories.

The varsity walloped Riverside-Brookfield on Friday, 88-44, for its 10th straight win and ran the streak to 11 with an 83-49 conquest of Barrington Saturday.

Operating without Jim Johannesen, who was sidelined with illness, the Cards still had no trouble belting Riverside.

TOM RIESING PACED the winners with two first place routines, a 74-77 on the trampoline and surprising 71-71 in tumbling.

Rick Atwater followed Riesing in both events. He had a 131 on the tramp and 119 in tumbling.

Hank Taylor topped the side horse field with a 69-80, and Bert Schmitt scored with a flashy 162 on the high bar, earning one 83 card.

Don Von Ebers on the parallel bars (77-74) and Doug Dattilo on the rings (82-79) gave the winners their other firsts.

JOHNNESEN returned to action Saturday and gained a first on the high bar (77-77) and second on the parallel bars. The judges couldn't agree on the latter event with Jim earning the unusual cards of 57 and 78.

Riesing repeated his tramp victory with a 75-74 routine, and Von Ebers had a 69-67 in ruling the parallel bars. Dattilo came through again on the rings with a 79-78.

Arlington's frosh-soph powerhouse also remained unbeaten, knocking off Riverside-Brookfield with a perfect score, 96-36, and dumping Barrington, 74-57.

BOB EKSTRAND was a double winner against Riverside, topping the tramp (30) and tumbling (43) events. Also scoring firsts were Doug Atkins on the side horse (43), Corrado on the high bar (35), Jack Finch on the parallel bars (57), and Wayne Crockett on the rings (43).

TOM WALTHOUSE

Crockett took two events Saturday, showing a 40 routine on the parallel bars and 36 on the rings. Atkins topped the side horse again, hitting a 36, and Jim Brousseau headed the high bar at 38.

Funke: Three Firsts

Cougars Over FV Gymnasts

The multiple talents of Gary Funke made much of the difference Friday afternoon, as Conant's gymnasts out-maneuvered Forest View 73½ to 58½.

Funke was the individual winner in three events and had a second in another for 26 team points. With several seconds and thirds contributed by his teammates, Conant ruled the Mid-Suburban League meeting with the comfortable margin.

The victory advanced the season record of Bob Ferguson's Cougars to 7-5. They're 3-1 in the MSL, with powerful Prospect still on their schedule, and the conference meet to follow. Gay Hughes' Falcons dipped to 4-6-1 with the loss, with an 0-3-1 mark in the league.

The score was almost exactly reversed in the frosh-soph competition, where Forest View prevailed 75-57, with Hal Sprehe's performers advancing to an excellent mark of 9-2 overall, 4-0 in the MSL duals.

WITH ONE of his victories—on the parallel bars—Funke led a Conant sweep He was first with a two-judge declaration of 140, with John Armfield second and Denny Re third.

On the high bar, it was Funke and Butch Lochinger 1-2, with the Falcons' Garth Freeman third. And on the rings, where he had his highest routine score of 149, Funke was first with teammate Jack Meyer third. Dave Hippensteel took a second for FV, with a 146 score.

But Hippensteel's big event continued to be the trampoline, where he led the field with a 161 rating. That was 35 points better than Conant's Rod Tison, and 51 points better than teammate Tony Damico, who was third.

FOREST VIEW had two other firsts. Jim Olmon ruled a tight tumbling contest with a 114 score. Conant's Randy Griggs—who was also fourth on the tramp—had second with 111. Tied for third were FV's Damico and Conant's Karl Icenogle.

Mike Damore had the other Forest View victory, triumphing on the side horse. He beat out Funke and Conant's Dave O'Neal, who were second and third.

The younger Falcons took five individual firsts, in their meet with Conant. Jim Evans, just a point ahead of Conant's Lloyd Powell, won on the trampoline with a 40 score. The same one-judge rating gave victory to Roger Kratowicz on the horizontal bar. Dick Kees won on the rings, Gary Gathman on the parallel bars and Greg Murphy in tumbling.

Ross Goben had Conant's only first, winning on the side horse. The Cougars' Greg Nelsen had 11 team points with a second on the high bar and fourths on parallel bars and rings.

Prospect Wrestlers Nip Palatine's JVs

By a scant two points, Prospect's junior varsity wrestlers wrested second place in the Mid-Suburban League from Palatine last Friday.

Tom Porter's Knight JVs and Mike Emmons' Pirates went into their meeting with identical 3-1 league marks. They were almost as close after the match, as Prospect won 25-23 to finish just behind unbeaten Forest View in the league. For the season, Prospect ended at 6-4, Palatine at 6-5.

The teams started the tight duel by trading pins, with Rich Basch triumphing for Prospect at 95 and Brad Molinari at 103 for Palatine.

RUSTY MASON gave the Pirates a small lead with a 7-1 win at 112, but Mike Herod wiped that out with a 56-second pin win for Prospect at 120.

The Knights built to a 25-12 lead after that, as Marty Krause won on a pin at 127; Luke Dicci tied Bob Esmail at 133; Mike Rutowski took an 8-7 decision at 138; Joe Koza tied Jeff Elwell 3-3 at 145 and Gary Cobe triumphed 3-2 at 154.

Then Palatine charged back, but not quite by enough. Bob Salinas pinned Mike Hermann at 165 in 41 seconds to start it. Then John Jensen won 5-1 at 180 and Ron Stroud 3-2 in the heavyweight match.

At the end, five of the weight disputes had been decided on decisions so close that the meet could have gone either way, with either side able to win close or big. As it was, they almost divided.

Card Sophs Drop Two League Tilts

Arlington's sophomore Cardinals suffered two West Suburban Conference setbacks last weekend but had more to shout about this time than in earlier meetings.

York slipped by Fran Somers' Cardinals on Friday evening, 51-47, but the Barons had chalked up a 46-32 victory over Arlington in a December game.

Hinsdale shaded Arlington Saturday, 45-42. The Imps had scored a 54-38 win over the Cards in a first round tussle.

The Cardinals pulled within three points of York (47-44) with 2:38 remaining Friday when R. J. Collins hit a layup. The Barons battled back with two straight baskets before Collins scored from the line.

Greg Lemein and Collins tallied from the line for the final Cardinal points as York held on for the victory.

Lemein was high for Arlington with 12 points. Chuck McGuffey added 12 and Collins eight.

Hinsdale shot out on top 29-23 at halftime Saturday but could carry only a two-point advantage into the concluding period. Both teams showed 12-point fourth quarters.

Lemein and Bill Liddell were high for Somers' outfit with nine points each. Collins tossed in seven.

Arlington will entertain Maine East this Friday evening at seven o'clock.

Cougars Lose To Falcon Wrestlers

The winners and the losers ended the regular season on something of a high note last Friday, as Forest View's and Conant's varsity wrestlers had it out on Conant's mats.

Hal Henson's Falcons won 24-18, thereby gaining a season dual mark of 9-3. In the Mid-Suburban League, the Falcons were 3-2, worth a third place tie with Wheeling.

Though Merv Miller's Cougars lost, they still ended their first full varsity season with an even split in 14 dual meets. In the MSL, they ended 1-4.

CONANT ACTUALLY led the meet 18-10 after eight weight disputes had been decided, but Forest View took the last four matches handily. Getting the key victories were Pete Phillips, who decisioned Dennis Szymkowiak 5-0 by their opponents.

at 154; Brian Lampert, a 4-0 victor over Conant's Dick Rogers at 165; Mike Severns, who pinned Greg Buckhalter in 5:09 at 180; and Al Gildemeister, a 6-1 heavyweight victor over Jim Lohff.

Forest View had two other victors. Tom Mann scored first, beating Mike Smith 8-0 at 95 pounds, and Ron McKisic added a 4-2 decision over Bill Lee at 127.

Conant's early lead came on a pin win from Tom Borthwick at 103, a 6-0 victory by Mike Ferguson at 112, a 12-1 decision by Fred Krempl at 133 and a 4-2 victory by Ken Roberts at 138. Two Cougars with some of the best personal records—Bill Gluck (120) and Dennis Skoneczka (145)—were tied 2-2

Cards Whip York's JVs

Balance beat a two-man gang Saturday morning as Arlington's jayvee Cardinals rolled to their fourth straight basketball victory.

Three boys reached double figures for the Cards who jumped out on top 22-16 after one period and marched to a 72-56 victory over York.

John Blomquist was high for Arlington with 19 points on nine field goals and one free throw. Jim Bressler added 14 and George Bergstrom 12.

Two boys scored 40 of York's 56 points with Doolittle high with 25.

Coach Al Allen's Cardinals, now 7-3 for the season, will host Maine East Saturday morning in search of their fifth straight victory.

York Registers Two Frosh Wins Over Card Fives

Failure to cash in from the free throw line in the first half was costly Saturday morning as Arlington High School's frosh 'A' basketball team dropped a 48-43 decision to York.

York held a 20-15 lead at halftime and the two clubs traded points over the final two periods.

"It was a well-played game for both teams," said Arlington coach Tom Pitchford whose Cards now show an 8-4 record for the season.

Jim Baumgartner and Dave Somers topped the balanced Arlington attack with 12 points each. Dennis Meacham added 11.

York also won the 'B' game, 58-53.

Slow Starts Hurt Lion Soph Cagers

Two miserable first quarters spelled another double defeat for the ill-fated St. Viator sophomore basketball squad last weekend.

The Lions lost 54-46 to Holy Cross Friday night and 58-41 to DeLaSalle the following evening.

In several games this season the main reason the Lions have been unable to stay close to their opponents lies in the fact that they have had many unproductive first quarters and found themselves ten to fifteen points down at the start of the second period.

It was the same story last weekend as Viator got only four points in the first quarter against Holy Cross and three the following night when they hosted DeLaSalle.

THE LIONS WERE only six down after the opening period against Holy Cross but the Chargers increased the lead to 22-11 at intermission and upped it to 42-21 going into the final stanza.

Pat Zeller and Mark Pomplun led the Lions offensively with 15 and 11 points respectively.

It was much the same script Saturday night as DeLaSalle opened up an 18-3 first quarter lead and stretched it to 35-14 at the half time.

Once again the Lions outscored their oppenents in the second half but not by enough to offset the Meteors' 21 point lead.

Zeller was high again for the locals with 15 points while Pomplun collected 11.

Mat Drama: Knights 22, Palatine 20

The Mid-Suburban League's sophomore wrestling honors may have been all but wrapped up for Prospect last Saturday, as the Knights outlasted a powerful Palatine team in a dazzling dual on the Pirate mats.

The match ended with Dave Ziemek's Knights on top 22-20, standing at 8-1 for the year, 4-0 in the MSL. For Arv Herstedt's Palatine team, the marks now stand at 7-3 overall, 3-1 in the league.

EACH TEAM WON six bouts in the confrontation, but Prospect had two pins to Palatine's one, and that made the difference. The pins came from Prospect's Bill Hueckstaedt (103) and Terry Holshouser (127), and from Palatine's Bob Prochnow, a heavyweight who pinned 10 opponents this year and has a two-year mark of 21-4.

Prospect got its six wins in the first seven bouts, with the other triumphs coming from Jim Amoroso (95), Dave Phillips (112), Dave Sauter (133) and Bob Link (138).

Winning for Palatine were Ken Kuttig (120); Chuck Goodman, a 145-pound freshman 14-2 for the season; Greg Hoover (154); Leon Molway (165); and Pat Donahue (180), who ended 13-0 for the season, and was elected his team's captain. Donahue has recorded 24 wins in two seasons of competition.

FV Takes Big Soph Mat Win

With seven wins on pins and 11 victories over-all, Forest View's sophomore wrestlers mangled Conant's sophs 49-3 in a Mid-Suburban League dual last Saturday.

For Dave Theesfeld's Falcons, the win was the eighth of the year against four dual losses, though it was the first in five MSL meetings.

The pins came from Dan Foster (103), Brian Wolff (112), Bob Rohner (127), Ron Traub (133), Steve Allen (145), Kevin Powers (180), and Bob Savage (Heavyweight).

Bill DeHaven took a forfeit victory at 120 pounds, while Mike Walden (95), Mike Casey (138) and Marc Swanson (154) won on decisions.

Salvaging the three points for Conant was Ken Young, who beat Paul Lloyd 7-2 at 165 pounds.

EG Sophs Fall

Elk Grove's sophomore basketball team dropped a 53-48 decision to Niles North last week. Additional details were unavailable at press time.

'Cat Matmen Tied, Topped

Wheeling wrestlers had a good season but that was a bit hard to tell from closing dual meet results.

The 'Cats finished their campaign with a 6-7-1 mark after tying Maine East and losing to Maine West. Final tally against ME was 20-20 while 25-14 was the setback score against MW.

Due to the defeat by Maine West, the charges of coach Art Kraft finished in a tie for third among Mid-Suburban League entries. With a 3-2 conference standard Wheeling ended knotted with Forest View.

In the action against Maine East the Wildcats started with two bout wins. First Rex Meisenheimer came out ahead 4-2 at 95 pounds and then Ray Weidner took an 8-4 descision at 103. Only one win in the next six bouts went to Wheeling.

IZZY LOPEZ was edged 2-1 at 112, Al Eisenstein dropped a 5-4 decision at 127, Jerry Hawkinson was topped 8-5 at 133, Mike Fluegel was trounced 7-2 at 138 and, at 145, Matt Porzell was shutout 8-0. Only break in that loss string for the 'Cats was Karl Meisenheimer's 5-0 blanking of his 120 pound opponent.

At 154 Rich Haddock picked up five points for Wheeling as he registered a pin triumph in 2:25. Paul Berwanger slipped by at 165 on a 2-1 decision but Ray Pace was pinned in 1:54 in 180 pound action. The score at that juncture had Maine East ahead 20-17.

Heavyweight Ted Armstrong salvaged a tie in the meet. He scored a 10-3 decision to even the competition with ME at 20-20.

Only four matches were won by coach Kraft's forces against Maine West. Lopez, Eisenstein, Haddock and Berwanger all picked up decisions for the losers while Weidner tied. Lopez came out on top by a 4-2 margin while Eisenstein sent his opponent away 4-0. An 8-7 score gave victory to Haddock and Berwanger won 4-2. Weidner tied at 2-2.

THOUGH THE season's close wasn't as good as the start had been, there were still several individual Wildcats who came out with good records. Best was Haddock with a 13-2-2 mark. Eisenstein was 11-3-2, Armstrong 11-5-1, Karl Meisenheimer 10-5-2 and Berwanger 9-7 including wins in his last five matches.

Tomorrow (Friday) Wheeling wrestlers enter the district meet at Forest View. (See separate story for complete details.)

Cards Finish 3-3-1 on Mat

A tie with league champion La Grange and victory over Riverside-Brookfield highlighted the West Suburban Conference wrestling schedule for Arlington High School.

Coach Julius Fliehler's Cardinals, who concluded dual meet and league activity last Saturday with a 23-17 loss to York, posted a 5-5-3 mark over-all in the 1965-66 season with a 3-3-1 conference standard.

"Injuries and sickness hurt us during the year," Fliehler said this week as he looked back on Arlington's final year of West Suburban Conference wrestling.

Three of the Cards' dual meet losses were by six or less points.

TWO DECISIONS and a pin over the final three bouts gave York a 23-17 win over Arlington last Saturday. The Cards carried a 17-12 advantage after nine bouts when the Dukes made their move.

Russ Rapier nipped Arlington's Mike Jones at 165, scoring the decisive point on riding time, and Jerry Horn fashioned a 4-1 victory over Brad Somers at 180. York's Mike Derrico pinned Ron Thompson in 3:46 at heavyweight.

Arlington jumped out on top 6-0 after two bouts thanks to Jim Whitnell's 5-0 conquest of John Fogle at 95 pounds, and Jay McDonnell's 8-0 win over Jim McConachie at 103.

YORK CLIMBED into a tie on wins by Jack Korkowski at 112 pounds and defending state champ Bob Bien at 120 and grabbed a 12-6 advantage by running the win streak to four.

Mike Stertz toppled Arlington's Mike Mills at 127 pounds, and the Dukes' Rick Bobus handed Chip Douglas his first league loss at 133 with a 7-6 effort. Robus won the match on riding time.

Arlington made its move at 138 with Dave Gooding scoring a 3-0 win over Bob Miller. Kirk Wolter put the Cards on top with a pin in 1:04 at 145, and Don Lindmark added three more points with a 6-2 decision at 154.

York took the last three bouts and the team victory.

Grove Matmen Drop Two Meets

Niles North registered frosh-soph and freshman wrestling victories over Elk Grove last Saturday.

The Central Suburban school dumped the Grenadiers on a sophomore level, 25-14.

Posting the Grove wins in frosh-soph ranks were Dan Austin (120), Dave Ernest (138), Chuck Raffaele (145), Steve Jung (154), and Bart Zeitner (heavyweight).

Gary Shick (103), Tom Schommer (120), and Pete Hagen (heavyweight) were the point-getters for the Grove frosh in a 43-9 loss.

Card Gymnasts Now 11-0 Face Evanston, York Next

The biggest weekend of the dual meet season . . .

That's what faces Coach Tom Walthouse and his Arlington High School gymnasts.

Arlington's unbeaten varsity, author of eleven straight dual meet victories in the 1965-66 season, will journey to Evanston Friday evening to battle the unbeaten Wildkits at 7:30.

Walthouse's crew will come home to host York Saturday afternoon at 2:00 in the key action on the West Suburban Conference schedule.

Evanston, defending state gymnastics champ, has not lost a dual meet since Jan. 11, 1964. And Arlington whipped the Wildkits on that occasion, 66½-65½.

York looms as the biggest obstacle between Arlington and another West Suburban Conference title.

THE CARDS warmed up for their big weekend with two easy victories.

The varsity walloped Riverside-Brookfield on Friday, 88-44, for its 10th straight win and ran the streak to 11 with an 83-49 conquest of Barrington Saturday.

Operating without Jim Johannesen, who was sidelined with illness, the Cards still had no trouble belting Riverside.

TOM RIESING PACED the winners with two first place routines, a 74-77 on the trampoline and surprising 71-71 in tumbling.

Rick Atwater followed Riesing in both events. He had a 131 on the tramp and 119 in tumbling.

Hank Taylor topped the side horse field with a 69-80, and Bert Schmitt scored with a flashy 162 on the high bar, earning one 83 card.

Don Von Ebers on the parallel bars (77-74) and Doug Dattilo on the rings (82-79) gave the winners their other firsts.

JOHNNESEN returned to action Saturday and gained a first on the high bar (77-77) and second on the parallel bars. The judges couldn't agree on the latter event with Jim earning the unusual cards of 57 and 78.

Riesing repeated his tramp victory with a 75-74 routine, and Von Ebers had a 69-67 in ruling the parallel bars. Dattilo came through again on the rings with a 79-78.

Arlington's frosh-soph powerhouse also remained unbeaten, knocking off Riverside-Brookfield with a perfect score, 96-36, and dumping Barrington, 74-57.

BOB EKSTRAND was a double winner against Riverside, topping the tramp (30) and tumbling (43) events. Also scoring firsts were Doug Atkins on the side horse (43), Corrado on the high bar (35), Jack Finch on the parallel bars (57), and Wayne Crockett on the rings (43).

TOM WALTHOUSE

Crockett took two events Saturday, showing a 40 routine on the parallel bars and 36 on the rings. Atkins topped the side horse again, hitting a 36, and Jim Brousseau headed the high bar at 38.
